PRESENT TO THE OREGON

BATTLE-SHIP'S GODMOTHER GIVES A LOVING CUP.

Mrs. Percy T. Morgan, nee Daisy Alusworth, Remembers Vessel She Christened Seven Years Ago.

Mrs. Percy T. Morgan, of San Francisco, who christened the battle-ship Oregon seven years ago, recently presented that vessel, which is now at San Francisco, with a loving cup, engraved with picture and emblem of the glory that has been the Oregon's since she was launched and

Mrs. Morgan was Daisy Ainsworth then -some seven years ago the launch reck-ons back-today she is Mrs. Percy T. Morgan on the cards and the visiting it was delivered to Captain Charles Thomas and Lieutenant-Commander Adams: Having had the honor of being chosen to christen the Oregon at her launching. I send the cup which accompanies this note and which I hope you will accept on behalf of the ship, in token of the great pride I feel in her splendid achievements.

May her record in the future continue the glories of her past, With kind regards, sinzerely yours.

glories of her past. With an array yours, DAISY AINSWORTH MORGAN. The godmother's loving cup is of San Francisco workmanship. George H. Shreve & Co. made it and suggested the design. It was taken to the Oregon by William J. Peden, of the Shreve firm, to whom the officers in command intrus message of thanks to Mrs. Morgan. and intrusted a The cup is the handsomest piece of silver ever given to the Oregon. It stands a full 15 inches and measures 12 inches across the bowl. The three handles divide the exterior of the bowl into three panels. The first panel has a gold laurel wreath at the top; in the center a broadside model of the Oregon in silver relief showing all the details of the superstructure. At the bottom against a realistic wave effect are crossed cannons and anchors entwined with scroll and leaf, and engraved U. S. S.

Oregon.

The second panel represents a map of the Western Hemisphere, showing the great 13,900-mile trip of the ship from San Francisco to Santiago.

The third panel is encircled by a large laurel wreath inclosing the inscription, "U. S. S. Oregon, from her godmother, Daisy Ainsworth." Between the points of the wreath is a gold anchor and over it a gold union shield.

The base of the cup is made up of scroll and ribbon work, with medallion seals of the Navy Department, the State of Oregon and the State of California. The en-tire cup is sub-ornamented with anchors, chains and ropes in graceful blend.

IMPORTING DESTITUTE SICK Walla Walla Sends a Distressing Case to Portland.

Frank Allaman, who, according to his own statement, was sent here in a sick and helpless condition, unable to walk, from Walla Walla, was committed to the Multnomah County Hospital yesterday by order of Commissioner Showers. The man lists; but she is still Dalsy Ainsworth to the men who remember that day she broke the christening bottle over the bow of the great battle-ship, and she is atill Dalsy Ainsworth on the little inscription that named the cup's donor.

This letter accompanied the cup when It was delivered to Captain Charles Thomsee him at his bedside in the Salvation Army quarters. They told him he did not belong to that county, and sent Mr. Hunt, superintendent of the poor farm, to see him, with a ticket to Portland, and he was also given 50 cents. Mr. Hunt told him he paid for the ticket out of his own pocket, and that the Portland people had better facilities for taking care of him than they had in Walla Walla.

Allaman is 30 years old, and had been in Walla Walls only two weeks. He came there from Stockton, Cal. He is afflicted with rheumatism of a very severe char-acter. Commissioner Showers and County acter. Commissioner Showers and County Physician McKay decided out of sympathy to send Allaman to the hospital; in fact, there was nothing else to do, as he was too sick to be sent back to Walla Walla. In future, however, cases will be returned, as it is too much of a burden to take the sick off the hands of other communities. Allaman was taken sick in Walla Walla, and should have been treated there. treated there.

TWO DAYS' CELEBRATION

FOURTH OF JULY PROGRAMME IS BEING PERFECTED.

General Committee Holds an Enthusiastic Meeting, and Progresses Rapidly.

The Fourth of July committee held an enthusiastic and well-attended meeting last night in the Chamber of Commerce building, and progressed considerably in the perfecting of plans for this year's celebration. Perhaps the most important action taken was the determination to have a two days' celebration. Although the fund raised is not as large as had been desired by the committee; still, the belief was expressed by a majority of those present that a suitable celebration could not be given in a single day; hence the de-

Reports were submitted from the various soliciting committees, which showed that $3032 75 had been collected and subscribed. This was apportioned by the committee as

Parade Music Music
Literary exercises
Fireworks
Printing and advertising
Amusements

For the present the general committee will proceed on the theory that it has but $3000 to spend on the celebration. Not all of the various soliciting committees have made their final report as yet, and it is be raised, in which case an additional apportionment will be made to each of the foregoing features of the celebration.

After more or less discussion it was de-cided to give the parade in the daytime. General O. Summers, who is chairman of the subcommittee on parade, voiced the general sentiment when he stated that the night parade involved an immense amount of work, more, in fact, than the parade itself will repay, and that it is, moreover, too expensive. The views of General Summers were adopted by the committee unanimously. The suggestion was made that it might be well to have some day fireworks in connection with the parade, but that was also abandoned after some discussion. It was resolved to have all the fireworks at night. The matter of selecting where they shall be given was deferred until the next meeting. The committee on amusements reported that its part of the programme would in-clude yacht races and a rowing regatta. Representatives of the Multnomah Amatour Rod and Gun Club were present, and asked that the sum of $250 be donated their organization to aid in making preparations for the shoot which will form part of the celebration. It was stated that crack shots will be present from British Columbia, Montana, Idaho, Washington and various parts of this state. The matter of the donation was referred to the finance committee. sentatives of the club stated that $500 had already been raised for cash prizes, and $300 for trophies, medals, merchandise and the like. The Northern Pacific and the O. R. & N. Co. have made a round-trip of one and one-third fare, and the Southern Pacific a flat single fare. The targets for the shoot will be inanimate.

The committee on literary exercises reported that the following programme had been arranged:

The place of holding the literary exerises has not been determined upon.

The parade and music subcommittees will hold a joint meeting at 3:30 this afterpoon at room 723 Chamber of Commerce building. These committees are as fol-Parade-General O. Summers, C. U. Gantenbein, E. House, E. Everett, James P. Shaw, J. A. Bushman, Frank B. Thorn.

Music-I. N. Fleischner, Dom J. Zan, J. G. Mack, L. H. Wells, J. F. Cathcart. The music committee will be ready to receive proposals for bands.

NEW HOSPITAL AMBULANCE

First Half-Dollar Saved Years Ago by Mrs. Edward Holman.

The new white and gold private ambulance of the Edward Holman Undertaking Company has been much admired here since its recent arrival from Rochester. N. Y. It is interesting to know that Mrs. Edward Holman is the person who has all along persuaded her husband to buy the ambulance. Years ago, one of Mrs. Holman's children died and she obtained a half-dollar, stamped with the year in which the child was born, and said: "This will be the nucleus for a hospital ambulance." Other money was added from time to time, until a short time ago, when a sufficient sum was obtained to pay for the ambulance, and it was ordered.

contain everything necessary to the com-fort of mothers and babies. If it is so desired, mothers who occupy the rooms may contribute toward the expenses.

The ambulance is one of the handsomest on the Pacific Coast. It is painted white with gold borders, and the stretcher or bed inside can be converted into a chair for the patient at will. The mattiess is rub-ber, and the sheets and pillow-case are kept in snowy whiteness. Three cane-bottom seats are at the side for attendants, and opposite is a night lamp. Near the patient's head is a medicine-box, containing medicine and surgical appliances for emergencies. The hubs of the wheels are sliver-plated, and thick rubber tires cover the rims. There are lamps at each side of the ambulance, and a gong in front of the driver.

The general arrangements are so complete that hardly any perceptible jar is noticed by the patient as the ambulance speeds along. It will prove a solace to the sick and injured, and help to alleviate beds of pain.
