WILHELMINA AT POTSDAM. Tendered a Banquet at the New Palace by Emperor William.

"Not as a friend do we greet Your Maj-esty today on her second visit to our house. For the first time you came in your childhood. Now you come in the springtime of life, and by the side of your beloved husband, who is of Ger-man stock. These halls welcome the great-granddaughter of Louisa Henrietta, the rose of the house of Orange. How, then, can the Queen of the Netherlands he welcomed otherwise than as a member be welcomed otherwise than as a member of our house and in view of the intimate, relations which have existed for centuries between my ancestors and yours?

The Emperor then proceeded to dilate upon how much the house of Hohenzol-trn was indebted to the house of Orange.

"My thought today centers in the wish that our great God may preserve and protect Your Majesty's life and that of your filustrious consort for the welfare of Orange and of Holland and all that that ignifies. I add at the same time a picige hat love and friendship toward your come will never cease in the hearts of my house and my subjects. In this sense I drink to Your Majesty's health."

No Hope for European Combine Against United States.

LONDON, May 30.-Commenting torially this morning on the agitation in Germany and Austria for a combination against American commercial competition,

"The sole hope for Pan-Europe, according to these writers, is to imitate Na-poleon and introduce the Continental sys-tem against the United States. It must be owned that the precedent is rather disheartening. If the Continental system fatled in Napoleon's iron grasp, it would hardly succeed in the hands of friend, the concert of Europe. With the markets of Great Britain and her colonies remaining open, the suggested wealth boycott against America does not wear a hopeful aspect. The scheme is preposterous and impracticable on the face of it, but the editorial articles which propose it deserve attention as a revela-tion of the acute, continued jealousy and fear of American greatness and prosperity which prevail in certain quarters of the Physicians Hope the Improvement in Mrs. McKinley's Condition Will Be Maintained.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—The train bearthe President and Mrs. McKinley and the party accompanying them on the tour through the West ended its journey here at 7:30 o'clock this morning, exactly on schedule time: Mrs. McKinley was immediately removed to the carriage in waiting and driven slowly to the White House. She looked pale and worn, the natural result of the grave ordeat through which she recently passed. Secretary, Cortelyou stated that she was bearing up splendidly.

"She passed a comfortable night," he sald, "and is feeling better today. She shows a gradual improvement." No demonstration marked any pertion of the early morning run of the train toward Washington. A few people were gathered at points along the way, but there were none but silent greetings in accord with the spirit that has prevailed among the crowds past whom the train has run since the start homeward last Saturday morning. In this city several hundred people lined the sidewalks. A police cordon of a score or more men was early on the scene and stationed at in-tervals along both sides of the track re-served for the train.

Owing to the early hour, perhaps, only a few officials were present. These in-cluded Second Assistant Postmaster-General Shallenberger, Major Pruden, assist ant secretary to the President; President McFarlan, of the Board of District Com-missioners; Colonel Bingham, superin-tendent of buildings and grounds. The President's team of spirited horses shied at the noises about the depot and were almost unmanageable. President McKinley was on the platform as the train rolled in and bowed to a few who lifted their hats in silent salute. Some delay was caused by the nervousness of the horses.

Mrs. McKinley was removed from the sirs. McKinley was removed from the private car Olympia to the carriage on a chair borne by the President and Dr. Rixey, assisted by several others. She was pale and showed her weakened condition. Several members of the Cabinet stood alongside ready to lend a helping hand. Was McKinley was slowly lifted hand. INSULAR CASE DECISION.

The United States Means to Be Free to Expand.

LONDON, May 30.—The Times, referring ditorially this morning to the decision of the United States Supreme Court in the insular cases, says:
"It would be foolish to expect a decision

"It would be foolish to expect a decision on the merits of a controversy as to which lawyers in the United States are divided."

The Times considers, however, that a house would have been at this time a serious anachronism.
"The court yields," continues the Times,
"to the law of development, to which all institutions are amenable. The cause of the anti-expansionists was lost long ago, some would say in the far-off times, when Massachusetts protested against the admission of Louisiana as unconstitutional Literally applied today, the doctrine that the Constitution follows the flag would be fatal to expansion along the lines which the people of the United States have marked out for themselves. They mean to be free to do as other countries have done in like circumstances.

"Jefferson declared that the Federal Judges were a 'corps of suppers and miners steadily undermining the Consti-tution.' What he thought destruction was development. On this occasion the Judges have engineered, perhaps unskillfully, a road for the safe advance of the Reput into regions which its founders did not contemplate, but from which it is too late to retreat."

Santa Fe's Oriental Line. CHICAGO, May 30,-Paul Morton, sec and vice-president of the Santa Fe, who returned from New York today, after having been in conference with the Ham-burg-American steamship officials relative to the establishment of a new line from San Francisco to the Orient, in discuss ing the project tonight said.

"The Santa Fa is negotiating with the Hamburg-American line, but the terms of the contract are not agreed upon "Our contract with the California & Oriental line does not expire until next year, and until that time a new line cannot be established. It is the purpose of the Santa Fe to inaugurate passenger as well as freight service between San Francisco and Oriental ports, and we want the Ham-burg-American Company because it is in a position to give a better service than the company with which we now have relations. At first we will not run more than two steamers a month, but as trade and traffic increase the service will keep pace with it."

Head of a Man Found. ST. LOUIS, May 30,-The head of man, wrapped in an old coat, was found near Edgmont Park, East St. Louis, Ill. today. Some empty envelopes found in-side the coat were addressed to F. R. Williams, New York City. The Coroner held an inquest over the head, and a verdict of suicide was returned. A search of the ground near where the head was dis-covered brought to light an old, runty razor. About 100 yards from the spot where the head lay, a headless body was found last April. It was never identified.

At the Buffalo Exposition BUFFALO, May 30,-Some of the inter esting and entertaining features of this day's special programme at the Pan-American Exposition were abandoned be-cause of the inclement weather. Rain fell at frequent intervals throughout the day. The attendance at the grounds was the largest since the opening day, with the exception of dedication day.

SOUTH CAROLINA SENATOR ISSUES AN ADDRESS TO THE PEOPLE.

Declures He Is a Better Democrat Than Tillman-Drawn Into the Contest.

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 30,—Senator John L. McLaurin issued an address to the people of the state from his home in Bennettsville today. He opens by saying that the recent address to the people by Senator Tillman makes it necessary that he should say something in explanation of his motives and actions and that, had it not been for Senator Tillman's "intrusion on the Gaffney meeting, there would have been no necessity for it. A joint debate was precipitated by him, contrary to my wishes and of the gentlemen who invited ms." He continues: CHARLESTON, S. C., May 30,-Senator

"It is too late now to consider whether "It is too late now to consider whether it was wise or unwise, and the people must judge between us. I desire to announce my candidacy in opposition to the senior Senator for the long term, and I will discuss with him in a fair and repatable manner the National lasues of the day and leave it to you to judge who can most housestly and bonorably represent most honestly and honorably represent you in the United States Senate. In 1887 I was elected to the Senate as a Demo-crat, and I am still a Democrat." Senator McLaurin says that his recent

Greenville speech gave the people his reason for his official actions since 1899, but that the address of Senator Tillman makes that the address of Senator Tillman makes it accessary for him to say he is a Democrat, and continues:

The senior Senator charges that I am a Republican, and was organising a Republican party here. If he believes this charge, why did he consent to run with me in a Democratic primary? I denounce me in a Democratic primary?, I denounce me in a Democratic primary? I depounce the charge as an infamous faisehood, and the senior Senator knows what he says is untrue. He charges that the dispensing of the public patromage has been placed at my disposal, and that unlimited money is furnished me by "Republican to aid in the scheme of a new party." I denounce this as a malicious falsehood.

"The peccile shall issies of our Democ-"The people shall judge of our Democracy, and not the senior Senator. The senior Senator is addicted to making reckless and false charges against others which he never substantiates. An hones man is always chary in charging others with dishonesty, and the thief often cries 'stop, thief.' He is an amhitious boss and habitual disturber of the political peace and harmony of South Carolina." Senator McLaurin closes as follows: "Fellow-citizens, there will not be a thing like unity or quiet among our peo-ple until he is relegated to private life. His indendiary appeals to class hatred and prejudice, such as he made at Gaffney to factory operatives, and his dicta torial spirit and utterances, will keep up dissensions and discord in the state. With the aid of the people I will make a heroic effort to break down bossism, with its train of political svils, and I invite all good citizens to assist me to inaugu-rate an era of free thought, free speech and independence of action, in South Caro-lina. The senior Senator, in the quistude of a farmer's life in Edgefield County could be viewed as a pitchforkless pigmy and a blessing to the state," Marching Veteran Murdered. ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 30. - John T Price, an old soldier, of Bethany, Mo. was murdered while in a parade which was on the way to the cemetery by Austin Miller, a jeweler, who was a brother-in-law of Price, and also a veteran. Miller escaped to his home, but soon killed him-
