COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL NEWS

The week opened favorably yesterday, with suggested that money was supplied by a powerful syndicate for the purpose. The clearing-house committee was convenient to the purpose. The week opened inversity restering, with a good volume of business, especially in outside jobbing and grocery lines. War in linesed oil prices, between the trust and outside competition, has resulted in a decline in quotations of over one-third since the first of July. Prices now are 556/56c. The fruit market is oversupplied, and has a slow time in working off streams. of surplus, Melons are plentiful, and sell off surplus. Melons are plentiful, and sell slowly at further depressed prices. Pears, plums and peaches go almost at buyers' own figures. Lemons and orangus rule steady. Polatoes are firm, and large quantities continue to be exported. Butter is strong and unchanged in all grades, and cheese is active. The meat market is active, expecially in prock. The ment market is active, especially in pork, which is strong. Lard and packing-house quo-tations are steady. Wainuts are scarce on account of the smallness of the California crop. No charge is observed in eggs, but prices seem a little strained. Poultry is dull at last week's prices.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

Condition of the President Gave Strength to the Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The number of shares f stocks said on the Stock Exchange during the five hours of today's session was no great-er than was sold during the two hours of Sat-urday. This fact in theif would be indirative of less nervousness than Saturday. The table of prices makes a remarkable showing of the recuperative power of the market. The con-flict the President is on the way to recovery that the President is on the way to recovery was the primary cause of the buoyant rebound in prices. The effect was shown not only in New York, but in all the great scourity markets of the world. The secondary cause was the effective measures concerted for the support of the market by the clearing-house banks and great financiers of the metropolis. The effect of these measures was seen in the success with which the cell money rate was decess with which the call money rate was de-pressed to a 6 per cent level. Just what measures were taken was not disclosed, but the large sums of money in the hands of the prinal money brokers on the floor of the Stock Exchange to place in call loans at 6 per cen

The clearing-house committee was conven-ntly at hand all day to take any action that iently at hand all day to take any action that might be demanded by an emergency, but there was no formal session of the committee, and no steps were taken by them until after the close of the stock market, when a dispatch was sent to Secretary Gage advising him of the committee's view that some action by the Treasury Department was incumbent for the relief of the money situation. The special circumstances which make the operations of the Treasury Department embarrassing to the money market have been too often stated to need description here. The enlarsted survius money market have been too often stated to need description here. The enlarged surplus in the Government revenues by reason of the great decrease in the expenditures without a correspondingly large decrease in the income is taking daily from the open market and from circulation large sums of money, just at the time when the movement of the crops of the expanding Fall requirements are making the year's largest demands for money. Some expectation of action by the Secretary of the Treasury for the relief of the money market played its part in the day's strength of the market, before the action of the committee was known.

the quick downward course after the opening.

The sharp advances for Americans in London this morning were generally recognized as due to manipulation, and the high opening here was ingeniously aided as far as possible by devices well known to the professional trader. But these devices are ineffective in a demorshized market, and their success this morning was, in itself, reassuring. The opportunity afforded to safely realize on purchases made Saturday with the sole view of supporting prices then cleared the situation and strengthened it against any tuture emergency. This indication of the improved health of the market attracted some investment buying on the reaction from the opening.

The bear operators assisted the realizing movement by offering stocks freely, and the active stocks declined about a point below the opening. Missouri Pacific lost 2½: St. Louis & San Francisco second preferred, 2½; St. Louis Southwestern preferred, 2½, and Consolidated Ges, 2½.

RAILROADS HAVE THEIR DAY

Agents Appear Before Washington Board of Equalization.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Sept. 9.-Today was railroad day before the State Board of Equalization, and several representatives of railroad corporations were present. S. Fernald, tax commissioner of the Northern Pacific, with headquarters at St. Paul, A. Watt, tax commissioner of the O. R. & N., with headquarters at Portland, and J. W. Robinson, who represent-ed the Pacific Coast Company, were in attendance. The request made by the representatives was uniform. They desired the assessment of their companies to re-main as equalized by the boards of counties in which the companies' propi located. In 1900 the Populist State raised the county equalization to $10,565 a mile for the main line trackage of the railway companies, but this year the av-erage valuation placed by the county boards on the main line trackege is about 26600, and this figure will be satisfactory to the companies. As to the raise made by the State Board last year the railway companies never paid it in a single in tance. Most of county boards comprom ised with the railway companies at a fig-ure much less than $10,565, and in the ase of others there are compromises under consideration at present.

JAPANESE MOUNTAIN SANK. Steamer Tariar Brings News of

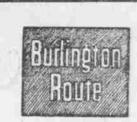

Strange Phenomenon. VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 9.-The steamer Tartar brings news that a moun-tain in Northern Japan disappeared after an earthquake last month. It stood in the center of a plain in Igusa district, rose over 500 feet in height, and covered 40 acres at the outskirts of the vilinge of Kolwayama. On August 16 a tremendous thundering ioise was heard in the direction of this hill, and when the villagers assembled on the spot, attracted by the mysterious sounds, they found that the mountain had disappeared. Instead of the hill they saw level ground, grown over with wild grass and shrubs. The stronge discovery threw the villagers into great consterna-tion. A closer examination of the spot showed that the mountain had been bodly sunk into the ground, leaving its top on a level with the surrounding hand. It on a level with the surrounding land. It is thought that the phenomenon was the result of subterranean volcanic action,
