

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Amusements Tonight. PORTLAND CARNIVAL—Exposition building and Multnomah field. 1:30 to 5, afternoon; 7 to 10:30, evening. Saturday evenings, 11. MANGRAM OPERA—Theater. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, 8:15 P. M. "The Case of the Rebellious Susan." Evening, "An Ideal Husband." COLLEGE THEATER—"Daughter of the Damned." Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, 8:15 P. M. METROPOLITAN THEATER—"The Queen of Hearts." Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, 8:15 P. M. EXPERIMENTS WITH WOODEN BLOCKS—A petition for the repaving of Fourth street with wooden blocks is being circulated and is being very generally signed by property-owners. Several have asked that the pavement in front of their property be laid with blocks treated with preservative, and it is probable that the city will have the parts of the street in front of the City Hall and the Plaza blocks paved with blocks that have been treated with a preservative. As the main portion of the blocks are treated with plain pine blocks, this will afford an opportunity to make a comparison and see how much longer treated blocks will last, and which kind of blocks are the most economical in the long run. The Harvard bridge, between the cities of Boston and Cambridge, Mass., is to be paved with wooden blocks treated with preservative process. There is so much traffic over this bridge that it has been necessary to repave it twice annually. The bridge is now to have a new deck of three-inch yellow pine, treated by the preservative process, on which is to be laid a pavement of wooden blocks, treated by the same process, under a 10-year guarantee for its life. The estimated cost of which will amount to about $40,000, is to be divided equally between the cities of Boston and Cambridge. From this it will be seen that other cities as well as our own are experimenting with wooden blocks. BIG QUANTITIES OF SEED PEAS—A Washington County farmer yesterday brought to town a big wagon load of seed peas of several varieties, which he had raised for some of the seedmen here. He says peas are much more extensively grown now than they used to be, and that on the Redfield farm, owned by the G. Reed estate, about 300 acres of peas were grown this year. They yield about the same number of bushels per acre as wheat, but make better food for the cows than wheat, owing to their containing different constituents. A farmer was also offering for sale on Front street yesterday a wagonload of chest seeds, which was big and clean and looked much like oats. Such seed is in considerable demand these days, as it produces a crop of very fair hay the first year and the chest will produce two-thirds as much as hay does not do well. Cheat of the wild variety used to be considered by farmers a pernicious weed, as it sprang up in patches in wheat fields where the wheat had been killed out, and it used to be said that the wheat changed to cheat, or cheat, as it is sometimes called. Cheat hay brings about two-thirds as much in the market here as timothy, and is accounted fairly good feed for horses, on account of the grain in the heads. MORE ARC LIGHTS NEEDED—"The city needs more arc lights," a member of the Board of Public Works yesterday, "and I don't see how we are going to get along without them. We are making out with the same number of lights we had six years ago, and the city has grown away out toward the dairy farms in all directions since then. People residing in newly-built-up neighborhoods need lights to go to their homes at night, and they are compelled to grope their way in darkness. If we had 50 extra arc lights we would have use for them all, and would save the addition of these if the city could possibly afford it. An arc light can be seen from afar, and its cheering influence is wonderful, even to the wayfarer a mile distant. Arc lights come at a temporary charge of $50 a year to maintain, but many of our suburban residents think they get nothing for the city taxes they pay, and I would favor giving them an arc light to cheer them on their way home during the dark, wet nights of winter." FINISHED AT LAST—Finishing touches are being given to the Second-street wood-block pavement, upon which the contractors have been engaged since the middle of July, and as soon as the work has been accepted by the Board of Public Works, hand trucks will be removed and the thoroughfare thrown open to travel. The work has been delayed by the difficulty of obtaining wood blocks, otherwise the job would have been finished and forgotten long ago according to the contractor in charge. The men laid the blocks on the east side of the street between Main and Madison streets yesterday afternoon, and the work is being done so that sand and gravel are still to be worked into the chinks between the blocks. NEW PROFESSION THAT PAYS—"Systemizer" is a new profession that has sprung into use of late years, and the pay is said to be larger than that of any traveling professional man known. A "systemizer" is an expert who goes from city to city taking a general charge of large business establishments, and placing them on a systematic basis. One of these experts recently struck Portland and is said to have made $500 in a week, his pay being $100 a day. He is now engaged in the cities of Puget Sound, and notwithstanding the big salary he demands, the firms for whom he works declare they have made money as a result of his systematizing. BANKRUPT SALE WOLFF & ZWICKER IRON WORKS—On Thursday, September 25, 1901, at 10 A. M., the undersigned will sell at public auction, for cash, on the premises, all the plant of Wolff & Zwickler Iron Works, including all tools and equipment. The rights reserved to reject any and all bids not satisfactory. Inventory can be seen and all inquiries answered at office, east end Madison-street bridge, Portland, Or. Harrison G. Platt, trustee Wolff & Zwickler Iron Works, bankrupt. TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN—"For the last 20 years I have been a sufferer from dropsy. The water came out of my feet. Since using your 'Spring Water Medical Water, I can say I am cured, and can highly recommend it to anyone. Mrs. J. Wilmette, 15 Lowell street, corner Madison & F. J. Hillen, agent, 130 Fifth Street." TEN THOUSAND FIVE HUNDRED AND THREE ARE OF LAND BELONGING TO THE PORTLAND SAVINGS BANK to be sold at public auction on the first day of October next. For particulars see advertisement under Special Notice in this issue of the Oregonian, or apply to Receiver Nixon, 50 Commercial block. TALK ABOUT BARGAINS—The Rummage Sale being conducted by the Cathedral Ladies Aid Society at 63 Third street, has been most successful. Everybody gets a bargain, there are no blanks. Call and get some. FAREWELL PLAY: FAREWELL PLAY—Rev. John Glynn, of Washington, D. C., says: "Young and old can only profit by the performances." To be given at Congregational M. E. Church next Monday evening. HATH FUND GETS $54—President Holman received yesterday $54 for the bath fund from the sources. Local Journeymen Tailors' Union, 53, and the employees of the Portland Carriage works, 4. EVERYBODY pleased with their purchases at the Rummage Sale, at 63 Third street. New goods placed on sale every morning. Don't forget the number. FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—Services tomorrow at 9:30 A. M. and 7:45 P. M. The pastor, Rev. Edgar P. Hill, will preach both morning and evening. First Association of Philadelphia removed its department office to rooms 322 to 325 Falling building, southeast corner Washington and Third. WE HAVE a fine selection of moulding and make a specialty of framing. E. L. Moorehouse & Co., 205 Alder, near 5th. The auction sale of the plant of the Wolff & Zwickler Iron Works will commence at 10 o'clock this morning.

ATMOSPHERIC EQUINOX—Today the earth will pass the three-quarter point in its wild whirl around the sun, and the autumnal equinox will be with us, and the sun will rise and set at 6 o'clock, and the days and nights will be of the same length, for the first time since March 20. The strong wind on Wednesday was a forerunner of the equinoctial gale which is generally concomitant of equinox, and the big blow may be expected at any time. In these days, when so many turn night into day, and arc lights are so numerous, it matters much whether the darkness or the daylight is longer, and if it did the earth couldn't alter its course or the inclination of its axis to bring about any change. Although, days and weeks and years—in short, generally—is nothing but a sort of tally on how many times this little world revolves and how often it goes around the sun. The sun shines without intermission, and if one were perched out in space he would enjoy eternal day and would know nothing about time as reckoned on earth. WALKS AMONGST THE PLAZA—The city has just started work on the cement sidewalks to be laid around the Plaza blocks. The old wooden walks have been torn up on the Fourth-street and Taylor-street sides of the Plaza, and these streets are piled with cement, sand and crushed brick. Two rather fine shade trees on the Taylor-street side of the Plaza need to be cut back to prevent the roots from breaking the walk in the future. The sidewalks are to be eight feet in width and will be a great improvement on the old narrow wooden ones. Henry Fleckenstein, when a member of the Council, had set his heart on having this improvement made before his term expired, but owing to a great crash of funds in the city treasury was unable to get the work done. The improvement will be completed entirely around the Plaza as soon as possible. TAYLOR STREET FIRE ENGINE—The new $500 fire engine will be tested at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon at Fourth and Stark streets, and to illustrate the changes which have taken place in old-time and modern fire engines, Chief Campbell has arranged to show an ancient Amoskeag fire engine at the same time. Another interesting exhibit will be a new battery, designed by the Chief for fighting fires. Those will be connected with the big standpipes on the Chamber of Commerce building and streams of water will shoot past the roof. The new engine will be harnessed and polished yesterday until it shone like silver. Lange & Muir have kindly donated rubber tires for Chief Campbell's buggy, and with the addition of several coats of paint the vehicle has been considerably improved. LEE KEW MUST SHOW RECORD—Policeman Barker arrested Lee Kew yesterday on Second street, near Oak, charged with carrying a dangerous weapon, a pocket knife. The complaint was made by J. E. Wilkes, of Port Townsend, Wash., who stated that Lee Kew had recently been in charge of a steamship company near the Canadian border, and that while it was being argued whether the Chinaman had a right to land in the United States he suddenly disappeared. Word was received from the British consul at Vancouver that the Chinaman's Custom-House certificates. UMBRELLA WITH JOINTS—The latest thing in umbrellas was brought to town yesterday by a traveling man, to whom it had been sent by a friend in London. It was not exactly a pocket umbrella, but can be carried on an ordinary valise. The handle end uncrews and a joined central rod allows it to be folded over the handle cover, and the pointed end of the rod uncrews and folds over in the same manner. It is a handy device for travelers. An umbrella was invented some years ago that was folded in the same manner, but it did not find favor as the cover was soon worn out when it folded. In this region a permanently hoisted umbrella would be the most convenient in the winter. MITT BOESSE IN SALOONS—John Gilmore, a longshoreman, was before Municipal Judge Cameron yesterday, charged with carrying a concealed weapon, a pocket knife. The complaint was made by the Chinaman's Custom-House certificates. FROM HEART THROUBLE—R. E. Braden, a butcher residing at Sixteenth and Everett streets, became suddenly ill yesterday at Front and Stark streets, and is said to have made $500 in a week, his pay being $100 a day. He is now engaged in the cities of Puget Sound, and notwithstanding the big salary he demands, the firms for whom he works declare they have made money as a result of his systematizing. INCORPORATIONS—Articles of Incorporation of the J. H. Smith Company were filed in the County Clerk's office yesterday by J. H. Smith, S. C. Smith and Alexander Sweek. Capital stock, $50,000. The object is to do a general contracting business. Supplemental articles of the Welch-Nevel Electric Company were filed by A. Welch, F. W. Newell and F. N. Avery. Changing the name to the Pacific Electric Company. BAILEY GATEWAY, SUNDAY EXCURSION—To The Dalles and return. Leaving foot Alder street at 7 A. M., for Cascade Locks, St. Martin's Hot Springs, White Salmon, Hood River, Lyle and The Dalles. Arrive there 3 P. M.; returning 3:30 P. M., arrive Portland 10 P. M. Grand scenery, fine meals. The Marquam Grand orchestra will furnish the choicest music. Ope, "Dalles" electric sign. LEAK IN RESERVOIR—Captain Langitt, United States Engineers, went over to Vancouver yesterday to inspect the reservoir which supplies water to the military post there. This reservoir has been leaking of late, and Captain Langitt has been directed to inspect it and prepare plans for an expeditionary party to put it in good order. DENIES THE CHARGE—Ed Johnson, the Fourth-street restaurant proprietor, charged with keeping a disorderly house, declared yesterday that the complaint is unfounded. Mr. Johnson states that the house has been conducted on absolutely respectable lines, and that the complaint arose through the malice of a business rival. JUDON CAPLES will give a lecture on "Chile in Trinity M. E. Church, Tenth and East Grant, on Tuesday evening, September 24. Admission, 25 cents; children, 15 cents. Come and hear something real good and help out a good cause. THE women of Taylor-Street Church will hold a rummage sale beginning Saturday, September 21. Donations of all kinds solicited. Remember the place, 270 Morrison street, Or. Phone Main 260. FIRST U. P. CHURCH, Sixth and Montgomery streets. "Topics tomorrow: At 11 A. M., "The Benevolence of the Sabbath;" at 7:45 P. M., "Religion and Life's Vocation." THE Hon. D. Sells Cohen will deliver a sermon at the Congregational Ahava Sholem on the Day of Atonement. A. G. Story removed his office to rooms 322 to 325 Falling building, Washington and Third. OUR store will be closed next Monday on account of holiday. S. Mayer & Co.

GYPSIES STRIKE CAMP—The gang of gypsies that has been camping in a meadow on the East Side near the Southern Pacific shops received notice to move on yesterday. When policeman Patton went back some time afterward to see if the order had been carried into effect, all the tents, wagons and gypsies had vanished over the county line, except two families who had halted near Selwood. The latter had a sick woman with them and they were allowed to pitch their tent for a day or two in the spot they had chosen, in the hope that she would recover. Residents in the neighborhood of the eviction are wondering if any of the Romany cronies have weaved a spell around Patton, and he is being watched to see whether he has been hoodooed. LARGE OYSTERS.—H. Hamblet, manager of the Toke Point Oyster Company, which has extensive oyster beds on Willapa Harbor, was in the city yesterday. He says the efforts of the company to introduce and grow Eastern oysters have been very successful. They have at different times during the past three years brought out from the East and planted 30 carloads of seed oysters. A considerable portion of these have now grown to the "blue point" size, the stage at which oysters are considered the most desirable for eating. The company has about decided to begin marketing them in quantity, as they think they have enough of this size to supply Portland with all the Toke Point oysters needed here. ESTABLISHMENT MAX.—French dress-making, Dekum building. Yesterday, the first exhibit of French novelties, imported direct from Paris, was the occasion of a great crush of fashionable ladies. The exhibit was greatly admired and appreciated, many of the patterns being quickly reserved. The exhibition continues today. WILL NOT BE OPEN.—The United States Hydrographic Office in this city will not be closed, but will be continued as usual under the management of Ernest C. Ross, who has been assigned to Lieutenant Milligan's duties. F. J. ALEX MAYER removed his office to rooms 322 to 325 Falling building, Washington and Third streets today. SPECIAL sale peanut candy today, Carrolls. FOR AN EAST SIDE PARK. James B. Stephens Sub-Board Discusses the Hawthorne Property. At a meeting of the James B. Stephens Sub-Board of Trade, held last night in Gruner Hall, Stephens' addition, nearly the entire evening was devoted to the discussion of the Park question. J. J. Murphy presided. W. R. Bishop, of the committee on the lease of Hawthorne Park, made a verbal report. He detailed the result of his visit to the office of the city Auditor. He learned there that the city has nine parks, a few of which only are of any use to the city. Mr. Bishop also talked with Mr. Hawkins, who seemed to be of the opinion that the commission had no authority to either purchase or lease. J. J. Murphy gave his experience. He called on Mayor Rowe, whom he found willing to do everything in his power to promote the interests of the East Side. Mr. Bishop also talked with Judge Malory, and he seemed favorable to securing Hawthorne Park. In reply to an inquiry Mr. Murphy said that no direct terms had been offered by the owners of the park, but that he was under the impression that it could be leased on reasonable conditions. He said he intended to call on all members of the commission, and urge upon them the demands of the central portion of the East Side for this park. City Auditor Devlin being present was invited to speak on the subject. He said that the purchasing power of the commission was limited to the amount of the park levy. The commissioners, he said, were expending $200 per annum, and getting the parks in use in excellent condition, and had acquired facilities for keeping them in better condition at less expense than ever before. The commission would have about $10,000 for parks next year. He also called attention to what had been done for Holladay Park, and said that Mayor Rowe had succeeded in getting work done there, the first in many years. It was now being cared for and was being generally used by the people of the neighborhood. In speaking of streets and parks, Mr. Devlin said the improvement of the streets in Upper Albina last Spring was an example of what could be done along that line. The improvement of the streets and caused that portion of the city to make wonderful progress. In response to an inquiry concerning the matter of increasing the number of Councilmen from the present six, Mr. Devlin said that it was contemplated by the charter commission to retain the 11 wards and 11 Councilmen, with six more elected at large. These six, he said, would be elected without regard to ward boundaries, and might come from either side of the river. J. J. Murphy announced that there would be a meeting of all the sub-boards of the Eighth Ward next Monday evening at the hall of the Brooklyn Sub-Board for important business. FROM A SOUTHERN POINT OF VIEW. At the First Cumberland Presbyterian Church, memory service was held Thursday evening. Rev. J. J. Dalton, D. D., who lived in the South for a number of years, told of the feeling of the Southern people toward the war between McKinley, saying that they held him in high regard as a man and statesman. Politically, they were opposed to him, but esteemed him for his qualities. THE Netherlands Budget. PETITION TO BE HEARD TERMINAL COMPANY SURPRISED BY FRANCHISE REPEAL. Ask Mayor Rowe to Withhold His Signature From the Ordinance for the Present. The Northern Pacific Terminal Company was taken by surprise by the ordinance passed by the Common Council last Wednesday, forfeiting the franchise on the north end of North Front street. The ordinance has not yet been signed by Mayor Rowe, and yesterday Messrs. W. D. Fen-ton and W. W. Cotton, attorneys of the terminal company, applied to him for a chance to be heard on the matter before the ordinance is signed. The company claims this privilege on the ground that they had no intimation that the franchise was to be repealed. The Mayor considers that it would not be fair or proper to take snap judgment on the terminal company in such a manner, and will therefore postpone action until the company's counsel can be heard. It has been intimated that the franchise on North Front street, if repealed, might be granted to the Northern Pacific to enable them to reach the Welder tract. It is objected to this proposed Northern Pacific franchise that no time limit has been named in it. Mayor Rowe has expressed his opinion on this subject as follows: "I am strongly opposed to perpetual franchises, no matter to whom they may be granted. I shall insist that if the franchise to the Welder property, commonly said to be the Northern Pacific, is granted by the Council, a provision shall be inserted to the effect that the franchise shall expire at the end of 25 years. I hold the view that conditions in a city change so rapidly that it is for the interests of the people, individually as well as collectively, to place a limit upon the privileges conferred by a franchise. "Twenty-five years is a long time, and when a franchise runs out it is an easy matter for the city's governing body to arrange the renewal under such concessions and changes as may be necessary for the well-being of the city. An illustration of the advantages of a perpetual franchise is now shown in the Fourth-street railway track. The company owning that railroad obtained a perpetual franchise at a time when no one thought to stop and figure on what Portland was going to grow into in a term of years. Now, the people would like to see the railroad franchise devolved to the city, and it will be a more or less serious inconvenience as our down-town streets become more extended and more people are on them. Yes, there should be a limit to all franchises." WHERE TO DINE TODAY. If you appreciate first-class lunches at reasonable prices, plus cleanliness, quality and courtesy, try Portland restaurant.
