TO LESSEN LOG SURPLUS

COLUMBIA RIVER CAMPS VOTE A THREE WEEKS' SHUT-DOWN.

Year's Output Will Be Decreased 50,000,000 Feet—Loggers' Association Elects Officers.

Nearly all the logging camps on the Columbia River will shut down for three consecutive weeks between July 1 and September 15. An agreement to do so was signed in Portland Thursday at a meeting of the Columbia River Loggers' Association, at which it is said nine-tenths of the camps on the river were represented. The time of closing was left to the camps. The shut-down means a decrease of 50,000,000 feet in the year's output of logs. As the mills are expected to cut 20,000,000 feet while the camps are idle, loggers figure that the log surplus will be lessened by 50,000,000 feet. The shut-down was agreed upon after considerable discussion. It was agreed that the surplus of logs was increasing so rapidly that prices would soon be lowered if the output were not stopped. In the resolution adopted, logging camps using trams are permitted to close down for a shorter period than those using steam entirely, for the reason that the former cannot work so steadily as the latter. Another resolution was adopted permitting two camps to continue putting in some special length logs, so that they may complete orders now on hand. The association elected the following officers: President, S. Benson; vice-president, James Muckle; secretary and treasurer, Charles G. Briggs.

EXTENDED TO AUGUST 1.

Beer Stamps May Be Cancelled in the Same Old Way.

Collector David M. Dunne, of the Internal Revenue office, received an order from Washington yesterday that will save the breweries in his district much inconvenience. Under the provisions of the internal revenue law, which goes into effect Monday, beer stamps must be cancelled with a perforating machine of special make before being placed on the kegs. These machines have to be purchased in New York or Chicago, and the demand for them is so great that it has been impossible for the breweries like the far West to secure them by July 1. Colonel Dunne, in many cases the collector throughout the country, laid these facts before Commissioner Yerkes, and yesterday the following reply was received: Washington, June 28.—Cancellation by perforation extended until August 1. J. W. YERKES, Commissioner.

Heretofore beer stamps have been cancelled with ink or rubber stamping. In many cases the cancellation has been rubbed or washed out, and in not a few instances it has thus been possible to use the stamps a second time.

WANTS NO SUNDAY REST

BARBER NORTHROP WILLING TO WORK FULL SEVEN DAYS.

His Attorney Says the Closing Act of 1901 Punishes Workmen and Makes Labor a Crime.

Attorney C. M. Idleman argued against the constitutionality of the barbers' Sunday closing law, yesterday before Judges George, Cleveland and Beary. The subject was up on the petition for a writ of habeas corpus for W. M. Northrop, who was arrested for violating the law on May 12, on complaint of Simon Abraham. Mr. Idleman argued that the law is contrary to the section of the United States Constitution which provides: No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States, nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

And to the provision of the state constitution which provides: No law shall be passed granting to any citizen or class of citizens privileges or immunities which upon the same terms shall not equally belong to all citizens. Counsel maintained that the law is special legislation, which was not permissible, and that it does not come within the police power. It is a curious law for the protection of the public, which punishes a laborer for working and makes work a crime. Numerous decisions concerning barbers' Sunday closing laws where the acts had been declared invalid were read. Some of the passages contained in the decisions were as follows: Every individual citizen must be granted so much liberty as shall not interfere with the rights of his fellow-citizen. A barber is picked out from among others and told that he must not labor on Sundays or after certain hours on holidays, but there is no Sunday law for the protection of the employees of our daily papers. A law is not general because it operates on all persons within a class. There must be reasons why it operates on one class and not another. Restrictions must be placed alike on all classes of citizens.

Counsel said the Supreme Court of Missouri declared unconstitutional an act which the Oregon act seemed to have been taken from. He asked why a barber should be put under the ban of the law when other citizens are permitted to work on Sunday without interference. District Attorney Chamberlain said it is necessary to have a day of rest for men constantly on their feet to build up a race of men instead of a race of dwarfs.

Children's 50c Past Black, heavy ribbed Hose, per pair ..... 15c

COUNSEL SAID THE BARBERS' LAW IS NOT SPECIAL LEGISLATION, AND HE CITED A DECISION OF THE OREGON SUPREME COURT CONCERNING THE LAW EXEMPTING OFFICERS AND SAILORS OF SEA-GOING VESSELS FROM ARREST AND PUNISHMENT FOR DEBT, WHERE THIS POINT WAS RAISED, AND THE COURT HELD:

The act prohibits the same rule of exemption to all persons placed in the same circumstances. It does not grant it to one and prohibit it to his neighbor. It applies to every person who is a sailor.

The United States Supreme Court, Mr. Chamberlain said, decided, "if it affects all persons alike similarly situated, it is not class legislation." Another decision was read which says: "The ground on which the law is based is generally upheld as that it is a sanitary measure. The physical necessities of man require one day of rest, and it is suitable to take as that day the one which is recognized by the greatest number of citizens." Other decisions of the United States Supreme Court were read, portions of which follow:

It is uniformly recognized that the observance of Sunday laws is within the police power of the state, the general observance of Sunday being for the health and happiness of citizens. The cessation of labor on Sunday is recognized by nearly all nations as necessary for the well being of society.

The Legislature has power to promote the order and health and happiness of its people. It cannot be assumed that the Legislature erred in providing one day in seven for rest. If the Legislature erred its responsibility is to the people.

FEARS NOT JUSTIFIED.

City Attorney Long on Validity of Two-Mill Centennial Tax.

City Attorney J. M. Long says the fears of the directors of the Board of Trade that a 2-mill tax cannot legally be levied for the support of the Lewis and Clark Centennial are unjustified. As stated in yesterday's Oregonian, the belief was expressed at the meeting of the Board of Trade directors that the tax could not be levied for the reason that it should be for the purposes of an "Oriental fair," whereas the name adopted is different. Discussing this point, Mr. Long said: "The articles of incorporation, which will be filed shortly, will cover the point raised. These articles provide that the exposition a name, and the term 'Oriental fair' was used merely to define the character of the exposition."

Mr. Long yesterday received word from A. E. Cook, United States Consul at Victoria, that R. E. Gossell, of Victoria, has been appointed Commissioner for the Lewis and Clark Centennial by the Executive Council of British Columbia. Mr. Cook closes his letter by requesting Mr. Long to send Mr. Gossell some literature.

MAY NOW TALK POLITICS.

Portland's Woman's Club Votes to Abolish Irksome Restraint.

The Portland Woman's Club has voted to strike out the provision of its constitution prohibiting discussion in the club of "politics, temperance and religion." This restriction has prevented the club from having general discussions on topics of current interest and was felt by members as imposing too much of an irksome restraint.

Friday's meeting was the last of the season. The business committee was given permission to arrange a course of lectures for the Winter. Mrs. Honeyman, president of the Y. W. C. A., presented very forcibly the great benefit that would be derived if all the women's organizations of the city would unite in establishing one good cooking
