BASEBALL—Tacoma vs. Portland. Grounds 24th and Vaughn. Game called 3:30 P. M.

AS TO THESE CITY PATHS.—The action of the Council in granting the County Commissioners authority to construct bicycle paths on portions of some 20 streets, forming practically a connected system of bicycle paths from the north end to the south end of the city, has set many property owners and others to inquiring where these paths are to be built; that is, on which part of the streets, and also, how they are to be built. It is probable that most people will prefer to have them built on the side of the street opposite to the side they live on, for there is bound to be trouble caused by them. Vehicles drawing up to any house or being loaded or unloaded where these paths are located will probably be required to keep outside the tracks, and bicyclists will claim the right of way over such tracks and require them to be kept clear. In cases where, for instance, furniture is being moved into or out of a house across one of these bicycle paths, it is thought there will likely be trouble between the bicyclist and the men moving the furniture. One suggestion is that bicycle paths be constructed on both sides of the streets, and another and probably better one is that the paths be constructed in the middle of the streets. Perhaps it will be as well to wait till some of the proposed paths have been constructed and it is seen whether they inconvenience any one or not before the matter is seriously discussed. As to how the paths are to be constructed, some of them will be plank and other on macadamized streets will probably be of earth or crushed rock and screening raised slightly above the level of the streets. At all events, they will have to be so constructed as to satisfy the City Engineer.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.—The contract for the construction of the Beech street sewer system has been awarded by the Board of Public Works to Smyth & Howard, the lowest bidders, for $54,382 20. An arrangement has been effected with the City & Suburban Railway Company for sprinkling certain streets on which they operate car lines. The operation of the company's electric sprinkler was so satisfactory that they were awarded the contract at the same rate as last year, $13 38 per day, the city to furnish the water. As the Portland City & Oregon Railway Company has been awarded a contract for sprinkling on Hawthorne avenue and out south as far as the crematories, there are certain to be a number of much traveled streets sprinkled this Summer. Up to date, Jupiter Pluvius has been taking good care of the streets.

FOR LARGER COUNTY HOSPITAL.—Anticipating that more room will be required next winter at the County Hospital, now that the county is taking care of the city as well as the county patients, Superintendent Hanson, of the Poor Farm, yesterday appeared before the County Commissioners and suggested some changes. He advised the moving away for a distance an old house back of the hospital building, and then to have an addition to the hospital erected. He also wants a porch on both floors surrounding the building, for the benefit of the patients. The Commissioners expressed themselves favorably and will visit the premises today and make an inspection. At the same time they will look into the question of more water supply. Another well will answer the purpose.

SLOW ABOUT MOVING BUILDINGS.—The citizens who took a hand in the work of securing the opening and extending of Seventh street to connection with North Seventh expended a lot of energy and hard work in carrying the scheme through to a successful termination. The person or persons who have undertaken to remove the old shacks from the line of the extension appear to be less energetic, as to date only one of the five buildings which have to be moved has been got off the ground. It is the intention of interested property-owners to have North Seventh street and Seventh street south to Morrison improved this Summer, and the extension must be cleared before this can be done.

LARGEST SALMON OF THE SEASON.—A magnificent chinook salmon labeled "weight, 70 pounds; the largest of the season," was displayed in front of a Fourth-street fish market yesterday. Some one should have taken a photograph of it, for it was a member of a fast vanishing race, and such fish are likely to be seldom seen in the future. The chinook salmon, unless some sensible and effective method of preserving them is adopted, will soon become as extinct as the buffalo, the great auk or the dodo. In fact, if these fish do not show up in some considerable number in the Columbia within a week or two, they may be considered as practically extinct now.

WORKED BETWEEN SHOWERS. — The weather of late has not been favorable for building operations, but such as are under way have been pushed as rapidly as possible. The excavation for the brick block to be erected at the southeast corner of Sixth and Stark streets has been completed, and George Langford, who has the contract for the foundation, has got the concrete footings for the walls in by working between showers. He also has the foundations for Walter F. Burrell's residence well along toward completion. No building permits have been issued for two days owing to bad weather, but it is expected that a number will be taken out next week.

COLUMBIA RIVER EXCURSION.—Taylor-street Sunday School excursion will leave Ash-street dock at 8 o'clock tomorrow, Saturday, morning, June 8, on the Harvest Queen for Bonneville, giving a day amid the world-famed scenic beauties of the Columbia Gorge and in the splendid grove near the lower Cascades. The weather bureau predicts fair and warmer weather for Saturday. A few clouds will save you from sunburn. Take your friends and enjoy a day's outing. The ladies of the church will serve lunches and other refreshments on the boat. Round trip, adults, 60 cents; children, 30 cents. *

WILL LOOK AFTER IRWIN.—"Biddy" Bishop, manager for Toby Irwin, arrived in town last night from Seattle. He comes to look after Irwin's affairs in the latter's boxing contest with Martin Denny, which takes place in this city on the 13th inst. Bishop had Al Neill against Tommy Tracy at Seattle recently, and was here some two years ago with Jim Jefferde when Jim beat Nick Burley at the old Olympic Club. Bishop has numerous friends in Portland.

INCORPORATION.—Articles of incorporation of the Lois Placer Mining Company were filed in the County Clerk's office yesterday by Nathaniel M. Bain, Henry L. Stephenson and E. W. Bingham; capital stock, $50,000. The objects are to work mines in Josephine County.

UNITARIAN CANTATA.—At Parsons Hall, tonight, at 8:15, the Unitarian young people will give a cantata—The Coronation of the Rose. Dancing will follow. Admission, 50 cents. *

MILWAUKIE'S GRADUATING EXERCISES.—The graduating exercises of the Milwaukie School were held in the Town Hall Tuesday evening. The programme consisted of: Solo, Fred Rogers, of Portland; recitation, "The Tramp's Story," Alvin Schmale; recitation, "The Little Half-worn Shoe," Annie Thiessen; class address, "The Critical Age," Chaplain W. S. Gilbert; presentation of diplomas, by R. Scott, chairman board of directors; song, "America," by all. The class consisted of Annie Thiessen, Victor Irwin, Alvin Schmale, Leo Johnson and Leroy Johnson. The class address was one of exceptional merit, and the marked attention of the audience was an evidence of their thorough appreciation of the chaplain's sound and wholesome counsel.

STREET RAILWAY ELECTION.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Portland Street Railway Company was held this week. The great majority of the stock was represented and the following board of directors were elected: D. O. Mills, of New York; W. H. Crocker, of San Francisco; J. C. Ainsworth, O. F. Paxton and F. I. Fuller, of Portland. The directors subsequently met and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: O. F. Paxton, president; W. H. Crocker, vice-president; J. C. Ainsworth, treasurer; Frank L. Brown, secretary; J. F. Bachelder, assistant secretary. F. I. Fuller retains his position as general manager.

ON BUSINESS OF HIS OWN.—Some friends of Mr. Stephen L. Purdy, of New York City, who is in Portland on business of his own, enter a gentle protest over a paragraph published yesterday which seemed to reflect on his capacity as a drydock expert. No reflection was intended. The Port of Portland Commission were under the erroneous impression that he was coming here to give information concerning drydocks, whereas he came here on other business entirely, but was asked by an Eastern friend to make some investigations into the drydock proposition for his friend's benefit.

BECAUSE OF A LOOSE PLANK.—Mary A. Thayer has petitioned the Common Council to pay her $300 to liquidate the expense of medical treatment for her 14-year-old son, whose ankle was injured by a loose plank in the sidewalk of Johnson street, one end of which flew up and hit him. There are hundreds of loose planks in sidewalks about town. If they should all take to running up bills like this, and the city had to pay them, it would cost more than enough to put down concrete sidewalks on all the streets in Portland.

HIS ELOQUENCE DIDN'T SAVE HIM.—Joseph Keefe, an old bummer, defended himself in the choicest Hibernian yesterday in the Municipal Court against the insinuation that he had applied an opprobrious epithet to M. Kertner, of Fourth street, near Couch. "I nivir called him eny names at all, at all. Besides, th' notis is not legal, an' th' coort cannot prove it," testified Joseph. All the same, he was fined $10. This Keefe is not Joe Keefe, a Portland boy well known.

FISHED TO KILL TIME.—The Coroner's jury inquired yesterday into the case of Santo Bonati, 323 Front street, who was drowned last Wednesday by falling into the river at the foot of Madison street, and found a verdict of accidental drowning. Bonati was a railroad employe and lost his health, and, being unable to work, he engaged in fishing nearly every day, to pass away the time.

WAS VISITING FRIENDS.—John L. Huffman, of Canyon City, whose disappearance was chronicled in yesterday's Oregonian, called last night to say that he had not disappeared and was very much alive. After getting prices on the newspaper plant he wished to buy, he went to Oregon City and to Corvallis to visit his sister, whose husband is Sheriff Burnett of Benton County.

NOT WORTH REPAIRING.—City Engineer Chase has made an inspection of the First-street bridge across Marquam Gulch with a view to ascertaining whether it can be repaired or not. He reports that it is not worth repairing and that a new bridge is required, which will cost about $5100. There are other bridges across Marquam Gulch also.

PHILOMATHEAN SOCIETY.—At the last meeting of the Philomathean Society the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: President, Charles Rybke; vice-president, Timothy Wood; secretary, David N. Mosessohn, and treasurer, David Graham. After the election refreshments were served.

A COSTLY SLEEP.

Samuel Stratton Lost $805 as He Dreamed.

Detectives Ford and Cordano drove to a ranch near Sherwood yesterday and arrested James Johnston in connection with the larceny of $805 from Samuel Stratton, last Tuesday, in a Fifth-street lodging-house. Stratton says he does not know who robbed him, but is sure that Johnston slept with him in the same bed when the robbery occurred. Johnston is 23 years old, and is a miner by trade. He says that Stratton used to work for his father, and that he met Stratton last Tuesday by chance. Stratton had been drinking, and after the two friends had taken several drinks together they went to the Fifth-street lodging-house. Stratton had the $805 in gold and silver, in a pocket in his trousers, and he placed the latter at the foot of the bed. Next morning, Johnston awoke first, and Stratton afterward said he would sleep a little longer. After Johnston had gone, Stratton found that he had been robbed. When arrested, Johnston insisted that he had gone to the ranch to visit his sister. He had $3 60 on him when found. The police say that there is no definite charge against Johnston.

BLOOD STOCK.

Shipped to Oregon From Hood Farm, Lowell, Mass.

Mr. A. T. Webb, of Portland, recently made his second purchase of Berkshires from Hood Farm, Lowell, Mass. Some time since he secured a boar and four sows. He has now had shipped to him another boar. The sire of this boar is Model Duke Lee, of Hood Farm, and his dam is Highclere VIII, of Hood Farm. Model Duke Lee, of Hood Farm, is by the $750 Model Duke, and his dam is King Lee's sister, a full sister to the famous prize-winning boar, King Lee. Highclere VIII is by Wantage King out of Highclere XV. Up-to-date breeders are realizing the importance of good breeding in swine stock, and at Hood Farm they are able to get some of the best blood in what is very generally regarded as the best breed of hogs.

BROKE 4-GAME RECORD

MULTNOMAH CLUB TEAM DO SOME TALL BOWLING.

Total of 1140 Points, Which Is the Top Notch of the Cocked Hat Association.

The Multnomah Club bowling team defeated the Y. M. C. A. bowlers last evening in the contest for the Feldenheimer perpetual challenge trophy, which Multnomah was defending. The American Cocked Hat Association record for four games was broken by the Multnomah team, a total of 1140 pins being scored in the four games. The previous record was 1133 pins, held by the Oregon Road Club team of 1897.

Both teams bowled in splendid form, Y. M. C. A. taking the first game with 311 pins to their opponents' 271. Crupy, of the Y. M. C. A., assisted his team materially by an unusually high score of 77. The Multnomah men took the last three games, the team displaying a consistent form that was not reached in any previous tournament of the season.

Howard, of Y. M. C. A., was high man with an exceedingly good score of 206, with Crupy second with 201. Ball was the most accurate Multnomah bowler, with 209, while Mallory made the highest single-game score for his team of 64.

Following are the individual records and score by games:

MAJOR COLLINS DEAD.

Was Formerly Inspector-General of Oregon National Guard.

Major Sidney Collins, formerly of the United States Army, and recently of the Oregon National Guard, died yesterday at his home, 740 Oregon street. The deceased was a thorough military man, had made tactics a study, and attained a high degree of efficiency. He enlisted first in Company C, Second Regiment, Michigan State Troops, July, 1889, and went into camp with his regiment at Kalamazoo. He was promoted to Color Sergeant January 14, 1892, and took a prize at a competitive drill, July 4, 1891. In August, 1892, he was elected senior Lieutenant of Valley City Battery. November 23, 1898, he entered the regular Army at Chicago. He showed so great proficiency as a drillmaster that he was selected as instructor in tactics in the Military College at Antioch, Yellowstone Spring, O., January 25, 1894, and was made a member of the faculty March 1 the same year. At his own request he was returned to the service and went to the Coeur d'Alenes. During his service in the regular Army he was severely wounded in an engagement with the Indians and received a pension.

In Oregon he served as telegraph operator, at Oak Point and was agent for the O. R. & N. Co. at Arlington. He was at the latter place when he was appointed Inspector-General of the Oregon National Guard of the state, and immediately made a tour of inspection, accompanied by Colonel Jackson. After he had finished his inspection he entered the office of Adjutant-General Tuttle, where he remained till 1898. General Beebe paid him a very high compliment when he said that he regarded Major Collins as the best informed military man in the Oregon National Guard. Major Collins was born in Indiana 40 years ago. A wife and four children, three girls and one son, survive him. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock from F. S. Dunning's undertaking parlors, East Sixth and East Alder streets.

FOR COAL AND FLAX.

Mexico Asks for the Fuel—Deimel Company May Come Here.

A. Pfeufer, care of the American Club, Calle Gante No. 1, Mexico, D. F., has written the Portland Chamber of Commerce for the address of persons who may own undeveloped coal mines in this region. He says he makes this request with a view to organizing a company to handle coal for Mexico by way of the Pacific "soon as we have railroad communication with a Pacific Coast port."

Dr. Henry L. Deimel, of the Deimel Fabric Company, of London, England, has written the Portland Board of Trade that he purposes visiting Oregon the coming Summer to investigate the opportunities for a linen factory here. Dr. Deimel says his company intends to increase its capital stock and establish a factory on the Pacific Coast of the United States. Before such factory can be established, however, a flax-spinning plant must be in operation, and the Deimel company will not enter into that branch of the business.

MAY STRETCH OVER TWO DAYS

Fourth of July Will Be Ushered In on Evening of the 3d.

The Fourth of July programme this year is likely to be spread over two days, according to the sentiments expressed by the finance committee, at its meeting last evening. The preliminary exercises will be held on Wednesday, the 3d, and a good, old-fashioned Fourth is being cut out for Thursday.

The committee is meeting with good success in raising money for the various items that go to make a successful celebration. Outdoor games, yacht races, parade, fireworks on the river, band concerts and literary exercises will be provided, and Mayor Rowe will today be asked to name the proper committees for these departments, so that arrangements can be made as soon as possible for their successful carrying out.

The sum of $3500, it is thought, will insure a good two days' celebration. Of this sum, $1127 50 has already been raised, and about $1100 more pledged. The various soliciting committees will work in their respective territories between now and Monday evening, when another meeting will be held at the rooms of the Manufacturers' Association, third floor of the Chamber of Commerce building. The personnel of these committees was revised last evening, when the men previously appointed failed to serve and report. The finance committee feels assured that the funds will be raised by Monday evening.

TWO PET COYOTES.

Eastern Oregon Visitors Enjoying a Season of City Life.

Two young Eastern Oregon coyotes, in the basement of the Hotel Perkins, afford the spectator an insight to the habits of these animals in their native heath, as they have only recently been captured, although already quite tame. The little chaps are about two months old, are of a dull yellow color, and are of about equal size. Their fighting propensities manifested themselves at all times, and they always fight until one or the other is whipped. A bone thrown to the pair is the signal for a savage tussle, which begins before either of them attempts to eat the meat. The fight may last 10 or 15 minutes, but when it is over the victor takes possession of the bone; the vanquished crawls off to his corner, where he sits cowed, while watching his partner dine. Should the whipped one make a stir toward the bone, a warning growl from the victor sets him back again.

That they fight to hurt is evident by the way in which their ears are torn into shreds. Their keen, white teeth are shaped like the thorns on a rosebush, and whatever they close down on must be pretty tough or it will bear the marks. While they fight, the underneath one does all the yelling, which sounds not unlike that of the domesticated puppy. While they were having one of their habitual fights yesterday one got the other's head down in a basin of water, and would have held him there until the under one was drowned had not some of the cold Bull Run been splashed in the victor's eyes and thus induced him to let go.

The little chaps are the property of J. W. Robinson, a merchant of Ashwood, who is here as a witness in the Oregon King suit. They were caught in their native den, which was merely a squirrel hole that had been enlarged for a coyote home after the mother coyote had killed off the rightful owners. Sheepherders, armed with iron hooks, dig the puppies out of their burrows, and, after killing them, sell their scalps to the nearest County Clerk for $2 each. Mr. Robinson thought he would save these two from the death penalty, and has concluded to raise them as pets.

A DOZEN REASONS

Why You Should Take Osteopathic Treatment.

1. The percentage of its cures is greater than in any other system.
2. Most of its cures are made when all else has failed.
3. It cures many troubles that medicine cannot.
4. The treatment is absolutely safe.
5. It does not produce one disease to cure another.
6. It removes the cause of the disease.
7. Improvement continues after treatment and the cure is permanent.
8. The system is not saturated with dangerous drugs.
9. Is more pleasant to take than any other treatment.
10. The method of treatment appeals to the common sense of intelligent people.
11. The thousands who have tried it are enthusiastic in its praise.
12. The charges are quite reasonable.

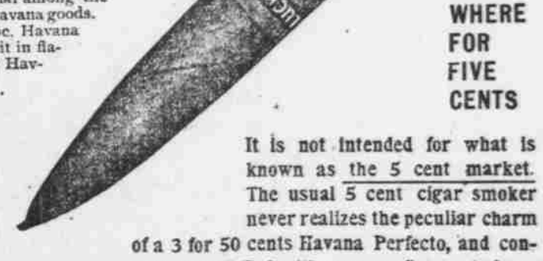
LUCKE'S Clever Substitute for Havana

A superb effect obtained by a blend of South American Tobaccos.

"IMPORTS"

Have no equal among the less costly Havana goods. No 3 for 25c. Havana approaches it in flavor. Every Havana smoker should

TRY IT.



IT SELLS EVERYWHERE FOR FIVE CENTS

It is not intended for what is known as the 5 cent market. The usual 5 cent cigar smoker never realizes the peculiar charm of a 3 for 50 cents Havana Perfecto, and consumers satisfied with common five cent cigars will not likely appreciate the special purpose and flavor of an "Import" cigar. Its hearty friends are the smokers of finest Havana goods.
