STORE OPEN TONIGHT UNTIL 9:30 P. M. 550 PEOPLE TO SERVE YOU TODAY.

A December Saturday at Meier & Frank's

No special cleverness is needed to draw a crowd at any time. Depends a little, though, on what you do with the crowd when you get it. "The public," said Barnum, "like to be fooled." P. T. was long-headed enough though to know that the fooling part of his proposition was merely a gentle "jolly" as we put it nowadays. What odds if he did build a glitter around his efforts that made things look their finest. The frills which our former friends admired on the lithographed walls were harmless accessories for creating interest in the "greatest show on earth." When they got inside the tent there were, of course, many things lacking which they counted on seeing, but they came away feeling that it wasn't a bad show after all, and simply because no stone was left unturned that would bring forth features for the spectator's amusement. Now, inasmuch as Barnum found it advisable to keep faith with the public, of how much greater importance is it for Meier & Frank to see that when buyers come into their store there'll be honest values, quick, courteous treatment and many things to interest—There may be glitter in the advertising—there may be frills—but when you leave this big tent there's never disappointment. The establishment from basement to roof is a massive holiday bazaar where shopping is done best.

ELKS AT THE SYNAGOGUE

LISTEN TO AN ELOQUENT ADDRESS BY DR. WISE.

Revenge Not a Trait of the Jews, He Says—Beauties of Fellowship and Brotherly Love.

The Elks attended the Synagogue in a body last night, and for this and other reasons the services were of special interest. As it was the last day of the Feast of the Lights the music was more than usually joyful in character. There was an opening quartet, "Thou Art Our Father," by Himmel, followed by a cantata solo by Miss Rose Lowenberg, "Glory to God in the Highest." Miss Lowenberg's voice, which is of great fullness and depth, was admirably suited to the worthy interpretation of this number, which demands both volume and richness of tone. The trio by Nicolae, "Protect Us Through the Coming Night," was also of great beauty, one of the most

WEIDLER GRANT REJECTED

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD WILL NOT ACCEPT FRANCHISE.

Considers Its Terms Burdensome—Mr. Strong Says They Are Not, and Will Bring Suit.

The Northern Pacific people have declined to accept the franchise allowing them to construct and operate a railroad on North Front street, which was secured in their interest, after much trouble, by George W. Weidler. The reason given for not accepting the franchise is that the conditions are burdensome. It will be remembered that the Northern Pacific people contracted for the purchase of the old Willamette lumber mill site, just north of the Terminal grounds, at a fixed sum, provided that a franchise was procured which would afford the company an entrance to this tract.

ARE YOU GOING EAST?

If so, call at No. 124 Third street. Lower rates, best accommodations, via Rio Grande Route, either via Huntington or Sacramento.

Divorce for Desertion.

Robert F. Ashby was granted a divorce from Temperance Ashby by Judge Cleland yesterday because of desertion in 1894. The parties were married at Vancouver, Wash., in 1893.

Oregon King Mining Case Goes On.

The time of the United States Court was entirely taken up with hearing of testimony in the case of Brown vs. Oregon King Mining Company. As the testimony for the defense is not likely to be all in before Monday, the jury will have to spend Sunday together. Just whether they will go to church or duck-hunting depends upon themselves, for they must decide what to do by a unanimous vote.
