CROOKED WORK IN CUSTOM-HOUSE. Investigation of Alleged Irregular-

itles Develops One Case. NEW YORK, Dec. 27.-Colonel Smith

who is chief of the special agents under the Treasury Department for the District of New England, is in this city, conducting an investigation into the methods of the examiners in passing silk goods. Since the transfer of these goods from the third division, advances have been very heavy and have been sustained by the Board of General Appraisers in some instances to the extent of over 250 per cent.

Special Agent J. C. Cummings, of the Treasury Department, has sent in his report to Washington regarding the result of his investigation of alleged irregularities in the entire division of the Custom-House. His report implicates only one employe of the Government by name In October an importer of this city formed Agent Cummings that by the payment of money to a broker's clerk he himself could designate the packages in his involces which should go to the Ap praiser for examination. Mr. Cummings tested this through the importer, and selected himself the number of the cases which were duly ordered in by the employe. This was on October 10, and it is alleged a clerk in the employ of a wellknown firm of customs brokers acted as the go-between for the importer, receiving $100 to secure the privileges desired. Colector Bidwell has co-operated with the Government officials in these investigations.

Postoffice Department Ruling.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27 .- The Postmas ter-General said today that the department had received a large number of tele-grams and letters asking if a ruling had been made that only subscriptions to newspapers and periodicals which must be paid in advance are legitimate. He said that no such ruling had been made, and that he supposed the inquiries were the result of a ruling made by the Third Assistant Postmaster-General in the case of a New York publication the subscrip-tions to which were mainly induced by premiums, and which ruling applied only to the conditions of that particular case, or to similar conditions in other cases,
