Arbitration Question Will Be Settled
Today or Tomorrow.

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 6.—It is thought now that the arbitration question in the Pan-American Conference will be determined one way or the other either tomorrow or Wednesday. J. Buchanan, of the United States delegation. The Mexican delegation will, however, present the compromise. The terms of the compromise which will be proposed have not been disclosed.

The Secretary of the Interior today sent to Congress an agreement with the Grand Ronde Indians of Oregon, whereby they cede to the United States the surplus lands of their reservation, aggregating 2,791 acres, for which the Government agrees to pay $250,000. AS PASSED BY THE HOUSE

Wants Lumber Put on the Free List and Duty on Goods Imported into and Coming From the Islands
Cut 50 Per Cent.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Senator Mitchell will tomorrow offer three important amendments to the Philippine tariff bill. The first amendment aims to place on the free list all wood and other vegetable materials, lumber, furniture and manufactures of wood; also all meats, fish, cereals, grain, flour, dried fruit and vegetables and preparations of the same; seeds and forage, and a variety of other similar articles, all of which under the House bill are made subject to the duty imposed by the Taft Commission revenue act. In addition, this amendment intends to limit duties on all other articles which are imported into the Philippine islands from the United States to just 50 per cent of the duties levied by the House bill.

THE DEAD OF THE SECOND OREGON.

THE MONUMENT TO BE ERECTED TO THEIR MEMORY.

There is money in hand or within call amounting to about $14,000, contributed for erection of a monument to the soldiers of the Second Oregon who fell in the Philippines or who perished on the outward or return voyage. Of this amount the sum of $12,719.94 was sent to The Oregonian, and now lies in the First National Bank of Portland. The Legislature, at its recent session, was asked to appropriate a sum sufficient to make the whole amount of this fund $20,000; but the bill did not pass.

It has been suggested, however, that a suitable monument could be erected with the fund already at command, and that it might be well to give the undertaking a start at this time, when other matters of a public nature are also under consideration.

It is therefore requested that the following-named persons meet at the business office of the Chamber of Commerce, at 246 Washington street, on Tuesday, January 7, 1902, at 3 P. M., to name a committee to take charge of the fund, to consider plans for a monument, and to take measures for erection thereof; or, in case it be thought well not to go on until another appeal shall have been made to the Legislature, to decide whether the fund may not meantime be placed so it would make an income.

This list of names has been prepared after consultation with General Summers, who commanded the regiment. I have placed the name of General Summers first on the list:

"If, during the next two years," the Bill For Temporary Government of Philippines.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Senator Lodge, chairman of the committee on the Philippines, will tomorrow introduce a bill for a temporary government of the Philippines, drafted after many consultations with War Department officials directly interested in insular affairs and the government of the Philippines. The bill will not be a part of the Philippine revenue bill, which has passed the House, but will be an independent measure. The bill does not attempt to establish a new form of government in the Philippines, but confirms the action of President McKinley in creating a commission, and ratifies the acts of that commission under the instructions of the President. The bill, dated April 7, 1900, it also gives the President authority, while there is armed resistance in any part of the islands to the United States, to regulate and control interest and commerce. Section 4, following the Porto Rican act, turns over to the Government of the Philippines all the lands devoted now to public use, bridges, highways, etc.

Under section 5 of the Government of the Philippines is empowered to make rules and regulations for the disposition of public lands other than timber and mineral lands, such regulations to have the force and effect of the law only after they have been approved by the President and Congress. Then follows a series of provisions to enable the commission to perfect the title of persons now occupying public lands, and to lease and sell lands to such persons, or to give them to occupants of such lands. The bill also provides for the small native landholders who are occupying, and for a long time have occupied public lands, but who have no title to protect them in their holdings.

Next come provisions in regard to the timber lands, which are not to be sold or leased by the commission, which may power only to issue licenses to cut timber under the forestry regulations now in force in the islands. The provisions in regard to the timber lands are followed by numerous sections as to mineral lands. These are very elaborate, and embody the mineral laws embraced within the report of the commission, and which have been prepared with great care, so that they shall be in harmony with the existing Spanish laws. The mineral sections cover also coal lands and saline lands.

One of the most important provisions in the bill is that empowering the Philippine Commission to purchase the lands of the religious orders and dispose of them on proper terms to the actual occupants. An appeal from the Supreme Court of the islands to the Supreme Court of the United States is provided in certain cases. Municipalities and the city of Manila are authorized to borrow money and to issue bonds for municipal improvements. There are two sections which provide for the granting of franchises, so that individuals or corporations can go into the islands and construct electric and steam railroads and engage in industries and manufactures. The granting of franchises is provided for in a number of sections, and the bill makes provisions for a banking system, and authorizes banks of the United States to be established in the Philippines.
