CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Amusements Tonight.

METROPOLITAN THEATER.—Matinee and evening, "The Village Belle."

GOOD PRICES FOR APPLES.—J. T. Olwell, a prominent orchardist of Central Point, and one of the regents of the Agricultural College, was in the city yesterday. He has 160 acres in apples, and last year marketed 35,000 boxes, making 58 carloads, for which he received $1 per box at the cars. He says his crop this season promises to be as good as that of last year. These apples were principally shipped to England direct. Buyers are here already endeavoring to contract for Hood River apples at $1 25 per box, and it is not improbable that choice apples may bring $1 50 per box for shipment. It begins to look as if a commercial orchard is about as good a thing to invest money in as can be found. There is a large market for apples in China and Japan, but only about 50 cents per box can be obtained there. Size and quality, however, do not cut much figure in the Asiatic market, and the Grindstone and Virginia Greening will do to ship there. The excellence of Oregon fruit is making itself known abroad and this will result in a greatly increased demand, so farmers will not be likely to miss it by planting more apple trees of the best varieties. Many make the mistake of planting too many varieties.

MORE FINE FRUIT.—Several boxes of remarkably fine cherries, even for Oregon, were seen at the permanent display yesterday. They had been left there to be forwarded to Commissioner Dosch at Buffalo, to be placed in the Oregon exhibit. Two boxes were presented by Mrs. Angerstein, her Bings being remarkably large and fine. A box of Lamberts from R. Scott, and another of the same kind from Mr. Magoon, the originator of the Magoon strawberry and the Logan berry, were also very fine. Commissioner Dosch, when he puts these cherries on exhibit, need have no fear of their being equaled. Cherries are still plentiful on the market, but the season of the Royal Anne is about over. Black Republicans and other dark-colored berries are now in the lead, with occasional small lots of Kentish or May Dukes, which are often sold for Kentish. The Royal Anne is the only one for which there is an unlimited demand, for making "Maraschino cherries," for which their size and color particularly fit them, and although a great many tons, nearly 200, have been barreled here and shipped, the demand is far from being supplied. Orchardists will probably plant more Royal Anne cherries in the future.

COULD NOT LEAVE HIS ADDRESS.—The police are again waiting for the return to town of C. M. Mann, to answer to a charge of stealing $65 from a farmer who wanted to see the sights around Whitechapel and unwittingly trusted himself to Mann's guidance. About 10 days ago Mann walked through Whitechapel flourishing a revolver, and he made threats to shoot men at sight. Policemen Gibson and Bailey arrested Mann, but he made such a tearful and eloquent plea for sympathy at the Municipal Court and promised to reform his ways, that Municipal Judge Cameron discharged him, on condition that he left town. "Once I get away from Portland, sir, I will never return to it. I pledge you my honor, sir," said Mann, impressively placing his right hand on his breast. He was allowed to go, but he could not remain away from Portland. So he visited it once more, until he gathered in the $65 from his latest victim, and told his friends that he was going away and could not leave any address.

GOES TO SAN FRANCISCO.—G. W. Werlin, manager for Closset & Devers, has resigned his position and leaves at once with his family for his old home in San Francisco, where he will probably engage in business. He came to Portland a month after attaining his majority, and has been with Closset & Devers for 17 years. On leaving he was presented by the firm with a valuable gold watch, chain and fob, and by the boys in the mill with a very handsome meerschaum pipe. Although obliged to leave Portland, Mr. Werlin has not lost interest in the city nor faith in its future. He is building a two-story structure, 100x50, at Sixth and Hoyt, covering half his quarter block there, with five stores fronting on Sixth street and 27 rooms up stairs. The whole building is leased to one person and it is probable that before long it will be enlarged to cover the quarter block.

CARRYING WEAPONS MUST STOP.—When David Richmond was asked at the Municipal Court yesterday why he had beaten James Anderson about the head with his revolver, he said: "Guess I'm guilty." He was fined $25 and the fine was paid. The police state that they are determined to stop a practice too prevalent in Whitechapel, allowing both black and white men to carry revolvers and razors. There have been too many cutting cases lately, and instances where men have been beaten about the head with the butts of revolvers. Any one found displaying a revolver, blackjack, or club-stick in the city will be arrested and dealt with as severely as the law allows.

M. Take your fishing tackle, crawfish nets and kodaks for a Sunday outing. *

OUTING CLUB MEETING.—There will be a meeting of the subscribers to the proposed Outing Club Monday night at 8 o'clock, at room 4, Chamber of Commerce, for the purpose of electing officers and transacting other business. It is desired that every subscriber to the club, as well as any member of the Multnomah Club, Portland Rowing Club and Oregon Yacht Club who may be interested in the formation of the new club will be present at the meeting Monday night.

LISTS OF DELINQUENT TAXES.—The roll of delinquent city taxes from 1898 to 1898, inclusive, prepared by Councilman Branch and adopted by the Council to supersede all other tax rolls for those years, is a work of art in the tax-roll line. It comprises 150 folios. The large number of delinquents who visit the City Hall to pay or look into the matter of their delinquent taxes find this book a great convenience. The fact that all costs and interest in these delinquent taxes are to be remitted where payment is made before August 1 is causing quite a number of the delinquents to pay up. School Clerk Allen has also on view at his office a very handsome roll of delinquent school taxes, which he invites taxpayers, or, more properly, people who do not pay their taxes, to call and examine. He has no costs or interest to remit, but will be very happy to receive the original straight tax. He has lately made out receipts for taxes due in 1888, which had whiskers on them, and he is ready to go still farther back to accommodate delinquents.

FREE BANANAS.—It's a great sight to see the draymen unload bananas at one of the Front-street commission houses. Dozens of small boys are invariably and noisily on hand to snatch the fruit that falls from the overripe bunches. An artful wagoner tosses a handful of loose ones into the street, and the mix-up that follows would do credit to a 'varsity football game or the refreshment buffet at a swagger ball. The porters swear, push and scold, but none of the boys gets hurt, and they fringe the edges whenever a banana dray backs up to the sidewalk. They bulge their stomachs and pockets with the spoils, while the more agile fill paper sacks as holding a larger supply. It's great fun for the boys, and when they get a little older they'll doubtless vote to have bananas included among Portland's public utilities. Wise men say that the desire for something to eat has been a spur to our progress these 10,000 years, but it's a little difficult sometimes to watch the scramble and keep faith in the philosophy.

BAILEY GATZERT DALLES EXCURSIONS.—Daily from foot of Alder street, except Monday. Dalles electric sign: For Cascade Locks, where Uncle Sam spent $4,000,000 so you could go through. St. Martin's Springs, whose waters will cure all ills human flesh is heir to. Hood River, where you can get the stage for Cloud Cap Inn. Tickets sold direct for this mansion in the skies. Tourists should not miss this, as they might not be able ever again to reach it. White Salmon, where Jewett's celebrated hotel is situated. Trout Lake, 30 miles by stage; finest fishing in the world. Lyle, where you can go to all Washington points. Here is situated the celebrated vineyard of Lord Balfour, who ships tons of grapes East. Then The Dalles, the head of navigation on the Columbia, whose product of wheat is 1,000,000 bushels, and wool 6,000,000 pounds. This describes all but the scenery—it is beyond description. You will have to take this trip on the Bailey Gatzert to see it. *

LECTURE AT THE MARQUAM.—Commandant Jan Krige will give his address on the Boer-British War this evening at 8 o'clock in the Marquam Theater. It was originally proposed to hire the Tabernacle, at Twelfth and Morrison streets, for the occasion, but on account of the number of people who wish to hear the lecture it was decided to hire the Marquam Theater, instead. Mr. Krige fought under General Botha, the Boer Commander-in-Chief, and will speak of the present conflict as he saw it from personal experience as a soldier and then an officer. There will be no charge for admission. Mayor Rowe is expected to preside.

WRONG USE OF MAILS.—Postmaster Croasman has not yet received the circular sent out by Third Assistant Postmaster-General Madden announcing the important change in the admission of second-class matter to the mails. It is intended to bar from the 1-cent-per-pound rate a lot of publications, not legitimate newspapers, but merely mediums for distributing fake advertisements over the country. Such trash is sent out by the ton, to the demoralization of postal transportation and postal employes by overtaxing them, and this stuff is mainly responsible for the deficit in the Postoffice Department year after year.

OREGON CHERRIES AT BUFFALO.—Bing cherries from Hood River are demnstrating to visitors to the Buffalo Exposition what Oregon can do in the fruit line. Superintendent Dosch writes: "They take the bakery and the girl behind the counter for size and beauty, and are just four times as large as any other cherries in the Horticultural Building." Mr. Dosch hopes that Oregon fruitgrowers will keep him supplied with cherries, apples, pears, peaches, plums, prunes, currants and gooseberries.

THIEF BECAME INSANE.—L. H. Perry, charged with receiving stolen brass, was arraigned in the Municipal Court yesterday. Lawyer Wolf said that Perry was mentally unbalanced, and County Physician McKay decided that the prisoner would better be sent to St. Vincent's Hospital for treatment. At the hospital Perry became so violent that he could not be admitted. He was sent to the County Jail for the night.

SPORTSMEN WILL INVADE WASHINGTON.—Sportsmen are congratulating themselves on the fact that there is no law in the State of Washington protecting the quail or ringneck pheasants, owing to some blunder made by the last Legislature of that state in juggling with the game laws. As soon as the young birds are big enough to shoot, Washington will be invaded by an army of shooters and the feathers will fly.

FIRE AND POLICE JUDGMENTS PAID.—The judgments obtained by the policemen and firemen against the city for the amount of the reduction made in their salaries in the Pennoyer administration have been paid by City Treasurer Werlein out of the fund arising from the special 2-mill tax authorized by the Legislature for that purpose. The police received $14,094 25 and the firemen $13,087 25.

NEW CONSTITUTION ADOPTED.—The Federated Trades Assembly met last night and put in most of its time in the discussion and adoption of a new constitution, in the drafting of which a special committee has spent several weeks. A provision barring members of the press from the meeting was laid over one week.

SATURDAY evening river excursion trip to Oregon City. This ride is better than any tonic, after a hard week's work. Boat leaves Taylor street at 6:15 P. M., returning from Oregon City at 8 P. M. Round trip, 25 cents. Take the ride and have the cool breezes blow the cobwebs from your mind. *

MORE SIDEWALK SCORCHERS.—John Garrett was fined $1 and A. Kerkley $5 at the Municipal Court yesterday, charged with riding their bicycles on sidewalks.

SEASIDE SUNDAY SERVICES.—Bishop Morris will hold services in Calvary Chapel, Seaside, Sunday, July 21, at 11 o'clock A. M. and 7:30 P. M.

A. O. U. W. GRAND LODGE FINISHES ITS WORK.

Portland Chosen for Next Year's Grand Lodge—Preparations for the Supreme Lodge in 1902.

The grand lodge, A. O. U. W., adjourned at 5:20 P. M. yesterday, after two very busy meetings. Installation ceremonies were held in the afternoon.

The Flaherty case, which had occupied two days of the grand lodge's time, was finally settled by amending the constitution to permit the payment of $2000 to Mary and Henrietta Flaherty, sisters of deceased. The sentiment of the lodge was unanimously in favor of paying the claim, the only obstacle being its legality. The matter will now be referred to the supreme grand lodge for approval, and in the course of a few weeks the amount will be paid over.

The total membership of the A. O. U. W. in Oregon is now 9667, the goodly number of 1470 having been initiated into the order during the past year. The number of lodges is also increasing with the growth of the state, the last charter, granted yesterday, being to Gold Quartz Lodge, No. 99, located at Sumpter.

The next annual meeting of the grand lodge will be held in Portland. A resolution was introduced naming Astoria as the place of meeting, but was voted down.

Arrangements were made with a view to entertaining the supreme lodge in this city next Summer, and the sum of $750 was set apart for the purpose.

The expenses of the session footed up to $3512 58, being mostly devoted to mileage and per diem of the delegates, each of whom received $2 per day and actual amount of fare expended. A vote of thanks was tendered the various transportation companies for their liberality in making concessions to the various members. Supreme Master Harwick was also thanked for honoring the lodge by his presence, and for material assistance rendered during the session. The last work of the lodge was the payment to each delegate the proper stipend in gold and silver, and last evening many of them started for their homes.

DEGREE OF HONOR.

Presentations to Faithful Officers by the Grand Lodge.

The Degree of Honor did not adjourn until 5 P. M., though the grand officers and delegates were busy all day with routine matters and installation. In the afternoon quite a panic was created by clouds of smoke issuing from the flue of their hall, and someone crying "Fire!" The smoke came from the furnace in the basement and as soon as the cause was made known quiet was restored.

Grand Deputy Welkins announced that proceedings had been begun against the Degree of Honor by the heirs of Daisy Parkinson, who died May 4, 1901. Mrs. Parkinson was a member of Red Boy Lodge, No. 94, at Sumpter, but died at 6:30 A. M., while her certificate did not reach the grand recorder in Portland until 2 P. M. the same day. Payment of the $1000 death benefit was therefore refused. This matter was yesterday left in the hands of the grand chief and the finance committee.

Grand Chief of Honor Mrs. Stephens was presented with a beautiful ring set with diamonds and rubies. The presentation speech was made by Mrs. E. L. Smith, who spoke in laudatory terms on behalf of the grand lodge. A valuable ring set with diamonds and emeralds was presented by the members of the grand lodge to Grand Recorder Mrs. M. E. Herrin, Mrs. C. C. Hogue, of Albany, making the presentation speech in appropriate terms.

The installation was conducted by Superior C. of H. Kate J. Young, Superior P. C. of H. Carrie Hohman, Superior L. of H. Julia A. Gault, Superior C. of H. Maggie Houston and Superior Usher Martha Armstrong.

Thanks were tendered the people of Portland, the boys of the Manual Training School, Mr. Davey and the daily papers of Portland for courtesies.

The following committtes were appointed by the grand chief of honor for the ensuing year:

On jurisdiction—Mary A. Hare, Hillsboro; Georgiana Smith, Hood River; Millie Pugh, Salem.

Finance—Bertha T. Werlein, Portland; Mary R. Hogue, Albany; Millie Gessner, Portland.

Grievances and appeals—M. Herrin, Ashland; M. Armstrong, Corvallis; C. Holman, Salem.

State of the order—Kate J. Young, Portland; Emma Hawthorne, Eugene; Mrs. Pierce, Oregon City.

Another Liberal Offer.

PORTLAND, July 19.—(To the Editor.)—Referring to the swimming bath, which is now attracting some attention, and to which Mr. Holman has very generously offered the sum of $500, and to which two other gentlemen have also contributed the sum of $8, and noticing that no other contribution has been made, although the proposition has been open now for a week, I herewith tender the sum of $25, and further agree to raise the sum of $475 in addition to that among my personal friends, if the balance of our citizens will, within the next 30 days, subscribe the sum of $3992 yet required to make the total $5000, which appears to be the sum necessary for erecting an appropriate bathhouse, assuming, of course, that the very generous offer made by Mr. Isensee is to be used as a maintenance fund. L. SAMUEL.

Petition to Stop Gambling.

SOUTH BEND, Wash., July 19.—A petition is being circulated asking the Council to suppress the gambling games which are now running wide open. The women who have the petition in charge are meeting with good success. The petition was the result of a meeting of women held last Tuesday. The Council is understood to favor the suppression of gambling by a majority of one, but the four Councilmen who are believed to be against gambling have not been present at the same meeting recently.

OF INTEREST TO PORTLAND

The Hampden Stove Company has placed 10,000 shares of its stock on the market, thus giving the public an opportunity to become interested in the manufacture of their stoves and ranges. The work on their factory, now under construction on East Taylor street, extending from First to Second streets, is being pushed vigorously.

The stoves and ranges which will be made by this company are on exhibition at 202 Washington street. As it has been satisfactorily demonstrated that these stoves and ranges are vastly superior to any other on the market, it is obvious that the stock of this company will be one of the gilt-edged investments, well worth the consideration of large and small investors alike. The stove will save 60 per cent of fuel over the best stove on the market, and above 70 per cent over the ordinary air-tight stove. A visit to 202 Washington street is well worth the while, and will convince the most skeptical of the truth of this statement.

AT LONG BEACH

Far, far from my hot city office
And the carking cares of life,
I am tasting the joys of Long Beach,
Forgetful of business strife.
A daily dip in the "briny"
Is a never-failing delight,
As also a sly flirtation
On the sands with a maiden bright.
But all these pleasures would vanish
Out of sight like a shooting star
Without the occasional solace
Of a fragrant Garcia cigar.
So like me, if advice is worth heeding,
You will lay in a stock in advance,
From Sig Sichel at 92 Third street,
Of cigars that soothe and entrance.
