OUR FOREIGN POLICY.

Correspondent's Views on Clayton-Bulwer Treaty Abrogation.

PORTLAND, Nov. 4.—(To the Editor.)—Are we to have an international government, under one international constitution, with an international president, congress, judiciary, etc., that humanity may ward off international altruism, or shall each nation continue as of old plain and honest? The doctrine of laissez faire or devil-take-the-hindmost, has driven the individual man into a combine or trust, and is now, more than ever before, assuming an international phase.
