ARRESTED IN PORTLAND

WAREHOUSEMAN CHARGED WITH TAKING WHEAT.

Accused is A. M. Humphrey, of Marion County-Detention Followed His Return to the State.

SALEM, Oct. 15.-District Attorney Hart today filed an information charging A. M. Humphrey with larceny by bailee. The offense charged is the taking of wheat stored by farmers in the Humphrey warehouses at Salem and Macleay, in this county. The amount of wheat which Humphrey falled to turn over to the storers or to account for in any mannner aggregates thousands of bushels.

Humphrey is about 45 years old, and omes of one of the best-known ploneer families in this county. He was born and raised in the Waldo Hills, and it was because of the good business and social standing of his family that he was enabled to secure possession of large quantitles of wheat. After the failure of E. E. McKinney, four years ago, farmers in Ma-rion County were very careful in their dealings with warehousemen, especially since it has been found almost impossible since it has been found almost impossible to convict a warehouseman who sells a farmer's wheat and refuses to account for it. But up to a year ago Humphrey had managed to build up a large business and had the entire confidence of the community. Soon after the close of the hauling season last Pall it was learned that ing season last Pall, it was learned that Humphrey was short in his wheat ac-counts, and the farmers demanded a settlement. Humphrey could neither settle nor tell the farmers what had been done with their grain. He offered a comprowith their grain. He onered a consistency make at so low a figure that personal violence was threatened him. Soon after the discovery of his shortage, Humphrey left the state and was reported to be in Cattornia. It was recently learned that he had returned to Porbland, and the District had returned to Porbland, and the District Attorney immediately took up the case, examined witnesses and filed an information. The warrant for Humphrey's arress was telegraphed to Portland, where the defendant was arrested. This afternoon Humphrey telephoned to Sheriff Durbin, asking him to instruct the Multnomah County Sheriff to let him go on his own recognizance. Because of Humphrey's long absence and his anxiety for his temporary liberty, the request was retemporary liberty, the request was re-fused and Sheriff Frazier was instructed to hold Humphrey as he would any other prisoner. Deputy Sheriff Colbath went to Portland this evening to bring the prisoner

Public feeling against Humphrey is quite Public feeling against Humphrey is quite sirong, because he has not tried to make any explanation of the shortage. Thou-sands of dollars worth of wheat were lost in the McKinney warehouses four years ago, and the farmers lost heavily again by reason of the burning of the Salem flouring mill two years ago. A short crop of wheat last year left the farmers of the sicinity in poor condition, and then when they lost considerable quantities by Humphrey's fallure, they were almost ready to resent to violence in order to redress their wrongs.

Humphrey was brought to Salem to-night, and as there was no bond forth-coming, he was locked up in the County Jall. His buil has been fixed at $399.

He holds that he has the exclusive right to regulate and control the floating and transportation of logs, timber and timber products down the portion of the river that runs through his property. Mr. Warren asserts that he proposes to construct and operate a at a designated point in the river to provide water for forcing logs through the Lewis and Clark canyon. o charge tolls for the use of the dam other parties. WANTS OREGON OIL LANDS.

Charles A. Towne Has His Representative in Malheur County.

VALE, Or., Oct. 15.-Much interest is being taken in the favorable oil prospects of Malheur Basin. H. B. Orcutt, of Duluth, Minn., who represents 24 Eastern capitalists, among whom are Hon. Charles A. Towne, president of the Beau-mont Oll Company, of Beaumont, Tex., has gone into the district. He says the Oregon oil excitement has struck the Eastern States, and Eastern capitalists stand ready to invest.

J. H. Meikle and A. W. Thayer, of Baker City, are also here. These gentlemen represent Denver and Los Angeles capitalists, who are interested in the of California. Thayer and Meikle have located a large section of the choicest land near here. This com-pany's drills are now idle, and they will ship them from California and commence boring some time this Winter.

Thayer and Meikle brought in some of rock, and a number of fine fossils. Some of the fossils are rare specimens. One is a rock with a piece chipped off, exposing six well-preserved teeth. This is a beautiful specimen. Another is the piece of a oan jawbone, about three inches in containing a double tooth, or grinder, perhaps that of a giant.

REPORTS FROM HATCHERIES.

All Report Very Good Success in Secaring Salmon Eggs.

ASTORIA, Or., Oct. 15.—Several letters were received at the Fish Warden's office today from field and hatchery super-intendents, and all reported that their work was progressing well. H. A. Webster, in charge of the Upper Umpqua hatchery, reports that he has secured 88. 500 eggs, and the prospects for doubling this amount were good, James T. Hattan, who has been exploiting the McKen-zie River, a branch of the Willamette which is believed to have been the great est breeding ground for Columbia River salmon in early days, writes that he has found several good locations for hatch-eries, and when the falls at Oregon City are so arranged that fish can get up, there will be no limit to the number of fish that san be propagated on that stream. F. C.

Brown, who has charge of the experimental station at Swan Falls, Idaho, writes enthusiastically of his prospects, and considers the possibilities there limitiess, as he has now in the racks more fish than he can possibly take care of; but they are not yet sufficiently matured for spawning. H. E. Austen, who has charge mon stock, and $1000 preferred stock in of the hatchery work on the Siuslaw, nas found Wild Cat Creek, a tributary to that river, a natural spawning ground for salmon, and has placed racks in position there to catch them.

IMPORTANT OREGON CITY SUIT. Ownership of a Part of the Town is Involved.

OREGON CITY, Oct. 15.-Hon. J. T. Apperson filed a suit in the Circuit Court oday against T. L. Charman and others for $11,753 22. The suit is of great interest to many, as it involves the owner-ship of South Oregon City. On April 18, 1889, J. T. Apperson sold his 230-acre stock farm, which was well known all over the state. The purchase price was $20,700, and the land was bought by eight men, T. L. Charman, Julius Logus, H. H. Johnson, J. P. Shaw, E. E. Charman, Charles O. Albright, J. A. Cox and Charles Logus, who formed a syndicate and paid $8000 down and gave a mortgage for the remaining $12,700. T. L. Charmin was made trustee and he platted the land, which was placed on the market as South Oregon City, and many lots were sold during the boom for large sums. John Vinney paid $4000 for seven acres and many other lots were sold for $250 apiece, or at the rate of $1500 an acre. In all about $10,000 worth of property was sold. Since the execution of the note the syndicate has paid on it $12,855.07, but the interest brings the balance due to $11,-753 22, and judgment is asked for this amount. The court is also asked to enter a decree for the sale of the property. All persons who have purchased lots are made defendants to the suit and the list embraces 32 names, besides McMinnville College and the Clackamas Asbetract & Trust Company. The suit may result in the reorganization of the syndicate.

MUCH LAND TAKEN UP. Large Increase in Land Office Business in the Past Quarter.

THE DALLES, Or., Oct., 15,-The recity for the quarter ending September 30, 1901, show a large increase of business over the same quarter in 1900. For the past 12 months there has been an average of 194 homestcads filed monthly, and many new settlers continue to arrive and lo-cate on remaining Government land. In the past quarter 274 homesteads have been filed upon which, with other entries of state selections, desert land and other entries, aggregate 43,594.84 acres. Final proof has been made on 14,153.42 acres, including 49 homesteads and eight final timber culture entries. The fees received from all sources for the quarter were $4846.34; sales of public lands, $5290.65. A large number of applications received are re-jected, owing to conflict with existing claims. There were 110 new contests be gun in the past 12 months, besides many reinstatements of old cases now under consideration in the department. In comparing the average of 74 homestead en-tries per month for the year ending Sep-tember 30, 1900, with the average of 104 for this year, the increase in settlemer of the land district is apparent.

LARGE INDIAN MOUND. Students of McMinuville College Ar-

Opening It Up. M'MINNVILLE, Or., Oct. 15.—Under the direction of Professor A. M. Brumback, professor of eciences in McMinnville College, a party of students and citizens has opened a large Indian mound on the farm of Morgan Baker. The method of opening the mound was peculiar. First a trench about two feet wide and three feet deep was dug at the foot of the mound, great care being taken not to cut through any hard substance without first examining it. Then, at the depth of three feet, the mound was plerced with a tunnel. A great many valuable specimens were ob tained in the way of war clubs, etc., and a number of skeletons were found, but the contents of the mound have not yet been thoroughly investigated. Anoth search will be made in the near future.

CASPER ESTATE WON.

Verdict in a Case Where the Execution of a Note Was Denled.

SALEM, Oct. 15.-The case of Tilmor Ford, executor of the Casper estate against M. A. Plamondon and others to recover on a $300 note, was decided today in favor of the plaintiff. In his complaint, Ford alleged the execution of the note in favor of William Cosper. The defen-dants dealed the execution of the note in favor of Cosper, and when the case came to trial, an effort was made to show that the note had been changed since it was signed. A. T. Gilbert, of the firm of Gilbert, Bros., testified that he made the loan to Mrs. Plamondon, and that when she brought the note to him the name of Gilbert Bros. was written in as payee. He erased this name before the note was signed and inserted the name of William Cosper. Mrs. Plamondon testified that she did not take the note to Gilbert, that the name of Gilbert Bros. was in it when she signed it, and that she never authorized a change. Mrs. Plamondon's daugh-ter, who also signed the note, testified to the same facts. A. O. Condit, an attorney, testified that he wrote the note, making it payable to Gilbert Bros., that he took the note to the bank and got the money and delivered it to Mrs. Plamondon. The last time he saw the note it contained the name of Gilbert Bros. The jury was out about half an hour and brought in a verdict for the plaintiff.

WHEN INDIANS WORK.

Under Stress of Necessity Do They Employ Themselves.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—In his annual eport to the Indian Office, Supervisor A. O. Wright, who was temporarily in charge of the Warm Springs Indian School Oregon, pending the arrival of the school Oregon, pending the arrivar of the new superintendent, takes occasion to comment favorably upon conditions as he found them at that institution, Mr. Wright says he found the Warm Springs Indians very skillful with tools, and well able to handle their farm machinery and shoe their horses. But, he adds, "than became these things became their knew these things because they had the work to do." They had no anquities or allowances; and were obliged to cultivate their little farms and herd their little bands of cattle and sheep, Parenthetically, Mr. Wright remarks that he saw the ponies of these Indians made into "canned roast beef."

The Warm Springs Indians are self-supporting and industrious. His experience at the Oregon reservation has sat-isfied Mr. Wright that what the Indian is most in need of is not so much special educational facilities as incentives to work. His theory is that the Indian can work, but that necessity rather than a scholastic education will best teach him to work. As long as there are annuities, will be impossible to make the Ameri-
