CONCLUSION OF ENGLAND ON THE DEED OF CZOLGOSZ.

Newspapers Think the United States Will Now Join in a Movement Against Anarchy.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—Buffalo remains the supreme center of interest for England and Europe as the scene of a crime directed against all principles of government and the enlightened progress of humanity. Anarchy demonstrates its own utter helplessness when the only effect of its irresponsible agencies is to bring governments of Christendom together for their own protection, and to convert the victim of its murderous impulses into a world-wide center of interest.

TRIAL RUN OF THE SHAMROCK. Her Speed Was Between 14 and 16 Knots Per Hour. NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—After a successful trial spin of two and a half hours today, Shamrock returned to her mooring in the bay. The yacht sailed on one tack for an hour and a half, and then on the other through Gedney Channel to Sandy Hook Lightship, thence to the southward about three miles. Her speed on the beam reach was between 14 and 16 knots. She covered, all told, about 20 miles while she was out.

It will be three or four weeks time he will be able to resume his ordinary duties.

No Order for Arrest Given. BUFFALO, Sept. 9.—The question of the prosecution of Czolgosz, says a Cabinet officer, is purely a local affair. There is no Government statute covering an assault upon the President of the United States in the eyes of the law. The crime of last Saturday is merely a local offense committed against a private citizen, in violation of the laws of the State of New York and of Erie county.

Henry Watterson on Anarchism. LOUISVILLE, Sept. 9.—Speaking tonight at the meeting called to demand vigorous laws against anarchism, and to express sympathy with President McKinley, Henry Watterson said: "We must meet the blood-thirsty hands with a purer philosophy. We must disseminate the lesson that government exists not for the private gain of any, nor for the cure of any private grievance, but for justice, the citadel and the bell tower of the public peace and order. All of us this night are brothers in the same cause, and this night that God may spare his life."

VETERANS IN REUNION

G. A. R. ME FROM EVERY QUARTER AT CLEVELAND.

All Deplore the Attempt on the President's Life, and Want Anarchy Stamped Out.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 8.—The city was brilliantly illuminated in honor of the visiting veterans of the Civil War, who have been pouring into Cleveland all day to participate in the exercises of the annual reunion of the G. A. R. The center of the scene tonight was the Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument, which stands in the middle of the public square in the heart of the city. Every radiating street was congested with a stream of humanity. There were specified names of all the veterans of the attempted assassination of the President upon the part of the gathering. It has stirred the patriotism of the people, and the veterans and their friends are coming to rejoice to sorrow, as the will of Providence may dictate.

General Daniel E. Sickles today gave expression to a sentiment which is reflected in the hearts of every patriot present. Tall and sturdy as if the snows of over 70 winters had not sifted their powder into his scanty locks, standing erect upon his crutches he addressed the National G. A. R. headquarters, and lifting his cap to Commander-in-Chief Leo Ranssieur and the other dignitaries, bowed and said: "Comrade, let us thank God for the news from Buffalo. The Lord has heard the uplifted prayers of the civilized and uncivilized world. Christian, Mohammed, and Chinese and all people united with us in prayer that McKinley might be spared to us. That prayer is answered. Blessed be the name of the Lord, who preserved the life of our President."

Then, dropping his impressive manner, the General said: "I'll back McKinley's luck every time. The God of good fortune has not forsaken him. He cannot die at this time and under such circumstances."

Ex-Senator Manderson, of Nebraska, also sounded the keynote of the encampment at the reunion today of the First Ohio Volunteer Light Artillery: "I am rejoicing every day in the happiness at this reunion is the fearful tragedy of last Friday," said General Manderson. "I do not exaggerate when I say that the example set by you for years has been one of patriotism and heroism. You have treated your sons to be sons of America, to know what it is to uphold the flag of our free institutions. There remains to be stamped out an element of our population, contented and sustained by an unbridled press and an unprincipled rostrum, which is preaching the gospel of discontent. I do not say too much when I assert that this element delights in condemnation—aye, contempt—for the powers that be. I can find no words in which to do justice to the stretch who has done this thing, but hold him harmless compared with those who prompted such sentiments. It is for us, and for our sons, to stamp out anarchy and socialism as we stamped out anarchy and socialism in the days of the Civil War."

At the conclusion of a meeting of the citizens' Grand Army committee on President's day, held this afternoon, a statement was issued announcing that all functions connected with the reunion of the Grand Army in which he was to have participated will be either omitted or modified. As a substitute for the public reception which was to have been extended to the President on Thursday evening, a mass meeting of citizens and veterans will be held in the central armory on Thursday, September 13, at 3 o'clock P. M.

The seven corps of the Woman's Relief Corps of Cleveland gave a reception to the veterans at the Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument, and delegates to the convention of that order. A reception and ball was given by the local Sons of Veterans at Chamberlains Commercial hall. The time of the veterans' reunion was largely taken up with receptions and informal reunions.

General Sickles, of New York; General Stewart, of Pennsylvania; and Judge Tardiff, of Minnesota, are among the candidates mentioned for the office of commander-in-chief.

ECUMENICAL CONFERENCE. Sympathetic References Were Made to President McKinley. LONDON, Sept. 9.—At this afternoon's session of the ecumenical Methodist conference Bishop Woodhouse, of the diocese of Pennsylvania, made a paper by Dr. C. J. Little on "Methodism and Education in the Twentieth Century," which criticized American Sunday school methods, complaining of the teachers and students were handicapped by the use of international lesson leaves, which did not read real Biblical studies.

H. T. Keating, of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, of Philadelphia, spoke on the problem of efficient social education. A large meeting of Methodists was held tonight in St. James' Hall, to discuss "The Moral Unity of English-Speaking Peoples." R. W. Perkins, M. P., presided. Sympathetic references were made to President McKinley. The speakers included John Potts, of Canada, and J. A. Wilson, of San Francisco. The latter objected to any version of supplanting the "fine old version" of the Bible.

Mr. Perkins declared that the British Methodists as a body, had not the slightest desire to reunite themselves with the established Anglican Church, an arrangement which would be quite impossible, he said, unless the Church of England were disestablished and reformed.

Congress of Criminal Anthropology. AMSTERDAM, Sept. 9.—At today's session of the Congress of Criminal Anthropology held in this city, Clark Bell, of New York City, and Henry H. Ellis, of England, were appointed vice-presidents. Professor Cesaro Lombroso, the celebrated Italian alienist, read a paper entitled "Criminal Degeneracy." In the course of which he made a reference to the assassination of President McKinley, and urged on governments the duty of working in this direction.

SUSPECT NOT IN ST. LOUIS. Friend Says She Is Under Cover and Will Give Herself Up. ST. LOUIS, Sept. 9.—Andrew Senelett, with whom Emma Goldman stopped for a month, when she was in St. Louis three years ago, said to a Post-Dispatch reporter this morning: "Emma Goldman has gone to Litchfield, Ill., but they will never find her there. She can hide anywhere in the country where there are anarchists, and the police will not find her until she wants to show herself. When all talk is done she will come back here and give herself up."

Emma Goldman, the anarchist, called for mail at the St. Louis postoffice at 9 A. M. Saturday. In the afternoon she called again, and a request that any mail received for her be forwarded to general delivery, Chicago.

Two of Chief Desmond's detectives were in the corridor of the Federal building today in the hope that Emma Goldman might possibly return. While some of the postoffice officials think she may have gone to Chicago, where she directed that her letters be sent, others express the opinion that she may have given the Chicago address simply to throw the detectives off her real track. Under orders from Washington, United States Secret Service Operative John E. Murphy is now taking an active part in the hunt for Emma Goldman. Mr. Murphy is carrying dispatches to the office officials Sunday and today, and issued an order
