COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL NEWS

Heavy receipts of fruit and produce continue to keep the commission house portion of Front street busy, and trade yesterday was exceptionally heavy on account of local retailers stocking up for the Saturday trade. Prices show no change of consequence. There is still considerable firmness in butter, eggs and poultry. Much of the strength which was noticeable in potatoes and onions has evaporated, and yesterday they were both selling at about the same figures, $1 and $1 10 per cental. A few fancy onions sold higher, but there was plenty of fairly good stock obtainable at the figures mentioned. Hopgrowers are beginning to make more inquiry regarding prices and the crop will commence moving very soon.

PORTLAND MARKETS.

Grain, Flour, Etc.

The local wheat market continues in sympathy with that of the East and Europe. Very few sales are reported, and the exporters are not manifesting any great anxiety to purchase under existing conditions. The ruling quotation for Walla Walla is 53½ and 54 cents, with 55 cents offered for Valley and bluestem. These figures might be sprung a little for round lots. The continued weakness in the wheat market is affecting freights, and if it continues owners will be forced to accept lower rates or else lay up their ships. The statistical position of freights is strong, but the actual position is weakened by the low prices for wheat in the foreign markets.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

Heavy Shipments of Currency to the Interior Causes Weakness.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The principal incident in today's stock market was the recurrence of the consideration by speculators of the money market outlook. The unexpectedly heavy movement of currency to the interior for the week by express as reported by the banks was the immediate cause of this development. The early advance in the stock market was checked when the published estimates made their appearance, and prices sold off, practically wiping out the earlier gains. The estimates do not include today's operations, and as yesterday was a holiday and practically no business is done on Saturday, the showing is for only four days. Yet the shipments of money to the interior by the banks were the heaviest of any week in the season, reaching $5,350,255, compared with $3,037,816 last week. Allowing for the receipts, the net loss by the banks was nearly $3,000,000. This is a considerable offset to the gain on Sub-treasury operations, which reached up to last night $11,847,000. As the extraordinary measures of the Treasury for the relief of the market have about exhausted their force, the effect next week of the heavy interior demand becomes somewhat disquieting.

The loan item in tomorrow's bank statement is also to be reckoned with in connection with the fact that subscriptions by the banks to several large municipal bond issues are due. The announcement late in the day of an engagement of $500,000 in gold at Paris for import had only a slight effect on the market, as the exchange rates are considered too high to bring any considerable amount of gold yet. The rate today continued steady and was affected by the large selling of stocks for London account under the disturbing influence of a considerable military success for the Boers.

The violent and erratic fluctuations in Amalgamated Copper were also a disturbing influence in the market. This stock sold as low as 104 and then rallied to 108½, fluctuating subsequently over a lesser range between these figures. The announcement of the dividend action was withheld until after the close of the market. Apparently there was a sharp demand at the last from a short interest. The omission of the customary half per cent extra dividend for the quarter, leaving the regular rate 1½ per cent, came as a surprise, in spite of the recent heavy decline of the stock. During the early rise in prices the same influences prevailed as for some time past, especially the conviction that a plan is progressing for the merger of all the Vanderbilt roads by the formation of a financial company to hold the stocks of the various railroad companies.

Railroad bonds were moderately active and strong. Total sales, par value, $3,489,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

Foreign Financial News.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The Commercial Advertiser's London financial cablegram says: The British reverses in the Transvaal exerted a depressing influence on the local market at the opening today, with the result that initial prices were generally lower. Then American stocks showed strength and the market rallied somewhat in sympathy.

American stocks opened up firm and then eased off on liquidating sales. Prices in turn hardened in the early afternoon and were buoyant at the close on New York's all around support.

Tintos sold down to 52⅝ on rumors that the Amalgamated Copper Company is overstocked with material.

Chicago Grain and Produce.

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—Wheat had little strength of its own and was accordingly dull, following corn for want of a stronger influence. December opened a shade to ⅛c higher at 71⅛@71¼c. There was a small outside demand, which brought December to 71⅜c, but with liquidation and support withdrawn the price eased off to 70⅞c. The market steadied on covering and closed firm, ⅛c higher, at 71⅛@71¼c.

Corn was irregular, but in the main steady. Good cable reports of low temperatures and a moderate demand by local bulls were the sustaining factors. The close was weak, December ⅛c lower at 58⅜c.

Oats were easier. December closed weak, ⅛c lower at 36½c.

Provisions were active. There was, however, no radical change in the general situation. The chief support was by packers. January pork closed 25c higher, lard 20c and ribs 20c up.

RUSSIAN GRAIN CROP.

Mixed Reports Regarding the Condition and Outlook.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 20.—The Journal of Commerce and Industry today semi-officially reports the following regarding the grain crops of European Russia:

The Winter grain is quite satisfactory in the Southwest, where there was sufficient rain. In the North Caucasus, Finland and a portion of the Western Provinces it is above the average. It is not quite satisfactory in the southeast, that is, beyond the Volga and near the Azof Sea. It is bad to very bad in the Volga Valley, and the provinces adjoining the Volga Valley, Russian Poland and many districts of the Baltic Provinces. In other provinces it is about as usual, with local exceptions.

The Summer grain is everywhere poorer than the Winter product. In Poland it is generally good. The report fully confirms earlier prognostications.

CENTENARY IN GOOD SHAPE.

Square With the World Financially —Looking for a New Pastor.

The fourth and last quarterly meeting of the official board of Centenary Methodist Church was held in the church parlors Thursday evening. Rev. L. E. Rockwell, presiding elder of Portland district, presided. While the reports were not all complete, enough was shown to indicate that the finances of the church are in better condition than for a number of years past. All current expenses will be met in full by the end of the present month, which will close the conference year. The various benevolences are also paid. Wood and insurance for the coming year are provided for, which will take so much from next year's expenditures. Just before the death of Rev. G. W. Gue, he had a long talk with Dr. Rockwell, in which he said that Centenary would meet every obligation and that every benevolence would be brought up.

Nothing is known to have been settled as yet regarding the incoming pastor. Dr. Rockwell has been in consultation with Bishop Mallalieu, who will preside at the conference. Beyond the fact that several able ministers are in view and are being communicated with there is no public information. The fact is recognized that a strong minister is wanted at Centenary. Conference will convene at Hillsboro next Wednesday, September 25, and probably it will be known the Monday following, September 30, who will be the new pastor at Centenary. There has been some talk about Rev. J. W. Taylor, of Ogden, for Centenary. The Skagway papers have published the statement that Rev. J. J. Walter, now superintendent of missions in Alaska, would go to Ogden next year. The inference some have placed on this published report is that if Mr. Walter shall go to Ogden Mr. Taylor may be transferred to Centenary. It is said that Mr. Taylor is an able minister and that he would be willing to come to Centenary, but it is considered very doubtful that he will be transferred. Centenary is the only Methodist church in Portland whose pastor has not practically been selected already.

MRS. WEATHERRED AGAIN.

Good Notice of Portland's Exposition in a Great Paper.

New York World.

Mrs. Edyth Tozier Weatherred, of Portland, Or., who has enjoyed the distinction of being one of two women commissioners on the Pan-American Board of Managers, is already deep in the executive business preparatory to other exhibitions.

So well has Mrs. Weatherred represented her state (Oregon) that her name stands first in the selection of future commissioners. As soon as the Pan-American Exposition is over she prepares for the South Carolina Interstate and West Indian Exposition at Charleston, S. C., from December 1, 1901, to June 1, 1902.

Her visit to this city at this time is partly in the interests of the Lewis and Clark Centennial and American Pacific Exposition, and she is in the East to promote the interests of her state and attract attention to its agricultural and mining advantages.

In an interview at the Astor House yesterday regarding the latest pet enterprise, the Lewis and Clark Centennial and American Pacific Exposition, she said:

"Portland, Or., is fairly in the swim of expositions in the future, and is making great preparations for one to be held in 1905. At that time the Northwest will celebrate the 100th anniversary of the Lewis and Clark expedition to the Pacific. These noted explorers were sent out by Thomas Jefferson to examine the soil and in a general way learn of the vast country told by the Indians to be situated west of the Rocky Mountains. In 1804 Captain Meriwether Lewis and Captain Willis Clark left St. Louis with a company of 43 men for their long and perilous journey. After thrilling encounters with Indians and wild beasts, storms, cold and hunger, they at last, in November, 1805, reached the mouth of the Columbia River and went into camp."

"Their return to St. Louis was equally as hazardous. It was not many years before the news had spread through the East and brave men and women began the long journey across plain and mountain. The advance of progress has been marvelous during the past 40 years. Every line of industry has sprung up, and the resources and natural endowments are wonderful. The people are wide awake and opportunities are many for every line of business."

DUCK HELD FAST BY A CARP

Unusual Experience of Some Amateur East Side Sportsmen.

Justice T. W. Vreeland and Constable A. M. Cox overcome their arduous duties a few days ago and went to Knapp's land on the Washington side of the Columbia, to hunt and recuperate. From their bedraggled and disheveled appearance on their return, their friends were inclined to believe that their trip had not been a howling success, but they kept their own counsel and nothing of their doings could be learned. Finally it leaked out that they had visited a duck lake, but could not kill a duck, as the ducks would fly away before Justice Vreeland could take aim. After splashing about in the mud for a long time they found a duck which did not fly. It seemed to be fast to something under the water, but by desperate struggling moved slowly toward the shore. Mr. Vreeland took a long and deadly aim, but just as he pulled the trigger the duck made a desperate effort and rose a foot or two in the air, exposing a section of a huge carp which had hold of one of its feet. The charge from Vreeland's gun missed the duck, but killed the carp, and the released duck was soon out of sight.

This was the end of their duck shooting. Soon after their dog flushed a covey of something in the bush, supposed to be quail. Vreeland banged away and soon discovered that he had fired into a litter of young polecats. The dog retrieved one and started to bring it to his master, who scenting what was coming, took to his heels, but the dog chased him into camp with the malodorous "bird."

On the way back to Vancouver they hired a driver who imbibed freely and they had several norrow escapes before arriving.

International Cricket Match.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20.—The first of this season's international cricket matches began today on the grounds of the Philadelphia Cricket Club, at Wissahickon Heights, between Captain Bosanquet's English team and 18 "colts" from the various local clubs. A cold north wind was blowing, and players and spectators suffered alike. When the players adjourned for lunch the colts had lost seven wickets for 80 runs.
