

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Amusements. BASEBALL—Tacoma vs. Portland. Grounds 2nd and Vaughn. Game called 3:30 P. M. TIME-CARDS ON LETTER-BOXES—The attention of the Oregonian has been called to the absence of cards on the letter-boxes around town, stating the hours for collecting mail from them, which it is alleged is causing much inconvenience, especially in outlying parts of the city. The complainant cannot understand this long delay in a matter seemingly so easy to attend to, and asks The Oregonian to find out and publish the explanation, and thus relieve the minds of persons "to whom it is often important to know at what hour a letter must be mailed in order to escape lying over night in the mailbox." Inquiry shows that the matter of preparing the cards mentioned is not so easy as it may seem. It is not practicable to figure up just at what time all the boxes in the city can be visited by the collectors of mail until all the boxes are in place. There has been delay in getting this done for several reasons, one of which is the failure of a number of boxes to arrive, but they have all been put up within the past day or two, and the matter of figuring up the time to put on the cards for all these boxes is now in hand. When this is completed, the figures must be sent to Washington and the cards printed there, which will require some time, if not more, as Government work of this kind is not done in a hurry. The cards will be placed on the boxes as soon as practicable, and in the meantime it will be well for persons mailing important letters to get them into the boxes at the earliest possible moment, and if this is too late for the collector, the letters will be just as comfortable in the box over night as anywhere else. DEATH OF AN OLD RESIDENT—Charles Geyer, an old and well-known resident of this city, died at his residence on Eighteenth street, at 10 o'clock Thursday evening, after a short illness, aged 55 years. He was attacked with heart trouble about a week ago, but rallied, and for a day or two seemed in a fair way to get over it, but suffered a relapse and the end soon came. Mr. Geyer was a German by birth, came to this country when a young man, and served in the United States Army during the Civil War, being a member of Sherman's army on the march from Atlanta to the sea. At the conclusion of the war his company came to this country, and he was discharged from the service at Fort Lapeau, and found his way to Portland some 32 years ago, and has resided here ever since. For some years he drove a baker wagon for William Bellinger, and afterward was in the employ of Henry Wehler. For a number of years he has kept a saloon on Saver street, which had the reputation of being the most orderly place of the kind in the city. Mr. Geyer was a good-looking, well-behaved and genial man, who during his long residence here made many friends, and was highly respected by them. He had no relatives here, and his property, with the exception of a few legacies, goes to his mother, brothers and sisters in Germany. He is survived by Dr. D. S. Baber and W. J. Van Schuyver executors of his will. PERFECT WINTER APPLES NOW—It is doubtful whether any of the orchardists in the Willamette valley could furnish at this late date any boxes of sound apples which could be shipped to Buffalo and give a favorable idea of Oregon apples. A box of sound apples, as sound as could be wished, has been packed for transmission to Commissioner Doach by W. S. Miller, a fruitgrower of Clatskanie, and samples of these apples were left at the post office yesterday. The apples are a new variety produced by a seedling tree on Mr. Miller's place, and are called "Miller's Seedling." They are of medium size, and much resemble in shape the Ben Davis, but are more highly colored. They surpass all other apples in point of long keeping, as Mr. Miller says they remain sound until the first harvest time. Mr. Miller is top-dressing as many trees as possible with manure, and the new apple will form a valuable addition to the list now cultivated in this state. Mr. Doach will doubtless be surprised and gratified to be able to make a display of Oregon apples at Buffalo at this late date, when new apples from New Zealand are in the market here. CUSTOM-HOUSE FENCE MOVED—The high board fence around the new Custom-House is not being taken down exactly, but is being moved toward the edge of the cement sidewalk on Davis, Seventh and Everett streets. This innovation is being carried on at the instance of the Treasury Department, whose officials had heard of the murmurings of the residents. The Eighth-street fence will not be disturbed; neither will the two-story cottage which reaches the middle of the intersection of Davis and Everett streets. The people of that locality will therefore probably feel grateful for small favors, as the Government did not consider itself in duty bound to move the fence at this season, and possibly remain in its restricted position for about another 12 months, when the building will have been received by the authorities and thrown open to the use of the public. IN BLACK AND WHITE—Henry Williams, of Ashland, 21 years old, was in the Municipal Court yesterday, charged with smashing windows in the residence occupied by Lottie Smith, on Second street, near Burnside. Williams testified that he did not know exactly what took place, as he had been drinking. A. Walker, who appeared for Williams, asked Lottie if she still kept house for a colored man named Smith. "I don't keep house for any colored man," insisted the witness. "Since when did you turn white?" asked Wolf. "His name is Smith, and he ain't colored," was the answer. Williams admitted that he was recently arrested in a raid on an opium den, and was fined $100, but was afterwards released on probation. The case was continued. STRAWBERRIES TOO BIG TO EAT—James Beal, who lives on the Murray claim, east of East Portland, and makes a specialty of raising big strawberries for market, brought to town yesterday about a score of berries that weighed three pounds. They were of the Sharpless variety, and the largest berry measured 3 1/2 inches at its greatest circumference. Most of them were of irregular shape, but several were as regular and plump as could be wished for, and all looked mighty tempting. For a season not very favorable for strawberries, Mr. Beal regards these as a pretty fair exhibit for Oregon. PATING WATER RATES—The water rates, which are due on the first day of every month, have been coming in very slowly this month. Many persons will probably postpone paying until next Monday, which will be the last of the days of grace, and consequently they will have to stand in line in the water works office a long time waiting for their turn to pay. Those who wish to avoid this delay should call and pay their water rates today. DINNER FOR INDIAN WAR VETERANS—Captain McMillen and A. Steward were around yesterday collecting money to provide a fine dinner for the Indian War Veterans to be given them on the 15th of this month. They were having good success, and have no fears as to being able to raise $200, which is about what they require. The number of the veterans is growing less year by year, and every one desires to honor the "brave old boys." INCORPORATION—Articles of incorporation of the Willamette Oil Company were filed in the office of the County Clerk yesterday. The objects are to develop oil lands. The incorporators are W. J. Curtis, Nelson and H. K. Sargent. Capital stock, $200,000. BASEBALL TODAY—PORTLAND VS. TACOMA. GROUND 2ND AND VAUGHN. GAME CALLED AT 3:30. SPECIAL SALE WEDNESDAY. Carroll's.

TORE DOWN AN OLD LANDMARK—Occasionally a reporter has the pleasure of announcing, "Another Landmark Gone," but such goings are all too few, and there are so many of these disfiguring old landmarks remaining which ought to be gone that one cannot help feeling that something on the strenuous line ought to be done to get rid of them. Out in Paradise Valley the residents have taken this matter in hand, and Thursday evening some 500 of them gathered to witness the tearing down of the old laundry building on Jefferson street, extending from Jefferson to Columbia, which has for some time been in an unsafe condition. The boys procured a wire cable and made it fast to one end of the old building and pulled down a considerable portion of it, and also pulled down the old water tank. A house near by, once owned by John Egan, but in which there had been cases of smallpox, and which has afterwards been partially burned, was also pulled down. The boys engaged in the demolition of these old quacks worked like bees, and were cheered by the spectators. They quit work about 11 P. M., after agreeing to meet again last night and complete their work. The old laundry was owned by "Fanta's" Peterson, and was at one time a beehive of industry where some 200 men and girls were employed by Mr. Peterson when he was making the money he deposited in the Portland Savings Bank. RECOGNIZED ONE BUILDING—John W. Johnson and wife, of Minnesota, are in the city visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Pearson, Mrs. Johnson being Mrs. Johnson of Minnesota, who with his wife has been traveling for health and pleasure for several months, coming here from California. Mr. Johnson came to Oregon when a young man 21 years ago, and bought a large farm here, and his father came out and joined him, but after a short stay they sold the farm and returned to Minnesota, where they have probably done much better at farming than they would here. Mr. Johnson, however, is wearied of the cold climate of Minnesota, and did not like to go to California, but is charmed with Oregon, and contemplates coming here to reside permanently. This is the first time he has been here since his visit to Oregon in 1870, and he has found which he recognized is the old Occidental Hotel at First and Morrison. OROON AS AN OBJECT LESSON—In its account of the opening of the Agricultural building of the Pan-American exposition the Buffalo Courier notes that the exercises were held "in the south promenade in front of the beautiful Oregon display." The paper also notes that Professor Roberts, of Cornell University, referred in a fine speech to the importance of agriculture and explained the wonderful progress being made in this as well as other lines of endeavor. "It is not quantity, but quality, and taste and genius, that we want in this generation, and that is what I have in mind," he said, pointing to the Oregon exhibit. BRIDGE AGAIN IN COMMISSION—The Hood-street bridge, crossing Marquam Gulch, has been rechecked and is again passable for teams. While it was under repair teams were obliged to drive around on Caruthers, Macadam and Baker streets, and as these thoroughfares are steep and unimproved, drivers "astray" in Hood street will be glad the bridge has again been placed in commission. Hood street is the principal approach to the city from the south, and is the favorite drive for tourists and pleasure seekers. COME TONIGHT AT 7 P. M.—The great auction rummage sale begins. Mr. Clarke has kindly consented to amuse and entertain the crowd and dispose of this great conglomeration of useful articles, which have been donated to this philanthropic sale. It is seldom that such free amusement is offered the public, and the little money that you will leave behind will bring gladness to the hearts of those for whom these moneys are intended. Make no mistake—Nos. 113 and 115 Third street, near Washington street. EARLY POTATO EXPORTERS—The potato business for this season is about wound up. The last lot to be shipped will probably go to San Francisco on the next steamer. A ton of potatoes is still being paid for potatoes, but there are no more left in the country than will be needed here. Potato-growers who did not dispose of their crop too early in the season had a picnic this year, and they have laid their plans for another one next season. COMMERCIAL CLUB MUSICALS—At an informal musicale to be given in the club-rooms this evening Messrs. Webber and Elliott will perform on the xylophone and marimbaphone. The last-named instrument is the only one of its kind west of the Rockies. The orchestra has prepared a special programme for the evening, and a member of the club will sing the Eugene Cowles' latest song, "Forgotten," accompanied by the orchestra. THE FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, 4th and Washington streets—Sunday, 10:30 A. M., Children's day exercises will be held in the main auditorium in place of the usual morning services, and a short address will be delivered by the pastor, who has returned from attending the General Assembly. Evening services 7:45, with sermon by the pastor. Music by quartet under Edgar E. Courson. OROON CRY EVER. TAPS—Taps take the boat from Taylor-street dock and see the Willamette Falls at this stage of water. The sight is a grand one. Boats leave Portland week days at 8:30 and 11:30 A. M., and 2:30, 5:30, 7:30, 9:30, 11 A. M., 1:30, 4:30 and 7 P. M. Round trip 25 cents. FORESTERS' EXCURSION TOMORROW—The Oregon Foresters will have a picnic and dance on barge. Rival ball game. Round trip 50 cents; children, 6 to 12, 25 cents. BASEBALL TODAY—PORTLAND VS. TACOMA. GROUND 2ND AND VAUGHN. GAME CALLED AT 3:30. DR. G. M. KELLER'S Hydropathic Institute, formerly of Piedmont, is now permanently located at 201 Fourteenth street, corner Taylor. LOCKLEY HALL, Seaside, Or.—Usual good chicken dinner Sundays.

NOT A SUMMER PICNIC NATIONAL GUARD FIELD DUTY WILL MEAN HARD WORK. Adjutant-General Gantenbein Issues Orders for the Allowance for the Week. Adjutant-General Gantenbein's order for seven days' camp and field duty for the Oregon National Guard this year is not an invitation to the boys to go on a Summer picnic. The outing will mean work, hard work of the military type, and the object of it is discipline and training. Everything from reveille to taps will be done in military form. General Gantenbein yesterday issued the following order for allowance of camp equipment and subsistence. The Quartermaster-General will issue in ample time and without requisition the allowance of property made to the various organizations: FOR TROOPS IN CAMP. Allowance of Tents. To commanding officer—1 hospital tent and 1 wall tent. To field and staff officers—1 wall tent. To captains, company—1 wall tent. To subalterns, company, to every two-wall tent. To noncommissioned staff, to every two—1 common tent. To each company—14 common tents and 2 mess pavilions. To each band—20 common tents and 1 mess pavilion. To each regimental hospital—1 hospital tent, 1 wall tent and 4 common tents. To each hospital, separate battalion—1 hospital tent, 1 wall tent and 2 common tents. To each guardhouse—1 hospital tent and 2 wall tents. To each regiment or separate battalion—1 hospital tent for storage. Allowance of Equipage. To commanding officer—1 cot and bed-sack, and two chairs. To each officer—1 cot and bed-sack and 1 chair. To each officer's tent—1 table and 1 lantern. To each tent—1 wash basin and 1 water pail. To each company—2 axes and helms, 2 shovels, 1 pick, 1 rake, 2 brooms, 2 lanterns, 1 oil can and 2 bed-sacks, 2 lanterns, 1 pick, 1 shovel, 1 water pail, 2 bed-sacks, 1 shovel, 1 broom, 1 lantern and 1 oil can. To the hospital regiment—6 cots, 6 blankets, 6 pillows, 12 bed-sacks, 6 pillow slips, 6 towels, 6 chairs, 1 table, 1 broom, 2 lanterns and 1 oil can; and for hospital detachment, 8 bed-sacks. To guard, regiment—2 bed-sacks, 2 lanterns, 2 brooms, 2 camp stools, 1 table, 1 oil can, 2 shovels and 2 rakes. To guard, separate battalion—1 table, 1 oil can and one-half allowance for regimental quarters. To commanding officer, regiment—1 wall tent and 1 common tent. To field and staff officers, to every two—1 common tent. To each company—2 common tents. Allowance of Equipage. To commanding officer—2 chairs and 1 table. To each officer—1 cot. To each officer's tent—1 wash basin, 1 water pail, 1 camp stool, 1 candle per day. To each company—2 axes and helms, 1 pick, 2 shovels, 2 water pails. To each band—1 pick and one-half allowance to company. To headquarters' mess, regiment—1 ax and helve, 1 pick, 1 shovel, 1 water pail. Allowance of Wagon Transportation. To headquarters, regiment—1 two-horse wagon. To noncommissioned staff, band and hospital detachment—1 two-horse wagon. To each company of infantry—1 two-horse wagon. To each troop of cavalry—1 four-horse wagon. To battery of light artillery—1 four-horse wagon. To regimental hospital—1 two-horse ambulance. FOR TROOPS IN CAMP OR IN FIELD. Subsistence Property. To each company—1 coffee boiler, 1 wash boiler, 4 iron grate bars, 1 steel plate, 3 camp kettles for troops in camp, 1 jointed stovepipe and 1 mess chest, with the following contents: One butcher's cleaver, 1 butcher's steel, 2 butcher's knives, 10 wooden knives, 3 vegetable knives, 2 coffee pots, 2 dairy pans, 2 dishpans, 4 frying pans, 6 basting pans, 2 basting spoons, 1 grater, 10 salt dredgers, 10 pepper dredgers, 2 flesh forks, 2 skimmers, 2 soup ladles, 1 dipping four sifter, 2 can openers, 1 chopping bowl, 1 chopping knife, 1 hotcake turner, 2 kettle covers. To officers' mess, regiment or separate battalion—Same as company allowance. No other articles of kitchen utensils or tableware will be issued. A troop of cavalry or battery of artillery shall be entitled to the same allowances as a company of infantry, unless otherwise specified. The noncommissioned staff, band and hospital corps will mess together. Oregon's Timber Exhibit. Oregon timber at the Pan-American Exposition is an eye-opener to many of the Eastern visitors. Dr. T. C. Humphrey, of the East Side, was at the exposition and visited the Oregon exhibit. He tells some amusing stories concerning this display, especially concerning the timber. He said that a lumberman from Georgia came to the exposition and went to the display from his state. He asked why it was that the 26-inch board he had sent had not been placed with the exhibit. He was greatly put out at not finding it. Some one standing by asked if he was looking for a board, and called his attention to a 16-inch board from Oregon. He gave it one look and then walked away, saying nothing more about the missing board from Georgia. Some other lumberman, said Dr. Humphrey, were examining the big blocks saved from the ends of logs eight feet in diameter, when one remarked that it was impossible that there should be such big timbers in Oregon. "Those blocks are simply glued together, and we can find the pieces," he continued. They all made a close examination for the seams in the blocks for glue, but found nothing of the sort, and they went away silenced. PROVIDING MORE ROOM. Changes in the Courthouse Under Consideration by Commissioners. Plans for alterations in the courtrooms of the State Circuit Court were submitted to the County Commissioners by Richard Martin, architect, yesterday morning. The changes are desired by the Judges, and look for the work will probably be advertised for at once. The bench in department No. 1, where cases are heard by the four Judges, is too small to accommodate them. It is to be enlarged and a new bench is also to be provided. In order to give room for the change, the seats for the jury will have to be extended into the room some little distance. A new bench is also to be provided in Judge Cleland's department to accommodate three Judges when sitting in equity cases. The other rooms will not be disturbed, as they will be used solely in the trial of jury cases, where one Judge will occupy the bench. A witness stand which can be moved from one part of the room to another will also be installed No. 1. Mr. Martin is preparing plans for an addition to the Courthouse in order to get the cases over the O. E. & N. lines. REJECTED Candidates Physically Disqualified. WEST POINT, N. Y., June 6.—No official report has yet been made by the medical examining board, but in official circles it is said that about 25 per cent of the young men who yesterday presented themselves for entrance examination at the military academy were found physically disqualified, mainly on account of weak eyes. The examinations of the installed candidates will be finished tomorrow. Stories About Animals. THE SUNDAY OREGONIAN will contain a page of animal stories for children. Parents should provide the little ones with the wholesome literature in tomorrow's paper. MORE ATTENTION TO DAIRY. Inland Empire Farmers Being Converted to Modern Methods. W. P. Conaway, receiver of the Moscow National Bank, passed through the city yesterday en route to Moscow. He had been spending a few days at his home in Independence. Within the next few weeks he will close the affairs of the Moscow bank, report conditions and turn over the books to the Controller of the Currency and return to his Oregon home. Mr. Conaway says that the farmers of the Palouse country in Eastern Washington and Northern Idaho are becoming interested in dairying and diversified farming. C. L. Smith, of Minnesota, now lecturing in the Willamette Valley, aroused the wheat growers of the Inland Empire by predicting failure of cereals in that region unless rotation of crops is observed. Many carloads of butter from Minnesota pass through the state of Washington every month, bound for Alaska and the Northwest territories. Mr. Conaway agrees with Mr. Smith in the declaration that Washington and Oregon should supply the Pacific region with butter.
