WARNING TO BICTCLISTS.-The sidewalk Warning to Bicrclists.—The sidewalk on the south side of Jefferson street, leading from Front to the narrow gauge depot, is a much-traveled thoroughfare. As Jefferson street east from Front is an incline to an old ferry landing, and the sidewalk gives the only means of access to the depot without going around a block, many bicyclists choose to consider it a street and ride their wheels over it. A dozen or more of these misguided persons have been arrested on this block of sidedozen or more of these misguided persons have been arrested on this block of side-walk, and fined, but others continue to transgress. The arresting and prosecuting of them has become monotonous, and orders are out for notices to be placed at each end of the sidewalk in question, notifying wheelmen that it is a sidewalk, and that bicycles must not be ridden over it. The officials consider that it is unfall to sat such a trap, as it were, for the unwarr, and desire that the public should unwary, and desire that the public should have fair warning before being arrested. There are probably few persons riding bleycles who do not know that the side-walk is a sidewalk, but a lot of them prefer to take the chance of being arrested rather than ride around the block.

ter the notices are up, no lenlency will shown offenders. HIGH WATER HELPS SOME PROPLE. While the rise of the river has caused in convenience to some, it has been a great convenience to others. The Diamond Vit-rified Brick Company, for instance, is en-gaged in delivering a large quantity of repressed or semi-vitrified brick for the home for the nurses of the Good Samar-fian Hospital. The rise in the Cojumbia enables the company to bring barges right up to the works, where the brick are swung on board. When the barge reaches this city it is hauled into the old Starkthis city it is hauled into the old Stark-street ferry slip, and an apron is placed against the bow, and the teams and wagons are driven on board and loaded "on first intentions." This saves much haudling of the brick, which are very heavy. A huge harge is now at the foot of Stark street with a cargo of 190,000 brick weighing about 500 tons. It will re-quire a great many brick for the nurses' home and 5000 are to be furnished for home, and 25,000 are to be furnished for the basement walls of Walter F. Bur-ELECTRIC LAUNCH & HUMMER.-J. C.

Ainsworth's electric hunch works like a charm, and is unanimously conceded to be the neatest and most convenient craft on the river. No trouble about keeping up steam or "wooding up." no smoke nor cinders. When it is desired to take a jaunt, a "plug" is inserted and the storjaunt, a "plug" is inserted and the storage hatteries are charged, and away you go. The only trouble is that voyages are limited to about 40 miles, and the launch must get home before the "juice" is exhausted. In the future when all the water power in the country is utilized in producing electricity, there will be stations every 20 miles or so on the rivers, and also on main-traveled rouds, where automobiles and electric hunches can be oblies and electric launches can be supplied with electricity, just as steam-boats are now supplied with wood, but there will be no trouble about taking it on board. Then a man can start out in his automobile and travel from one side of the continent to the other,

WALLIS NASH WILL RETURN TO PORT-LAND.—Wallis Nash, who, for several years, has been leading a sort of patri-archal life on his extensive stock ranch in the Coast Range, near the line of the Corvallis & Eastern Rallway, is in the city. Four of his sons have gone into the city. Four of his sons have gone into the world and are successfully making their way, and now his remaining son, who, it was supposed would succeed him in the patriarch business, has decided to take a university course and try his luck in the busy haunts of man. Mr. Nash has no idea of remaining alone among his herds of cattle, and as dairy farming is taking the lead now, and his extensive ranch and more extensive range are admirably adapted to this business, he has advertised his place for sale, and intends to locate his place for sale, and intends to locate in Portland.

The new dredge will be the finest in the United States.

ORDER SERVANTS FROM PORTLAND .- The Onder Servants From Portland.—The servant girl problem has been solved by the people of The Dallez, who now send to this city for "help." Two girls for general housework left for that city yesterday at salaries of $25 per month, Portland women are beginning to fear that servant girls will be scarcer here and their wages higher if this sort of thing continues.

PORTLAND CONTRACTORS IN SEATTLE.

Street improvement is nearly at a standstill in Portland, owing to litigation and the difficulty of getting disputed positis definitely settled, but Seattle is going definitely settled, but Seattle is going ahead and making extensive street improvements, so Portiand contractors go over there and secure contracts. Messra. Smyth & Howard, who recently submitted a bid on three miles of street work in Seattle, yesterday received notification that the contract had been awarded to them. The amount involved is about $90,000. It comprises the laying of a concrete foundation for three miles of Trinified awahult payement, and concrete side. dad asphalt payement, and concrete side-walks and curbs along these three miles. Harry Howard, one of the firm, will go over to superintend the carrying out of the contract. The streets in question are on the "first terrace," and are to be paved with Trinidad asphalt, with vitrified brick gutters on both sides. This work will be done by an asphalt company which is a branch of the Trinidad Asphalt Company of this city. Portland contractors have good success in securing important con-tracts in Seattle and San Francisco as hawker of oranges an bananas, who was arrested upon the complaint of D. C. Burns, a grocer, for al-lowing his vehicle to stand on the street, was discharged by Judge Cameron in the Municipal Court yesterday. The Judge appeared to be in doubt as to what conatitutes standing in one place continuously, as Mitchell's vehicle had been at the point on Third street, near Morrison, for an hour. The ordinance provides that hawkers shall stand no longer than is necessary to wait on a customer, but as customers appeared continually, Mitchell was given the benefit of the doubt.

THE FEDERATED Trades Assembly, of this city, will give a grand ratiroad excursion and sporting carnival next Sunday. May 26. The excursion trains will leave Union Depot at 8:30 A. M., arriving at State Fair Grounds, Salem, at noon, where the various games and sporting events will take place. Returning, will leave Salem at 5 P. M. Stops will be made at all principal stations along the route. The best of order will be maintained through the trip, so that all who attend may have an enjoyable outing. Round trip tickets, including admission to Pair Grounds, $1.

IMPROVEMENTS AT POLICE HEADQUAR TERS.-Painters are at work inside the police headquarters, calcimining walls, painting woodwork, and brightening up things generally. The building is also to be painted outside, and the force finds it difficult to decide what color will be the most appropriate and beautiful. Considerable time has been spent in discussing this question, and it is about decided to paint the building a bright vermillon red. RECORD DAY AT THE CUSTOM-HOUSE .-The receipts at the Portland Custom-House on Tuesday were $70,125. This is the largest amount of duties ever paid in a single day, the largest heretofore being $60,000. The greater part of the $70,130 was for duties on grain bags, but there was a considerable sum for duties on English crockeryware and Chinese mer-

CARNIVAL DATE UNDECIDED

Committee Favors Opening Septem ber 28, After Close of Salem Fair.

At the meeting of the carnival commit-tee last evening it was decided to divide the members into separate committees to canvass for the guarantee fund of $15,-059 to be raised for the exposition. It was also decided to add an auxiliary committee of women to the committee and to seof women to the committee and to secure some special attractions for this part of the exposition. The date was left open until the next meeting of the general committee, which is to be held next Wednesday evening. The suggestion was made, however, that seemed to meet with general approval, that the carnival open September 28, after the close of the Salem state fair, and close one month later, October 28. The executive committee October 28. The executive committee was instructed to meet next Monday evening to outline the features and attractions that will be embodied in the carnival, and to add whatever additional attractions that they saw fit.

PATHS FOR BICYCLISTS

TRACK TO BE LAID OUT ALONG CO-LUMBIA BOULEVARD.

County Commissioners Order Roadmaster Steele to Make Repairs te Several Roads.

Upon the recommendation of Roadmas-ter W. B. Steele, the County Commisioners yesterday ordered the construction of a bicycle path on Columbia boulevard a distance of five and a quarter miles on one side of the road. The starting point will be where the boulevard crosses Sandy road. Bicyclists will appreciate this path, as it will afford a good view of the Co-umbia River.

The contract for constructing the bicy cle path along East Twenty-first street, from Division to Bush, was awarded to J. R. O'Neil, his bid being the lowest. Bids for this piece of work were: J. R. O'Neil, earth, $500; plank, $885; D. E. Melkle, earth, $1450; plank, $850; O. D. Wolf, earth, $1695; plank, $779. The Roadmaster was instructed to make the following repairs to county roads: In district No. 1, the clearing up and grading of the new Germantown road; in district No. 6, clearing and grading of a mile and a quarter of the Beers road; in district No. 7, clearing and grading of three-eighths of a mile, from the Lusted road to the Multnomah County line, known as road No. 536; the cleaning and grading of the Brodle road, running from the Section Line to the Powell's Valley road, and the improvement of Troutdale hill, the same being in a very dangerous condition. is ordered to the extent of $50; also the improvement of the Gor-don-Creek road, the Branhall Mill Com-pany furnishing the plank and the county furnishing the labor and supplies, The Beers road starts from Gresham and runs in a southeasterly direction towards the Clackamas County line. The road is an old one, but the stumps have never been taken out. This is now to be done. The Brodle road is much used by the residents of the territory in the vicinity of South Mount Tabor reservoir.

The deputies placed by Sheriff Frazier on bicycle paths are doing a good business disposing of bicycle tags, and for the present, if license moneys come in freely, the Sheriff will not enforce the collection of the tax by the selzure of wheels. A rider on a path without a li-cense tag is halted by the deputy and informed that he must procure one. If he is without funds he is told to go to the Courthouse and obtain a tag, and that it is unlawful to use the paths unless that it is unlawful to use the paths unless he has pall; the $1 tax. Deputy Sheriff Oviatt, who is in charge of the tax-collection department of the Sheriff's office, states that for a week or 10 days the deputies will be provided with a supply of tags and permitted to sell them, after which time all tass will be called after which time all tags will be called in and they may be purchased only at the office of the tax collector. Then the Dep-uty Sheriffs will commence arresting those who have failed to pay their license, and what is practically a fine will be imposed,

BICYCLISTS IN A HARD ROW Rainy Weather No Excuse for Riding

Portland wheelmen are having an un-sually hard time of it this Spring, as the A very large attendance is expected. frequent showers keep the suburban streets muddy, and the police have strict orders to arrest all who ride on the side-walks. Working people who live some distance from their employment are strongly tempted to use the walks early in the morning or after 6 in the evening, and the officers have been recommendated. and the officers have heretofore been so lenient that it is hard for the cyclists to realize that at last people must comply with the ordinance that forbids sidewalk riding. There is probably less wheeling on Portland sidewalks at present than at any time since bicycles came into general use, and the sight of a wheelman plowing through the mud in the street, while a smooth sidewalk on either side looks tempting, is very common. Leading the wheel over the walks where the streets are too rough, which was one of the lost arts, is now coming into vogue, and wheel ment twit each other with, "Why don't you ride?" and the fellow floundering in the mud is asked, "How does plowing go?" It takes much longer to get over the ground between home and work than it used to, but the law must at last be

Judge Cameron had several working men before him in the Municipal Court, yesterday, for riding the sidewalks at early morning in the vicinity of Ladd's field. The offenders live in the neighborhood of Mount Tabor, they said, and their work is at the sawmills on the river front. Each had used the walk only for a short distance where the street was impassable for the wheel, and had ped-aled into the arms of a policeman when they had no idea of his presence. One was a German who could not read EIGHTY-SIX DOLLARS TO BUF
English, and said he was not aware of the anti-sidewalk law. The Judge asked him if he had ridden the walks last year, be a hard-working man." Judge Cameron said, "but you have been riding the side-walks contrary to the law. You must keep off them even in rainy weather, and I can fine you in any sum under $100, but I'll let you cff this time for it."

The man laid a silver dollar on the clerk's desk and walked away. Those who paid it yesterday were: H. M. Mullen and G. Goss. The cases of L. Steinhauser, F. L. Clemens, J. L. Thatcher and Ed Pinley were continued.

PETITIONS IN BANKRUPTCY

W. B. Abrams Details His Dealing With the Snipes Banking Firm.

W. B. Abrams, of Portland, filed a pe W. B. Abrams, of Portland, filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States Court yesterday. He was in July, 1893, a partner with Ben E. Snipes, in the banking-house of Ben E. Snipes & Co., in the town of Rossiyn, Wash. Snipes contributed the capital on which the business was conducted, and petitioner con-tributed his time in the management thereof. Snipes was worth about $500,000, and his responsibility was supposed to be ample to cover all probable debts. On November 25, 1891, petitioner owned and held certain real property, part his individual property and part the property of said firm, and also had possession of cer-tain notes and bills receivable. On November 26, 1891, petitioner transferred all of the property to Snipes, at the latter's request, because Snipes was the partner who was considered financially responsible in said business. On June 7, 1835, the banking firm closed its doors, expecting to reopen within 10 days, but, in fact, it was insolvent, and never did reopen. On July 13, 1833, Snipes and petitioner entered into an agreement, whereby the partner-ship was dissolved, and Snipes agreed to assume the payment of all the indebtedness of the firm, and relieve petitioner from all debts, except a note for $5,000 executed by petitioner to Snipes. Afterexecuted by petitioner to Snipes. Afterward three trustees were appointed, one by Snipes, one by the creditors of the bank at Rosslyn, and one by creditors of the bank at Ellensburg, and Snipes transferred and delivered to the trustees all the above-mentioned property, and, as petitioner believes, all his individual property. The list of liabilities of petitioner comprises 12 pages of names, and amounts to $290,000 87. His assets consist of propto $290,000 87. His assets consist of prop erry conveyed for the benefit of creditors November 25, 1891, valued at $279,000-amount realized therefrom not knownand other property of the value of $350. Charles B. Isaacs, farmer, of McKay Creek, Umatilia County, fied a petition in bankruptcy in the United States Court yesterday. He sets up that he owes S. L. Conklin, of New York, $12,500, on a deficiency judgment, executed in Umatilla County. He has no real property and no personal property, except two outlawed and worthless notes. He falled in farm-ing in 1895, and is the head of a family and having two children depending upo him for support. His earnings have been expended in support of his family.
