The Feather-Weight Champion Was Not Fast Enough for the Denver Man-Lost His Head and Fight.

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 28.-Knocked out in the second round, of which one minute and 44 seconds had elapsed, was the referee's verdict in the fictic battle between Young Corbett, of Denver, and Terry McGovern, of Brooklyn, who had held the feather-weight championship un-flinchingly since he won it from George Dixon 18 months ago. Outwitted and out-pointed with a fighter just the same as himself, McGovern had to lower his colore this afternoon at the Nutmeg Athletic Club to Young Corbett within six minutes from the start of the fight. Young Corwho, outside of ring pariance, is Rothwell, got the better of the champion in less than two rounds of fighting, and he did it so perfectly that there was ents of John L. Sullivan when Corbett lefeated him in New Orleans. Terry was as fit as the proverbial fiddle, but he was not fast enough for his man. From the word "go" the men went at each other like game cocks and it looked as if either would go out in the first round. McGovern got the worst of the opening round, and in his endeavor to get in, left himself open several times. Corbett stood off McGovern on every lead and trick, but the little Brooklyn boy it on as if there was nothing to it the winner's end of the purse.

When McGovern was knocked down in be opening round, there were cries of ismay from his backers, but his wonderful recuperative powers were equal to the occasion and he was on his feet within even seconds. This downfall seemed to take the stamina out of McGovern, but be fought the round in clever style and tried hard to stem the tide of defeat which seemed to have set against him, He tried all his rushing work, which proved so profitable on former occasions, but Corbeit met his every curve and countered hard on neck, jaw and head. When Terry came back to his corner at the end of the first round he said:

'That's the toughest guy I ever but I'll lick him just as soon as I see an The opening did not come very handily for the New York boy, as the little Den-ver puglilst had then taken his measure. Down went Terry again in the second round, and when he got up quickly he rushed like a wild man. He showed a ack of self-restraint, and in a burst of bad temper hit out left and right, ivre-spective of all rules and usages. These factics apparently were just what Corbett was looking for. Terry was mixing things up at whirlwind velocity, and throwing science to the winds. It was any one's fight at this stage, but Terry fell into a trap, as Corbett feinted and suddenly sent his right out when McGovern was sidestepping. This blow just grazed McGovern's head, but a moment later Corbett feinted again and after a rattling exchange sent his right over to the jaw and Terry went down and out, While the fallen champion was frantically trying to regain his feet, the crowd yelled madly. The referee declared that Young Corbett had won. He won on his merits, as he took no chances.

Terry was crestfallen after he returned to his dressing-room. He said: "Well, you can't tell how things can be accounted for. I hope to make another match with Corbett, and I am more than confident that he will not be able to put it over me Young Corbett was very demure when he emerged from his dressing-room. A first he was reluctant to talk, but finally said: "I was sure I could beat McGovern and my ontnion was based on what I had seen and heard of him. I felt that I had him from the first punch, but I was coolheaded all through. When I began to sting him he lost his head, and when he lost his head, it was all over. I had him right there, and with a right swinging ut I landed the blow which won

Young Corbett will remain here for some days. Dave Sullivan was one of the first to send a challenge to the winner as soon as Charlie White, the referee, announced

The Fight by Rounds. Round 1-McGovern tried for an open-ing with his left and sent the right to Corbett's jaw. They clinched. In the mix-up, both landed lefts. They exchanged lefts on the face and McGovern, rushing again, sent his left in the body and his right to the head. Corbett was short on his leads, and Terry forced him to the ropes with a hard right over the heart. McGovern ducked a left swing and landed his right hard on the eye, forcing Corbett to the ropes. Corbett came back pluckily left on the body, which was tered with a right over the heart from his opponent. McGovern led again with his right, landing on his opponent's shoul-der, and Corbett came back with a hard right over the heart, sending McGovern back. But the Brooklyn boy retorted with his right and left, only to be met with a swing on the jaw, which sent him on his back. He jumped to his feet im-mediately and went to his opponent hammer and tongs on the chest and face his knees. Corbett got up and the round ended in one of the hottest mix-ups on record, with honors about

Round 2-McGovern rushed in with left to the body and the men clinched. A rapid exchange of rights and lefts fol-lowed. Corbett was on the defensive and met Terry's rushes with straight left Suddenly he brought up his left, cutting McGovern and sending him to the floor. McGovern took five seconds of the count and came back like a wild man, with left and right swings. Science was thrown to the winds and the boys began slugging. McGovern was very wild and they made a half circle of the ring, fighting in this manner. At this it looked like anybody's of the vicious swinging blows While Corbett kept his head and seemed to bore in better, his body blows were apparently no stiffer than those of However, he kept on forcing McGovern across the ring and finally Ter-ry forgot his defense. He simply saw a hurricane of blows coming toward him and there was no guarding on his part. Suddenly a right swinging uppercut landed squarely on the point of his jaw, and Mc-Govern went down and out. He was not rendered unconscious, but it was evident to all present that he knew the championship had taken wings, and he made wild efforts to regain his feet. Referee White

Corbett stepped back in obedience to the referee's gesture, al-though he evidently was in doubt as to his fallen opponent's condition. McGov-ern had given him such a grueiling argument that he was for the moment dublous as to whether the Brooklyn boy might not be able to come up again and renew the battle. But it was all over, and in a few minutes the new champion was in his dressing-room, receiving congratulations, while McGovern was wondering how it

Walcott Got the Decision Over Young Peter Jackson.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 28.-Joe Walcott go he decision over Young Peter Jackson before the Eureka Athletic Club here to-night, after 20 rounds of, perhaps, the fiercest fighting ever seen in this city, most of which was done by Walcott, Jackson being on the defensive from start to finish. When the men stripped and entered the ring, after three rattling pre-liminaries, Jackson stood fully three inches above Walcott, but lacked the sturdy build of the Boston negro. Wal-cott sailed in from the very first with the evident intention of finishing his man as soon as possible, and between laughs and jokes with the spectators at the ring-side, simply rained blow after blow upon the Californian. One round was merely a repetition of the other until the sixth, Walcott doing all the leading and Jackson defending himself as well as he could, In this round Walcott sent three hard jabs to the wind and got a stiff one on the mouth in return. In the eighth, Jack-son managed to get in a good jab on the face, but Walcott pounded him so hard over the heart and kidneys that he soon had him groggy. The gong saved Jack-son, who came up a little bit stronger in the next round, but with his right eye completely closed and the blood flowing in streams from his left ear.

a question of whether Walcott could hit his man often enough and hard enough to put him out. The Californian, how-ever, took his gruel with remarkable fortitude until the 15th round, when Joe safied in and after punching him all over the ring, accidentally tripped him, so that Peter landed on his back near the ropes. The Chief of Police then inter-fered and ordered the fight stopped, to which decision Jackson protested so vis-orously that the Chief relented and permitted the pounding to continue. Five more rounds of the same kind of work ensued, Walcott doing all the leading and hitting, while Jackson, with the excep-tion of a few feeble returns, did nothing but defend himself and try to keep on his DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 28.-Rube Ferns of Buffalo, was given the decision over Charlie Thurston, of San Francisco, after 15 rounds of fast fighting tonight, Referee Hogan, however, appeared to be alone in his belief, from the evidences of disapproval among the spectators, who re-mained for some time after the bout to express their dissatisfaction in hisses and howls of derision. Thurston was much the quicker on his feet and ducked and blocked beautifully. Ferns' blows, however, were more effective, and this undoubtedly gave him the decision.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28 .- The University of Pennsylvania football team ended its disastrous sesson today with a crush-ing defeat at the hands of the Cornell eleven, the Ithaca boys scoring 24 points to the Quakers' 6. It was the first time since the two universities have played football together that Cornell has been able to conquer Pennsylvania, All through the contest the red and blue players fought their opponents every inch of the way, but the doughty boys from New York State were superior to them in every department of the game, except in punt-ing. No matter how hard the Pennsylva-nians tried, Corneil was always there to meet them. Cornell's offense was perfect it seemed little difference where they tried -through the center, against the tackles, or around the ends-Pennsylvania was able to hold them not more than a hair dozen times. The visitors also got into the play better and quicker than the home men, which counted for much in the mass plays. A notable feature of Cornell's attack was the fine interference for the runner in open play. Two of her touchdowns were made solely through the good help given the man with the ball. In the defense Cornell was like a stone wall. It was near the end of the first half before Pennsylvania was able to make a first lown, and the total made in the entire

The Teams Are Now Tied for the Intercollegiate Championship of the Northwest.

WALLA WALLA, Nov. 28 .- By a score of 5 to 2 the Washington Agricultural College eleven this afternoon won from Whitmain College, on the field of the latter, and tied for intercollegiate Northwest championship honors. Fifteen hundred people saw the game The farmers won in the first half. For the only time this season Whitman faced an aggregation which could gain against it, and because the missionaries played their ends close in against the line, the agriculturists time and time again boxed them for long end gains. Whitman put up a dogged defense, but the first half was with the visitors, and the score at its close was 5 to 0 in Pullman's favor. In the second installment of the game

Whitman fought its adversaries all over the ground. Time and again the mission-aries forced the ball down to within striking distance, only to lose on downs and have to start over again at the spot where the Pullman punt landed. With but eight minutes to play, the Agricultural College made a strong brace on its one-yard line, and got the ball. Lasher then deliberately made a safety, gave two points to Whitman to secure a free kick from the 25-yard line, and drove the ball down the field out of danger,

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON WON Idaho Put Up a Desperate Battle, but

Lost by 10 to 0. SEATTLE, Nov. 28.-The University of Washington eleven scored a decisive victory over the team of the University of Idaho today, on the local gridiron, the score at the close of the game standing 10 to 0 in favor of the home aggregation. Washington outclassed the visitors at every point, its combination work being almost perfect. The chief system of at-tack was the delayed pass. Idaho put up a desperate battle from beginning to end, but could not withstand the fierce on-slaught of the local players.

The star of the game was Washing-ton's light-weight quarter, Corbett, Play-ing like a demon himself, he ran the team with masterly generalship, and when the whistle biew received a great ovation from the rooters of both sides. Captain Gibb and Horton were Idaho's chief stars. A feature of the game was the unusually large number of kicks. Gardner, for Washington, and Horton, for Idaho, engaged frequently in a brilliant punting duel that set the bleachers wild.

Washington scored once in each half falling both times to kick the goal. The first touchdown was made one minute from the end of the first half, and the second touchdown in the middle of the last half. The line-up: Washington. Harrington Edgett Larson McLeod Capt.) L H R. Strauss R H I

THE OLD WAY Of Treating Stomach Trouble and Indigestion, a Barbarous and Useless One.

We say the old way, but really it is the ommon and usual one at the present time and many dyspeptics, and physic-ians as well, consider the first step in attempting to cure indigestion is to diet, either by selecting certain food and re-jecting others, or to greatly diminish the quantity of food usually taken. In other words the starvation plan, is by many, supposed to be the first essen-tial in the cure of weak digestion. The almost certain failure of the staryation cure for stemach trouble has been proven time and again, but still the usual advice, when dyspepsia makes its ap-pearance, is a course of dieting. All this is radically wrong. It is foolish and unscientific to recommend disting or starvation to a person suffering from dyspepsia because indigestion itself starves every organ and every nerve and fiber in the body. What is needed is abundant nutrition not less, and this means plenty of good wholesome, well-cooked food, and some natural digestive to assist the weak stomach to digest it. This is exactly the purpose for which Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are adapted, and this is the way they cure the worst cases of stomach trouble The patient eats plenty of wholesome food, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digest it for him. And this is in accordance with nature and common sense, because in this way the whole system is nourished and the overworked stomach rested, because the tablets will digest the food, whether the stomach works or not. One of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest 1800 grains

Any druggist will tell you that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is a remedy of extra-ordinary value, and probably is the purest and safest remedy for stomach trou-
