PROGRAMME FOR WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY ARRANGED.

The Body Will Be Taken From the Station to the Courthouse, Where It Will Lie In State.

Programme for Wednesday: 12:00 A. M .- Arrival of funeral train.

11:30 A. M.-March from station to Court 13 Ng A. M.-Arrival at Courthous 12 noon to 9 P. M .- Lying in state in Court

B.15 P. M.-March from Courthouse to late confence on North Market street.

CANTON, O., Sept. 17 .- Canton is ready for the last homecoming of William Mc-Kinley. In other days she has welcomed him with cheers, with waving banners and triumphal marches. Tomorrow she will receive him in silence, with streets nung with solemn black and with the walling with solution that walling notes of dirges. All day long hundreds of men and women have labored in their task of arranging the decorations on the public buildings, on the fronts of commercial houses and over the windows and portices of private residences, simed tenight Canton was shrouded black, and so she will remain until the body of her beloved son has been com-mitted to the vault in Westlawn ceme-

At frequent intervals during the day the sound of microbing feet as a military or civic organization made its way into the city to be in reddiness for the duties of temorrow and of Thursday. They the city to be in robliness for the duties of temorrow and of Thursday. They are but the first wave of the human tide which is to come. From early morning until late in the evening there has been a constant procession of visitors moving along North Market street to the Mc-Kinley home—a house easily distinguished from all others on the street, in that it is the only one not draped in black. There is today no sign of monining on the house, nor will there be until the dead President has been borne through its President has been borne through its doorway Wednesday night. Throughout the day visitors have stood in knots under the trees that line the walks in

As far as lies within its power, the local committees have completed their arrangements for the funeral. Wednesday's programme is arranged, and Thursday's, too, if word would but come from Washington giving approval of the plans suggested. Tomorrow, upon its arrival at II A. M., the train will be met by members of the Loyal Legion and executive committees by hundreds of the personal bers of the Loyal Legion and executive committees, by hundreds of the personal friends of Fresident McKinley and by the following gentlemen, who have been selected from Washington to act as honorary pullbearers during the services in Canton: John C. Dueber, George B. Frease, R. A. Cassidy, William R. Day, Joseph Bierhle, Henry W. H. Atter, William M. Lynch and Thomas T. McCarthy, All were intimate friends of the President during his lifetime. during his lifetime.

Troop A. of Cleveland, will act as ex-cort in the march from the Pennsylvania station to the Courthouse, where the body will lie in state. There will be no at-tempt at forming a column. The cavalry will lead the way, the hearse, drawn by four conl-black horses, will follow, and then will came the carriages bearing the roembers of the family and the distinguished visitors. The casket will be placed in the rounds of the Courthouse, and as soon as possible the doors will be opened to allow the citizens of Canton the opportunity of paying their last trib-ute of respect to the dead President. Large detachments of militia and police will be present to facilitate the handling of the crowds, and as the time allowed mediately after that hour it will be taken to the family residence. Canton Post, G. A. R., composed almost entirely of mem-bers of President McKinley's old regiment, the Twenty-third Ohio, will excort he body to the house. This is as far as the definite programm of the Canton committee extends tonight. It is their wish that early on the morn-ing of Thursday the body will be returned to the Courthouse and again lie in stat until it is time to leave for the First Methodist Church, where the funeral services are to begin at 2 o'clock, but whether the family will agree to this is not known yet. The time allowed for the ontire exercises in the church is 45 min-The programme is not entirely arranged for the services, but they will be simple-a discourse by Rev. C. E. Man-chester, of the First Methodist Church; a prayer by Rev. C. H. Milligan, of the Prerbyterian Church, and a Scripture rending by some clergyman not yet reading by some clergyman not yet se-octed; a quartet camposed of Mrs. W. H. Smith, Miss Rachel Prease, J. F. Mei-courne and Ralph Brown will sing "Lead, Kindly Light," and a second quartet com Misson Flattle Lavinger Fannie Lecinger, Jeanette Bayhof and Katherine Bacherns will also sing. The music to be sums by this quartet has not been selected. At the conclusion of the services in the church the slow march to the cemetery will be taken up: The casket will be placed in the re-ceiving yault, but before it is taken inside the casket will be rested upon supse of allowing those who have taken part in the parade and who have been prevented by their duties from being present in the Courtbouse to have an optunity of viewing the remains. If the present programme is carried out, the cas-ket will remain on the walk outside the wault from one to two hours. When will be thrown around it, and day and night until its final resting-place is prepared it will be surrounded by armed

Because of the crowds expected, Mayor mation declaring that between the hours of 10 A. M. and 5 P. M. Wednesday night no traffic vehicles, automobiles or bicycles shell be allowed on those streets which are to be used by the funcral cortege. The same proclumation orders that business houses be closed Wednesday and by separate committee meetings, consid-

The local executive committee beld a the choosing of a name for the new protracted meeting tonight and decided oganization. The joint conference will that the hour for the commencement of dist Church, Thursday, should be 1:50, instend of 2 o'clock, as previously arranged. Troop A, of Cleveland, after having esfourthquee, will escort Mrs. McKinley to her home and will then escort President Rousevelt, the members of the Cabinet. Licettemant-General Miles and Admiral Dewey to the residence of Mrs. Elizabeth Harter, which stands on North Market street, not far from the McKinley home. residence, and also around Mrs. McKinlies in state in the Courthouse. The detalls of Thursday's programme will not be finally arranged until after the ar-rival of the funeral train from Washing-

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Meeting of the Pacific Packing &

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 .- At a meeting such. of the Pacific Packing & Navigation Company in this city, the following offi-cers were elected: Churles Counselman, ern, New York, vice-president; Freder ick F. Carey, New York, treasurer; Rol-and B. Onfroy; secretary; board of di-rectors, Robert Delsfield, Charles R. Filmt, Robert Deisneid, Charles E. Filmt, Robert S. Jorne, D. A. Dieler, Prederick F. Corey, Roland B. Onffroy, Thomas McGovern, Stuyvesant Fish, Herman Chapin, E. O. Graves, E. W. Crowley, Philip Kelley, G. B. Sandford, Edward Goodall and Charles Counsel-

E. E. Alnsworth will be general mana E. Alipsworth will be general manager of the company's affairs on the coast.

Mr. McGovern, the vice-president, will be chairman of the board of management, with headquarters at Seattle, where he will spend haif of the year during the packing season. Mr. Carey will remain in New York, as will Mr. Onffroy. The company, which was in-corporated about the middle of July, under the laws of New Jersey, has acquired about 12 of the leading concerns in Ore-gon and Washington in the salmon-can-

ON THE PLAINS OF ABRAHAM

Canadian Troops Reviewed by the Duke of Cornwall and York.

QUEBEC, Que., Sept. 17.—The cere-monies of the last day's stay of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall in the ancient apital of Canada included a review of the troops mobilized for their reception a dinner on the royal yacht Ophir and ar illumination of the harbor and city. Rain fell almost incessantly during the day and the crowds that gathered early in the morning were speedly dispersed and driven indoors. The luncheon and gen-eral reception at Spencerwood, the official residence of the Lieutenant-Governor, maj residence of the Lieutenant-Governor, was canceled as a mark of respect to the dead American President and further plans for an expression of regret were made, but unavoidably abandoned. The Duke and Lord Minto, Governor-General of Canada, decided to be personally rep-resented at Washington. The former des-ignated Commander Godfrey Fausette, naval aide de camp, as his representative, but it was discovered that it would be impossible for him to reach there before the departure of the funeral train for Canton, and the idea of sending any one was regretfully given up.

A chilly wind swept across the Plains of Abraham, but the review was bravely finished. The Duke refused all tenders under the trees that line the walks in front, or hung over the low iron fence, talking low and in whispers, as if the filustrious dead were already withn tis walls. military exhibition was a bright one. Five thousand fighting men, including a naval contingent of about 300, were massed on the green-carpeted plains in sight of the Wolfe monument. There were long lines of scarlet tunics and platoon after platoon of gay-colored kilts with rows of blue and green, all touched with white and yellow for contrast. A dozen bands played the airs to which the Brit-ish army marches and when the Duke arrived and the picture became a moving one, it was at its best.

The Duchess was the first of the royal party to appear. She came in a barouche drawn by four horses, with mounted pos-tillons, and escorted by the Queen's Own Canadian Hussars in dark uniform corder with yellow. As she drove up the line the spectators cheered her enthusiastically, and she smilled her acknowledgments. She was esported to a roofed stage in the cen-ter of the field, and a few minutes later the Duke entered the parade grounds escorted by his staff, and proceeded to in-spect the troops. The review followed, nd when it was over the Duke presented medals to 113 Canadians who saw service in the South African War. Some were in the guiforms of their regiments, others in civillan attire. The Duke personally comolimented each of the soldiers as he nanded him his medal.

The royal party returned to the citadel at 1 o'clock, and, after resting until 5 o'clock, went aboard the Ophir. They were escorted to the wharf by a detach. ment of the Queen's Own Hussars, and tonight they gave a dinner aboard to a distinguished party. The harbor and city of the crowds, and as the time allowed for the casket in the Courthouse is considered none too long, every effort will be made to expedite matters. The crowd will be formed in line four abreast at the south floer of the Courthouse, the line to extend westward on West Tuscarawas street. Admission will be by ranks of four, and the ranks will be made to move rapidly. Until 8 o'clock at night the body were outlined in strings of lights, and far up on the heights of the city the lines of incandescent lamps were woven into attractive designs. The names of Wolfe, Montchin, Jacques-Cartier, Champlain and other historic figures were spelled out in letters of light. The royal party, accompanied by Lord Minto, Premier Lyu. cials, will leave at 9:25 o'clock tomorrow for Montreal. The party rill stop two days at Montreal, and then will go to

FUSION IN NEBRASKA.

Democrats Get the Head of the Ticket, Populists the Regents.

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 18.-Fusion between the Democratic and Populist par-ties of Nebraska was effected by their state conventions after sessions held in separate halls beginning shortly before 3 o'clock in the afternoon of Tuesday and continuing until 2 o'clock Wednesday morning. The Democrats are given the head of the ticket: Supreme Justice and two Regents of the university go to the Populists. The ticket is:

ston, Frontier County; Fred G. Hawkby,

Nemaha County.

Both conventions were well attended. but the Populist proceedings were apathetic compared with previous gatherings. The Democrats, on the other hand, showed more of their old-time vigor. Absolute faith in the leadership of W. J. Bryan marked the speeches and resolutoins, and the mention of his name was the signal for hearty applause. Hostility was de-ciared to reorganization of the party or any line of policy different from the pres-

In both conventions feeling reference to the dead President was made by the chair-

Third Party Conference.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 17.-Nearly 300 delegates arrived here today to attend the "Allied Third Party" conference, called by Jo A. Parker, chairman of the People's Party National Committee, perfect a union of all reform parties. The delegates came from 13 states and represent the public ownership party, Liberal Socialists, Middle-of-the-Road Populists the Single Tax League. The largest delegation came from St. Louis and numbered 192 men, headed by Dr. J. E. Chambers. ering the formulation of a platform and meet tomorrow morning, when a clash is not unlikely, as the Populists are not disposed to surrender their name and identity. In fact, the Populist delegates assert that they have no authority to take such a step and cannot do so without the consent of their constituents. The joint conference will be called to order by J. H. Cook, of Carthage, Mo., chairman of the Fusion wing of the Populist Boctors Biscuss the Autopsy.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.-Physicians in this city are still much interested in the report of the post mortem examination made by the doctors who attended President McKinley. Several experts upon gun-shot wounds are quoted as to President McKinley's death in the Times. One of these, Dr. Robert H. M. Dawbarn, thinks that Caolgoez shot the President with a dirty revolver, and that the bullets fired from such close quarters carried a considerable amount of filth into the missile's entire track. He further thinks that ordinary microbes were in-troduced into the wound, and that ers containing the Justices of the Su such the result, he thinks, was the polsoning of the President's flesh. He doubts that the assassin intentionally polsoned the bullets, as has been such that the assassin intentionally polsoned the bullets, as has been such that the assassin intentionally polsoned the bullets, as has been such that the assassin intentionally polsoned the bullets, as has been such that the assassin intentionally polsoned the bullets, as has been such that the assassin intentionally polsoned the bullets. Chicago, president; Thomas B. McGov- gested in some quarters,

MILITARY

REMAINS OF LATE PRESIDENT ES-

All Branches of the Government Service Represented in the Procession-The Civil Division.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 .- The morning of the day set for the state funeral of the late President McKinley opened as somber as the occasion. The sky was overcast, rain fell occasionally giving way for momentary intervals to gleams of dull sunshine, and a soft wind barely stirred the signs of mourning on building

The second stage of the late President's ourney toward the waiting grave at Can-9 o'clock this morning. An hour earlier the officers of the Government, civil, military and judicial, began to arrive, and many others whose names are familiar the world over came singly and in groups, to pay their tribute at this time to the Naon's illustrious dead. Several members of the diplomatic corps in court costume representation of local bodies of Knights Templar, over 1000 members of the Grand Army of the Republic, the United Con-Army of the Republic, the United Con-federate Veterans of the City of Washing, ton, and of Alexandria, Va., various religious and patriotic societies, secret societies and labor organizations, and representatives of out-of-town organizations. The military order of the Loyal Legion, of which President McKinley was an honored member, with a representation from the New York and Pennsylvania commanderies, formed a conspicuous part in this portion of the procession, as also did the Knights Templar of this city and of Alexandria, Va., and a battallon of uniform rank, Knights of Pythlas.

uniform rank, Knights of Pythias.

The full force of letter-carriers of Washington, each with a band of black crepe around his arm, walked to the selemn tread of the dirgs. The banners of all organizations were folded and draped with black, and all marching civilians were recurring badges and white gloves. Fife. mourning badges and white gloves. Fife and drum corps bands rendered at fre-quent intervals along the route the Prest. dent's favorite hymn, "Nearer, My God, to Thee." The procession occupied one hour and a half in passing a given point.

At the Capitol. The entrances to the east and west wings of the Capitol and the great marble staircases ascending from the plaza to the respective entrances of the House and Senate were jammed with people. Rain was falling, but despite this the were among the early comers. Ex-President Cleveland and ex-Secretary of War Lamont arrived about 8:30, and there a murmur of conversation audible.

NEW COMMANDER OF THE GRAND ARMY

JUDGE ELI F. TORRANCE.

were shown to seats in the Red parior. The members of the Cabinet began to arive zoon after, and were immediately followed by the members of the Senate committee and the members of the Supreme Court, headed by Chief Justice Fuller, in their robes of office. President Roosevelt arrived at 8:50 o'clock, accompanied by his wife and his sister, and went to the Blue parlor, where they were joined by the members of the Cabinet. The Presi-dent wore a frock coat, with a band of repe on the left arm.

Start From the White House.

was mortal of the illustrious dead. They walked with slow cadenced step and as appeared at the main door of the White House, the Marine Band, standing on the avenue opposite the Mansion, struck up the hymn the dead President loved so well, "Nearer, My God, to Thee." There was perfect silence throughout the big munsion, and as the last sad ain of music died away the throng in the building lifted their heads, but their yes were wet.

As the hearse moved away the mourners from the White House entered carriages and followed the body on its march to the Capitol, where the funeral services were Major-General John R. Brooke was at the head of the line, mounted on a splendid charger. Behind him came his aides, Justice of the Supreme Court—Conrad the red-coated artillery band, a squadron of cavalry, with red and white guidons, Regents of the University—J. H. Boyof cavalry, with red and white guidons, itmp in the damp air, a battery of field artillery with the men sitting straight and still as statues, a company of engineers, two battalions of Coast Artillery and a detachment of the Hospital Corps. Then came the Naval contingent of the first sechended by the Marine Band, who were followed by a battalion of marines and one of sailors from the North Atone of sailors from the North At-> strong. As the National Guard of the District of Columbia brought up the rear of the tion of the procession marched into line.

>
> It was under command of General Henry > V. Boynton, as chief marchel. V. Boynton, as chief marshal, and com-prised detachments from the military or der of the Loyal Legion, the Regular Army and Navy Union, the Union Veteran Legion, the Spanish War Veterans and the Grand Army of the Republic. As the veterans of the Civil War passed the waiting hearse wheeled slowly into line. the guards of honor from the Army and Navy took up positions on either side of the hearse and the funeral cortege proper took its appointed place behind a delega-tion of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Close behind the hearse came a carriage in which were seated ex-President Grover Cleveland, Rear-Admiral Robley D. Evans and John D. Wilson. In a car-riage drawn by four fine black horses coming next, were President Roosevelt, Mrs. Roosevelt and Commander W. S. Cowles, the President's brother-in-law. Then followed a line of carriages bearing all the members of the Cabinet, a number of ex-members, and behind, the diplomatic corps. Curtains were drawn, so it was difficult to distinguish their occu-

Solemply the funeral party wound down past the Treasury building and into the broad sweep of Pennsylvania avenue, amid a profound silence that was awful to the enthusiastic plaudits which greeted the man now dead as he made the same march to assume, for a second time, the honors and burdens of the Presidential

The Artillery Band played a solemn dirge as, with slow steps, it led the sorrowful procession up the avenue. All the military organizations carried their arms, but with colors draped and furled. The crowds were silent, all was sad, mournful and oppressive. The people stood with heads uncovered and many bowed in apparently silent prayer as the hearse passed along. A slow drizzling ruin was falling. After the carriages in which were the diplomats, followed a long line of oththe insular government. The remainder held in St. Louis in 1903,

The police arrangements were perfect early in the day. Captains Cross and Pierson, by direction of the Superintend-ent of Police, Major Richard Sylvester, cleared the plaza and threw around it a cordon of officers. The main entrance to the rotunda of the Capitol, in which the religious exercises incident to the obsequies were to be held, was reserved for distinguished guests and for the entrance of the funeral party;
At 10:12 o'clock the head of the process

slon arrived at the north end of the Capi-tol plaza, but instead of swinging directly into the plaza and passing in front Precisely at 3 o'clock a silent command of the Capitol, as is usually done on the was given and the body-bearers silently and reverently raised to their stalwart military contingent passed eastward on shoulders the casket containing all that B street, then south on First street was mortal of the illustrious dead. They Headed by Major-General John R. Brooke and staff, and the Fifth Artillery Corps end of the plaza and then marched to po sition fronting the main entrance to the Capitol. As soon as they had been formed at rest, the Artillery band on the left and the Marine band on the right of the entrance, the funeral cortege, with its guard of honor, entered the plaza from the north. As the hearse halted in front of the main staircase, the troops, responding to almost inaudible commands, pre-sented arms. The guard of honor as-cended the steps, the Naval officers on the right and the Army officers on the left forming a cordon on each side, just with in the ranks of the artillerymen, seamen and marines.

As the eight sturdy body-bearers, four from the Army and four from the Navy, tenderly drew the flag-draped casket from the hearse, the bands sweetly rendered the notes of "Nearer, My God, to Thee." Every head in the vast attendant throng was bared. Tear-bedimmed eyes were was bared. Tear-bedimmed eyes were raised to heaven, and a silent prayer went up from the thousands of hearts With careful and solemn tread, the bodybearers began the ascent of the statrderly bore it to the catafalque in the ro-

SPRING GULCH EXPLOSION. Six Miners Were Killed and Four Others Injured.

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 17. —A terrific explosion of gas in the Spring Gulch mine of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company, located 18 miles from this place, caused the death of six miners and the injury of four others, besides much damage to the tunnel in which the ex-plosion occurred. As soon as the explosion occurred a messenger was sent to the Pocahontas mine, seven miles away, to telephone here for assistance. He stated at the time of the accident the entire force of 100 miners was in the mine and it was thought that all had perished. A later messenger brought the informa-tion that less than half an hour previous to the time of the explosion all but a few of the employes had gone off duty, thus preventing a more serious calamity. The explosion was caused by gas becoming ignited by the blasts. The dead are: P. G. Pickerton, George Cassenger, Albert Dehansinado, Peter Deldora, David Coller and John Andreas. The injured: J. H. Dickerson, slightly burned; William Reed, slightly burnes. Joseph Petri, leg broken,

THE ODD FELLOWS

Sovereign Grand Lodge Takes Up Question of National Sanitarium.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 17 .- At the ses sion of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows today, a resolution was in-troduced and referred to a special committee to assess directly each member of the order 50 cents for the purpose of raising a fund for the construction and maintenance of a National sanitarium at Hot Springs, Ark. During the year just closed the receipts showed a net gain of $4087 over those of the preceding term. The assets amount in all to $131,029. It is estimated that 50,000 visitors were here today. The parade this afternoon ontained 25,000 men in line, including 58

A St. Louis Fair Appointment.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 17 .- Frederick J. V Skiff, of Chicago, was today appointed to direct and supervise in all departments the exhibits at the World's Fair to be

SIMPLE AND IMPRESSIVE

FUNERAL SERVICES UNDER THE DOME OF THE CAPITOL.

Address by Bishop Andrews-Notable Men Present-The Public Admitted.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.-The funeral ervices at the Capitol over the remains of the late Prosident McKinley were sim-ple and beautiful. They were of the form prescribed in the Methodist Church. Two hymns, a prayer, an address and a bene-diction comprised all of it, yet the impression left at the end was of perfection. Just at 10 o'clock Admiral Dewey mane his appearance, accompanied by General Otis, General Davis and General Ruggics. He glanced over the scene, and then took up his station at the eastern entrance, where he was joined by the other mem-bers of the guard of honor. Mrs. Hobart and her son, Mrs. Russell A. Alger, es-corted by General Hocker, also entered at this time. The clergymen and the choir, the latter from the Metropolitan Methodist Episcopal Church, which Mr. Kinley attended, filed in and were scated at the head of the catafalque.

At 19:40 o'clock the Cabinet entered and were seated to the south of the platform; and then, to the strains of "Nearer, My God, to Thee," by the Marine Band, the casket was borne into the rotunda. Gen-eral Gillespie and Colonel Bingham led the way, and every one arose. The guard of honor on either side separated and the casket was placed gently upon the catafaique. Next came members of the family of the deceased, Abner McKinley leading. They were seated near the head of the casket. Mrs. McKinley was not pres-ent. Senator Hanna was with the family party. Next the diplomatic corps en-tered, all in full court regalia, and were seated to the south. Ex-President Cleveland, with General Wilson, his escort, sat in the first row. Lastly came Presi-dent Roosevelt, escorted by Commander Cowles, and preceded by Mr. Cortelyou, secretary to the President. The President was given a scat at the end of the row occupied by the Cabinet just south of the casket. President Roosevelt's face was set, and he appeared to be restraining his emotions with difficulty.

When the noise occasioned by seating the inte-comers had ceared, a hush feli upon the people, and then the choir soft-ly sang, "Lead, Kindly Light," Cardinal Newman's divine anthem, while every one

Dr. Naylor's Prayer.

At the conclusion of the hymn, Rev. Dr. Henry R. Naylor, presiding elder of the Washington District, Methodist Episcopal church, delivered the invocation, while the distinguished company listened with bowed heads.

O Lord God, our Heavenly Father, a be-O Lord God, our Heagenly Father, a be-reaved Nation cometh to Thee in its deep sorrow. To whem can we go in such an hour as this but unto Thee. Thou ouly art able to comfort and support the af-flicted. Death sirikes down the tallest and best of men, and consequent changes are continually occurring among nations and communities; but we have been taught that Thou art the same yesterday, today and forever, that with Thee there is no variablesses nor the least shadow of turning. ss, por the least shadow of turning Thou didst give to this Nation a man whose Thou dids; give to this Sation a man where loss we mourn today. We thank Thee for the pure and unselfish life he was enabled to live in the midst of so eventful an experience. We thank Thee for the faithful and distinguished services which he was enabled to tinguisned services which he as characteristic render to Thee, to our country and to the world. We bless Thee for such a citizen, for such a law-maker, for such a Governor, for such a President, for such a husband, for such a Christian example, and for such a friend. a Christian example, and for such a friend.

But, O Lord, we deplore our loss today; we sincerely implore Thy sanctifying benediction. We pray Thee for that dear one who has been walking by his side through the years, sharing his triumphs and partaking of his sorrows. Give to her all needed sustenance and comfort her stricken heart so greatly craves. And under the shadow of this great calamity may she learn as never before the fatherhood of God and the matchless character of His sustaining grace.

And, O Lord, we sincerely pray for him upon whom the manile of Presidential authority has so suddenly and unexpectedly fallen. Help him to walk worthy the bigh vocation where-unto he has been called. He needs Thy guiding hand and Thy inspiring spirit continually. May he always present to the Nation and to the world divinely Illumined Judgment, a brave heart and an unsullied character. Hear our prayer, O Lord, for the official family of the Administration, of those men who associated with Thy servant, the President in the administration of affairs of government. Guide them in all their deliberations to the Nation's welfare and to the glory of God. ing hand and Thy inspiring spirit continually And now, O Lord, we humbly pray for plessing and consolation to come to an expeciple of our land and Nation. Forgive our past shortcomings; our sins of omission as well as our sins of commission. Help us to make the Golden Rule the standard of lives, that we may "do unto others as we would have them do unto us." and thus become indeed a people whose God is the Lord. These things we humbly ask in the name of ilm who taught us when we pray to say: "Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed

"Our Father who art in neaver, nanower be Thy name; Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive them that trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation. but deliver us from evil, for Thine is the dom and the power and the glory, forever.

choir swelled forth and the rich, pure soprano notes of Mrs. Thomas C. Noyes led the hymn "Sometime We'll Understand." The music was remarkably effective and touching, as the notes came back in soft echoes from the fullness of the dome

Bishop Andrew's Sermon. As soon as the hymn ceased, Bishop Edwin G. Andrews, of the Methodist Episcopal church, who had come from Ohlo to say the last words over the remains of his life-long friend and parishioner, arose. He stood at the head of the casket and spoke in sympathetic voice, and with many evidences of deep emotion. The acoustic qualities of the rotunda do favor such addresses, and although the bishop spoke in clear tones, the rippling echoes made it difficult for those a short distance from him to catch his words. He said: "Blessed be the God and Father of ur Lord, who of his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope of the resurrection of Christ from the dead, to an inheritance uncorruptible, undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for us who are now, by the power of God, through faith unto salvation, ready to be revealed in the

'The services for the dead are fitly, and almost of necessity, services of re-ligion and of immortal hope. In the pres-ence of the shroud and coffin and the narrow home, questions concerning intellectual quality, concerning public sta-tion, concerning great achievements sink into comparative insignificance; and questions concerning character and man's re-lation to the Lord and giver of life, even the life eternal, emerge to our view and impress themselves upon us.

"Character abides. We bring nothing into this world, we carry nothing out. We ourselves depart with all the accum-ulations of tendency and habit and qual-ity which the years have given to us. We ask, therefore, even at the grave of the illustrious, not altogether what great achievement they had performed and how they had commended them-selves to the memory and affection and respect of the world, but chiefly of what sort they were; what the interior nature of the man was; what were his affinities. Were they with the good, true, the noble? What his relation to the infinite passionate Savior of mankind; what his itness for the great hereafter which he

"And such great questions come to us

To the Holders of Industrial Policies of the Pacific Mutual Life Ins. Co.

The Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company has retired from the Industrial Insurance business, and, by a contract with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, the Metropolitan has agreed to assume all the Pacific Company's outstanding industrial Podeles with sent of the holders thereof.

the consent of the Bolders thereof.

The Mctropolitan is the largest Industrial Company in the country, being as large as all the other Companies put together.

It has over $62,000,000 of assets, over $8,000,000 of surplus; nearly 5,500,000 of Industrial Policies in force for an insurance amounting to nearly $1,000,000,000.

It pald over $3,000,000 in death claims last year, and pays a claim on the average every seven minutes.
It is the most liberal Company in its treatment of Policy-Holders in the whole country, or in the world.

For many years it has written more insurance annually than any other Company in the world. In purely ordinary business, aside from the Industrial, it stood

No. 4 last year, being preceded only by the New York Life, the Mutual and the Equitable,

The Industrial field force—Superintendents, Assistant Superintendents and Agents—of the Pacific have for the most part joined the Metropolitan. They will call upon the Policy-Holders and invite them to have their Policies guaranteed by the Metropolitan. The Metroagrees to carry out in every respect the Policy contracts Pacific; so that the Pacific Industrial Policies will now have $62,000,000 of assets behind them. New Policies will not be required The Pacific Policies will be stamped with a contract of assumption the Metropolitan.

The Industrial Insurance offices of the Pacific have become the offices of the Metropolitan. In this city the office and Superintendent are as follows:

Mr. P. S. Boltz, Supt. P.O. Box 715, Portland, Oregon. Mr. Chas, S, Konigsberg, 25 Grand Ave., Eurbank Block, East Portland, Oregon.

The Metropolitan Insurance Company has established its Pacific Coast Head Office at 43 California Street, San Francisco, as temporary headquarters until more commoditions offices can be obtained; and from this Head Office Policies will be issued and claims paid. It will be in charge of Second Vice-President Gaston, and of Assistant Secondary, Pacetter, P tant Secretary Roberts.

JOHN R. HEGEMAN, President. HALEY FISKE, Vice-President, UEO. H. GASTON, Second Vice-President, GEO. B. WOODWARD, Secretary. JAMES S. ROBERTS, Assistant Secretary.

this man is, so that we may, perhaps. If yeth and believeth in me shall never knowing the moral and spiritual life that die."

Lost to us, but not to his God. Lost is past, be able to shape the far-withdrawing future. I take it we must all concede that nature and training andreverently be it said—the inspiration of the Almighty, conspired to conform admirably in his moral temper and aims.

We neve of we can doubt I thus their We, none of us can doubt, I think, that our calamity, and enables us to triumpic even by nature he was eminently gifted. through Him who hath redeemed us.

"If there is a personal immortality be-The kindly, calm and equitable temperament, the kindly and generous heart, the love of justice and right, and the tendency toward faith and loyalty to unseen powers and authorities—these things must have been with him from his childhood, from his infancy; but upon them the lock upon this life, upon its poblity and heek upon this life, upon its poblity and hood, from his infancy; but upon them back upon this life, upon its noblity and supervened the training which he was purity and service to humanity, and always tenderly thankful, and of which thank God for it. The years draw on "It was a humble home in which he was born. It is a beautiful thing that to the end of his life he bent reverently before the mother whose example and teaching and prayer had so fashloned his mind and all his aims. The school came but briefly, and then came to him the church with a ministration of power. He accepted the truth which it taught. He believed in God and in Jesus Christ, through whom God was revealed. He gladiy partook with his brethren of the symbols of mysterious passion and redeeming love of the Lord, Jesus Christ. He was helpful in all the beneficiaries and activities; and from the church to the close of his life, he received impiration that lifted him above much of the trouble and weakness incident to gur trouble and weakness incident to gur human nature, and blessings be to God, may we say, in the last and final hour they enabled him confidently, tenderly to say, 'It is his will, not ours; that will be done.'

"Such influences gave to us William McKinley, and what was he? A man of incorruptible personal and political integrity. I suppose no one ever atter to approach him in the way of a bribe; and we remember, with great felicitation at this time, for such an example to ourselves, that when great financial diffi-cuittes and perils encompassed him, he determined to deliver all he possessed to his creditors; that there should be no challenge of his perfect honesty in the matter. A man of immaculate purity, shall we say? No stain upon his As the coffin rested upon the carafalque escutcheon, no syllable of suspicion that it was just about high enough to permit ever heard was whispered against his character. He walked in perfect and noble self-control. "Beyond that, this man had somehow He walked in perfect and vrought in him a great and generous ove for his fellowmen. He had himself been brought up among the common people. He knew their labors, struggles, necessities. He loved them. Shall I speak a word next of the tenderness of that domestic love which has so often been commented upon? I pass it with only that word. I think no words can set forth fully the unfaltering kindness and carefulness and upbearing love which elonged to him.

"And he was a man who believed in right, who had a profound conviction that the courses of this world had been ordered in accordance with everlasting righteousness or this world's highest peril of good can never be reached, that no nation can expect success in life except that it conforms to the eternal love. ept that it conforms to the eternal lo of the infinite Lord, and pass itself in individual and collective activity, according to the divine will.

"And now may I say further that it seemed to be that to whatever we may attribute all the illustriousness of this man all the greatness of his achieveman, all the greatness of his achieve ments, whatever of that we may attribut to his intellectual character and quality whatever of it we may attribute to the patient and thorough study that he gave to the various questions thrust upon him for attention; all his successes as a politician, as a statesman, as a man of this great country, those successes were largely due to the moral qualities of which I have spoken. They drew to him the hearts of men everywhere and par ticularly those who best knew him. "His qualities even associated with him In kindly relations those who were his political opponents. They made it possi-ble for him to enter that land with which he, as one of the soldiers of the Union had not been in sympathy during the war, and to draw closer the tie that was to bind all the parts into one firmer and one indissoluble union. They com-manded the confidence of the great body of Congress, so that they listened to his plans and accepted kindly and hopefully and truthfully all his declarations. His

with the moment, even in the hour, when I within the last two or three years mil we gather around the bier of those whom | istered, to the welfare and peace of huwe profoundly respect and culogize, and man kind. And will such a man die? whom we tenderly love. In the years to is it possible that He who created, recome we will give full utterance as to deemed, transformed, uplifted, illumined the high statesmanship and great such a man will permit him to full into achievements of the illustrious man oblivion? The instincts of merality are whom we mourn today. We shall not touch them today. The Nation already has broken out in its grief and poured doubt. The said one whom he trusted, its tears, and is still pouring them, over the loss of a beloved man. It is well. But we ask this morning of what aget.

wen this great Nation, from sea to sea, when his name shall be counted among the illustrious of the earth. William of Orange is not dead. Cromwell is not notes died away softly, and with uplifted hands, the benedletion was pronounced by Rev. Dr. W. H. Chapman acting paster of the Metropolitan Church.

This ended the religious services. The Public Admitted. After the funeral services almost 30 minutes was required to clear the rotunda sufficiently to permit the admis of the general public. Most of the ers were removed from the casket. lid was lifted from over the face, and at 11:53 the people began to file by, coming into the building at the east door and passing out through the west door. people passed on both sides of the casket. No one was allowed more than a hurried

As the coffin rested upon the catafalque of easy inspection by adults. The crowd entered through the east main door of the Capitol and passed out through the west exit. line passing to the right and the other to the left of the casket. Only a hurried glance was permitted to any one, as I was announced that the ceremony would close promptly at 5:30 o'clock

Annrekist Case Postponed. CHICAGO, Sept. 17.-The anarchist hatil Monday next, at the request of the Easy to Take Easy to Operate Because purely vegetable-yet thorough, prompt, healthful, satisfactory-

Hood's Pills

Tutt's Pills Cure All Liver Ills.

Save Your Money. One box of Tutt's Pills will save many dollars in doctors' bills

They will surely cure all diseases of the stomach, liver or bowels. No Reckless Assertion For sick headache, dyspepsia, malaria, constipation and biliousness, a million people endorse qualities gave him reputation, not in this land alone, but throughout the world, and made it possible for him to TUTT'S Liver PILLS

