APPEAL REVERSED, THE OTHER AFFIRMED.

Claim for Damages for Personal Injuries Disnillowed-Dispute Over Cow Adjudiented.

BALEM, Or., Nov. 4.—The Supreme Court today handed down two decisions, as follows:

Stephen Shobert, respondent, vs. Levi May et al., appellants; appeal from Mult-noman County. A. L. Frazer, Judge, Opinion by Justice Moore. Reversed. This is an action to recover damages for a personal injury, alleged to have been caused by the defendants' negligence. The plaintiff's testimony is to the effect that March 14, 1899, at about 5 o'clock P. M., March 14, 1899, at about 5 o'clock P. M., he entered the defendants' store at Portland to purchase some hinges. He was informed by a clerk that the desired articles might be found in the second story, and was directed to a stairway leading thereto. He proceeded in that direction. The day was cloudy, and since he had no warning of danger, he walked into an elevator well land fell to the cellar, breaking his leg, so that he became permanently crippled.

An employe of the defendants, as their witness, testified that the side of the elevator well into which plaintiff walked has a post at each corner between which a wooden bar, one by six inches, about three feet from the floor, is usually ex-

The trial having resulted in a judgment for the plaintiff in the sum of $1500, the defendants appealed. fendants appealed.

tion of Justice Moore says in The opinion of Justice Moore says in part: "The court instructed the jury as a matter of law that under the facts admitted the defendants were guilty of negligence. An exception to this part of the charge has been reserved. It is contended by defendants' counsel that the court erred in taking from the jury the consideration of the question of alleged negligence. Plaintiff's counsel maintains that from the facts admitted the defendantis' negligence is conclusively inferrable therefrom, and this being so, it was the duty of the court, as a matter of law, so to instruct the jury.

The bar placed at the entrance of the elevator would undoubtedly have been sufficient to prevent the defendants' cus-tomers from falling into the well, if it had extended from one post to the other, and the fallure to keep it in position is not a total disregard of the duty imposed upon the defendants by the demands of the business in which they were eneaged, for the bar being at one end, evidences some degree of care.

"If it be assumed that, to facilitate business, the bar had been entirely removed at the time plaintiff was injured, as he maintains it was, the question of negli-gence should, in our judgment, have been submitted to the jury, to determine, whether, from a consideration of all the circumstances, the defendants have exercised that degree of care and forethought which the law requires

Other exceptions were taken and allowed, but the matters excepted to, if prejudicial error was thereby committed, can probably be avoided at a retrial of the cause. For the error in giving the instruction complained of the judgment is reversed and a new trial ordered."

Francis Feller, respondent, vs. Argle L. Feller, appellant; appeal from Marion County. R. P. Boise, Judge, Opinion by Justice Welverton, Affirmed. he defendant instituted an action in Justice Court in Woodburn district, rion County, against the plaintiff, and W. F. Feller and H. Bock, alleging that she was the owner and entitled to the immediate possession of "one cow," Hol-stein breed, black in color, with black as described in the complaint; and also cutified to Samages in the sum of $42. Upon this verdict a judgment was ren-dered November 21, 1830, from which ap-peal to the Circuit Court was attempted. Japuney 15, 1990. Francis Feller, as plaintiff, filed a petition in the Circuit Court for a writ of review, whereupon Argie L. Feller, as defendant in this proceeding filed a motion to dismiss the writ of review, for the reason that an appeal had been taken in the same cause and was then pending in the Circuit Court. But as it had been made to appear that the transcript which had been given to ap-pellant had not been filed in the Circuit Court, the motion was denied, the judg-ment of the Justice's Court reversed and the cause remanded for such further occedings as might be deemed proper in premises. From this judgment the fendant in the writ appeals. The opinion by Justice Wolverton says

"Two questions are involved in the con-troversy: (i) Whether a review will lie to bring upon the record of a Justice's Court after an appeal has been regularly taken, the proceedings of which have been stayed, and a transcript certified and delivered to the appellant; but not filled in the Circuit Court; and (2) was the verdict of the jury sufficient upon which to base the judgment rendered?"

After citing the statute governing appeals and reviews, the opinion says:
"It is clear, from the statute cited, that the Circuit Court does not obtain juris-diction by appeal except upon the filing of the transcript. When that is done, the appeal is deemed perfected and pend-ing for trial, as if originally commenced therein, and as such court is, thenceforth, clothed with jurisdiction in the premclothed with jurisdiction in the prem

"As respects the other question . . . the defect was considered to be one of substance vitel to a recovery, and the verdict was, therefore, rendered insuffi-cient to support a judgment that the plaintiff was such owner and entitled to

HOT FIRE UNDER GROUND

COAL OR GAS BELIEVED TO BE BURNING.

Sulphurous Gases Emanate From Crevice in Rocks-Conl Deposits Near By.

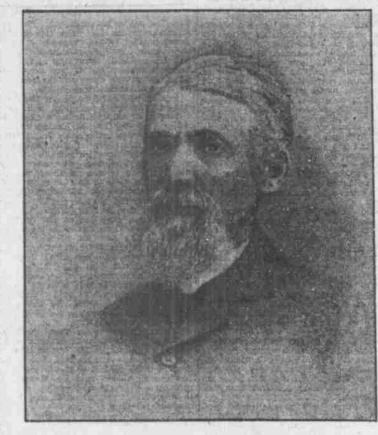

STEVENSON, Wash., Nov. 4.-The res idents of this place were thrown into great excitement this morning when J. T. Tatton and W. Udill reported that they had discovered a coal deposit on fire within a quarter of a mile of the town. The greater part of the population turned within a quarter of a mile of the town. The greater part of the population turned out to see what was the matter. A subterranean fire is burning in a crevice in the rocks with a sulphurous smell. So hot is the fire that it was difficult to make any headway at excavation. It is a wonder to the people here and is at Nome. He said general feeling ex-

PIONEER OF SOUTHERN OREGON.

HENRY KLIPPEL,

MEDFORD, Or., Nov. 4.—Henry Klippel died Saturday, at the age of 67 years. He was the oldest member of the Southern Oregon Pioneer Society. His birth-place was Wickenheim, Germany. In 1837 be came with his parents to America, and the family settled at Chrchnatl, O., where his father died. The family then moved to St. Joseph, Mo. Mr. Klippel crossed the plains with ox team in 1881. He arrived at Foster's, on the Clackamas River, in August of the same year. In 1880 he married Miss Elizabeth A. Bigham. She and five sons-rJohn, of Fortland; Lanas, of Summer Lake, Or.; Fred, of Denver; Henry, of Alaska, and Allie, of Medford-survive him.

Mr. Klippel was one of the most active and prominent citizens of Southern Oregon. He was part owner of the Gold Hill mine, and was interested in the first quartz mill in the state. He was the first Recorder of Jacksonville, and afterward president of the Board of Trustees. He was elected Sheriff of Jackson County, in 1870, and two years later was appointed to the commission which built the Capitol at Salem. In 1874 Mr. Kilppel was made Capitol Commissioner. The same year he was chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee. In 1876 he was nominated as a Tilden Elector. He and a company dug a water ditch from Squaw Lake to Applegate in 1877, where mines were operated under his direction. He became County Clerk in 1880, and was re-elected two years

Pilisbury Major Van Arsdale denied that Attorney Kenneth Jackson or anyone had applied to him for military assistance in enforcing the writs. He also said that Captain French was mistaken when he testified that he (French) complained regarding an executive order issued by ludge Noves.

Upon having his memory refreshed, Major Van Arsdale admitted that some people did call on him to discuss the matter of the enforcement of the writs.

The witness said that Judge Noyes had told him that the writs took the matter out of the hands of his court, and that he did not know what McKenzie was go-ing to do. If he was consulted, however, he should advise that McKenzie obey the order. He understood that in July an ap-plication had been made by Captain Bethel for a military guard to place a receiver in possession of some claim, but did not know whether or not it had been furnished. After the writs arrived, however, he had furnished McKenzie a which the deposed receiver wished to take from one of the claimants to the safe de-posit vaults. He could see nothing in that today was the finding of a true bill posit vaults. He could see nothing in that against P. E. Polk, who is accused of except a peace measure, and had not intended to furnish McKenzle assistance to recover the dust from the sluice boxes. At this point the case went over until tomor-

M'MINNVILLE, Or., Nov. 4 -- A live deep appeared on the college campus this morning. When the students began to assemfor class work the animal, which was about a 3-year-old doe, was complacently browsing on the lawn between the main building and the athletic field. About 25 boys undertook to surround the deer, thinking they could capture it with a lasso, but the agile creature easily cleared the eight-foot board fence which ncircles the athletic field, and made for the mountains, about 10 miles distant Although the mountains near McMinn-ville are well stocked with deer, it is decidedly unusual for one to appear in the heart of civilization. Overdose of Strychnine.

WALLA WALLA, Nov. 4.-News was received here at an early hour this morning of the death by strychnine poisoning of Mrs. Alexander Drysdale on her hus-band's ranch near Prescott. Mrs. Drysdale, who had been living with her little son in this city, went out to the ranch about ten days ago, to stay a few days, leaving the little boy with his grand-mother. She was not well when she left here. She had been in the habit of taking strychnine for heart trouble, and evidently took an overdose, which resulted farally, despite the efforts of her husband and others to save her. Mrs. Drysdale was a daughter of the late Henry B. Day, of Columbia County, and was born February 12, 1874

Scrofu OF HEREDITARY BLOOD TAINT.

Scrofula is but a modified form of Blood

Poison and Consumption. The parent who is tainted by either will see in the child the same disease manifesting it self in the form of swollen manifesting itself in the form of swollen glands of the neck and throat, catarrh, weak eyes, offensive sores and abscesses and of-

and abscesses and of-tentimes white swell-ing—sure signs of Scrofula. There may be no external signs for in some cases, but the poison is in the blood and will break out at the first favorable opportunity. S. S. S. cures this wasting, destructive disease by first purifying and building up the blood and stimulating and invigorating the whole system. f. M. Seals, 115 Public Square. Nashville, Tenn., 1878: "Ten years ago my daughter fell and enther forshead. From this wound the glands on the side of her face became swollen and bursted. Some of the best doctors here and elsewhere attended her without any benefit. We decided to try S. S. S., and a few bottles cured her entirely."

makes new and pure blood to nourish and strengthen the body, and is a positive and safe cure for Scrofula. safe cure for Scrofula. It overcomes all forms of blood poison, whether inherited or acquired, and no remedy so thoroughly and effectively cleanses the blood. If you have any blood trouble, or your child has inherited some blood taint, take S. S. S. and get the blood in good condition and prevent the disease doing further damage.
