CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Amusements Tonight.

MARQUAM GRAND THEATER—Mr. Chauncey Olcott, in his latest comedy success, "Garrett O'Magh."

KICKED THE WRONG MAN.—A very funny incident (to the lookers-on) happened at the corner of First and Morrison yesterday forenoon. A man chewing viciously on a large quid of tobacco and with a very savage expression in his face, was leaning against a large telephone pole on the corner. He was evidently in a great rage about something, and not in a condition to be trifled with. Another man, coming across First street, looked smiling and happy and recognized a friend in the man leaning against the post by the shape of his back and shoulders. Coming quickly up to within a suitable distance, he playfully kicked his friend on the part of his body protruding beyond the post, and then adroitly stepped behind the post. The friend thus rudely startled from his meditations wheeled quickly and looked around the post to see who had assaulted him. The guilty person dodged further around the post to keep out of sight, but the injured man wheeled and moved around on the opposite direction, and at once came face to face with a perfect stranger. Like a flash his right arm flew out and his clenched fist hit the stranger squarely between the eyes, sending him reeling into the street. The advantage gained was about to be followed up, and things looked squally for the funny man, when the laughter of the by-standers caused the injured man to pause and give the joker time to get in a word. Mutual explanations and apologies followed and the two men repaired to the nearest saloon, from which, in a short time, they both emerged smiling and happy.

GREAT DANGER STAVED OFF.—Mayor Rowe receives all sorts of letters from all sorts of people, some of them rather funny, and some of them quite the reverse. Of the latter kind is one recently received from Seer O. Sashelan, who is a prophet of the present age, and in direct communication with the Angel Arawal. He writes to inform the Mayor that "the world is lost forever into the snares of the dreadful foe, the dragon, and his compatriturs, and cannot be redeamed under any circumstances," unless $3000 is contributed to him. He supposes that "the wealth possessor will rather extravigate thousands of times $3000 for the devil's cause, and face the wrath to come," but, with the aid of Arawal, he will "give a wringing twist to the necks of the idiotic bibel-beings, which will make them come out with their contribution." The Mayor, who is in no hurry about meeting any wrath which may be coming this way, at first thought of asking the Councilmen to chip in and make up the amount demanded by the "seer," but happening to remember that they receive no salaries, he put up the money himself, and things will run along as usual for a while longer.

HAPPY IN ANTICIPATION.—A party of sportsmen who are getting weary of waiting for the opening of the shooting season went down to the Beale Bros.' shooting preserves on Sauvie's Island on Sunday for a picnic and to see what the young ducks and pheasants look like. They had a glorious time. A fine chicken dinner was provided for them and a wheelbarrow load of watermelons and cantaloupes was provided by John Kisky for dessert, and the other members of the party had provided a dozen magnums of champagne. The result was that the boys saw floppers by the hundred and pheasants by the thousands—some nearly as large as turkeys, and some young broods just able to fly. They are now more impatient than ever for the 1st of September to arrive, when, if the rains do not come in the meantime, they expect to make a big killing of young wood ducks and mallards. As for the pheasants, that is another matter, as the open season for them does not begin until October 1.

FOUND ONE GOOD STREAM.—Trout fishermen generally complain of hard luck and poor fishing this season. There are, however, trout to be caught, by the right man when visiting the right place at the right time. Sunday Fred Evans, an expert fisherman, and Raymond Pease, a lad of 15, went somewhere down the river, Evans taking Pease along to teach him how to fish. They caught 139 trout, many of them from 8 to 10 inches in length, and, strange to say, young Pease caught 98, while his teacher caught only 41. The next time they go out Evans will be the pupil. They do not tell where they caught the fish, and it was not worth while to ask, as any fisherman is equal to such an occasion. The trout is one of the most innocent of all created things, but there is something about it that has a tendency to convert a fisherman into a prevaricator, who would throw the immortal Munchausen into the shade entirely.

THE STEAMER BAILEY GATZERT leaves Alder-street dock at 7 A. M., daily except Monday, for Cascade Locks, St. Martin Springs, White Salmon, Hood River, Lyle and The Dalles, arriving in Portland on return trip at 10 P. M. This is the most scenic trip in the Northwest, and of the many tourists who have made this trip during the past two months, none have gone away without being duly impressed with the grandeur of the Columbia River, and the courteous treatment, excellent service and bounteous meals received on the Bailey Gatzert. Now is the time for those unable to go during the week to prepare for an outing up the river Sunday, when a string orchestra aboard will be one of the attractions.

FUNERAL OF E. M. WRIGHT.—The funeral exercises of Edward Markoe Wright, who died Sunday at the Good Samaritan Hospital from a stroke of paralysis, were held last night at Holman's undertaking parlors, under the direction of Bishop Morris, assisted by Rev. Mr. Dawson. A good many well-known citizens were present, and the musical selections were finely rendered. Mr. Wright was a representative railroad man, who had many friends on the Pacific Coast and in Eastern cities, and he arrived at the Good Samaritan Hospital on the 5th instant. He was about 68 years old. The body will leave today for New York, where his family reside.

GOOD SOLDIER WHEN SOBER.—Smith Collins, a veteran of the Spanish War, appeared in the Municipal Court yesterday, charged with drunkenness. He asked to be allowed to go, on condition that he left town and never came back. The Judge demurred. "I have been a soldier, Sir, and have fought for my country," said Collins, haughtily. "What does your discharge say?" asked the Judge. "It says that I was a good soldier—when I was sober," replied the defendant. He was sentenced to five days in jail.

THEY ALL SAY THAT HOTEL FLAVEL—Is the most delightful of all resorts this year. Ask anyone who has been there this year and they will at once say, "It's the greatest of them all and the meals are not excelled anywhere. Did you know you can leave Portland at 8 A. M. and be at Flavel at 11:45 A. M.? Well, it's so and arrange to spend a week at Flavel and be happy." 'Phone Main 642, Portland, for reservations; rates, $2 to $3 per day.

BAD MAN JAILED.—Because L. Allen, colored, had flourished a revolver around a saloon near First and Everett streets Sunday, he was industriously searched for all over Whitechapel yesterday by Policemen Gibson and Bailey. Last night he came out of his hiding place and was taking a walk, as he expressed it, to cool off, when he was arrested and taken to the police station.

THIS IS YOUR LAST CHANCE to get one of the $3 50 excursion tickets to Tacoma and return, good for three days from the 16th to the 19th. If you are going, call early at the Northern Pacific ticket office, No. 255 Morrison street.

EXCURSION TO MUIR GLACIER.—S. S. Cottage City, sailing August 15, will call at Muir Glacier and Sitka. Berths on sale at Pacific Coast Steamship Company office, 249 Washington street.

INNOCENT SPORTSMAN.—There is evidently one man, at least, in this city who, although a sportsman, knows nothing about game laws. He was seen a few days ago on Oak street, near Fourth, strolling along with his gun over his shoulder, his dog following at his heels and carrying eight very tempting Chinese pheasants dangling by their necks from a string. He appeared happy and at peace with all the world. Just whether he had shot the pheasants over in Washington, or whether the birds had been condemned for murder and had been hanged by the necks until they were dead, dead, is not known. Neither is it known who the man was or what became of him. It may be that he was done away with by someone who was suddenly made insane by the sight of the pheasants, or, perhaps, killed himself, trying to eat them all. In either event he is to be congratulated, as, if Game Warden Quimby had happened to run across him and rudely awakened him to a sense of his lost condition, it would have been worse than it was.

EJECTED A SURVEYOR BY FORCE.—There is trouble among the miners on Blue River. Some dispute having arisen as to the boundaries of the Lucky Boy and an adjoining claim. Surveyor-General Meldrum dispatched Deputy Surveyor C. M. Colville, from Eugene, to survey the ground in dispute. He received notice yesterday that Sharkey and others of the Lucky Boy, opposed the survey, and put Deputy Colville off the disputed ground by force. The opposition party is headed by Candiani. Surveyor-General Meldrum yesterday wrote to all concerned that they must not interfere with a Government surveyor in the discharge of his duties, as there is a severe penalty for such offense. Just how the disputants over the conflicting boundary lines expect to arrive at the rights of the matter without a survey being made is not known.

BANKRUPTCY OF A MINER.—F. E. Cabell, miner, of Granite, Grant County, yesterday filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States Court. His liabilities are given at $34,855 06. The Cabell Mine, on Elk Creek, was one of the richest in the country some 30 years ago. A large quartz mill was put up on the mine, which cost a fortune, and shortly after the lead pinched out, and a large amount was spent in hunting for it, but without success. Afterwards the Cabell Bros. took up another claim in Cabell Cove, not far from the once-famous Monumental Mine, which was supposed to be very rich. Just what has happened to the Cabells is not known, but in the petition of F. E. Cabell no assets are mentioned. The largest part of his liabilities is represented by judgments held by F. E. Horsley on his estate. There are many ups and downs in mining.

SALMON MISSED THEIR WAY.—T. J. Gorman, who has a cannery at Anacortes, is in the city and has some great stories to tell about the great run of sockeye salmon in Puget Sound. The school of these fish bound for Fraser River—which has been a favorite stream for sockeyes since the fish were evoluted—missed their bearings this season and hit the Coast some distance above the mouth of the Fraser, and consequently cannerymen on that river have played in poor luck. One of them came over to Anacortes and bought 25,000 sockeyes from Mr. Gorman, and started for his cannery with them, the Canadian Government requiring no duty. When off the mouth of the Frazer the scow with all the salmon on board was lost. The canneryman is disgusted with his luck, or want of luck, but has given up fishing for the season.

COW SUCKLING A PIG.—William F. Watson, of this city, has a kodak picture of a Troutdale cow suckling a calf and a pig at the same time. The pig in question had became somewhat famous as a stealer of fresh milk, and so R. A. Campbell, an amateur photographer who was interested in the oil well being bored near Troutdale, watched for a chance to take a snap shot at the porker while in the act. Mr. Campbell drove the cow up to where the calf was tied to a fence, and the pig lost no time in getting into position, though somewhat afraid of the calf. As the pig is only a mere shoat, a pail was set on the ground for him to rest his fore feet on while getting his share of the milk. As soon as the group was in proper position the picture was taken.

INCORPORATIONS.—W. N. Sayre, J. W. Selover and Andrew Graydon filed in the office of the County Clerk yesterday articles of incorporation for the West Side & Suburban Railway Company. The purpose of the corporation is to build and operate lines of railways, transport freight and perform the functions incidental to such companies. The capital stock is $250,000, divided into shares of $100 each. J. E. Morson, W. D. McIntosh and Gustav Anderson have filed articles for the Oregon Development Company. The purpose of the company is to build irigation ditches, to acquire and redeem land, and especially to appropriate the head waters of the Deschutes River and Crescent Lake, in Klamath County, for irrigation purposes.

JESSE CARR'S APPEAL BOND.—The appeal bond of Jesse D. Carr, issued by Judge Morrow, arrived here yesterday, and the matter of its approval and as to whether a stay of proceedings will be allowed on it or not will come up for hearing in the United States Court today. United States District Attorney Hall will oppose any stay of proceedings being granted, and has his mind set on having Deputy United States Marshal Roberts sent to tear down Carr's stone fence. In case a stay of proceedings is refused it remains to be seen what move Carr will next make to hold on to his 80,000-acre ranch of Government land.

DESPONDENCY LED TO LAUDANUM.—In a fit of despondency over the loss of money and also a lover, Miss Maud Batt swallowed laudanum yesterday morning in a Fifth-street restaurant, and for a short time her life was despaired of, but with the assistance of three physicians restoratives were applied with success. She was moved to a near-by apartment house. She came into the restaurant and asked for an empty glass, and after the waiter had left her she suddenly cried out that she had taken poison and wanted to die. She recently came to this city from Seattle, and last night she was about town, apparently recovered.

DESERTED FROM THE NAVY.—Mayor Rowe yesterday received notice that Thomas McGreal, formerly of 9 Loring street, Portland, has been declared a deserter from the United States steamship Iowa, now lying at Anacortes. This is a bad business for McGreal, as such deserters are held to have voluntarily relinquished and forfeited their rights to citizenship, and all who harbor or conceal them are liable to severe penalties. Being near the boundary line McGreal has, perhaps, gone to British Columbia, and if so will probably remain there.

A LARGE CONTRACT AT HELENA.—The contract for furnishing the vaults of the new Capitol building at Helena, Mont., with steel furniture and filing devices, was awarded to the Art Metal Construction Company, of Jamestown, N. Y., at $15,500. Glass & Prudhomme, of this city, are Northwestern agents.

LECTURE TONIGHT.—Dr. J. S. Carlson, professor in the Scandinavian language and literature at the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, will lecture in the Swedish language at 8 P. M., in Swedish Lutheran Church, 428 Burnside street.

LATE ARREST.—Frederick Frisby, of Twenty-fourth street, near Vaughn, was arrested last night by Detectives Day and Wiener on a warrant in which he is accused of betrayal, on the complaint of Norena Morgan.

EXCURSION TICKETS $3 50 to Tacoma and return the 16th. Special trains leave Portland, 6:30 A. M. and 7:30 A. M., Friday morning, the 16th. Get your tickets now and get on board the 16th.

ONE OF THE AURORA COLONISTS DEAD.—Peter Wolners, who died at Montavilla a few days ago and was buried at Lone Fir Sunday, was a native of Germany, and for many years a member of the Aurora colony and community. He was not one of the original members numbering some 150, brought out by Dr. Kyle, but joined the colony in the capacity of cabinet-maker in 1880. He remained a member of the community until the property was divided some 18 years ago, when he settled on a farm near Canby, where he resided until about two months ago. On account of failing health he sold out and removed to Montavilla. He left a wife, but no children.

DON'T LIKE HIS BOW-WOW.—Theodore Goodall was arrested last night on the complaint of W. Gribel, charged with keeping a vicious dog around Sixteenth and Washington streets.

HIS CONSCIENCE AWOKE.

Venerable John Bailey Confessed His Misdeeds and Was Sentenced.

John Bailey, a man of venerable appearance, who was recently arrested by Deputy Sheriff Fred Matthews, charged with horse stealing near Bethany, had a fight with his conscience yesterday in the county jail, as he was awaiting a hearing to answer for his offenses. Previously he had maintained his composure and had given his captors the impression that he was an innocent man, who was the victim of circumstances. "I want to confess all about it," he said, with tears streaming down his cheeks.

He was taken before Justice of the Peace Kraemer, and, in broken accents, he admitted that he stole the black mare from Grant Holcomb, a farmer who lives near Bethany, and almost without being pressed he unfolded a tale of his many misdeeds—borrowing odd $5 from merchants on the pretense that he had to settle for a bill of goods around the corner, and forgetting to come back with the money.

Judge Kraemer expressed the regret he felt in having before him so venerable an offender, and told Bailey that he hoped the few remaining days of his life would be marked by repentance and good deeds. Bailey was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail.

NORTH YAMHILL COAL.

Portland Company Finds a Ledge Nearly Seven Feet Thick.

Coal found three miles northeast of North Yamhill was brought to Portland yesterday for the purpose of having it assayed. The coal is from the property of Portland Coal & Development Company, which has leased 2000 acres of coal land near North Yamhill, and which is rapidly acquiring more land.

The promoters of the company say that they have sunk a tunnel about 104 feet, and that they have found a well-defined ledge of coal six feet, eight inches thick. Moreover, it is said there are indications of another ledge still deeper down. While the coal has not been assayed it has been tested for blacksmithing purposes, and is said to give excellent satisfaction. An assay of it will be made today.

Lynching as Recreation.

New York Sun.

A Tennessee mob has just lynched a white man. This is an interesting innovation. But it only emphasizes the contempt for regular legal process that prevails in parts of the country. If people get accustomed to resorting to a court of popular jurisdiction in one case they will fal back on it in another.
