JAPANESE HOLD KEY

MASTERS OF FISHING SITUATION ON THE FRASER.

White Union Men Will Make No Move Until a General Meeting Is Held.

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 9.—There has been no further trouble on the Fraser River between the union fishermen and the Japanese. The white men have concluded to do nothing until a general meeting of all the lodges of the union is held, and in the meantime the Japanese are undisputed masters of the situation.

After the bloodless victory of last night, all appearance of concern was noticeably lacking in the case of the Japanese. About 400 of their boats have been fishing today. They started this morning, accompanied by an armed patrol. At noon as many more went out, and this afternoon a big fleet of fishermen were at work. A sufficient number of fish were caught today to justify the canneries beginning operations tomorrow.

About 3000 Japanese spent the night in fishing. The union men organized a patrol of boats, manned by armed whites and Indians. The Japanest, however, had also organized a patrol, comprising a much larger number of boats, including the largest and fastest fishing boats on the river. Each Japanese boat contained from eight to ten armed Japanese, whereas the union boats held only half that number. Whenever a union patrol boat went near the fishing grounds, several of the Japanese patrol accompanied the opposing boat, surrounding it and simply overawed the white men by force of numbers.

NO TRACE OF STOLEN SHEEP.

Large Band Taken From Field in Night Drop Out of Sight.

CORVALLIS, Or., July 9.—In spite of a faithful search kept up for two weeks, the 178 head of sheep stolen from the field of John Rickard, four miles south of Corvallis, are still missing, and the searchers entertain little or no hope of ever securing a clew to the robbers, or discovering the whereabouts of the stolen animals. It is now more or less doubted that the sheep were taken to the mountains. The search in that direction has been so thorough that it is not believed the thieves could have escaped with their booty. A generally accepted theory is that the sheep were driven from the field into a larger band and shipped on some train from adjacent stations, a plan made easier, because of the fact that the theft was not discovered until probably two days after it was committed. On account of the mystery surrounding the matter, it is not believed that the loser or others entertain suspicions as to who did the work.

Arrested for Kidnapping.

OREGON CITY, July 9.—Mrs. Thomas Laws was placed under arrest by Constable Moody this morning on a warrant charging her with kidnapping her grandson. She was released on her own recognizance until Saturday. Mrs. Laws did not deny the fact to the Justice of the Peace that she had sent her grandson away, but averred she had a right to send the boy away on a visit.

Charged With Selling Minors Liquor

WOODBURN, Or., July 9.—John K. Gow, proprietor of a cigar store here, and his employe, Louis Durrenberger, were arrested by Constable Amos Beach today and taken before Judge Overton on the charge of selling liquor to minors on July 4. BAKER CITY, July 9.—News comes from Lightning Creek, near Robinsonville, that the body of E. A. Starr, who was lost in the mountains last November, has been found. Starr was a prominent Mason, and every effort possible has been made to find his body. The remains will be brought in by his sons-in-law, who has gone out to identify them.

Attached Circus Released.

The circus which came to town about a week ago and has remained here since, because of an attachment filed on a portion of the property by George Costello, one of the employes, departed today. The rights of property were tried before a Sheriff's jury yesterday and decided in favor of Mrs. McDonald, who claimed the property, by reason of a mortgage which she held. The jury, after hearing the testimony of those interested, decided in favor of Mrs. McDonald. A portion of the show, which included most of the wild animals, left last week, as they are owned by another man, who was not a partner with Mrs. McDonald in the show business.

Will Be a Finely Furnished Hotel.

The contract for furnishing the Geiser Grand, the new hotel in course of construction in Baker City, was let today. The average cost of the bedsteads for the 60 rooms is $47 each and the hair mattresses will cost $40 each. As all the other furniture will be in keeping with these articles and the style of the inside finish of the building, there can be no doubt as to the splendid manner in which Baker City's fine hotel will be fitted up.

GASOLINE EXPLODED.

Fisherman Was Thrown Out of Launch—Quite Badly Burned.

ASTORIA, July 9.—Isaac Gallagher, a young man who has been employed on Tom Spencer's seining grounds, was badly burned about the head and hands last evening while working on a gasoline launch. Some of the fluid had escaped from the tank into the hold and after the hatch had been taken off long enough for the gasoline to evaporate Gallagher went into the hold to clean it up. An explosion followed in some way, and he was thrown out of the boat into the water. His injuries are not considered dangerous.

She received her education at Willamette University and graduated from the department of music. She gave instruction on the piano in the college of music for two years. In 1883, she married George B. MORE FISH EACH DAY.

Lower Columbia Fishermen Count on Good Run for Some Time.

ASTORIA, July 9.—The run of fish showed an increase today over yesterday and the canneries and cold storage plants are in full operation. There is reason to believe that the run will continue for some time at least. During the past few days a number of fish have been caught with the adipose fin missing and each one weighed 30 pounds or over.

Ritchie, in the House of Commons, today, promised to consider any application for compensation in behalf of Charles Lillywhite, the American citizen, formerly of Tacoma, Wash., who was arrested in New Zealand and brought to England on the charge of being Arthur Blatch, a fugitive from Colchester, England, accused of murder. Mr. Ritchie added that he had already voluntarily notified Mr. Choate, the United States Ambassador, that the government was prepared to compensate Lillywhite.

"Farmer" Smith Spoke at Medford.

MEDFORD, Or., July 9.—C. L. Smith, the expert farmer from Minnesota, who is touring Oregon under the auspices of the Southern Pacific Company, lectured here yesterday on "Dairying and Diversified Farming," before a large audience. Mr. Smith proved that a diversified system of farming is more profitable by 50 to 100 per cent, than a single crop system. In regard to dairying, he made it plain that any farmer could make a dairy pay, also that a creamery would be a profitable investment for any community of farmers.

Lands Sold at Sheriff's Sale.

ST. HELENS, Or., July 9.—Thirty-three pieces of land were sold at Sheriff's sale yesterday under the new law. Four hundred dollars for one 80-acre tract was the highest bid. At night the auction was adjourned until 10 A. M. today. The bidding was not quite as spirited today, but it is safe to say the county will realize from this sale more than double the amount of tax and costs against the land. The receipts for sales and redemptions on this month passed the amount of $7000.

City Election at Boise.

BOISE, Idaho, July 9.—The city election today resulted in the election of M. Alexander, Citizens candidate for Mayor, over D. D. Williams, Republican, by a majority of 31. E. D. H. Idaho Notes.

Harvest in the Potlatch district will begin about July 20.

Work on the Buffalo Hump mines is impeded by the lack of long timbers and the scarcity of fuel.

A rich strike is reported from near Pierce City in a mine owned by Williamson, Mathews & Ellis. It is a large free-milling gold ledge, showing every sign of richness, some $22 having been panned from an unsorted 65-pound sack of ore. Developments are being pushed rapidly.

George Cooper, a young farmer of Dry Hollow, Wasco County, three miles from The Dalles, recently baled 85 tons of wheat hay from 14 2-3 acres. This is regarded as a record yield.

ON THE HOMEWARD MARCH

THIRD REGIMENT WILL REACH PORTLAND THURSDAY.

Report That Guardsmen Acted in an Ungentlemanly Manner Is Denied.

MOLALLA, Or., July 9.—The Third Regiment left "Camp Gantenbein," at Wilhoit Springs, this morning, and proceeded by the Canyon road to the P. M. Cross farm, where the militiamen are nicely settled tonight. The camp has been named "Camp Dunne," in honor of Colonel David M. Dunne. Tomorrow the regiment will march to the Molalla River, ford it, and camp on the bank. Thursday Oregon City will be reached and the boat taken for Portland.

The guardsmen had little spare time at Wilhoit Springs. Besides the regular routine camp work the men were out for a long drill in the forenoon. In the afternoon and evening there were parades. A day in camp, however, gave the men a chance to rest up a bit, and they are now in better physical condition than at any time during the march. This afternoon another drill in skirmish fighting was given. Major Kelly, with four companies, attacked the position held by Major von Egloffstein.

The effect of this practice march is clearly apparent. The men stand the work better, drill better, pitch and break camps more rapidly, and are in general much more efficient soldiers than they were when they left Portland.

Today's Oregonian contains a short local paragraph with the heading, "Rude Guards." It is stated in effect that men of one of the companies of the regiment, while en route to Wilhoit Springs, stopped at a house a quarter of a mile from Molalla, broke cherry trees, spoke rudely to the women of the house, and conducted themselves in an unsoldierly manner. The house referred to is that of Mrs. Julia A. Dibble, who has lived at Molalla for 40 years. A halt was called while the column was passing Mrs. Dibble's house. Some of the men went to the door and asked to buy some milk, which they paid for, and ate some cherries, which were offered to them.

The correspondent of The Oregonian called on Mrs. Dibble tonight, read the paragraph to her, and asked her opinion of it. She said:

"It is utterly false. The soldiers treated me as a lady."

A COMING MINING CAMP.

Johannesburg, on the Big Bend of the Snake River.

ONTARIO, Or., July 9.—Johannesburg, in the Big Bend of the Snake River, promises to be a real live mining camp within a few weeks. Diamond drill men are making contracts for their machines, and a number of prospecting outfits will begin work in a short time. The famous mine of C. G. Singer, where the strike was made, will resume work in a day or two. Singer has just ordered $50,000 worth of machinery and a hundred men will be started to work. G. L. Hickey and J. B. Evans, of Salt Lake City, will have a diamond drill on the ground in 10 days. Nearly every man, woman and some of the children in Ontario are interested in the ground. Payette people have also taken large tracts, and a company formed by A. Wells has filed on 1000 acres for benevolent purposes, and will organize for the purposes of handling, operating and controlling the mines in the interest of religion throughout the West. If the company's ground is one-fourth as rich as is believed, it will have wealth enough to rebuild every church building in the United States, and employ all the preachers 10 years. The reports as to values found have been corroborated by Mr. Singer, and are as follows:

At a depth of 45 feet a false bed rock was pierced, and immediately a bed of gravel carrying $5 to the ton was encountered. This mass of material is sediment, consisting of shale and sand and dry, hard gravel, and is known to be of a depth of 40 feet, the present bottom of the shaft. Bedrock is not in sight, and is only indicated by the appearance of heavy deposits of black sand overlaid by the bed rock clay, usually found on bed rock. This is not the true clay, but is on that order, and is three-fourth sand. It may be hundreds of feet to bed rock. The values get better right along.

The shaft opens up sulphates in large quantities, which carry $6 to the ton in gold and one ounce and a half in silver. The mass also carries $6 to $10 in free gold. The free gold is getting coarser and of better value and heavier quantity. The free gold combined with the base now aggregates $14 per ton, and is increasing. If another hundred feet is found before bedrock is had, there is only a chance left that it will not be the very richest strike of the kind ever made. The flour gold of the surface has long since disappeared, and shot gold found in its place. A large quantity of water was encountered until 45 feet depth was reached, but below that there is none of consequence. The water can be shut out at the 45-foot mark and dry mines had. To get the best results, the entire gangue will have to be crushed.

The strike is near the bank of Snake River in a large basin. The staking extends back on the foothills in all directions. Those who have made a rush for the higher table lands contend that they will strike their values above the water line, and thus have absolute dry mines from the start. The camp is in a beautiful and picturesque valley, where but little snow falls, and where the mountains shelter it from the Winter. Grass grows up to Christmas and starts again in February. No buildings have been erected, no saloon, store, boarding-house, or building of any kind appears. A thousand people are directly interested in the ground, but not more than 15 of them have been on the ground at one time.

APPRAISERS BEGIN WORK.

Will Determine What Baker County Must Pay Union for "Panhandle."

UNION, Or., July 9.—J. C. Pavillion, County Judge of Baker County; D. F. Wilson, County Judge of Union County, and Frank B. Clopton, of Pendleton, the commission appointed to appraise the value of the property of Union County in order to ascertain what amount Baker County must pay Union County under the law making the "Panhandle" in Union County a part of Baker County, met here today under the terms of the act of the Legislature, and entered upon the discharge of their duties. The annexation has been attacked and is now in the Circuit Court of Union County, awaiting a decision, the judge having it under advisement.

State Will Get Water Without Cost.

An ordinance passed by the City Council of Union was today approved, by which, under the ordinance, a water main connecting with the city water system will be extended to the grounds conveyed by the state to the Agricultural College, on which is the experiment station west of Union. The city will furnish water for domestic purposes free of cost to the state.

Residence Near Union Burned.

UNION, July 9.—The residence of George Wilkinson, situated five miles east of Union, was totally destroyed by fire yesterday, origin unknown. There was no insurance.

The Great Popularizer.

St. Paul Pioneer Press.

The world has seldom had a scholar who was at once so profound and so useful as John Fiske, whose sudden death at Gloucester, Mass., was recorded yesterday in a brief paragraph. In point of accuracy and breadth of learning he may not have been the greatest scholar in America, but there occurs to us none whose scholarship is so many sided as was that of John Fiske. Certainly there is none who has been able to place his learning so generously before the public or has contributed more to general culture. For where other scholars have been able to reach only the comparatively small audience of scholars, Jahn Fiske was gifted with a style so attractive that he was able to reach those who have no pretensions to learning. His contributions to philosophy, to folk-lore, and to political, institutional and constitutional history were brilliant; and whether made in the form of essays, monographs or two-volume works, they were set forth with a charm of manner possessed by few writers. For though he did not strive for that reputation, Fiske will always rank high as a man of letters. Throughout his writings there is a vein of genial humor and an intimate personal tone that fixes the attention even where the subject matter is most abstruse. In the "Cosmic Philosophy," which is largely but by no means entirely an exposition of the evolutionary philosophy of Herbert Spencer, there is a constant resort to every-day illustration that brings the argument home to the least interested. His pipe and his music, his study table or the Charles River are brought in to explain truths that lie at the basis of the physical and religious life of the universe. In like manner he has dressed the various periods of American history with which he dealt. He was a master of popular exposition and of historical narrative so potent that a page of his can hardly be found that does not create an appetite for more.

Equitable Traffic Arrangement.

CHICAGO, July 9.—Presidents of the Western lines involved in the rate difficulty have practically reached an agreement and are only waiting for the assent of a few Southern lines to put it into effect. The plan, which has been approved by the chief officials of the lines centering in Chicago, is termed an "equitable division of traffic," and will be carried out at all the gateways which have been affected by the alleged secret rate-making. The details of the plan in preparation will be engineered by George W. Risline and it is understood the roads will have an accredited agent in the shipping yards of every gateway affected, whose duty it will be to see that all freight leaving the yards is distributed among the lines in such a way as to preserve the percentage agreed upon. Daily tabulations will be made of all freight moved and the amount each road carries and in this way traffic can be "equitably delivered," according to the expressed wishes of the presidents.

EASTHAM LANDS PLACE

APPOINTED RECEIVER OF BANK AT VANCOUVER.

Strongly Indorsed by the Washington Delegation—Creditors Are Well Pleased.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 9.—The Controller of the Currency today appointed A. B. Eastham, of Vancouver, permanent receiver of the First National Bank of that place, to take office August 1. Eastham was strongly indorsed by Senator Foster and other members of the Washington delegation. It is the idea of the Controller to allow the bank to remain in the hands of Examiner Maxwell, until the first dividend of 50 percent on claims proved shall have been paid in full. It is hoped this may be done by the end of July.

Preference was given to the choice of Senator Foster rather than of the Oregon delegation because the bank was located in the former state, although doing much, if not most of its business south of the Columbia River. The Controller recognized that the Oregon men recommended were well qualified, but all things being equal, believed preference should be given to a Washington and a local man. Upon being relieved of temporary charge of the bank, Mr. Maxwell will resume his regular duties as bank examiner in the Pacific Northwest.

APPOINTMENT WELL RECEIVED.

Vancouver People Have Implicit Confidence in Mr. Eastham.

VANCOUVER, July 9.—Dr. A. B. Eastham, the newly-appointed receiver for the First National Bank, has been for many years a prominent figure in business and political circles in Vancouver. He is a dentist by profession, and has always enjoyed a lucrative practice. He has served in the City Council, and also as Mayor of the city, and is well and favorably known all over the state. His appointment will be well received, not only as a reward for party loyalty, but from the fact that he will enjoy the implicit confidence of his neighbors and friends who suffered with him by the bank failure.

DEFEAT FOR GEORGE U. PIPER.

Place He Wanted for Brother Given to Another by Senator Foster.

SEATTLE, July 9.—The appointment of H. D. Allison, of Anacortes, as Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue in this city was a defeat for the friends of George U. Piper, the well-known politician of this city. When Deputy Collector D. W. Bowen resigned some months ago, the Republican County Central Committee, which is controlled by Mr. Piper's friends, indorsed Ralph L. Ross, stamp deputy in the office, for Mr. Bowen's place, and Fred W. Piper, George U. Piper's brother, for Ross' place.

The enmity between the Foster "push" of Tacoma and the Piper faction is well known, and it was openly stated in this city at the time Fred Piper's candidacy was announced that it was for the purpose of testing whether the voice of the King County organization would be heeded when it involved the appointment of a Piper candidate to a Federal office. In fact, F. W. Piper went to Nome before the decision of Senator Foster not to indorse him was announced.

Senator Foster was confronted with the difficult proposition of turning down the party organization, but he cut the knot by appointing a man from another county. At the same time the statement is given out that "no satisfactory man could be found to fill Ross' place," and for that reason Ross is to hold his old position.

THE CONSIDINE MURDER TRIAL.

Sheriff Says Only Five Shots Were Fired.

SEATTLE, July 9.—Sheriff Edward Cudihee this morning went on the stand in the preliminary trial of John and Tom Considine, charged with the murder of William Meredith, and by his testimony which went down as expert, shattered to pieces the theory of the prosecution, that some mysterious person fired the first shot in the terrible tragedy. He was put on by the prosecution, but when his testimony was ended, counsel for the prosecution were so badly surprised that they moved to adjourn until tomorrow morning, which was done. Cudihee testified that there were but five shots fired at all; that had there been more he would certainly have heard them, being an officer of the law and on the lookout for such events. The prosecution did its best to shake him, by asking whether or not there could not have been a shot fired that he did not hear, but he stuck to his previous statement. Three other police officers testified that they heard but five shots, and the theory that six shots were fired has vanished.

Two witnesses were examined who testified to a sixth shot having been fired. The hearing was adjourned at noon until tomorrow at the request of the defense.

TAKEN AFTER A HARD FIGHT.

Man Who Attempted to Murder an Idaho Judge.

SPOKANE, July 9.—After a desperate struggle, Henry Wilmbusse, who tried to murder Probate Judge J. C. Brady, of Rathdrum, Idaho, in Judge Brady's office, Friday night, was overpowered, and is now in the city jail. City Detective McDermott recognized the man in a crowd and followed him. When clear of the busiest part of the city, McDermott jumped his man and threw him to the ground, the fellow fighting vigorously. Two guns were found on the man. Wilmbusse, who had made elaborate preparations for escape before he shot Brady in the head, would not talk of the murderous assault. Judge Brady lingers at the hospital in Spokane between life and death. Wilmbusse was chased by nearly the entire male population of Rathdrum. If he is taken back to that place, there is danger that he may come to harm.

HE WANTED TO DIE.

Washington Man Did Not Drink Carbolic Acid by Mistake.

NEW WHATCOM, Wash., July 9.—Neil J. Beaton, who died Sunday from taking carbolic acid, presumably by mistake, is now known to have taken it with suicidal intent. Beaton had been here less than a month, and on the street two weeks ago he met a young lady for whom he conceived a violent affection on sight. She discouraged his desire to call, and refused to answer his letters telling of his love. After writing her a letter concluding with "we will meet in the sweet bye and bye," he drank a large quantity of carbolic acid, death resulting quickly.

State Bar Association Meets.

SPOKANE, July 9.—The annual meeting of the State Bar Association was called to order this afternoon in the Federal Courtroom by State President S. R. Stern. He delivered the opening address. N. S. Porter, of Olympia, secretary of the association, made a short talk, in which he agreed with the president that legislation along many lines is much needed, but stated that where the Legislature is made up mostly of persons who never saw the inside of a law book, it is difficult for the attorneys to accomplish much. Joseph Shippen, of Seattle, was in favor of more time for oral address at the Supreme Court. He stated that he agreed with the president and believed an oral address carried much more weight than briefs.

Major Wholley at Vancouver.

VANCOUVER, Wash., July 9.—Major John H. Wholley, formerly of the First Washington Volunteer Infantry, now of the Second United States Infantry, is at Vancouver Barracks, having just returned from about three years' continuous service in the Philippines. This is his first visit to this post, which has been the home of his wife and child, since he marched away at the head of the gallant Washington regiment three years ago. He is now enjoying a two-months' leave, the first he has asked for in 10 years. After a few weeks' visit with his family here, Major Wholley will leave for a brief trip in the Eastern states before joining his regiment in Kentucky.

St. Helens Mining District.

TOLEDO, Wash., July 9.—The St. Helens Mining District is taking on an early appearance of activity, that promises a busy season of development throughout the entire region.

Work upon the various trails in the shape of bridge repairing, broadening and straightening of trails, removal of fallen timber and debris so as to facilitate transportation and insure easy access for Eastern visitors and investors, is being vigorously pushed. These trails, now virtually impassable, will be in first-class condition about the middle of July.

United States Deputy Mineral Surveyor Robert F. Whitham has established permanent mineral monuments, and completed the mineral survey, embracing the claims of the Chicago, Sweden and Bronze Monarch groups.

Work on the Sampson group is progressing favorably and four important additional locations have been made.

Development work on the Chicago is being rapidly pushed. The crosscut on the lower level of the May Queen will intersect the Chicago crosscut at about 400 feet. The character of the rock formation is good and the ore streak is growing steadily better.

A. Hoofer, of Toledo, Wash., while coming out over the trail, was severely injured by being thrown from his horse. He has been taken to Portland for medical treatment.

W. W. O'Connor has been perfecting his "baby smelter," and hopes to be able to secure practical results in the way of ore tests in the immediate vicinity of the properties. He intends to devote his entire time to contract work in the development of St. Helens property and will turn his pack train and sublet his contracts for packing to reliable persons at Toledo.

Military Orders.

VANCOUVER BARRACKS, July 9.—The Tenth Field Battery, which it was expected would be stationed at Vancouver Barracks, has received telegraphic instructions to go to Fort Walla Walla, Wash. Upon the arrival of the transport Kintuck at Tacoma, the two officers and 54 enlisted men of Company B, Forty-second Volunteers, on board the transport will leave at once for the Presidio to be mustered out.

To Superintend Asylum Work.

OLYMPIA, July 9.—The State Board of Control has appointed John Scott superintendent of construction of the Medical Lake asylum annex, the contract for which was awarded to a Spokane firm last week. Mr. Scott superintended the construction of the wing built by the National Government to the Walla Walla penitentiary recently.

Teacher's Certificate Revoked.

OLYMPIA, July 9.—State Superintendent of Public Instruction Bryan today revoked the second-grade certificate of James Wasson, an ex-Thurston County teacher, who recently assaulted a 9-year-old girl in a school he was teaching in Whitman County. The certificate was revoked on complaint of S. C. Roberts, Superintendent of Schools for Whitman County.

The City Council of Tacoma has appointed a special committee to consider the proposed contract with the Snoqualmie Power Company for lighting the city and furnishing electric power for the pumping stations. The franchise granted the company by the city in 1899 limits the company's charge to what it charges consumers for similar service in Seattle. The rate proposed for Tacoma is 1 cent per kilowatt hour, which it is claimed is a higher rate than the company is furnishing consumers in Seattle.

Health for Housewives

Akron, Ind., April 15, 1900.

I am taking the third bottle of Wine of Cardui and it has done me lots of good. At times I could not stand on my feet, my limbs and feet were so badly swollen and black. I had to sit on a chair and put my feet on another and set the dish pan in my lap to wash dishes. My husband got me a bottle of Wine of Cardui and it did me much good. I do not have to sit down to work now. It helped me in many other ways also. I can truthfully recommend it. MRS. L. E. PERRY.

A housewife needs rugged health and great physical endurance to meet the demands made upon her. But there are women in nearly every home whose monthly periods make them virtual invalids. And we want to tell them to-day they need not be invalids. Mrs. Perry was freed from all this suffering. A healthy wife is a blessing to the home in which she is found. She sings about her house work and can do four times as much as her sick sisters.
