MARRIED AT REDDING. - The many

MARRIED AT REDBING.—The many friends and acquaintances of Mrs. Lottle M. Hellen will be interested to know that she was married at Redding, Cal., on De-cember 19, to George W. Bush, a wealthy comber 19, to George W. Bush, a wentry and prominent young lawyer of that place. "Mr. Bush," says the San Fran-cisco Chronicle, "Is a son of Judge and Mrs. C. C. Bush, the former a ploneer and respected citizen of Redding, at whose home the ceremony was performed by Rev. John R. Jones, of the First Presby-terian Church of this city. George W. Bush is a practicing attorney with Bright prospects, especially in politice. He was respects, especially in politics. He was resident of the local McKinley and Hoart Club and is the resident attorney of the Southern Pacific Company, besides enjoying a lucrative law practice. The bride is a native of Oregon, but has o bride is a native of Oregon, but has of recent years lived in Redding and San Francisco. Mrs. Bush is a handsome young woman. The young couple will settle in Redding, in a home recently finished for them." The bride is well known in Portland, her grandfather, W. L. Warren, having come here about 1849. He is reputed to have bought several acres of land in the heart of Portland with a yoke of oxen.

SAVED BY HEROIC METHODS.-Mrs. C. Johnson, about 23 years old, 309 Jefferson street, swallowed laudanum yesterday, and for some time afterward her life was despaired of, but by the prompt work of Harry Stryker, a clerk at Byerley's drug store. Tenth and Jefferson streets, she was brought out of danger. Early in the morning Mrs. Johnson visited the drug store and asked for laudanum, and as she is well known in the neighborhood her request was complied with. Some little time afterward a woman rushed to the drug store and said, in an excited manner, that Mrs. Johnson had taken laudanum with the intention of doing harm to herself. Stryker ran to the house with restoratives, and when Mrs. Johnson saw him she said: "Go away. I don't want you to do inpithing for me." It was only by using physical strength that Stryker managed to get an antidote down the woman's thrat. After Mrs. Johnson recovered she refused to explain why she tried to end her life. Last night was resting easily.

Helped Hisself to a Wagon.—James Wilson, well cressed and adorned with several diamonds, stood yesterday afternoon at Sixth and Washington streets, considerably under the influence of liquor, and debated within himself how to get to the Terminal deep to a heart to be a proper to be a considerable. the Terminal depot in a hurry, to board a train. Walking was out of the question. An express team was standing near, owned by James S. Bubb, but the latter was not around, so Wilson climbed into the wagon, whipped the horse, and said: "Git up." He then drove with breakneck speed to the depot, and was in the act of getting possession of his baggage to leave Portland behind him, when Policeman Kitzmilier, who had noticed Wilson's behavior, arrested him. As Wilson was being driven to the police station he sud-denly asked: "Say, how is it I'm in this wagon? I don't remember getting into it." SIMPSON MAKES A MASTERLY ESCAPE.awoke yesterday morning at the City Jail, after he had been arrested for drunkenness, he said he had a headache, and was given liberty to corridor. Then the supply of coal ran low in the jail stove, and Simpson said: "Gimme the coal bucket. You'll see how soon I can get coal from the bin outside." Five minutes passed, and then 10 minutes, and the prisoners began to grow!.

"Where's that coal? I'm cold." Search was made, but although the coal bucket was found on the street Simeous was the coal bucket.

was found on Oak street, Simpson's present address is unknown. MRS. JOHNSON TURNED LOOSE. - Mrs. True Johnson, colored, arrested in Omaha, Neb., charged with complicity in the $10,-000 diamond robbery at the Portland Ho-tel, was released yesterday from the City Jall, on $500 ball for her appearance when wanted. She still refused to make any statement. The police are now waiting for the arrest of Charles Savage, colored, who is implicated in the case by the con-fossion of Kelly Wiley, colored.

W. C. T. U. ANNIVERSARY.-Yesterday afternoon a meeting was held at the W. C. T. U. headquarters on Third street, in commemoration of the 23d anniversary of the temperance crusade against the sa-loons, which began in Hillsboro, O., at the inspiration of Dr. Dio Lewis. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. Harvey Bailey, who spoke of the extensive work and far-reaching plans of the W. C. T. U. with its multiform branches. Miss Frances Gotshall, the county president, made some remarks, calling attention to the fact that 2000 women in the United States. that 300,000 women in the United States alone are enrolled as members. Mrs. S. N. Kern, president of the East Side Union, read an account of the crusade movement in Portland. Mrs. Buchanan, a crusader of this city, spoke of her work here. Mrs. Additon said that there are now 1,000,000 members of the W. C. T. U. in all countries, and nine all-around-thein all countries, and nine all-around-the-world missionaries; six general divisions of work, and 46 departments; also a pub-lishing house. The chird-labor question and other problems of the day in Port-land then came in for a share of atten-tion. She spoke of the 2000 wives mur-dered by drunken husbands during the year, and pleaded for an energetic contin-uance of the work.

MARKET FULL OF TURKEYS.—Poultry of

MARKET FULL OF TURKEYS .- Poultry of all kinds, dressed and undressed, was in large supply yesterday. Stacks of it were piled up in some commission stores, and manufacturers were seen buying geese and turkeys by the boxful for Christman presents for their employes. By evening about all the birds had been disposed of, except a few monstrous turkeys, weigh-ing 20 pounds and upwards. The largest one seen this season weighed 28 pounds. and was a beauty, fit for the dinner of old Santa Claus himself. There are thou-sands of turkeys in the retail markets, and many a jaw will ache. Before they are all finally disposed of many will feel like singing: "Of turkeys hot and turkeys cold, turkeys young and turkeys old, tur-keys tender and turkeys tough, the Lord be praised, I've had enough."

GREEK LETTER BROTHERS DINE. - Several members of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity, who are in the city, joined in a delightful informal banquet at the Hotel Portland last night. Chapters from varous Eastern colleges and universities were represented, and the guests were Wallace McCamant, C. M. Idleman, Ratph Wilbur, Lydell Baker, S. C. Spencer, Maurice Lombardi and A. A. Wright. An invitation was extended to the chapter at the University of Washington to ter at the University of Washington to be present, but a reply received by fele-graph stated that none of the members would be able to be here. With the wal-nuts and wine came a number of inform-al toasts, which were responded to by the guests. The menu cards were cleverly il-lustrated on the reverse side with pen and ink drawings, NOT EXPENSIVE ENOUGH FOR HIM .- A young man dropped into an umbrella store yesterday, intending to buy an umbrella for his sweetheart—"something sensible and seasonable," as he remarked, for a Christmas present, and certainly useful. He asked to see some nice umbrellas, and was shown a lot ranging in price from $29 each up. The expression of his coun-tenance caused the dealer to imagine that these were not what was wanted. So he was shown higher and higher-priced ones, and finally a carved-tvory handle, price $96, on which he was told he could have any kind of an umbrella he desired constructed. The dealer remarked that he had sold the pleest handle he had for $126. The young man concluded to wait till some more of the good handles arrived. CHRISTMAS RAINBOWS APPEAR.-At 3:39 o'clock yesterday afternoon two partial rainbows spanned an arc of the eastern sky, reaching about two-thirds of the way to the zenith. One was unusually brilliant, but the other looked like a reflection of the first. The east was overcast with heavy rain clouds at the time, while everywhere else the sky was clear and blue. The display lasted only a short time. the rainbows growing shorter and short-er till they both disappeared.

National Bankhupter Act Inpossed.— The National bankruptey act, known as the Ray bill, has been indorsed by a committee of the Merchants' Protective Asse ciation, composed of W. B. Roberts, E. N. Wheeler and G. S. Mann, and its speedy enactment by Congress is urged. The in-dorsement of the association has been ap-proved and adopted by the Credit Men's Association, of Portland, through W. H. Chapin, president, and W. C. Munseil.

CRUSHED BYAN ELEVATOR

ALARMING EXPERIENCE OF YOUNG CHRIS. FANCEL.

With His Feet Caught, the Ascending Vehicle Frightfully Lacerates His Legs and Body.

Much excitement was created in the printing establishment of C. H. Crocker & Co., in the old Oregonian building, at Front and Stark streets, yesterday, by the agonizing cries of a boy who was caught between the freight elevator and the casing of the shaft, and as was sup-posed was being slowly crushed to deatn while the clevator, of which he had lost control, kept slowly ascending. The boy, whose name is Chris Fancel, 17 years of age, had been taking a box down to the ground floor. The elevator, being only for freight, is not inclosed, but the elevator shaft is inclosed with a casing of wood. When at the second floor one of Fancel's feet got caught between the edge of the elevator and the casing of the shaft, and soon the other foot was drawn in, and Fancel, it appears, lest control of the elevator, and it continued to ascend slowly, drawing him further in, until his body stopped him. As the elevator went up the clothing was torn from the front of his legs, and they were dreadfully lacerated. His cries during his progress were heartrending, but as the casing pre-vented any one from seeing what was the matter with him, no one could tell what had happened. The employes in the office were rushing frantically around for an ax to chop down the casing, and it was some time before one could be found and the victim released. He was almost unconscious when gotten out, and was not able to give any clear account of how the accident happened. He was sent to a sanitarium, where his injuries were pronounced very severe, but not necessarily

There is no regular attendant in charge of this elevator, or of freight elevators generally. Messrs, Crocker & Co. have an accident policy on the elevator, and the bill for attendance on the injured boy will be paid by the insurance company.

MRS. MACKENZIE'S FUNERAL Host of Friends Pay Last Tribute to Her Memory.

The funeral of Mrs. Cora Mackenzie, wife of Dr. K. A. J. Mackenzie, was held from Trinity Church at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. At 1:39 o'clock brief serv-ices were conducted at the family residence by Rev. A. A. Morrison, rector of Trinity. Long before the funeral cortege reached the church a multitude of mourning friends had filled every available pew and many crowded about the aisles durthe services.

Dr. Morrison read the impressive funeral service of the Episcopal Church, and the white-robed choir sang appro-priate hymns. Dr. Mackenzie was ac-companied by his two little girls, Jean and Barbara, while a few intimate friends and Baroara, while a few intimate friends of the family followed the casket to its last resting place in Lone Fir cemetery. The palibearers were? A. L. Mohler, E. D. McKee, W. S. Sibson, Thomas Kerr, Will. lam Macmaster, Allen Lewis, S. Heitshu, N. E. Ayer, E. S. Benson and Robert Liv-ingstone.

The casket was covered with beautiful floral tributes, while many more were sent to the house. Mrs. Mackenzie left a host of frends. Ronald, the oldest son, who is at St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H., was Smable to reach Portland in time for the funeral, but is with Dr. Mackenzie's relatives in Montreal.

KOKOMO-THE KING.

The second week's engagement of Fiynn's London Galety Girls at the Fredcricksburg started off last night with a rush. The house was crowded, and the crowd was in a roar from start to finish. The girls are shapely, good looking and lively. John A. Flynn, as King of the Garbage Islands, is exceedingly good, and the dashing maids of his court left noth-ing unsaid or undone that could be desired. Some of it is decidedly risque, general thing, meet with good success.

The day was a very unpleasant one for even ducks to be abroad, and, while all management in an attempt of this magmanagement in an attempt of this magnitude, but he crowded attendance and the enthusiastic reception, have justified it. It is not a show that can ever be seen here at the regular theaters, and its appearance at the Fredericksburg is meeting a popular reception.

Many People Substantially Helping Out Santa Claus-Small Pi-

Another day records fourteen more piano and organ sales at Eliers Piano House. Did you see the window full of Christmas presents? Did you see the big row of pianos marked "sold" in the rear of our store, all to be delivered Christmas? Surely Santa Claus is going to be a busy man at Portland's busy piano store. Intelligent and discriminating buyers, after making careful investigation, invariably deal with Ellers Piano House. There are many reasons for this. The best pianos are sold here. They are sold at lowest possible prices. Thousands of customers who have bought pianos here, recommend their friends and relatives to do the same. Customer's are sure of just treatment here, and they will find here easy terms of payment.

Kimball, Decker, Weber, Chickering and other fine pianos, which we sell, never disappoint, and at the present time these pianos can be secured at greatly reduced prices.

Saturday we delivered twelve fine pianos and organs, and a round half-dozen more were to be delivered later on.

We have two sample pianos which we sell at $168. This identical make and style of pianos have been offered by other Portland dealers for $225. When you consider real merit in value, there is always, as in this instance, as great a difference in price between our house and others in this city who are trying to compete with us. Do you wonder we are selling lots of pianos and organs? Isn't it a wonder we're selling all the planos and organs sold in the state? Come and see them. Store open every evening this week.
