THE OREGONIAN'S HANDBOOK.

Nothing tells more about Portland and the Pacific Northwest than The Oregonian's Handbook. Printed on enameled book paper. It contains over 150 beautiful vignettes hand-colored engravings. Price by mail to any address in the United States and Canada is 7 cents a copy only.

MARKETMAN IMPROVES ON NATURE.—A downtown marketman who has a finely developed taste for vegetables, which should have made him a picture painter, is employing his talent in producing some of the most startling freaks imaginable in the natural history line. He is not a fanatic in regard to vegetables, and tells people that his strange collection came from the Philippines and other far-off lands.

For instance, he takes a big white rooster, dyes the wings red and the tail a sky blue and calls it "The proud bird of freedom, all hail! The bird which no one can inveigle, nor throw salt on its beautiful tail." He has a number of chickens dyed all colors of the rainbow, some scarlet pigeons, grass-green ducks, a lot of blue and yellow guinea pigs and rabbits in shrimp pink and scarlet. He is constantly developing new monstrosities in his peculiar line. The other day a young man who had lately taken a course at a Keweenaw cure to rid him of a rather serious attack of delirium tremens, happened to get a look at his collection. A deep spasm of pain and alarm passed over his features, as the red, white and blue cock strutted out in front of him and crowed like a Fourth of July orator. He rubbed his eyes and tried to keep calm, but as he glanced over the collection—which was unusually large and brilliant at that time—he concluded that he "had 'em again." When a lean and lanky cur-dog, striped like a hyena, came out of the room at the rear, where the fine art work is done, and jumped upon him, he gave a gasp and gurgled and fell back in spasms, and was sent back to the cure. The market man, afraid of a suit for damages, hastened to get rid of most of his curios, while his victim is still raving in delirium and his friends fear his case is incurable.

WHAT SHALL WE DO WITH OUR BOYS?—Boys who desire to learn trades nowadays have a hard time to get a chance, at least in this city. Boys are so much more numerous than manufacturers that only a few of those who would like to be taken as apprentices can be accommodated. One of the proprietors of an iron works, when asked to take a boy in his establishment for a good boy as an apprentice, said: "About half my time is taken up in trying to find places for boys. We have applications for hundreds of them, but the boys are recommended by their parents and friends as good boys with a natural talent for mechanics. None of them want to be boiler-makers or molders, they all desire to become machinists. Some who are given a chance prove worthless, having no talent and no love for work of any kind. 'What shall we do with our boys?' is an old problem. It is scarcely practicable to give them all college education, and if it were, the old question would still arise.

TEN-DOLLAR NOTES ARRIVE.—Specimens of the new $10 currency notes being issued by the Government have arrived here. They have much less engraving on the face than the old notes, and are more easily distinguished from notes of other denominations. The figures of the Roman numerals, which indicate the value of the note, are much larger and clearer than those on the old bill. In the lower corner of the face of the note appear vignettes of Lewis and Clark, the pioneer explorers of this region, and in the center is a cut of the clear white space around it making the picture very distinct. The idea of having less engraving on the face and making the figures, which form the most important part of it, plainer and more prominent, is carried out in the other notes of the series.

THE UNDERSIGNED gives notice that she will receive sealed bids for the merchandise and fixtures belonging to the estate of T. S. Finnegan, deceased, until 12 o'clock noon, of December 19th. The property may be seen during business hours at 124 Union avenue. All bids must be for cash and accompanied by certified check for ten (10) per cent thereof. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids. Mary A. Finnegan, executrix of the last will and testament of T. S. Finnegan, deceased.

MARTELLO NOT A BARBER.—John Martello attended the Municipal Court yesterday to learn the decision in the case where he was charged with pursuing the business of a barber without first obtaining a permit from the Barbers' State Board of Examiners. Martello's defense was that he was a bootblack and that he had hired another man, to whom he paid wages, to cut hair and shave for him. He was fined $10.

THANKSGIVING ENTERTAINMENT. Taylor Street Church, tomorrow evening. Among the interesting features will be a realistic Oriental wedding in costume and a typical Western literary programme, full of enthusiasm and enjoyment, which some of the very best talent obtainable will participate. See full programme in tonight's Telegram. Admission, 35 cents; reserved seats, 50 cents, at Lane's drug store.

DONATIONS FOR THE CHILDREN.—Thanksgiving donations for the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society will be received at the office of the City Board of Charities, 215 Fourth street, corner of Salmon. It has been the custom at this time of the year for the numerous friends of the society to remember the children, and the management trusts that this Thanksgiving will be no exception to the rule.

DR. EDWARD N. WILSON has returned to his office, 301 Oregonian building.
HUNT CLUB.—Special cars on Waverly. Huntstock, Thanksgiving day.

REMODELING BAKER THEATRE.—A score or more carpenters, painters, decorators and electricians are busily employed on the changes in the Baker Theatre, and the corner of Third and Yamhill streets is one of the busiest-looking places in town in consequence. Twenty-five feet have been taken from the building adjoining the old theatre and added to the auditorium, while the stage has been correspondingly enlarged, and the interior has been newly painted and papered. When the changes have been completed the playhouse will have a seating capacity of more than 1500, a stage a third larger than the old one, and a system of exits which will make it possible to empty the house in five minutes. The main entrance on the east side of the building is now ornate and embellished by an iron port-cochere, surmounted by an electric sign.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE.—A paragraph published a few weeks ago concerning a large ficus plant growing in the garden of Robert Foulkes, of this city, has been republished by papers in all parts of the Union. From the number of letters received in regard to the plant, the paragraph has attracted much attention. Only yesterday he received a letter from Hartford, Conn., and another from Maryland, asking for slips and all sorts of information in regard to the plant. He now begins to realize the value of a notice in The Oregonian. The plant, however, was housed for the winter 10 days ago, and no more slips will be cut until next Spring. It took three men two hours to dig it up and get it into the cellar.

RASPBERRIES RIPPEN IN WINTER.—A branch of fully developed and highly colored raspberries was brought to The Oregonian office yesterday. The berries were nine in number and as fine as those that ripen in summertime. They grew at Tenth and Harrison streets at the home of Mrs. L. J. Gay, formerly the Lundie household. The vines are against a fence above which the branch with the nine berries projected, thereby obtaining light and sun. At the same place straw berries are in blossom, but will not ripen this year, owing to the lateness of the season. Two weeks ago a pear tree on the same place had several clusters of blossoms. The fall season this year has been unusually mild. There has been hardly any frost yet.

YOUNG MAN UNDER HEAVY BOND.—U. Lawrence, a native of Ottawa, Canada, about 25 years old, was in the Municipal Court yesterday, charged with objectionable conduct toward young people outside the railing of Portland Academy. Lawrence pleaded guilty. Two of the teaching staff of the Academy gave evidence against Lawrence, and he was held in $1000 bail for the grand jury. Judge Cameron said: "I regret that under the statute this court has no power to punish you for the offense to which you pleaded guilty. However, you will be attended to in due time."

DONATIONS FOR CHILDREN'S HOME.—Through the kindness of the K. N. Kirsyama Company, the Ladies' Relief Society has secured a room for the receipt of Thanksgiving donations to the Children's Home, South Portland. This room is in the building formerly occupied by Summers & Prael, on Washington street, near Third. At the time given the members of the society whose names follow will be in attendance: Wednesday morning and afternoon, Mesdames Wygant and Hughes; Thursday, Mesdames Meier and Wilbur. On Thanksgiving day the room will be open only in the forenoon.

SALE OF WHITLER MILLS ASSURED.—The sale of the Whittier mill property to the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, which the passage of the Whittier franchise ordinance yesterday will render practicable, will realize quite a sum for the Holiday estate, which owns nearly eight of the tract. This money will enable the executor, F. R. Strong, to pay off all claims against the Holiday estate. The heirs will eventually receive the money from the sale of the remaining property of the estate—the property at Seaside and some lots in this city.

A NIGHT WITH THE SCOTCH.—St. Andrew's Society will celebrate St. Andrew's day by holding a smoker and concert in the Auditorium Hall, Third street, near Taylor, Friday evening. A programme of songs and story has been arranged. Among the speakers will be: Colonel James Jackson, Thomas N. Strong and Dr. Woods Hutchison.

THANKSGIVING DAY APPEAL

Board of Managers of Florence Crittenton Home Ask for Aid.

Thanksgiving is at hand, and while other charitable institutions are coming before the public with their appeals for aid, we are reminded that a great need in connection with the Florence Crittenton Home is apparent. Its thin walls, plastered only with paper and cloth, with the growing need for room and better facilities for the training and uplifting of its numerous and needy inmates, with the possibility of a cold winter, press heavily upon the hearts of those in charge, who must of necessity share in whatever of sacrifice and suffering may be in store for the Home family. We deem this glad Thanksgiving time not an inopportune one to appeal to the Christian philanthropists in our community to add to the small nucleus of less than $300 now in the bank for the erecting of a suitable building that will make it impossible for any such dread as now rests upon us to cloud the skies of another Autumn time. It is estimated that $25,000 is necessary to erect and equip such a building as is indispensable to the successful prosecution of the work of the Home. The departments for industrial training and for rudimentary instruction in the English branches of education are all to be considered, for it must not be forgotten that we have constantly on hand some who are destitute of the very beginnings of knowledge, and such cannot mingle with our public school children, but the fact that they are capable of receiving instruction fixes upon us a responsibility that cannot be ignored; hence our earnest appeal for money for the erecting of a building. Any money sent in for this purpose will be held sacred for the object for which it is designed. The treasurer and others of the board of managers will be found at the office of the Home, 213 Macleay building, or Woodward & Clark's drug store, today from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M., to receive contributions of whatever kind, but will not ripen this year, owing to the lateness of the season. Two weeks ago a pear tree on the same place had several clusters of blossoms. The fall season this year has been unusually mild. There has been hardly any frost yet.

MACONDA TONIGHT.

The Greatest Coloratura Soprano in America.

The only opportunity that will be given Portland people to hear Maconda's tonight, at the White Temple, corner of Taylor and Twelfth streets. The sympathetic sweetest and remarkable flexibility of her voice, her charming stage presence and magnetic temperament have placed her in the front rank among singers in this country. An artist at the important musical festivals in the States, with the great symphony orchestras, Maconda has acquired herself with distinction. She has scored pronounced success as oratorio and lieder-singer, although the extraordinary flexibility of her voice lends itself particularly to the coloratura of operatic arias. Maconda is America's greatest coloratura soprano. She comes to the Pacific Coast now for the first time, having just won fresh triumphs for her work at the great New England festivals.

AT THE FREDERICKSBURG.

An unusually strong bill shows up at the Fredericksburg for this week. The "Armies Wonder," C. J. Huber, is attracting much interest. He is a marvelous example of activity and ability under disadvantageous conditions. The special engagement of the European graph showing moving pictures of the McGovern-Palmer fight is another clever attraction. Antonio and Conchita Martinez are two of the most entertaining Spanish novelty dancers who have ever appeared here. Their engagement is bound to be a success, and will prove an exceptionally good thing for the house.

IMPORTANT PIANO NEWS

MAY APPEAR A TRIFLE OVERDRAWN AT FIRST GLANCE.

Nevertheless Based Upon Solid Facts—Valuable Information for People Contemplating the Purchase of a Piano or an Organ.

Boston, New York and Chicago are the three great piano-manufacturing centers of the United States. CHICKERING pianos, "the oldest in America," are Boston's best. WEBER pianos are unquestionably New York's choicest and best, and the now famous KIMBALL pianos stand head and shoulders above the several good pianos made in Chicago.

These three makes are sold in Portland under one roof. That roof covers Ellers Piano House.

AS TO PRICE, every dealer, from the largest down to the smallest little tacky branch store, will most vehemently claim to sell at lowest prices. It's not a matter of jawbone, however—it's a matter of facilities and method. We have sold more pianos, and are today selling more pianos than all the rest of the Portland stores combined. This would point to ours as the place where you can do the best.

We get all of our goods DIRECT FROM FACTORIES. We ship in carload lots, and under our special freight arrangements we get pianos from factories for less money than can any other Coast dealer who does not employ our patented system of shipping in special cars without boxes.

The majority of Pacific Coast dealers get their instruments FROM SAN FRANCISCO jobbing houses. These dealers must pay a wholesale or jobber's profit of from 10 to 20 per cent, which, of course, makes their instruments no better, although they cost them more money, and they must therefore ask more for them when they try to sell.

Would you believe THERE ARE NOT THREE houses in the State of Oregon, outside of ours, that do not have to pay this third or middleman's profit? THEN THERE ARE SOME dealers who have no money of their own, but buy their instruments through shrewd financiers or money-lenders. This is risky business for the money-lenders, and they therefore exact enormous rates of interest. This must be added to the selling price of such a dealer's goods. But it makes their prices no better.

YOU DON'T SUPPOSE you could buy a piano from such concerns for as little as you can from Ellers Piano House, even if the other concern has good pianos for sale, do you?

Then look at the money Ellers Piano House saves by employing ITS OWN DELIVERY SERVICE. We haul three pianos for the price it costs other dealers to deliver one.

We occupy a building SPECIALLY BUILT FOR US. Everything is arranged for conducting the piano and organ business on a large and at the same time economical scale. Our store rent is not half—no, not a third—of what other dealers pay.

No one who buys an instrument here will ever have cause to regret it. Ellers Piano House can be safely counted as being one of Portland's PERMANENT INSTITUTIONS. This may mean a good deal to people who buy pianos on time payments. It has been reported that one Western concern recently, in winding up its business, deliberately repossessed some 20 pianos in a single week and the poor, deluded people who had placed confidence in that institution were compelled to lose all the money they had paid on their pianos, simply because they unavoidably happened to miss a month or two months' payments.

For all of these reasons you can readily see that THERE IS BUT ONE PLACE in Oregon where you can buy a piano right, and that is
