

ORDER WILL BE OBEYED

THE GREAT STEEL WORKERS STRIKE WILL BE ON TODAY.

Pittsburg Will Be the Center of the Trouble—Probability of a General Walk-Out.

PITTSBURG, July 14.—From present indications it looks probable that President Shaffer's strike order, issued last night to the Amalgamated Association members in the employ of the Steel Hoop Company, the American Steel Company and the American Tinplate Company, will be obeyed and the great struggle between the Amalgamated Association and steel companies will be on in earnest tomorrow.

The strike was not of our own seeking, said President Shaffer today. "It was forced upon us. We were not contending for wages, but for principle, for self-preservation. The tin and sheet people were not able to turn a single wheel tomorrow. We have our forces thoroughly organized and there will be some surprises in store. The strike order will be promptly obeyed by all our members."

Developments today indicate that Pittsburg is going to be a pretty lively strike town. The most interest attaches to the "Painter's mill," on the south side of the city, where the American Steel Company, the American Tinplate Company and the American Hoop Company are controlled by the same interests. The employees of both mills held open meetings today and both decided to strike tomorrow. These mills employ 70 men, however.

The fight at the Painter's mill is not the least important one, but the Steel Hoop Company has for years succeeded in thwarting the efforts made to unionize it.

President Shaffer was asked today if he had set a time when no settlement having been effected, he would extend the strike to all the subsidiary steel companies of the United States Steel Corporation. He said he must decline to make any plan known at present. It may be said, however, on the strength of reliable information, that the strike within its present limits is intended merely as a show of strength.

Strength of the Association.

At the conference last week the representatives of the steel corporation were repeatedly warned that the association was much stronger than they were. The members of the organization of mills of which they had no knowledge. But the steel men would not believe that the association was as strong as it was claimed to be. Thus it is not surprising that it is to show its strength by confining the strike to three companies. When the show of strength has been made, the association expects to announce the action of their conference. It is said if the companies show no inclination to make a settlement, the strike will be extended to three more companies. If they do not yield, then the strike will be extended to six independent companies as well their finished products or raw materials to companies to which a strike has been declared. The American Steel Company, whose proportions, it would be likely to go still further. The Amalgamated Association and the Federation of Labor two years ago formed a secret, but it is claimed, when it was organized, when the organization, when on strike, could also call out the steel men of the federation. The latter has organizations in many mills whose workers are not eligible to membership in the association.

In describing the final conclusion of the conference in the Hotel Lincoln Saturday afternoon, President Shaffer said that after the final proposition of the manufacturers had been taken up and discussed there was a painful silence for about five minutes. The workers waited for some further remarks by the International Brotherhood of Ironworkers and the latter appeared to be waiting for a remark from the workers. Finally, one of the manufacturers' committee broke the silence by saying, "I guess there is no further to be said for other developments. The men have nothing to offer and the manufacturers have gone as far as they can in justice to themselves."

President Shaffer replied that he accorded with this view. If the manufacturers had no other proposition to offer it was useless to remain. Each side agreed to leave.

While keenly regretting the break in the peaceful relations between the organization and the manufacturers, President Shaffer said there seemed no other course to pursue. His offer to the hoop company to reconstruct the scale for cotton and hoop mills was one of the most important business offers that ever been offered by the association. He doubted if the settlement could have been made on that basis without a great deal of trouble, but the committee felt willing to make this concession to preserve peace again, in the offer to exclude the tinplate mills, the hoop mills and the sheet mills from all further difficulties with plants owned by the United States Steel Corporation, should the agreement be reached on the final proposition of the Amalgamated Association, was granting the manufacturers their most earnest wish of recognizing the individual responsibility of each of the constituent corporations of the parent organization, known as the United States Steel Corporation. It was thought that the manufacturers would have quickly accepted this final proposition. Their refusal was a surprise to the Amalgamated men. Of course, this proposition is not now open to the manufacturers.

One important point referred to by President Shaffer was the question arising from the operation of the Sharon Tinplate mills, which are independent of the company. These would have to be dealt with soon. The Sharon mills have a working agreement with the American Tinplate Company, by which the latter company takes all of the product of the independent mills for the term of five years. It is said that the Sharon mill will be ordered closed if this agreement is carried out while the strike is in progress. Section 2, of article 19, of the Amalgamated Association laws, provides for this very case.

Means a Loss to the Country.

WILLIS L. KING, vice-chairman of the board of managers of Jones & Laughlin, an independent corporation, did not hesitate to say, when approached today, that the inability of the conferees to agree was a most unfortunate condition and meant an immense loss, not only to all concerned, but to the country generally. "A claim for increased wages by the workmen," he said, "is a comparatively easy thing to arbitrate, for both sides will make some concessions, but where there is a principle concerned, as there is in this case, and I take the newspapers as authority for it, then it reaches a point where arbitration is impossible and either one side or the other must acknowledge defeat by surrendering."

"Mr. Morgan and his associates, as I understand it, are not opposed to unionism wherever it exists, but they are opposed to taking such a step as will necessitate their non-union employees joining the Amalgamated Association. If, in their non-union mills, the Amalgamated Association has such a hold as it claims,

THE DROUTH CONTINUES

YESTERDAY REPETITION OF RAIN TWO WEEKS IN MIDDLE WEST.

Some Slight Showers Reported Last Night—Texas Had a Cloudburst and a Tornado.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 14.—No relief came today to break the almost unprecedented drought in the Southwest. The day was a repetition of the past two weeks, with reports from many places in Western Missouri, Kansas and the territories of temperatures over the 100 mark. At most places the sun shone brightly, with not even a fitful cloud to break its rays, nor a slight breeze. In Kansas City, last night proved more bearable, a breeze from the north alleviating the conditions, but a day of intense heat followed.

With this breath once opened, it must be understood that the onus is on the side of the Amalgamated Association and the public will understand this.

MAY BE PRESIDENT OF NORTHERN PACIFIC.

Fifty thousand miners employed in the many mines of the Pittsburg district are willing to lay down their picks, walk out of their camps and strike the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers in their fight against the steel trust. Patrick Dolan, district president of the United Mine Workers, is authority for the statement that it is necessary the miners will immediately quit work.

In the course of a statement late tonight President Shaffer said: "When the 14,000 men affected by the original order calling out the sheet steel, sheet hoop and tin workers, this last general order will increase the number to more than 25,000, and will involve the Federal Steel Company, the National Steel Company and the National Tube Company."

HANGING IN THE BALANCE.

Tinplate-Workers at Connelleville Are Undecided.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., July 14.—The employees of the Humbert plant of the American Tinplate Company at Connelleville are hanging in the balance tonight. They are waiting for the other tinplate mills to take the initiative. The 4,000 men affected by the original order calling out the sheet steel, sheet hoop and tin workers, this last general order will increase the number to more than 25,000, and will involve the Federal Steel Company, the National Steel Company and the National Tube Company.

Newcastle Mills Will Be Idle. NEWCASTLE, Pa., July 14.—Fully 600 men will be affected in this city by the Amalgamated strike. Of these, 3000 are employed in the Greer plant of the American Tinplate Company, and 600 at the steel plant of the National Steel Company. The men of the latter mill were not called out by the original order, but they are reported today stating that the plant will not be in operation. Not one wheel will be turned in either the Greer or the National Steel mill, the largest plants of the kind in the country. The men are ready for a long strike, as they have been preparing for this fight for months.

THE MACHINISTS STRIKE.

Not Declared Off at Cincinnati, but Men Return to Work.

CINCINNATI, July 14.—The reports of yesterday that the machinists' strike was broken was contradicted today, when the men of the Fay-Hagen shops voted to go to work tomorrow morning in a body. The strike has not been declared off here, but the men have decided to vote by shops, and in the way almost all have arranged to resume tomorrow except some of the smaller shops. The strikers here are confident that the International Union of Machinists will continue the contest.

Strike an International Road.

EAGLE PASS, Tex., July 14.—The engineers and firemen of the International Railroad have resigned, and business on that road is now suspended. The trainmen were refused an advance in wages. There is no concerted strike, but all the men are out. The road is a Southern Pacific property, but the men are paid in Mexican money, and this has greatly depreciated in value, cutting down their wages.

Chicago Molders Will Go Out.

CHICAGO, July 14.—Action taken tonight by Chicago members of the Iron Molders' Union will result in a general strike tomorrow of the trade employees in the foundries of Chicago and vicinity. The employers' terms were rejected, and additional conditions demanded. Eighty concerns and 1400 members of the union will be affected.

CENSUS STATISTICS.

Population by Sex, Nativity and Color in Hawaii and Idaho.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The Census Bureau, in a bulletin on the population by sex, general nativity and color, in 1900, gives the following summary:

Table with columns for Sex, Nativity, and Color. Rows include Hawaii (Total, Male, Female, Native born, Foreign born) and Idaho (Total, Male, Female, Native born, Foreign born).

Secretary Root at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, July 14.—Secretary of War Root, accompanied by a number of Army officers, arrived in St. Louis tonight. He will inspect Jefferson Barracks tomorrow and then proceed West.

Imitation of Wood Carvings.

The Germans are imitating wood carvings in plaster, bronze and other material by a new process which is said to be superior to all other methods in the fact that it produces perfectly the fibers and pores of the wood models. These are usually made of porous oak, and the new plan is to cover them thickly with a solution of anything that will, when it dries, leave the usual porous appearance of the wood unaltered, while it renders the model oil-proof. The casting is then proceeded with in the usual way.

Girl Shot by a Stable Boy.

NEWTON, Kan., July 14.—Last night Miss Oma Beers, the 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beers, was shot and killed by Herbert Hacklett, a stable boy formerly in the family's employ, who afterward shot himself through the head. Hacklett became fascinated with the young lady, who did not in any way return the infatuation. The girl had been shot four times and the surroundings indicated that she had made a terrible struggle for her life.
