

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

HAS A CHINESE WIFE.—Lum Davis, who is now in Portland in the care of the Federal authorities, has a Chinese wife in Baker County. Davis was arrested last Monday, near Huntington, Or., for conducting an illicit distillery, the manufacture of pruned brandy. He expects to get out in a day or two, and be released from custody. In connection with his Oriental wife there is quite a romantic story. Davis is an old Indian fighter. He is the product of the half wild border-land civilization. During the Nez Percé Indian war in 1855, the Chinese woman was kidnapped and held for ransom by a prominent Chinaman while fighting the Indians, so the story goes. Davis "caught on" to the Chinaman's little game, and stayed with him for a long time. She was then 15 years old, and rather pretty even to the eye of a white man. At first she proved a white elephant on the hands of her captor, but she was finally by marrying her. The fruits of the union are two children, a boy and a girl. Since that time the little Chinese woman has been a faithful and devoted wife. Her grief was almost uncontrolable when she learned that her husband was to be taken away. She understood enough of the ways of the law to know that her protection was charged with a serious crime. So far as known, Davis has always treated his Chinese wife kindly.

BACK TO OLD MARKET PLACE.—The vegetable gardeners who make a market place during the early morning hours of the plaza blocks, will probably be back to their old stand on Second street, from Salmon to Taylor streets, and other adjacent blocks. Fourth street is to be improved, and the city is also to have a new baseball ground. Sidewalks are also to be placed around the Courthouse. The wagons of the vegetable peddlers will be kept there with the horse and mule material on the streets. The street railroad company is also working on Third street in that neighborhood, fixing up its tracks. The vegetable gardeners had to leave Second street because it was torn up in order to put down new pavement. The work on Second street is completed for several blocks, and the wagons are now returning. The old stand was a good one, as few people sleep in that vicinity to be annoyed by the presence of the teams and the traffic going on.

WORK OF THE DREDGER.—Superintendent Kelley's report for August shows that the Port of Portland dredge was laid up from the 1st to the 11th, while the new pump was installed. From the 12th to the 15th it put in 37 hours excavating a shoal of fine gravel and sand in front of Davidge Dock. The nature of this work demonstrates that the new pump is capable of doing good work. It pumped through 600 feet of pipe to a vertical raise of over 14 feet. From the 15th to the end of the month the dredge was engaged in opening a channel 12 feet wide to a depth of 25 feet, at low water, through the St. Johns bar. In 29 1/2 hours of working time the machine opened 3029 feet of channel, and removed 288 cubic yards of material. The average depth of water before the cut was 2.04 at low water, and after dredging, 2.38 feet.

CHARGE OF THE DREDGER.—Superintendent Kelley's report for August shows that the Port of Portland dredge was laid up from the 1st to the 11th, while the new pump was installed. The average depth of water before the cut was 2.04 at low water, and after dredging, 2.38 feet.

NEW BUILDING.—A new three-story frame building is to be erected on the northwest corner of Sixth and Couch streets. The site was occupied by the stately stable of Charles Mackenzie, which was destroyed by fire several weeks ago, when 30 horses were cremated. The lot has a frontage of 100 feet on Sixth street, and 30 feet on Couch street. The first floor of the structure will be utilized for stores, and the two upper stories for furnished rooms. The plans are ready and bids are to be received next week. The building will probably be ready for occupancy by early Spring.

FURNITURE IN THE STREET.—Ejectment Proceeding With Some Pathetic Features. All last night, through the drizzling rain that fell at more or less frequent intervals, the worldly belongings of Edward Smithson, until recently an employe of the city street-cleaning department, lay on the sidewalk at the southeast corner of Salmon and Thirteenth streets, blocking the street for pedestrians and exciting no end of comment. The cause of the exposure of Smithson's household goods to the elements was an ejectment process issued at the instance of B. F. Holman, the landlord of the premises. Smithson and his crippled wife had lived in the house about two months. The husband lost his position with the street-cleaning department on September 8 on account of his drinking habits. He defaulted in his rent, and Mr. Holman brought suit against him.

WHITECHAPEL SUIT FOR WAGES.—A long argument was heard yesterday before Justice of the Peace Kraemer, in which Thomas Keefe sued Mrs. Louise Olcese, a saloon-keeper at 7 North First street, for $100, for wages due. The defense was made by a young man employed about Mrs. Olcese's place as janitor, etc., that he was hired at the rate of $2 per week and board; that this arrangement had been made in writing, and that the complainant had no further claim. The case was decided in favor of Mrs. Olcese.

TO PROSECUTE AGAINST BICYCLISTS.—The County Court has made an order that Deputy Sheriff be placed in the field Monday, to enforce the payment of the bicycle tax, with instructions to prosecute the work vigorously. In the meantime tags can be obtained at the Sheriff's office. Those whose wheels are seized will be compelled to pay a penalty. The law applies to all who use the same.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.—The United States Civil Service Commission announces that on October 8 and 9 an examination will be held in this city for the position of assistant clerk in the National Almanac Office. Persons desiring to compete should apply to the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., for application blanks.

MALONE DEPOSED.—Thomas Malone is no longer a Deputy Sheriff. His commission has been revoked by Sheriff Frazier. When questioned concerning the matter yesterday by an inquirer, Mr. Frazier stated that he had nothing to say except that he had concluded to drop Malone, and had done so by cancelling his commission.

REOPENING SEPTEMBER 26, 1901, at 10 A. M., I will sell at public auction, for cash, the stock of merchandise of Wolff & Zwickler Iron works. The right is reserved to name all assets and reject all bids not satisfactory. Harrison G. Platt, trustee Wolff & Zwickler Iron Works, bankrupt.

ITS SCENES OF SPLENDOR

CARNIVAL WILL ABOUND IN BEAUTY AND BRILLIANCY. Music and Fireworks, Exhibits and Tournament Will Make Great Array of Attractions. The past two days have witnessed wonderful work at the big Exposition building. Carpenters, painters and decorators have been as busy as bees, and things have reached the point where every movement counts and shows a result. What will soon be beautiful booths are now arising all over the spacious east wing, and in the machinery hall good headway and triumph over obstacles and decided difficulties is plainly observable. With few exceptions the exhibitors have now caught the true spirit of the occasion, and have made a brisk forward movement. All appearances now indicate that when the Carnival opens next Wednesday evening everything will move like clockwork, and the great Exposition building and adjoining Multnomah field will echo and re-echo with the plaudits of the people, who will be more than satisfied with the good work the Carnival committee has done.

People who attend the Carnival will find in it much to admire, much to interest and amuse them, much to commend, and much to be proud of. It is commended by all, and the enterprising citizens who planned it intend to make it an enterprise worthy of commendation. Bursts of Brilliance. A new departure, and notable novelty in connection with the Carnival, will be the fireworks. They will not only be brilliant, but also gorgeous in the extreme. They will be under the personal supervision of W. H. Wilson, the noted pyrotechnist of Los Angeles. The Carnival committee engaged him because his professional reputation is first class, and other committees who have employed him for festive occasions say that he always does his work to the letter. The 300 electric lights in the Exposition building and adjoining Multnomah field in connection with the brilliant and many-colored pyrotechnics will literally make flames of fire paint the skies. The scenes are going to be superlative, and will cause well-deserved and brilliant bursts of applause.

Woman's Department. Under the supervision of Mrs. H. E. Batin the woman's department is rapidly getting in order, and its decorations are neat and tasteful. The list of its exhibitors to date is as follows: Mrs. L. A. Lewis, Mrs. J. E. Prosser, Mrs. Florence Pelton, Mrs. D. A. Vance, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. R. J. Fansher, Mrs. D. C. Johnson, Mrs. L. W. Scheihausen, Mrs. John W. Rowland, Mrs. Routledge, Mrs. H. H. Smith, Mrs. W. A. Moe, Oriental Beauty Parlors, Miss D. B. Howard, Mrs. L. Frohman, Miss L. Barnes, Mrs. Candlin, Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Jeffrey, Miss Cornell.

Whoopees Everywhere. From all over the Northwest come reports of the invasion of copies of the Carnival Whooper. They are everywhere, and Chairman Cole, on the advertising committee, is receiving requests for additional copies. People at all points are enthusiastic over it, and all admit that it is one of the most attractive and effective pieces of advertising matter put out this season.

Horse Show Programme. The programme is as follows: Wednesday, October 2—Fancy riding by ladies and gentlemen, under the management of Captain Nichol; tandem riding, ring riding, head spearing, pumpkin and potato race, premiums, medals, ribbons, etc. Thursday, October 3—Best pair trap horses, in harness, driven by first prize, $30; second prize, $20; third prize, $10. Best pair driving horses, in harness; first prize, $30; second prize, $20; third prize, $10. Best single driving horse, in harness; first prize, $15; second prize, $10; third prize, $5.
