There was the usual rustle and bustle atteindant on preparation for Christmas yesterday, and the whicheasle stores enjoyed an eroraging and the which and the business on the whole was satisfactory to buyers and sellers alike. There was no such scarcity of turkeys as was in evidence at Thankingiving, and priors were accordingly 2c or at lower than they were at that time. The best stock sold generally at 14c, with something very fancy occasionally hringing a fraction more, and culls going at 10c and 12bjc. For live birds the ruling figure was 12c and 12bjc for best. Some of the Eastern turkeys which were brought here in expectation of a shortage of Gregon stock, sold as low as 13c, and were not wanted at that figure. Chickens were very much deprensed. Size being a full figure for dreased, while some cleaned up at 8c per pound. Live were almost unnable to carry stocks was, therefore, lacking, and commission-houses showed a langual tierest in the market.

Live were almost unsalable, except at very low figures. Live greet sold at $6 and $7 per dozen, and dressed at 10c per pound. Live ducks, $5.59 and $6.50 per dozen. The demand for fruit was heavy, but the supply was in keeping, and there was no strengthening in prices. Butter, eggs, pock and veal all found buyers, and were quite firm. Grocries showed no change, and there was a big demand in all lines.

PORTLAND MARKETS.

Grain, Flour, Etc. Monday statistics were more bullish than another turn upward in this country. The Englishmen were apparently too much interested in anticipating Christmas festivities to pay much attention to the markets, and they made a rather sluggish response to Saturday's strength in this country. Locally, exporters were hidding too, and in some cases "apringg" this figure a little, but are not securing it wheat at these figures. Some of them are flowing the example of the foreigners by in sure retiring from an active crusade unafter the holldays. Two more shins arrived in yesterday, adding to the already ample sup-ply of tomage in port, and obviating the ne-cessity of paying fancy figures for ships. BY THIS PLAN the investor, acquiring stock in this cooperative purchasing company, gains absolute insurance against loss of capital, and at the same time has the assurance of enormous profits. Carrying all of your eggs in one basket is dangerous. This plan, it might be said, provides a basket for each egg. If one is dropped, the damage is trifling; yet if only one out of a hundred or more proves "a golden egg," the profit is great. Truly this is in every way THE IDEAL INVESTMENT, for it not only insures against loss, but it guarantees profits on an unusually large scale. Address at once for particulars
