AMERICAN WON DERBY

WHITNEY'S VOLODYOVSKI CAME IN FIRST AT EPSOM.

The Blue Ribbon Event of the British Turf Witnessed by a Larger Crowd Than Usual.

EPSOM, June 5.—William C. Whitney's Volodyovski won the Derby in record time, 2:40 3-5, but came very near losing it. Volodyovski seemed to have the race well in hand, and the immense crowd, which almost to a man had backed the horse, joyfully yelled "Volodyovski wins!" when Morey Canno, on William III, came on with a rush, challenged and for a moment seemed to be in front, but Reiff, by the vigorous use of his whip, managed to regain the lead, and won by a quarter of a length. The crowd had too much of a scare to be very enthusiastic, and seldom has less cheering been heard for a winner of a Derby. Harry Payne Whitney, beaming with delight, led the horse in, alternately patting the animal's neck and looking up at Reiff, saying, "Good boy, good boy." Mr. Whitney subsequently said to a representative of the Associated Press:

"Of course, I am more than pleased, and the only disappointment is owing to my father not being here to enjoy our triumph. It was a pretty race, but I must say I thought the second horse was going to catch us."

At this point Richard Croker came up and enthusiastically congratulated Mr. Whitney.

"Yes, we're glad to take the trophy to America once more," said Mr. Whitney, as he went back off to send a telegram to his father. Coaches about the stand were crowded with Americans, but they were very undemonstrative.

Although it was clear that the war in South Africa still keeps many habitues away, today's contest was witnessed by much greater crowds than for some years past. The weather was all that could be wished for this, the people's picnic. Vehicles first rolled in by twos and threes and then by dozens, until the white road leading to the Downs smoked with the dust of the vast heterogeneous cavalcade, and the air was filled with weird medley from tin trumpets, barrel organs and cornets. The trains brought thousands of people from all directions, and later came the coaches and carriages, dropping their aristocratic occupants at the entrances of the grandstands at the Jockey Club inclosure, until they were filled.

Such a display of fashion and bright colors had not been seen in England since the opening of the war. Many old and well-known patrons of the turf were seen, although such favorites as King Edward and Lord Rosebery were necessarily absent, owing to the official period of mourning for Queen Victoria being still unexpired. Khaki was even more conspicuous than last year, when the popular victory of the then Prince of Wales' Diamond Jubilee was coincident with Lord Roberts' entry into Johannesburg.

Among the prominent persons present were Mr. and Mrs. Perry Belmont, who arrived in Leopold Rothschild's coach and viewed the race from the Jockey Club stand. The Earl and Countess of Essex (formerly Miss Beach Grant, of New York); the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire, the Duke and Duchess of Portland, the Marquis and Marchioness of Londonderry, the Earl and Countess of Derby, Mr. and Mrs. Foxhall Keene, of New York; Lady Curzon and Prince Victor Dhuleep Singh.

After a couple of minor events, the second of which Maher won, the way was cleared for the blue ribbon race, and the paddock was soon filled with gay groups scanning their respective favorites. Volodyovski naturally was the center of attraction, and a host of admirers surrounded Mr. Whitney's crack colt. The betting was 5 to 2 against Volodyovski; 100 to 7 against William III, and 40 to 1 against Veronese.

The starters were: Volodyovski (L. Reiff), Floriform, Handicapper (Martin), Revenue, William III, Royal Rogue, Veronese, Sang Bleu, Wargrave, Pietermaritzburg, H. R. H., Veles, Ian, Royal George, Cottager, Olympian (Henry), Orchid, Tantalus (Maher), Lord Bobs, St. MacLou, Ruskin, Doricles, Claquer, Prince Charles II (Turner) and Osboch.

The conditions of the race were as follows: The Derby stakes of 6000 sovereigns, by subscription of 50 sovereigns each, for 3-year-olds, the nominator of the winner to receive 500 sovereigns, the owner of the second horse 300, and the owner of the third 200 sovereigns out of the stakes; about 1½ miles. There were 229 subscribers.

In the draw for the place it was found that the favorite had the middle of the field. Ruskin led the parade in a canter. There was a long delay at the post, caused principally by the fractiousness of Orchid. Eventually a fair start was effected. Foxhall Keene's Olympian was first away, with Claquer, Osboch and Lord Bobs close up. In settling down Olympian retained the lead. After the mile Orchid closed up, Volodyovski remaining 10th. Down the hill Olympian was closely pressed by Lord Bobs and Revenue. Then Volodyovski and William III rapidly improved their positions. Round Tattenham corner several horses dropped out. A quarter of a mile from home Volodyovski took up the running, and William III drew to second place. The favorite seemed to be winning easily, when William III came on with a tremendous rush, but Reiff pulled the favorite together and landed him a winner.

The race in detail was as follows: William C. Whitney's brown colt Volodyovski (L. Reiff), Florizel-La Reine, first; the Duke of Portland's bay colt William III, St. Simon-Gravity, second; Douglas Baird's chestnut colt Veronese, Donavan, Maize, third.

The Nadine colt (Maher) won the Juvenile plate of 200 sovereigns for 2-year-olds; distance, five furlongs. Twelve horses ran.

Disdainful (Jenkins) won the Banmore plate, Castillan came in second and Dixie (Maher) finished third.

IN A FIT OF INSANITY.

Missouri Engineer Killed His Wife and Daughter and Then Himself.

MACON, Mo., June 5.—James Stacey, an engineer, aged 51, living three miles east of here, on the Burlington road, today in a fit of mental aberration killed his wife and daughter, aged 18, and then, after relating the fact to a married daughter, who had called, shot himself to death. James, an 8-year-old son, was spared. The tragedy occurred early this morning, when the victims were asleep.

Stacey, who for the past 30 years has been a trusted engineer at the Clarence water tank, arose at 3 A. M. to go to work. It is known that he loved his family, but when he awoke this morning he was seized with an uncontrollable impulse to commit the horrible deed. The wife was the first to suffer. With a clockweight Stacey sent her into eternity by a blow on the left temple.

His daughter, Alma, aged 18, a beautiful girl, was asleep in a room upstairs, with James, her brother. There the father next went, and picking up the boy laid him on a cot in an adjoining room. Then with the clockweight the crazed man ended the life of his daughter as he had that of the wife.

Shortly before daylight Mrs. Sophia Spitles, Stacey's married daughter, who lived near by, ran over on some errand. Her father calmly told her what he had done, and the frightened woman rushed to inform her husband, who immediately ran over to the Stacey home. Before he arrived he heard the report of the gun. Stacey was found lying on the porch with his head nearly blown off by the contents of a heavily loaded shotgun. He had placed the barrel in his mouth and pulled the trigger with his toes.

Stacey was a Mason in good standing. He was addicted to no bad habits, and had, it is stated, amassed quite a fortune. He owned 60 acres of fine land and had other property. His home life was peculiarly pleasant, and in the village of Clarence no family was more highly respected than was Stacey's. Until now Stacey's sanity has never been questioned, but now it is thought long hours of work and loss of sleep unbalanced his mind and impelled him to commit the frightful deed.

Hopeless Division of Liberals.

NEW YORK, June 5.—John Morley, says a Tribune dispatch from London, has always been noted as one of the best platform speakers in Great Britain, and he has worthily upheld his reputation in this respect at Montrose. While Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman a few days ago at Edinburgh was content to taunt the Government with spending a lot of money in order to bring the hostilities in South Africa to a successful conclusion, Mr. Morley denounced the war and the policy of the British Government that led up to it in no uncertain terms. Nothing, perhaps, serves to illustrate more forcibly the almost hopeless division on this question in the ranks of the Liberal party.

Boy Murders His Sister.

SANTA FE, N. M., June 5.—Mariano Quintana, the 10-year-old son of Reyes Quintana, shot and killed his 5-year-old sister, at San Geronimo, San Miguel County, because she did not have his dinner ready for him when he wanted it.

BLUES TOOK FIRST GAME

DEFEATED SEATTLE IN OPENING OF WEEK'S SERIES, 12 TO 3.

In the First Two Innings, When Bases Were Full, Spokane Landed on the Ball for Eight Runs.

SEATTLE, June 5.—The first game of the league series this week between Seattle and Spokane resulted today in a victory for the latter by a score of 12 to 3. While Spokane had the best of the game from the beginning, the discrepancy in the playing was not as great as indicated by the score. Eight of her 12 scores resulted from bungling hits with full bases in the first two innings. H. E. Lougheed, the ex-Stanford 'varsity captain, joined the Spokane nine today and contributed three hits in the game. He has just finished coaching the Whitman College baseball team. Attendance, 400. M'KERRON CASE AGAIN.

Officials Will Decide Whether Record Was Established.

NEW YORK, June 5.—In response to the petition of George W. Archer, Frank Bower and other officials of the National Trotting Association, President P. P. Johnston has ordered that a special meeting of the board of review be held at the office of the association in Hartford on June 27. It is understood among horsemen that the meeting is for the purpose of reconsidering the ruling made by the board in the John McKerron case at its May session in New York.

This will be the third time the Turf Court has considered the performance of H. K. Devereux's trotter in the cup race at Boston last year. At the first hearing in December the board decided by unanimous vote that, having competed for a valuable prize, which could be won, McKerron's performance constituted a record. But prominent horsemen interested in amateur sport succeeded in obtaining a rehearing at the meeting last month, and with a bare quorum present the board, by a vote of three to two, reversed the December ruling of the full board, holding that no record was made.

This ruling caused a commotion among horsemen. George W. Archer and Frank Bower, members of the December board, petitioned President Johnston to call another meeting. The turf tribunal for the special meeting is likely to be made up of President Johnston, Vice-President Archer, ex-Governor Morgan; Bulkley, of Connecticut; Frank Bower, of Philadelphia; Henry Schmulbach, of Wheeling, W. Va.; Senator J. W. Bailey, of Texas, and perhaps A. B. Spreckels, of San Francisco.

Golf at Muirfield.

GULLANE, Scotland, June 5.—Play in the open golf championship contests began at Muirfield today. The weather was bright and cool. There were 101 entries—the largest lot on record—including all the best known professionals, and among the amateurs Hilton, Laidlaw and Mure Fergusson. Harry Vardon drove off. He is a big favorite for first honors. There was a large gallery of spectators, including a sprinkling of Americans. At the end of the first round, Vardon and James Braid were leading with scores of 155. Champion J. H. Taylor's score was 162.

Repairing the Constitution.

NEWPORT, R. I., June 5.—The yacht Constitution, in tow, left the harbor early today for the Herreschoffs' works at Bristol to undergo repairs of the damage wrought by the collapse of her steel mast while on a trial spin outside the harbor yesterday. Considerable rigging trailed along over the port rail as the Constitution started up the bay, and the big steel boom gave her a decided list to port.

Sir Thomas' Sympathy.

GOUROCK, June 5.—Sir Thomas Lipton said to a representative of the Associated Press:

"It is needless to say I have heard with the greatest regret of the accident to the Constitution, but I trust it will not to a great extent upset their arrangements. I am more than glad that no one was hurt. I sympathize deeply with all concerned, more so in view of my own recent experience."

Contest for Feldenheimer Trophy.

The bowling teams of the Multnomah Club and the Y. M. C. A. will contest this evening for the Feldenheimer challenge trophy on the alleys of the former.

AMERICAN IN CHINA.

Favorable Impression Created by Chaffee and His Soldiers.

YOKOHAMA, May 14, via Victoria, B. C., June 5.—Business conditions here show no improvement, though the panicky feeling has passed away, in a great measure. In Yokohama there is a notable decrease in the number of foreign residents and real estate and rents are at low ebb.

Affairs in China seem to show, in a remarkable way, the solid influence which America is there acquiring, largely attributable to the favorable impression made by General Chaffee and the troops under his command. Something like consternation prevails at the prospect of the withdrawal of these and of the Japanese, these two nationalities having alone been competent to keep order and gain the confidence of the natives.

One of the papers here publishes the following from an interview with Prince Ching:

"I think the United States will do a wise thing if it restores to China the district now allotted to it, simultaneously with the withdrawal of its troops. If it takes the initiative in this matter the other powers will follow the example set by it and the City of Pekin will then be placed in the control of the Chinese Government. Such a step, I think, is an urgent necessity for the restoration of order in Pekin. I judge that the Imperial Court will not be able to return to Pekin before the coming Fall.

"As for the existing relations between the Emperor and Empress Dowager, I may say that even should the de facto right of governing the country be restored to His Majesty's hands, it is not likely that he will be able to make use of it in carrying out all the schemes of reform he may be cherishing at heart."

Every one here scouts at the idea that the Chinese Government will ever return to Pekin, not being impossible to conceive of its doing so and at the same time preserving an atom of self-respect. It is possible that it will make a show of return to satisfy the present demand of the allies, but it will be pretense, and there is nothing in the negotiations to prevent immediate subsequent change of capitol, making all the present military precautions and preparations abortive. The universal impression is that in this matter the allies have not only overreached themselves, but have played directly into the hands of Russia.

TOLD STORY OF PEKIN

BARONESS VON KETTLELER RECEIVED BY EMPEROR WILLIAM.

Progress of the Plague at Hong Kong—Dr. Harnack Denounced by Berlin Conference.

BERLIN, June 5.—The correspondent of the Associated Press learns that Emperor William's reception of Baroness von Ketteler today, who was accompanied by her mother-in-law, was most kind. His Majesty listened with interest to the recital of the widow's sorrowful experiences during the siege of Pekin; also, to her account of Baron von Ketteler's death. The Empress, who was present at the audience, often interrupted with questions, evincing the highest regard for the widow's courage and subsequent nursing of the sick and wounded. Her Majesty, at the Emperor's request, pinned the insignia of the highest class of the Louise Order to the widow's breast. In the evening, the two Baronesses dined with the Emperor and Empress. The Baronesses are not the guests of Emperor William. They will dine probably tomorrow with the Duke of Albany, and may return to the Ketteler estates, near Munster, Westphalia, the next day, whence soon afterward they will go to a watering place. The widow has not yet recovered from the attack of nervous prostration.

ENGLISH COAL TAX.

Miners Complain That They Will Have to Bear It.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Secretary James J. Low, of the National Miners' Federation of Great Britain, has arrived here from Glasgow. He is on his way to Scranton on business connected with the federation, and will return home in a few days. In speaking of the export duty of a shilling a ton on British coal, he criticised the tax, and said that the miners will be perfectly justified in taking drastic steps, even to a national termination of mining operations. He continued:

"The workmen generally in various districts show that they are strongly in favor of taxing the mining royalties on the total production of the country, say, 200,000,000 tons of coal produced year by year. This really belongs to the nation, and if this were done at least four times the maximum duty on the exported tonnage would be obtained. As to the wage aspect of the case, the men declare that the cutting of prices in the foreign trade has in the past done much to reduce the scale in the home market, and in this way the tax would eventually have to be borne by the workers. A decrease in the coal exports—which have been swelling so in recent times—would certainly also ensue, and a large augmentation would be made to the labor ranks of the men thrown idle by the decrease demand for the shipping varieties."

Plague at Hong Kong.

LONDON, June 5.—The Colonial Office has received a dispatch from Sir Henry Blake, Governor of Hong Kong, announcing that 215 cases of the bubonic plague were reported for the week ended June 1, and that the total number of deaths thus far from the disease is 207.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 5. — The French Embassy is being felicitated by the officials of the other embassies for securing the settlement of its Armenian massacre claims. The Porte paid over £20,000 June 4, the balance of the compensation demanded for French losses.

Emperor William's Summer Plans.

BERLIN, June 5.—The papers tonight repeat the statement that Emperor William will meet Emperor Nicholas in August, but at the Foreign Office it was asserted that His Majesty's Summer plans have not yet been made.

Tartars Not Massacred by Russians.

LONDON, June 6.—The report from St. Petersburg, circulated by a news agency, that 800 inhabitants of the Tartar village of Irbeisk, on the Yenisei River, had been massacred by Russian peasants in revenge for horse-stealing, is denied.

BERLIN, June 5.—The pastoral conference now in session in Berlin today adopted a resolution denouncing Dr. Harnack, the Protestant theologian, for teaching "rationalist and unsatisfactory dogma by which Christianity is undermined."

A Royal Betrothal.

BERLIN, June 5.—Special dispatches from Vienna state that the young Grand Duke of Weimar will shortly be betrothed to Princess Alexandria Louise, daughter of the Duke of Cumberland and Teviodale.

GREAT OPPORTUNITY

BALMY SUMMER THE SEASON FOR TREATING DISEASE.

Dr. Copeland's Earnest Advice to All Chronic Invalids Is to Take Advantage of Favorable Climatic Conditions for the Medical Attention They Require.

Of the hundreds of cases of asthma, lung troubles, rheumatism and catarrhal diseases treated and cured at the Copeland Institute during the past ten years, under the inexpensive system now so popular with the community, statistics prove that the average time occupied in a cure, with patients beginning during the Summer months, is from one-third to one-half less than with those beginning a course during the rigors of Winter.

There are maladies that it requires time to master. Asthma requires time. Seated lung troubles require time. Crippling rheumatism requires time, and the rot and poison of catarrh require time.

Dr. Copeland feels that when human beings are to be lifted from the pit there should be expedition. His earnest advice to all who contemplate treatment at the Copeland Institute is to begin now, while the pleasant climatic influences strengthen the efforts of science to make recovery not only certain, but expeditious.

THESE PEOPLE SPEAK FROM PERSONAL EXPERIENCE

ADVISED BY FRIENDS TO TAKE THE COPELAND TREATMENT, NOW HE IS CURED.

Mr. J. P. Walker, 408 First Street, Portland, recently removed from Sauvie's Island, having resided in that section for 30 years: I would all sufferers from chronic disease to consult the Copeland doctors. When I commenced treatment I was in a most wretched state of health.

My sickness was brought on by exposure and overwork, resulting in a serious catarrhal trouble of the respiratory organs and digestive tract. My head was always stopped up, and phlegm dropping from the head caused me to hawk and spit constantly. Colds, from which I was seldom free, aggravated all my symptoms and made life miserable. I had ringing and buzzing noises in the head and my hearing was dull, all sounds seeming muffled.

The Worst Feature of the disease, however, was its effects upon the stomach and bowels. My stomach grew gradually weaker until I could eat nothing at all without suffering terribly. Even when the stomach was empty there was a soreness, extending clear across the body, and a feeling of dead weight in the stomach. After eating there was bloating, belching and general distress, with a gurgling and gas in the bowels.

I had lost 30 pounds and was good for nothing. I was tired and drowsy all the time and without any life or ambition.

I took both patent medicines and medicine prescribed by physicians, but nothing did me any good. The Copeland treatment was very and I placed myself under the care of these doctors. Now I can add my praise to theirs, for I am again a well man.

OTHER CURES.

Miss Mary Delfil, Ethel, Lewis Co., Wash: "I had suffered from chronic rheumatism for years and the disease had become so serious that I was reduced to the condition of a helpless crippled invalid. I was unable to dress myself or to eat without assistance, and grew so weak and emaciated that I was but a wreck of my former self. I was utterly broken down and without a shadow of hope for the future when I commenced a course of treatment with the Copeland Physicians. It is with great joy and thankfulness that I now testify to my perfect restoration to health."

Miss S. F. Troutman, Shedd, Linn County, Or.: I suppose I should have written you sooner, but I felt so well that I did not think it necessary. When I wrote for your symptom blank I was miserable indeed. I was suffering from all the annoying symptoms of catarrhal trouble. I had no strength or energy and could not eat or sleep. My nervous system seemed completely shattered.

Language cannot express the gratitude I feel for all you have done for me. I feel that you have almost raised me from the grave. I recommend and praise you to all my suffering friends, but feel it my duty to give you this short recommendation of what your wonderful treatment has done for me. It is not only a duty I owe to you, but a duty I owe to those suffering as I was.
