

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

JANITORS' PICKET.—The janitors retained in some of the public schools of this city on half pay during the vacation were treated to a picnic by School Clerk Allen a day or two ago. The School Board recently brought a block at Oakley Green, to which the old Multnomah School building is to be moved. They let a contract for the removal and putting in order of the building and provided a penalty for the contractor if he failed to have the job done on time. The contractor discovered that the block was covered with some maple, hazel brush and blackberry vines; was, in fact, a regular jungle, and he called on the board to have it cleared in a hurry. It being found impossible to procure men to do this work, Clerk Allen notified the janitors both on the East and West Sides to report at a certain time with axes and lunch baskets well filled. They responded promptly, wondering what could be wanted of them. They were put on their working clothes and conveyed them down to Oakley Green and showed them what was to be done, and they pitched in with such hearty good will that the lot and the street leading to it were cleared off as clean as a whistle by noon. The janitors greatly enjoyed their spree, and were only sorry that there was not more brush to clear off in order that they could stay there all day.

CARR'S FENCES TO BE DESTROYED.—United States District Attorney Hale is taking steps to have the decree of Judge Bellinger, in the case of United States vs. Jesse D. Carr, carried out. He will have the fence around the Government lands inclosed by Carr torn down. As there are 15 or 20 miles of rock fence in the lot, about five feet in width and four feet in height, the United States Marshal or United States troops, or whoever may be sent to tear it down is likely to have an all Summer job on hand, especially as Mr. Carr has the fence in place to be destroyed, as was the Tower of Babel, or the Temple of Babylon, or perhaps it was the Temple of Jerusalem. The fence is not well posted in biblical matters, of which not one stone was left upon another. The miles of barbed-wire fencing will be rolled up like a scroll, but the rim rock cliffs which form a part of the fence will not be molested. Mr. Carr, however, is still in possession of the lands, with the exception of a call of some $1000, and the end of the trouble is not yet.

PRESENTED WITH A GOLD-HEADED CANE.—Albert M. Knapp, who has been foreman of the car and machinery department of the Northern Pacific Terminal Company for eight years, was presented with a gold-headed cane yesterday. He is about to leave the company to become foreman of the Southern Pacific and when the men heard that they were to have a fund to buy him a memento of the days he has spent among them. When the engineer blew the whistle three times at noon yesterday, the men swarmed upon Mr. Knapp as he sat in the quietness of his office. Mr. Knapp asked what it all meant. "It looks as if there is going to be trouble," he said. "I have visions of strikes floating through Mr. Knapp's mind, and he resolutely folded his arms and prepared for the worst. Just then, Henry Du Bois, one of the oldest mechanics and a very old friend, stepped forward and presented Mr. Knapp with the cane. Mr. Knapp thanked the men for their kind remembrance.

OREGON KING MINE CASE SUBMITTED.—The argument on the motion for a new trial in the case of T. J. Brown et al. vs. the Oregon King Mining Company was finished in the Pacific District court yesterday, and the matter was taken up for advisement by Judge Bellinger. The argument was begun about two weeks ago, and was carried on for half a day. The matter was taken up again last Friday and proceeded for two days without reaching a conclusion, but yesterday the lawyers succeeded in bringing their talk to a close. The suit was brought by Brown to secure possession of the Oregon King mine on the ground of a former location and was decided in his favor. Defendants, who had been working the mine, moved for a new trial. The mine is supposed to be very valuable, but it will require further development to show what it is really worth. Defendants allege that so far they have expended some $30,000 more on the mine than they have taken out of it.

VENT TAIL TIMOTHY.—A sheaf of timothy 7 feet tall and weighing 100 pounds was forwarded to Commissioner Douch at the Buffalo Exposition by George Lamerson, secretary of the State Horticultural Society. It is to be placed in the Oregon exhibit to show to all the world how tall the grass grows in Oregon. It was raised on the farm of Charles Daley, near Willhoit Springs, who has a field of timothy, the average height of which is over five feet. The sample sent was certainly a very remarkable one, and no one who saw it could say that he had ever seen timothy before. The sheaf weighed 100 pounds and was 7 feet tall. Several said they had seen the sheaf before. L. N. Guy said that he had seen timothy over seven feet high around the edge of Lake Lewis, and at the same time had seen oats being threshed up against the bushes per acre, machine measure, and which would have made over 100 bushels by weight.

EXCURSION TRAIN SERVICE.—The round-trip excursion train between the A. & C. R. R. make a hit with the public. The popular Portland-Seaside Express leaves Union Depot every Saturday at 2:30 P. M. and runs through Astoria, Warrenton, Gearhart, Astoria, and Seaside, returning on Sunday at 2 P. M. Gearhart 2:10 P. M. and Astoria 2:30 P. M., arriving at Portland at 9:40 P. M., thus giving passengers Saturday night and all day Sunday at the beach and round-trip excursion tickets, good until September 15, $4.00. Saturday round-trip excursion tickets, good to return Sunday evening, $2.50. Connections at Astoria with steamers Nahcotta and P. J. Potter, for all North Beach points.

CLEANING UP OFFICES.—The offices of the Board of School Directors and City School Superintendent are undergoing a thorough renovation and cleaning up, preparatory to the beginning of next year's business. The worn places in the carpets have been covered by "runners" to make things look more shipshape. The old members were a trifle careless in regard to the appearance of the rooms but since a woman director was elected on the board they realize the propriety of tidying up their office.

NEXT COUNCIL MEETING.—There will be no meeting of the Common Council until August 1, three weeks from the last meeting. At that meeting, Mayor Rowe will announce the standing committees for next year. An outline of the proposed committee was prepared some time ago, but what changes have been made in the list is not known.

INCORPORATION.—Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday by J. N. Pearce, Fred S. Chapman and Simcoe Chapman for the Chapman Lumber Company. The purpose of the corporation is to engage in a general logging and lumber business. The capital stock is 1000 shares, at $100 each.

BARLEY GRAY, DALLAS ROUTE.—On account of the breaking of a pitman's strap, this steamer will be laid up for repairs Wednesday and Thursday. Will resume regular trips Friday morning.

ALL PARTIES DESIRING FURNISHING ROOMS or board during Woodmen logging, notify by mail, George K. Rogers, Woodman Hall, giving full particulars.

FOR RENT.—Store room, 121 Sixth street. For particulars inquire of the superintendent, 201, second floor.

REGULATORS LOUSE EXCURSIONS to Cascade Locks and return. Special rates to parties, Oak-street dock.

BRECHT-STREET SEWER.—The Brecht street sewer was inspected yesterday by City Engineer E. J. B. Carson, who reports that rapid progress is being made on the work and that it is one of the finest specimens of sewer work in the city, and as substantial as can be made with brick and stone. Some delay has been caused through lack of stone for the invert, or bottom, which is made of Belgian blocks, but there will be a plentiful supply of the blocks in a day or two, and then the work will go ahead without interruption. The tunnel under the Maryland avenue is completed and the rock work is commenced in it. A second tunnel farther east is about completed, and it will not be long until the sewer across the low land to the river will be under way.

MRS. CARSON'S WILL.—The will of the late Elias Ann Carson was admitted to probate yesterday, and John D. Carson and Robert T. Platt were appointed executors, according to the terms of the will. The estate is valued at $30,000. The bequests are: John D. Carson, $1000; Audrey Northrop, $50 in cash. One-fourth of the estate is given to each of the following: Elizabeth M. Carson, John D. Carson and Frances Platt. The other four-fifths is to be held in trust by the executors for the three grandchildren, Georgiana Sturgis, Joe Carson Sturgis and Eugene King Sturgis. Tyler Woodward, L. M. Parrish and E. M. Berce were appointed appraisers.

FUNERAL OF LE ROY STRINGHAM.—Le Roy Stringham, who died Sunday evening after a four days' illness of typhoid pneumonia, was buried yesterday afternoon from the home of his mother, Mrs. W. P. Dillon, No. 321 Third street. Mr. Stringham was 23 years old and had been a resident of Portland for 18 years. For awhile he followed steamboating, but for several years past he had been employed by the Northern Pacific Terminal Company. He was a member of Oregon Fire Camp, Modern Woodmen of America. Mr. Stringham was married two months ago to Miss Maud Derguebe.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION.—The United States Civil Service Commission announces that on August 29 examinations will be held in this city for the positions of copyist, qualified as typewriter repairer, in the Department of the Interior and ship's foreman. From the eligibles resulting from these examinations certification will be made to fill existing vacancies at salaries from $900 to $1200 per annum. Persons desiring to take the examination should at once address the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., for application blanks.

DEATH OF VISITING LEADER.—Miss Mabel Robinson, a visiting member of the Epworth League from Pennsylvania, died at St. Vincent's Hospital yesterday from the effects of a surgical operation. The remains will be sent East and will be buried in the cemetery at Chicago. The funeral will take care of the railroad ticket which, under the rules of railroads, must be provided for a corpse. The service was nominal. Such volunteer is asked to communicate with Bishop Earl Cranston, Oregon telephone, Black 1161.

ELKS WILLY DRILL.—Portland Lodge, No. 142, B. P. O. E., proposed to capture the first prize offered for the lodge making the best appearance on Elks' Day at Tacoma, August 16. To this end, 150 members have formed a company, ordered uniforms and a flag, and are now under the charge of Captain Charles E. McDonald, who has commanded men in war as well as peace. Tonight they will meet at the Exposition building for preparatory drill and every man is expected to be present.

LARGE YUCCA FLOWER STALKS.—A resident of University Park writes to the Oregonian that in the yard of G. B. Tobey, of that place, is a Yucca plant having four flower stalks, all over five feet in height, one being five feet eight inches. The stalks are loaded with flowers. Branches and flowers are of unusually large size and present a beautiful and attractive appearance.

ST. LAURENCE CHURCH BEING ENLARGED.—The work of enlarging St. Laurence church, at Third and Sherman, is under way. The east end of the church, some six or eight feet in length, has been sawed off, and with the vestry in the rear is being moved back 18 feet. Lumber for the job is being cut and the gap is to be filled in the ground.

HOW TO ENTERTAIN YOUR FRIENDS so they will enjoy themselves and be forever glad they saw Oregon. Take them for the river trip to Oregon City. It only costs $1.50 and the round trip is made in three hours. Boat leaves Taylor street 8:30, 11:30 A. M., 3 and 6:15 P. M.

GREATEST RESORT OF ALL IS FLAVEL.—A commodious, unexcelled, rates reasonable from $2 to $5 per day. Table finest on Coast; bathing perfect. Don't miss this treat. Call up Main 62, or see J. L. Mitchell, Elks Marquam building.

MAGAZINE SOCIAL RETURN.—The Magazine social will hold its social return Saturday evening of this week. The place of meeting is under consideration and will be announced later.

TO LET.—The elegant store room, No. 12, sixth street, for rent. Particulars see the superintendent of Oregonian building, room 201, second floor.

BETTER PAY FOR SURVEYS.—Compensation for Work on Mines Will Be Increased.

As the volume of mining work which Surveyors-General Meidum has to attend to is constantly increasing, and as it has heretofore been done at prices which hardly covered the expense, he has decided to increase the fees of miners by having circulars addressed to deputy mineral surveyors, notifying them that on and after August 1 the office fees in connection with the survey of mining claims in this state will be as follows:

For a single lode claim $25
For each contiguous claim 25
For mill site claim 25
For mill site not in connection with the survey of mining claim 25
For placer claim 25
For report on placer claim 25
For report on lode claim 25
For report on mill site claim 25

He adds: "The old scale of charges heretofore adopted has been hardly sufficient to cover cost of preparation of maps and field notes of mining claims; hence, I find it necessary to adopt the same scale as is charged in Surveyors-General offices of all other Northwestern states."

WHISKY AND CIGARS.—Lead Four Young Men in a Heap of Trouble.

Four young men—Frank Norton, William Woods, Robert Hunter and Robert Farrell—were arrested yesterday by detectives Snow and Kerrigan, charged with being implicated in the recent lightning disappearance of cases of whisky and one box of cigars from Blumens & Hoch and G. Arata & Co. The prisoners have been living in a room near Third and Yamhill streets, and the police say that since they rented the room and the disappearance of the whisky and cigars the prisoners remained in the room during the daytime and only ventured out at night.

mounts the minute they enter traffic. The police have made ineffectual efforts to compel all carmen and drivers of vehicles moving at a slow or walking pace to keep as near as possible to the left-hand side. Were this rule stringently enforced it might be of some value, but every cyclist who rides in traffic knows that it is more honored in the breach than by observance. Moreover, slow-moving vehicles near the curb find their progress checked at every moment by vans and cars loading or unloading. The big carrier companies have been approached on the subject of sending their vans by back streets or doing their work in the night or early hours, and they have declined, with every appearance of reason, that this is impossible, and they complain that as things are they find it daily more and more difficult to get through their business. Obviously, to exile their vans from the streets in the "rush" hours—a measure that has been advocated—would be a staggering blow at the none too prosperous trade of London. The omnibuses, which are almost as slow and unbusinesslike as a necessity—unless we have tramways. But between them, vans and omnibuses render really fast progress impossible.

DELIGHTED OF COURSE.

Epworth Leaguers in Love With Oregon Scenery and Climate.

More prosperous-looking, white-gowned Epworth Leaguers trooped into town yesterday, and received the same kindly welcome accorded to their predecessors. New Yorkers predominated in yesterday's arrivals. A party of 175 of them arrived in the morning by special train in charge of Mr. Kimford, and the most of them took a sail up the river in the Harvest Queen, as far as the Cascades, and they returned in time to board trolley-cars waiting for them at Fifth and Washington streets. They were taken for a view of Portland Heights, and they praised everything, especially the cool weather. Many of the men were light overcoats. Dinner was ordered at the Portland Hotel, and the Easterners stole half an hour writing letters to relatives in the sweltering East, telling of the cool weather and of the new friends they had made.

The lecture-room of Taylor-street Methodist Church was crowded with delegates in the evening, to listen to an address by Bishop Earl Cranston, with musical selections and readings afterward. The committee has informed me that it has a cut-and-dried programme for your entertainment, but that does not mean that we are to inflict anything dry on you, said the bishop, and there was laughter. "I am sure you will admire our asphalt streets and wooden sidewalks. The latter do not grow in the city, as may have been supposed. I hope you have returned to your homes with the wonders of the Pacific Coast, but I do hope you have not told them that we Oregonians cannot venture out of doors without having to shoot bears waiting to eat us up. Stay with us, and we will show you that there is as high a civilization west of the Rockies as east of them, in proportion to the population. The bishop then proceeded to tell them of the wonders of vegetation reported to him in Oregon—of one instance where a man had raised 700 bushels of potatoes to the acre, and another where a man had raised huckleberries growing out of a fir tree. The bishop explained he had not seen these wonders, but thought it well to tell the delegates about them. He concluded by talking of the possibilities of work by young men and women in furthering the usefulness and destiny of the church.

Ex-Senate Senator J. N. Stacey, of Idaho, said that he was not going to allow the delegates to go away thinking that the only agricultural wonders in the West existed in Oregon. He wished them to understand that farming exists in Idaho, and he repeated a few farming stories which drew forth delighted laughter from his hearers. "I guess they have wonderful farms in Oregon," he conceded. "On one occasion recently I was on a steamer with a friend, gazing on the beauties of the Columbia, and just then another steamer came pouring down. I said, 'Is not that a wonderful stream of water pouring to the river?' My friend said, 'What is there to hinder it?'

The musical selections and readings were greatly enjoyed, and after refreshments were served the greater portion of the delegates left by the 11:30 train for Yellowstone Park.

Today the 400 delegates under the charge of Rev. T. E. Davis and Rev. D. A. Gillespie are expected to arrive, and they will sail up the Columbia in the evening on an "Oregon day" reception will be tendered to them at the Epworth League headquarters, and addresses are expected from Governor Ross, Mayor Rowe, J. E. Haseltine, S. Connel, chairman of the Board of Trade; Henry Hahn, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and others.

John P. Carey will preside. Delegates of Leaguers from Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky are expected to be present. Musical selections will be given by local talent, assisted by the well-known male quartet from the North Indiana conference.

A strong delegation of Leaguers from Illinois will visit the city Friday.

that they will lose the greater portion of their midsummer vacations. Inasmuch as the documents make a volume of 2406 pages, the size of Webster's unabridged dictionary, and it will be necessary to consider the points involved between now and September 30, when the court reconvenes. MOUNTAINS OUT OF MOLE-HILLS

Many people when their eyes come trouble imagine they are victims of some dread disease which leads to blindness. Ninety times out of one hundred they simply need glasses. In such cases medical treatment, lotions, potions and eye patches are aggravating, expensive and unnecessary. Let me examine your eyes, fit them with spectacles or eyeglasses and put an end to worry.
