BEATS WORLD ON TIMBER

OREGON FAR AHEAD OF ALL RIVALS, SAYS EXPERT JOHNSON.

Exhibit at Buffalo of Vast Benefit to the State—What is Being Done at Charleston.

A. J. Johnson, who left Oregon last April as Commissioner to the Pan-American Exposition and superintendent of the Oregon forestry exhibit, arrived home yesterday morning in his usual good health and spirits, but tired, very tired, of talking. He was delighted to be in old Oregon again, and says there is no place like it. His first move was to think of a name for the exhibit. He selected "Oregon," and he says he has seen nothing in the way of fish and water to equal either since he left. "Oregon's timber exhibit at Buffalo attracted a great deal of attention from lumber dealers, contractors and lumbermen from all parts of the East, and even from the South American people," said Mr. Johnson. They were all greatly interested in it. It was a large and comprehensive exhibit, and had no equal at the Exposition, either in size or quality. Oregon made a larger display of timber than all the other states combined. Our competitors in the way of lumber exhibit were Washington, Idaho, Missouri, New York, Maine, Wisconsin, Michigan, New Jersey and Louisiana. Mexico and Canada also made very good exhibits, but Oregon outclassed them all. All competitors recognized this, and no attempt was made to dispute any of the awards made to this state. "I was highly honored by being recognized as the head of the Forestry building, and when any dispute arose in regard to anything connected with the timber exhibit, I was at once asked to settle them, and my judgments were accepted as final. "Everybody interested in the timber or lumber business made the Oregon exhibit his headquarters, and all took pains to bring in their friends to show them the wonderful collection and the great variety of logs, planks and timbers of the like of which none of the Eastern people had ever seen. The compliments showered on the exhibit would have made a large book. Everybody said the exhibit was immense and wonderful, and Oregon was all right on timber. I told them that they must all come out to the Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition in 1892, and see the trees that grew here. The exhibit was not a fair sample of Oregon timber, but only as good as could be brought across the continent. I told people that if they came out here would show them the real thing, and some of them wonder if I have done my best to give people an idea of the Oregon timber, and to induce them to come, and it now depends on the Oregon people to make my statements good and to provide such an exposition here as will leave no room for disappointment. Thousands and thousands of people promised to come to Oregon in 1892, and they will all expect to see something great, as they all have a knowledge of our beautiful climate, our vast resources and the pleasant, generous, big-hearted people of the Northwest. "Oregon was well represented in departments of horticulture, agriculture, mining and educational, as well as in the forestry departments, and received the highest awards and complimentary mentions in them all for being well arranged. The state was well represented by competent officials and assistants, who were always at their posts, explaining and answering the questions of interested visitors. "The Pan-American Exposition proved a financial failure, but it was a great success as far as exhibitors were concerned, and the timber exhibit will benefit this state to the extent of millions of dollars. It will cause the sale of vast amounts of lumber and timber lands, and a great many manufacturers, such as saw mills,

NEW RULE FOR PASSES

NO EXCHANGE OF FREE RAILROAD TRANSPORTATION.

Eastern Roads Neither Grant Nor Request Transportation for Their Agents—Western May Follow.

A new rule with reference to railroad passes went into effect yesterday. All lines east of Chicago have entered into agreement not to issue free transportation to railroad men of other lines. Representatives of Western lines will consider the matter at a meeting in Chicago today. Whatever the Western roads may determine upon for their treatment of each other, the relation between the Eastern and Western lines has been settled by the action of the Eastern roads not to issue the free transportation. This agreement rules out any requests from Western railroad men for passes over the Eastern lines, and, of course, the representatives of the Eastern roads in Western territory are forbidden to ask for courtesies that are not to be returned. Therefore, beginning yesterday (even if the Western railroad men do not make a similar agreement today) the representatives of all Eastern railroads in this territory will pay their fares when they ride on the rail. Not many of the Eastern lines keep representatives in this field, the New York Central, the Michigan Central, the Pennsylvania, the Erie Dispatch and the Lackawanna being among the only ones now here, but in all the territory west of Chicago those and other Eastern roads have a large number of representatives. The aggregate annual transportation bill that will run into high figures if they have to pay fare. Of course, the respective companies will pay the bills, but a good deal of useless traveling will be done away with. And when Western railroad men or their families wish to travel East they will pay their fares, too. The Eastern roads say they have been driven to this course by the great demand made upon them for exchange transportation. A great many more Western men travel in the East than Eastern men travel in the West, and therefore the exchange custom has been so burdensome to the Eastern lines that they finally voted it intolerable. This is said to lie at the bottom of the new rule. There is also said, however, to be another and a better reason for it, namely, the unflinching demands of public officials and politicians and backs of one stripe or another, whose claims have so long been recognized that traffic men must have a drastic rule to nerve them to the point of revising their transportation lists. An Eastern traffic man recently in Portland, said the backbone of the last year's passes was the worst people the railroads had to deal with. Those officials have it in their power to make much trouble for the railroad companies. The companies know this, and do not refuse them favors. The officials, it is said, abuse their privileges, and demand free transportation for their families and their friends and their political strikers, and it is more than suspected, in some cases for absolute strangers, who pay money to the official whose influence gets the pass. This great abuse is supposed by many to be responsible for the new rule about passes. Another theory is that this is one form of the usual new leaf turned over at the first of the year, and that the passes will be in general use again within 60 days. If the new consolidation policy shall remain unopposed by that time, however, it is deemed probable that the reform in free transportation will have come to stay. There is general agreement, too, that it is a good thing.

WANTS A FIREBOAT

And This Taxpayer is Willing to Give His Share Toward It.

PORTLAND, Dec. 31.—(To the Editor.)—In the past year Portland has experienced several serious fires threatening our water front, notably that of the Standard Oil Company, which followed so closely the fire at Wolf & Zwicker's; the fire at Madison and Water streets, which again threatened the oil tanks of the Standard Oil Company; the fire at Corbett, Falling & Robertson's, and the Shaver dock fire, which fortunately was at the east end of the city; the fire, thus carrying an engine to the seat of the fire. Had the ferry-boat been three or four blocks further north or south the entire plant of the Northwest Door Company and other buildings and docks might have been totally destroyed, all of which goes to show that Portland is behind the times in the matter of equipments to fight our greatest foe, the fire.

GOOD START FOR NEW YEAR

INCREASED VALUATION GIVES CITY AND COUNTY AMPLE MONEY.

Administrations Can Be Run on Reduced Tax Levies, and Old Debts Wiped Out.

County Auditor Pope, speaking of the increased assessed valuation of property for 1901, $48,195,952, as compared with the valuation for the year 1900, $42,629,987, gave out some figures concerning the revenue received by various departments of the local government last year, and what may be anticipated in that respect during the present year. For instance, he stated that the City of Portland school district, or School District No. 1, received last year four-fifths of the sum realized in this county as state school tax, or about $13,300. The school district also received $3,823 from the reducible school fund and $12,239 on the special City of Portland school tax on a levy of 4.5 mills. During the first six months of the year, the district received $200,000. The money is divided according to the number of children of school age. Portland district, having four-fifths of the children, gets that proportion of the money. The Port of Portland is allowed to levy a tax of 1 1/2 mills and has already announced that the full levy will be required. Last year the Auditor says the sum realized from this tax was $7,754, and this year on the increased valuation will aggregate $9,000. The City of Portland, on the levy allowed, 8 mills, would receive nearly $400,000. The park levy is fixed by statute at .5 mill, which will bring in $23,000. The county authorities may levy as little or as much as they please. Auditor Pope, in speaking of these figures, remarked that he did so merely to show that the money received from taxes is not largely expended by the county, as some people, who are always talking about how much it costs to run the county government, seem to think, but only a very small portion of it, and not as much as is consumed by other departments. He called attention to the fact that the county has interest to pay on outstanding warrants, which last year, not including December, amounted to $16,500. Mr. Pope said: "A 5-mill levy for the county would realize about $240,000. It takes $300,000 a year to run the county, and we would make up the balance from other sources. Of course the levy may be only 4 mills or thereabouts. I don't know what these other departments will require. These are only a few figures to show that but a very small part of the money which we collect as taxes is spent by the county, which is one of the most important branches of the government. The county has the roads and bridges to take care of. There is interest to be paid. A fund ought to be put aside each year

Auditor Devlin Says City Affairs Are in Good Shape.

City Auditor Devlin makes the following brief statement of city affairs: The assessed valuation in the city for 1902 as given by the County Assessor is $42,629,987. If an 8-mill tax is levied by the Council this will produce $345,839.25, less the delinquency. During the year 1901 the city levied 8 mills for general purposes and 2 mills as a special levy authorized by act of the Legislature. This produced $255,542.96, less the amount now delinquent, which is about 3 per cent. There is some talk that the Council this year will levy only 7 mills, which would produce about $303,223, less the usual delinquency. The levy of the Council will be determined after the committee on ways and means has considered the estimates of the several departments of the city. During the past year the city has

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder

The difference of cost between a good and a poor baking powder would not amount for a family's supply to one dollar a year. The poor powder would cause doctors' bills many times this.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is the most economical in the end, because it goes further in leavening and insures perfect, wholesome food.

Used always in making the biscuit and cake it saves both health and money. Made from pure, grape cream of tartar, most healthful of fruit acids.

NOTE.—You cannot, if you value good health, afford to use cheap, low-grade baking powders. They are mostly, in spite of the pure food laws, made from alum, which endangers the health. All physicians will tell you that such powders in food are injurious.
