

OREGON CAME OUT VICTOR

WON INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATE FROM WASHINGTON.

Decision of Judges Was Two to One— Eugene Students Jubilant.

EUGENE, May 17.—The University of Oregon won the intercollegiate debate from the University of Washington tonight and the college town is wild with joy over the victory. The judges were Professor H. L. Bates, Pacific University; Professor O. A. Hauerbach, of Whitman College, and Judge J. B. Cleveland, of Portland. Their decision stood two to one in favor of Oregon.

The question at issue was "Resolved, that the permanent retention of the Philippine Islands by the United States is desirable." Washington had the affirmative and was represented by Edgar J. Wright, '01; D. A. Millett, '01, and William T. Laube, '01. The negative speakers were W. L. Whittlesey, '01; Bernard C. Jakway, '01, and George O. Good, '01. Wright opened the debate for Washington and argued that retention by the United States was the only true solution of the Philippine question. He dwelt at length upon the expansion policy of the United States. He was followed by W. L. Whittlesey, Oregon's leader, who held that permanent retention of the islands was not desirable, considering from any point of view; that permanent retention is not an issue already made but something to be tried; that the permanent retention policy was contrary to the principles of self-government, and that to hold them in a state of dependency would be unconstitutional. His argument was able and effective, and his citations of authority numerous. He upheld the constitutionality of the retention and said that the islands were of great commercial value.

Goodall, Oregon's first colleague, was the next speaker, and he presented strong arguments against permanent retention. He argued that the Philippines were capable of being educated in the spirit of self-government, and that the retention of their territories would not be necessary and would not tend to elevate our position among the nations of the world.

Laube, University of Washington, followed Goodall and presented argument against the abandonment of the islands to the Philippines or to other people. Jakway was the last speaker for Oregon, and he presented the strongest line of solid, convincing argument which could not be refuted. He argued that the Philippine Islands would not be of great or lasting benefit to our nation, and that it is our duty to educate the natives, but not to hold their power of government permanently. His reasoning was clear and his delivery forceful. Whittlesey and Wright summed up the debate, the speech of Whittlesey being the effort of his life. Chaplain W. S. Gilbert, chairman of the evening, then stepped to the front and announced the decision amid the cheers and yells of the happy Oregon contingent.

The victory of tonight is a brilliant climax to the college careers of Messrs. Whittlesey and Jakway, each of whom has been a member of the team for several seasons. Both men graduate this year and the victory coming as it does is a final tribute to their scholarship and hard work. The debate was most interesting and was held in the presence of a large crowd. The Washington men were weak compared with those of the Oregonians. Everybody is satisfied with the result, and the men of the Evergreen State express themselves in highest praise of the Oregon team. President Graves, who accompanied the debaters, said: "Oregon won a fair and honorable victory."

GATCH APPOINTED.

Conditional Upon Action of United States Court.

SALEM, May 17.—In the suit commenced by Timon Ford, as executor of the last will and testament and estate of William C. Ford, deceased, against Gilbert Bros., bankers, for an accounting and for the appointment of a receiver, Judge Bates today appointed Claud Gatch, cashier of Ladd & Rush's bank, as receiver. In the case of the receiver, Mr. Gatch together he is forbidden, during the pendency of the suit, to do any act which would in any manner molest or disturb the possession of the receiver appointed by Judge Bellinger, of the Federal Court.

That case is now before Judge Bellinger awaiting a decision as to whether the Federal Court has jurisdiction to try the merits of the suit. In case Judge Bellinger should decide in favor of the receiver, the suit would be dismissed and the Federal Court is without jurisdiction and should dismiss the suit. Gatch is authorized to take possession of all the property then held by the receiver of the United States Circuit Court.

This appointment is understood to be a precautionary measure to keep the property in the custody of the law in case Judge Bellinger should sustain the demurrers to the receiver's bill before him in the Federal Court. It is understood that Judge Bellinger was consulted in regard to the matter and consented that Judge Bates should appoint a receiver. If Judge Bellinger should finally decide that the Federal Court has jurisdiction, then of course the receivership in Judge Bates' court will be held for naught; but in case the bill is dismissed, Mr. Gatch will immediately proceed as receiver and thus prevent the possibility of suits which would incur costs and expense against the assets of Gilbert Bros. A. Bush is Mr. Gatch's bonded surety, and the bond in the sum of $20,000 has been approved by Judge Bates.

Henry R. Thielson, receiver of Gilbert Bros' bank, under appointment of Judge Bellinger, is taking an inventory of the property and will probably be able in a few days to report to the court the condition of the firm's assets.

FRUIT FEST.

Cottony Cushion or Maple Scale Has Gained Foothold.

TACOMA, May 17.—The dreaded cottony cushion or maple scale, the pest caused by the ravages of which in the State of California amounted to millions of dollars, has finally obtained a foothold in this state, according to State Horticulturist Van Holstebroek, and the farmers of Washington will have to make a fight similar to that made a decade ago along the South Pacific Coast.

It is thought that the scale was brought to this state by the Australian steamship line. At present it is infesting the maple, apple and cherry trees. Mr. Van Holstebroek has begun a series of experiments to ascertain what kind of spray solution can be used most successfully in fighting the pest. The farmers of the Northwest may later form a league to investigate the parasite enemies of the scale with a view to importing such insects to fight the scale.

The pest originated in the acacia forests of Australia. From there it spread to South Africa in 1873, and later to New Zealand, and was brought to this country in 1888, being imported into California on trees and shrubs from Australia. The pest began to increase very rapidly and cause alarm. One potted plant spread the scale in the beautiful San Gabriel Valley, and the orchards of the entire state were soon infested and appeared to be doomed. Finally the idea was hit upon that there must be some parasite in Australia to keep the scale in check, or the forests there would be exterminated. Albert Koehle, who was sent to that country to investigate, sent back a parasite known as the Lestophanes, a minute fly, which punctures the scale, lays its egg, which hatches out into a grub that devours the scale, then changes into a fly to again repeat its work. While there Mr. Koehle, to the great astonishment of his Australian friends, discovered that the par excellence scale destroyer was the ladybird, an entirely different kind of parasite, and he immediately captured and shipped back several colonies of the beetles and their larvae. These were distributed in different sections of California, and by December of 1890 the work of exterminating the cottony scale was practically accomplished.

It is thought here that the only successful way of fighting the scale will be by its parasite.

TRIAL GOES OVER.

Case of Letson Baillet Postponed to November.

BAKER CITY, May 17.—A special dispatch to the Democrat says that the case of the United States vs. Letson Baillet, of this city, which was up for trial before the United States Court at Des Moines, Ia., today, was postponed until the November term.

DEEDS FILED.

Final Payment of $20,000 on Appomattox Mine at Baker.

BAKER CITY, May 17.—The deeds were filed with the County Recorder of this county today which closed the sale of the Appomattox mine, made by W. F. Tait, J. Schneek and Clark Snide to the Columbia Mining Company, for $20,000. This property was bonded some time ago, but the final payment of $20,000 was not made until today. The purchasers will unite it to the Columbia mine and will operate the two together in the near future.

COMMITTED SUICIDE.

Barber Shot Himself in the Head— Was in Poor Health.

NORTH YAKIMA, May 17.—Al Struben, a barber, this morning committed suicide by shooting himself through the head. He had been in poor health and mentally deranged for several days. He had lived here several years and was well known. He leaves a family.

Lives at Independence.

INDEPENDENCE, Or., May 17.—W. P. Conaway, whose name is mentioned in the dispatches from Washington as an applicant for the receivership of the First National Bank at Vancouver, Wash., is a resident of Independence. He has had considerable experience in winding up affairs of this nature, having just finished with the bank at Moscow, Idaho. The Controller's office highly commends Mr. Conaway on his work, saying that the care he bestows on his reports and the neatness with which they are prepared have not been excelled by any receiver and were equaled by few. His many friends here hope to see Mr. Conaway receive the appointment.

Teachers' Institute.

GRANT'S PASS, Or., May 17.—The Josephine County Teachers' Annual Institute opened its sessions Wednesday morning with a large attendance. The exercises and papers throughout the week will be of the standard, and more than the usual amount of interest has been taken by the general public. Two sessions for regular work are held daily. The session will end today. State Superintendent J. H. Ackerman, President J. H. Orcutt, of Drain; President W. M. Clayton, of Ashland, and Principal S. W. Holmes, of Grant's Pass are the instructors and lecturers.

Marriage Is Valid.

TACOMA, May 17.—Judge Snell today denied the nonsuit asked for by the attorneys for Elison Sturgeon in the trial of the case for bigamy now being heard before a jury in the Superior Court. The effect of Judge Snell's decision is that a marriage contracted in another state within the period of six months after having secured a divorce in this state was, according to the law then in force, valid.

Large Log Drive.

LA GRANDE, Or., May 17.—The largest log drive in the history of the Grand Ronde Lumber Company, at Perry, was finished last night. Almost 30,000,000 feet of logs are now in the company's lake and in the river. The loggers, numbering about 100, received their pay yesterday, and are spending their money freely. A few have been retained by the company, but the majority will go to other camps.

Will Resume Work.

BAKER CITY, May 17.—The mills of the Oregon Lumber Company, which have been closed down for some time undergoing repairs, started up today. The capacity of the mills has been increased by the addition of two 150-horse-power boilers, the proprietor of the now defunct Seattle Telegraph, filed charges against the late Bolton Rogers, who was then

STIRRING UP TROUBLE

GAMBLER CONSIDINE IS AFTER CHIEF OF POLICE.

Charges Seattle Official With Making Profit Out of Race Games.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 17.—John W. Considine, proprietor of the People's Variety Theater, and one of the proprietors of the Standard gambling-house, probably the largest institution of its kind in the United States, is reported by the Post-Intelligencer to have filed with Mayor Humes a letter in which he makes serious charges against Chief of Police W. L. Meredith, whose bitter enemy Considine is known and admitted to be.

In brief Considine's charges are that Meredith and Detective Wapenstein

Chief of Police, Rogers and Considine were the worst kind of enemies, and Considine was one of several gamblers of a faction hostile to Rogers, who went on the witness-stand and testified to having paid him money. The Police Commission at that time exonerated Rogers, and Considine afterwards left the city. He did not return until late in 1897.

What the outcome of the present row will be, none can tell. The Post-Intelligencer, consistently with its policy of fighting the city administration, has demanded that the City Council take the matter up. The Council's powers in the question are somewhat undefined. The Mayor appoints the Chief of Police, absolutely without check, and has the power to remove him at will. In case the Council should find Meredith guilty, it could only recommend his removal in the opinion of most lawyers. It might impede the Mayor, but this is highly improbable.

It is evident that the enemies of Mayor Humes are trying to work the trouble up to the extent that the Council will take action against him, but it will be impossible for a two-thirds vote to be secured to impeach the Mayor under any circumstances.

The fight has boiled itself down to this: The Wilson crowd are after the Mayor and Meredith in a secondary issue with them; Considine wants Meredith's scalp, and has lent himself to the plans of the Wilson faction in order to secure Meredith's removal.

LOUIS SOHNS DEAD.

Was One of the Most Prominent Citizens of Clark County.

VANCOUVER, Wash., May 17.—Hon. Louis Sohns died at his home in this city this morning from a complication of diseases, the immediate cause of death being a rupture of a blood vessel of the brain. Deceased was 74 years of age and had been a resident of Vancouver 40 years.

The end came suddenly and was entirely unexpected. He had been in poor health for several years, and during the greater part of the time. About a month ago he suffered a relapse from which he slowly recovered. At the time of the failure of the First National Bank, although not at the time actively connected with its management, he was deeply interested in the welfare of the bank, having been chiefly instrumental in its organization and was its first president. The failure and its sensational developments were a terrible shock to his already weakened nervous system.

He sat in his chair yesterday as usual and seemed quite cheerful. Shortly before 3 o'clock this morning his wife, who was watching at his bedside, noticed that he breathed strangely. After several ineffectual efforts to raise her husband, she called the family and sent for a physician. The patient within a few minutes breathed his last peacefully and without pain.

Mr. Sohns had large property interests here, at Seattle and elsewhere in the state. His name has been connected with almost every large public enterprise in the city and county for the last 40 years. He was one of the original stockholders of the Michigan Lumber Company, which is an important lumbering business here for a number of years; was a heavy stockholder of the Vancouver, Klallam and Yakima Railroad, at its organization, and helped build the first 10 miles of the road, and was one of the organizers of the Columbia Land and Improvement Company, which laid out an important addition to the city, and operated a street-car line and operates a system of water supply to the city. He erected one of the first brick buildings in Vancouver, which, standing as monuments to his enterprise. Arrangements have been made for the funeral to take place from the family home at 2 o'clock Sunday. The funeral will be conducted at the residence of the deceased.

He leaves a widow and five children—Louis R. Sohns, Mrs. Katherine M. Neppach, of Portland; Miss Ida A. Sohns, Mrs. J. W. Moore, of Seattle; and Mrs. Anna Neppach, of Vancouver.

How to Fish for Trout

Practical hints on the art of angling by an Oregonian of experience. On the page of sport in THE SUNDAY OREGONIAN, tomorrow.

Rev. Joseph E. Kenworthy.

MEDFORD, May 17.—Rev. Joseph E. Kenworthy, of the United Brethren Church, died here yesterday afternoon at 100, still he held his position in the Police Department to go to Spokane and assume the trusteeship of a theater, which Considine was running at that place. Subsequently Considine sent out his letter there, and returned to Seattle. He used his influence to have Meredith reinstated as a detective in the Police Department. Then a very bitter quarrel came up between the two, and Considine spared no effort to have Meredith removed from the ranks. In this he partially succeeded, Meredith being cut down to a clerkship. Finally he was reinstated as a detective, and when Chief Reed resigned last fall, George U. Piper and others close to Mayor Humes succeeded in having Meredith made Chief.

Considine claims that Meredith has his official position to harass him in his "business." Meredith has recently issued orders that bands must not play in front of variety theaters in the evening for the purpose of attracting a crowd, and that no children must act in the theaters. It is a very bitter quarrel, and the purpose of the street it has given him a "get-off place," and he has evidently figured that with the friendship of the Post-Intelligencer behind him, Meredith cannot very well drive him out of business. The "merry" attitude of the Post-Intelligencer has given Considine, as he believes, an opportunity to get even with his mortal enemy.

In the presence of many people in this city, Considine called Meredith everything from a petty larceny thief to a murderer, and has accused him of committing every crime in the calendar of both moral and legal offenses. This was done before Meredith was made Chief, and serves to illustrate the bitter enmity existing between them.

On the other hand, Meredith, while a common detective, took particular delight in arresting men of the lower world whom he believed to be Considine's friends. This was particularly true of alleged bunco men and gamblers who made Considine's variety theater their headquarters. This was a frequent occurrence during the days of the Klondike excitement, when a Considine was frequently grown appalled in the denunciation of Meredith's alleged harassing of his friends.

CLAYTON E. WHITE.

Mr. Clayton E. White, who has attained a national reputation as a vaudeville star, writes to Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

ing us from Philadelphia, on December 25, 1900, told me of his experience with Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. "After having had Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey recommended to me by a friend, I decided to try it for myself. I have not been without it for the past five years. It keeps me free from coughs and colds; it brings refreshing sleep after a hard day's work. Mr. White's experience is similar to the experiences of thousands who write us daily."

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey cures consumption, general debility, is a relief to rheumatism, chills, malaria, low fever, dyspepsia, depression, and weakness from whatever cause. It invigorates the brain, tones up the heart and improves the blood. It is a tonic and a stimulant, and is a guarantee. It is absolutely pure and contains no trace of any drug or alcohol. It is a direct, it is a bottle. Refuse substitutes; they are inferior. Send for free medical long before to Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

TARWEED IN WHEAT.

Pest Has Gained Great Headway in Walla Walla Valley.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., May 17.—The farmers of the Walla Walla Valley are greatly worried just now by threatened loss in the wheat crop from tarweed. The weed has gained great headway, and at present keeps its head above that of the grain. The wet, foggy days of last fall gave the weed an advantage which it has kept ever since. In many parts of the valley the tarweed is in blossom, and it covers the wheat fields with a tinge of yellow. The hope of the farmers is that the rains will come and give the wheat additional growing strength, and thus prevent the further growth of the pest.

B. Kershaw, a well-versed grain buyer, said yesterday: "I have just returned from a trip to the Snake River, and am surprised to see the advantage the tarweed has gained. As one proceeds north from this city the weed evil appears to increase. The farmers in that district are estimating their loss by the weed at 10 bushels an acre, but I don't think it will average more than five. Experiments have shown that when the weeds get an advantage, as in this instance, and when farmers have destroyed the weeds and reseeded in the Spring, the loss in the crop ranges from 5 to 10 bushels per acre. The principal injury from the weed is that it absorbs the moisture and prevents complete maturing. The only hope of farmers are rains."

Enlargement of Lumber Mills.

CENTRALIA, Wash., May 17.—Work is being rapidly pushed forward on the plant of the Chas. R. Lumber Company. The frame work is all up and the buildings are rapidly approaching completion. The plant will be a combination shingle and sawmill. The shingle mill will have a capacity of 40,000 shingles per day and the sawmill of 40,000 feet per day. The company will use three donkey engines in the woods. The work on the David Platt single mill in Salzer Valley is being rushed forward to completion. The plant will have a capacity of 60,000 to 75,000 shingles per day.

She tells all suffering women how she was cured of Ovarian Inflammation by

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—When I wrote to you a few months ago I had been suffering from inflammation of the ovaries and womb for over eighteen months. I had a continual pain and soreness in my back and side. I believe my troubles were caused by overwork and lifting some years ago. Life was a drag to me and I felt like giving up. I had several doctors, but they did me little good. I began to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound four months ago and am in better health to-day than I have been for years. All my pains are gone. Your Vegetable Compound has made me well. I recommend it to all suffering women."—MRS. S. J. WATSON, Hampton, Va.

When there is one remedy that is sure, and hundreds of thousands of women know from experience is reliable, it is wise to experiment with untried and comparatively unknown medicines?

Board of Geological Survey.

OLYMPIA, May 17.—The State Board of Geological Survey met in the governor's office today and organized by choosing Governor Rogers chairman and Treasurer Maynard secretary. The state appropriates annually $500 for this purpose for developing the resources of the state.

The members of the board are Governor Rogers, Lieutenant-Governor McBride, State Treasurer Maynard, President Graves of the State University and President Bryan of the Agricultural College. The board adjourned to meet in Tacoma at the Tacoma Hotel June 5.

Brick Industry Busy.

CENTRALIA, Wash., May 17.—The Parker & Van Bank brickyard south of this city is now running steadily with plenty of orders ahead. It is engaged in filling the following orders: 100,000 bricks for Rochester, 10,000 for Salzer Valley and 2000 for Elma. On account of the number of orders ahead the company is in need of men, both about the yards and for cutting wood.

New Laws Published.

OLYMPIA, May 17.—The session laws of this year have been completed and turned over to the Secretary of State, but will not be dry enough for distribution for four or five days. They will be forwarded to the various officials throughout the state who are entitled to complimentary volumes. The remainder will be turned over to the state auditor, where they will be on hand for purchase. It will probably be 10 or 15 days before they will be turned over to the auditor.

School Money in State Bonds.

OLYMPIA, May 17.—The state auditor today issued to the permanent school fund three $500 state bonds. This makes the total amount of permanent school fund moneys invested in these bonds $30,000.

Track Is Free.

ALBANY, May 17.—A wrecking train and crew from Portland have been at work clearing away the wreck of Froman Station, on the Lebanon branch, and now have the road entirely cleared. Hundreds of people visited the scene of the wreck yesterday, some even walking the entire distance of three miles and back. Many pictures of the wreck were taken. The cause of the loss was not yet known. A man who had been working in an adjoining field all morning before the wreck says that he is positive that no one molested the switch during the forenoon. That is the case, the train going from Albany to Lebanon passed the place after the switch had been tampered with. It was undoubtedly the heavily loaded lumber cars that caused the loosened switch to turn, thus causing the wreck. It is yet a mystery who molested the switch, and at what time it was done.
