

MARCHING ON PANAMA

LIBERAL ATTACK ON THE CITY IS MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

Battle-ship Iowa Will Land a Force if the Necessity Arises—Venezuelan Minister Arrested.

COLON, Colombia, Nov. 22.—The latest news obtainable here is to the effect that Liberal General Lugo has arrived at Empress Station, about 12 miles from Panama, with a force said to number 1000 men.

The Liberals are gaining and arming many recruits along the entire length of the railroad, and the entire town of Panama is expected to be in their hands in a few days.

It is rumored here that Buena Ventura, a Colombian port on the Pacific Coast, about 100 miles from Panama, has been taken by the Liberals. Confirmation of this report is lacking.

Marines from the gunboat Machias still guard the station and property of the railroad here. The battle-ship Iowa will land forces at Panama when the necessity arises.

The Liberals have already given notice that they intend to land at Colon tomorrow, and General Lugo is expected to arrive there on the 25th.

Two sailing boats, having 75 soldiers on board, which left Panama with General Lugo, returned to that place at 3 P. M. yesterday and General Alban and 50 soldiers arrived there on the gunboat Boyaca at 7 P. M. The Liberals here assert that General Lugo's army is expected to be defeated at Colon.

Read Will Be Kept Open.—WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The answer of the Colombian Government to the representations of Consul-General Gunder, to the effect that the government was unable to guarantee the integrity of the Isthmus, was published today.

It is reported that the government has addressed a communication to the United States Consul-General, asking that he guarantee protection for Isthmian transit.

Iron and Steel Standardization.—LONDON, Nov. 22.—The Institution of Civil Engineers, the Institution of Mechanical Engineers, the Institution of Naval Architects and the Iron and Steel Institute have formed a joint committee which has been working for some time on the question of the standardization of iron and steel with a view of forming a permanent international committee.

WASHINGTON TRAGEDY

FIVE WITNESSES HEARD IN THE TRIAL OF MRS. BONINE.

Policemen Testified to the Condition of the Hotel Room and the Position of Body When Found.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Five witnesses were heard today in the trial of Mrs. Ida Bonine for the murder of James S. Ayres. Four of the witnesses were policemen who had gone to Ayres' room after the discovery of the body by employees of the Commerce Hotel, and the fifth was W. W. Warfield, who was proprietor of the hotel at the time of the tragedy.

The policemen testified to details of the wounds, position of the body and arrangement of the furniture in the room. Mr. Warfield's testimony was very brief. In response to a question by Attorney Fulton, of Mrs. Bonine's counsel, he said that Mrs. Bonine had made arrangements to leave the hotel before the tragedy occurred, but both the question will examine them for traces of poison. After the autopsy, the physician declined to talk. The inquest will probably begin about next Tuesday or Wednesday. The child's father has not yet arrived from Chicago, but Assistant Prosecutor Vickers says he will come to Hoboken at the right time. The county authorities and the Hoboken police are forging what they consider a strong chain of evidence. According to the authorities, they understand the will of Mrs. Dale's father is said to have been so drafted that in case of Emeline's death Mrs. Dale would be sole beneficiary.

TROUBLE MAY OCCUR TODAY.—Kentucky Miners Declare They Will Not Break Up Their Camp.

BIRMINGHAM, Ky., Nov. 22.—Tomorrow morning at daylight Judge Hall's order to the striking miners to disband their camps and disperse will become operative. Tonight there are fully 500 men in the camp, all heavily armed, and declaring they will not abandon their quarters. Judge Hall has prepared his order to Attorney General Murray and Sheriff Jackson, directing them to proceed against the camp if it is not removed or abandoned, and all arrangements were performed tonight to follow the instructions. Late this afternoon President Woods, of the United Mine Workers, and Attorney York arrived at the camp from Central City and conferences were held tonight. The number of men in the camp is constantly increasing and another big tent has been raised.

The New Haven and Hartford Strike.—NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 22.—A committee from the striking switchmen at Hartford River arrived in this city tonight. They were in conference with President Merrill of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railway Company, who listened to their grievances but refused to accede to their demands.

Washington Labor Convention.—WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Frank Chandler, of Manchester, and Ben Tillett, of London, fraternal delegates from the British Trades Union Congress to the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor at Scranton, Pa., which will open December 5, arrived here today. Between 200 and 300 delegates are expected at the convention. President Gompers, in his annual report, will announce that the membership of the order has increased by 50,000 persons during the year, and will vigorously urge the re-enactment of the Chinese exclusion law, which will expire May 5, 1902, and extending the eight-hour law to all workmen engaged on Government work, whether by contract or not.

The Case of Iglesias.—WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Governor Hunt, of Porto Rico, and Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, had a talk with the President today about the case of Santiago Iglesias, the representative of the Federation recently arrested at San Juan. Both Governor Hunt and President Roosevelt assured Mr. Gompers that Iglesias would have a fair trial and that all his rights would be protected.

FUNERAL OF THE VICTIMS OF THE STUDENT RIOTS.

Stormy Meeting of the Chamber of Deputies—Minister May Be Compelled to Resign Today.

ATHENS, Nov. 22.—The turbulent developments growing out of the proposal to translate the Gospels into modern Greek continued today in the Chamber of Deputies, and before the university. There were many angry clashes. The military police were called in to control the riotous scene. The Chamber of Deputies was marked by a series of violent altercations. At noon it was announced that the obligations of the government to preserve order in the Chamber of Deputies from attending the Chamber today but that they would attend tomorrow and move a vote of confidence. In the absence of a quorum the Chamber adjourned.

In the course of the afternoon, the growing crowds and the increasing excitement headed the hour fixed for the funeral of the victims of the riots. The bulk of the troops were confined to barracks. The shops along the road were closed by police orders. At 5 o'clock the cortege led, the cathedral for the ceremony, dense crowds following. The seven coffins, covered with white flags, were preceded by students carrying a black banner. The procession halted for some minutes before the palace, but no cries were heard. The populace, going to and returning from the cemetery, maintained a silent and restrained demeanor. At the cemetery M. Lavdis delivered an oration, in the course of which he attacked the government and declared that the people ought to erect a monument to the "victims of duty and patriotism."

The city resumed its normal aspect as the evening wore on. The students, however, still remain in occupation of the university. The rectors, at the head of 30 professors, endeavored to persuade them to retire, but they declined to comply unless given guarantees that no legal proceedings would be taken against them, that the translators of the Gospels would be excommunicated and the university would not be occupied by troops.

The resignation of the Metropolitan of Athens, Procopius Oeconomides, was very dramatic. The Minister of Public Worship, M. Stais, visited him at night and told him that the King and the government desired him to resign. At first the Metropolitan refused. He was then taken to see the Premier, M. Theotokis, after which all three went to the palace at 1 o'clock. The King, as a result of the interview with the King, the Metropolitan resigned, weeping and broken-hearted. M. Theotokis had a narrow escape when his life was attempted. He displayed the greatest courage and forbade his friends to fire on his assailants. The entrance gates at his residence bore the marks of seven bullets.

The Monroe Doctrine.—London Spectator Advises England to Give Its Formal Adherence.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—The most important position in tomorrow's edition of the Spectator will be occupied by a discussion of a proposal that Great Britain should give its formal adherence to the Monroe Doctrine. The Spectator writes: "America will define the Monroe Doctrine, why should we not pledge ourselves not to infringe upon it? When we have acknowledged this doctrine, America might propose to us that we should pledge ourselves for indemnification. If they adhere, their adherence would be of great use, not only to America, but to the cause of peace, for it would settle a great many of the noisy causes of war. If the Monroe Doctrine becomes part of the public law of the civilized world, the risk of war being not with regard to the Monroe Doctrine in Brazil or Spanish America, now always a possibility, would then pass away. Possibly no other power but Great Britain would at first be willing to recognize the Monroe Doctrine as binding. Even so, it would be worth our while to pledge ourselves to respect it, for we never mean to attack that doctrine, and sooner or later our example will probably be followed by other powers."

The Spectator will also approve the canal treaty, and in another article on Secretary Hay's foreign policy, the paper will say: "No country in the world can show two greater or worthier statesmen than President Roosevelt and Secretary Hay."

The Saturday Review, sneering at Mr. Hay's "unconscious" and "attitude of universal unity," will bestow a page on "Lord Lansdowne's retreat," and says: "We are putting the future equal unreservedly into the hands of the United States of the future, which will develop in a startling manner the imperialistic extravagances of today, without consulting the wisest and deepest interests of the rest of the world, which are intimately bound up with our own in this matter."

The Saturday Review will affirm that Lord Lansdowne has " cynically retreated from the position as trustee for the civilized world," and thrown the whole subject in confusion into the hands of unscrupulous opponents to deal with as they think fit.

Terrible Situation in Many Russian Districts.—ST. PETERSBURG, Wednesday, Nov. 6. It is becoming apparent that the famine is worse than the reports that are being anticipated, or at least that the means now available will suffice for, from St. Zvenitzova (local Government headquarters) in the district of Kholm, districts there are being sent in daily reports of deep and increasing distress and an appalling scarcity of grain and provisions. Not one-half the demands that are made upon the central government can be met from the funds assigned for relief work, and recently there has been a large increase in the number of petitions. Stimulating sums for 100,000 rubles, 50,000 rubles to buy grain with, 5,000 rubles for medical relief, and 10,000 rubles for public works in each district. Furthermore, one district after another is being proclaimed in famine condition. It is reported to be in dire distress, as the winter grain sown this autumn failed to sprout, and the potato crop is being ruined. Reports from many provinces show that the dry autumn has disastrously affected the new sowing. From Tomsk, West Siberia, are reported local crop failures of 100,000 peasants back to European Russia. Epidemics of scurvy and typhoid fever are making steady progress in many provinces. Between October 1 and 25, 378 cases of scurvy were reported in the New York Times, and 100 cases in the District of Kholm. Both diseases have reappeared in the Government of Khorson, where they raged last year.

DEATH RATE

From Kidney Disease is on the Increase.

Thousands of People Have Kidney Disease and Do Not Know It Until It is Too Late.

If any of your family in this or past generations has had kidney disease, prostatic rheumatism, rheumatic gout, liver trouble, blood disease, bladder trouble, gravel, stone in the bladder or female weakness, you should test your kidneys at once, as kidney disease causes all these other complications, and is impregnating the system for many months before you notice any outward symptoms.

In the morning put some urine in a glass or bottle, let it stand for 24 hours; if there is a reddish sediment in the bottom of the glass, or if the urine is cloudy or milky, or if you see particles or germinating matter in it, your kidneys are diseased and you should lose no time, but get a bottle of Warner's Safe Cure, as it is dangerous to neglect your kidneys for ever one day.

A free trial bottle has been known to cure many cases that were discovered by the test mentioned above.

Dr. J. P. HANCOCK, a prominent physician of 15 Washington Ave., Boston, Mass., says: "I always prescribe Warner's Safe Cure for all forms of kidney and bladder disease and female weakness, and I have yet to see a patient cured, whose kidneys, bladder or genito-urinary organs existed. Count on me every time as a strong advocate of Warner's Safe Cure."

FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE

To convince every sufferer from disease of the kidney, liver, bladder and blood, that Warner's Safe Cure will cure them, a sample bottle will be sent absolutely free to any one who will write Warner's Safe Cure Co., Rochester, N. Y., and mention having seen this liberal offer in this paper. The genuineness of this offer is fully guaranteed by the publisher. Our doctor will send medical books, explaining symptoms and treatment of such disease, and many convincing testimonials, free to any one.

Bank Consolidation at Boston.

BOSTON, Nov. 22.—Much interest is felt in the movement for the consolidation of several Boston National banks to take effect about January 1. It is no longer secret that various banks are actively trying to secure options on a stock, and it is stated that the committee's plan involves 10 banks. The names of the institutions are being carefully guarded. The belief is general that W. Morrissey, of the American Ice Company, of New York, is back of the proposed transaction.

The directors of the Third National Bank have voted to accept the plan of the National Shawmut Bank. The directors of the latter had previously agreed to the consolidation. The Third National has an authorized capital of $2,000,000; surplus, $24,787; deposits, $16,622,224. The National Shawmut Bank since its organization in 1893. Other combinations have reduced the number of National banks to 41 from 52, the number in 1894.
