MRS. KELLOGO DEAD .- Mrs. Estella Kellogg died at her family residence, 406 Sec-ond street, at 4 o'clock yesterday morn-Mrs. Kellogg was the wife of Capn Joseph Kellogg, an old-time steam-atman. She was born in Litchfield, N Y., February 22, 1818. In 1830 her parent: removed to Ohlo, and 24 years later she was married to Captain Keilogg. Her maiden name was Estella Bushnell. She and her husband started their journey across the plains in 1847, and arrived in Oregon in 1848. They first settled near Milwaukie, but when the captain became interested in steamboating on the Willamette their residence was moved into the town. After a few years they moved to Portland, where they - have resided ever nce. Mrs. Kellogg left behind her a hus-ind and one child, Captain Orrin Kellogg. Two other sons are dead, Harvey dled in infancy and Charles in 1889. Be-sides these she left three grandchildren, the children of Captain Orrin Kellogg, two daughters and a son. Her death will be a sad loss to her husband, who is now 90 years of age. Mrs. Kellogy has been an earnest and prominent worker in the Congregational Church of this city. The funeral will take place Friday morning at Il o'clock from the family residence. The interment will be in Greenwood cemetery.

WILD BEASTS IN PENNOTER PARK.— The tract of land on the hills west of the city presented to the city by ex-Gov. ernor Pennoyer for park purposes, and known as Governor's Park, is found to be infested by ferocious wild bensts, This fact was discovered yesterday by Council-men Branch. Bronaugh and Glisan, who had been appointed a committee to ex-amine the tract and report what improve-ments were savisable at present. They found a board fence around the tract, and Branch and Bronaugh stumped Gilsan to jump it. Without removing his over-coat he stepped back a few paces, and, making a short run, cleared the fence like a hunter, Just at this time Branch discovered a feroclous wild beast watching the movements of the party, and evidently making up its mind which of them to devour. The committeemen are as brave as most people, but none of them desired to be devoured within sight of home, and they disappeared from Gov-ernor's Park with great celerity. Their report led to the City Engineer being in-structed to survey the tract at once, but he was not apprized of the fate that awaits him and his assistants.

WHAT THE SMOKE WAS FOR.-Smoke rising from the stacks of Smith Bros.' sawmill in South Portland yesterday seemed to be a harbinger of returning life at the place. But it was a false alarm, The boilers had been fired up only to furnish steam for an adjoining box fac-tory. Out of respect for Governor Pen-noyer, who likes to have mementos of hard times and whose sawnill is a few steps further south, it has been decided to keep the Smith mill idle indefinitely. This latter mill operated all through the hard times, whereas Mr. Pennoyer's mill was bent on spiting the accursed gold standard and, therefore, would not turn a el. When prosperity returned the standard made it profitable to run Mr. Pennoyer's mill. However, the Smith mill closed down and has been loyal to Mr. Pennoyer ever since. Mr. Pennoyer argues that, since the one mill has stopped work and the other has resumed activity, the gold standard has not scored much of a triumph after all.

HURLEY CAME BACK .- John Hurley, who recently ran away from the city jall when he was temporarily employed to wash the sidewalk at Second and Oak streets, without serving the remainder of his sentence, was caught yesterday morning in White-chapel and taken before Municipal Judge Cameron. The latter said: "The court is informed that you ran away because you did not like the rockpile." "I was allowed liberty to leave the jail." insisted Kurley, but on being asked the name of the person who gave him the alleged permission he said he couldn't remember. So Hurley was sentenced to 15 more days at the rockpile. William Collins, another prisoner who ran away as he was clean-ing the sidewalk outside the jall, was also caught yesterday and was sentenced to 30 days at the rockpile. When re-cently arrested Collins was heard to re-"This rockpile is - I'm goin'

HAS ANTONE LOST A PET?-If this meets the eye of a member of a sorrow. ing family, who are mourning the absence of a pet, in a form of a little brown dog, the sad intelligence is conveyed to them that the animal is dead. Yesterday afternoon a Twenty-third-street car ran over the little dog near Flanders street. A compassionate lover of animals, who lives near by, saw the accident and picked up the bleeding, mangled body. It was taken to the woman's home, and as ald was out of the question chloroform was adminis-tered to end the creature's sufferings. The dog wore a license tag numbered 1440, and the owner will be given the address of the Good Samaritan who cared for the animal in his last moments by inquiry at the office of The Oregonian.

EX-CONVICT HEARD FROM .- News was received yesterday from the Denver po-lice authorities that John Graney, form penitentiary at San Quentin, Cal. While at the latter place Graney and the con-vict who was with him in the same cell became involved in an attercation, and the latter was cut so, severely that he died. Graney was charged with being his assailant, but because no other pers cused, the latter got free. Graney also served two terms of imprisonment in the county jail at Seattle. He is about 28 years old, stands 5 feet 10 inches tall, and weighs 190 pounds. Some time ago, shortly before Graney went East, a man named Graney, allas Mitchell, was arrested by Detective Cordano charged with breaking the nose of a trick bicycle rider named Shafer, who was employed in a Sixth-street store. Shafer remonstrated with Grancy because the latter was de-tected in a scheme to falsify a nickel-in-the-slot machine, and Graney retailated by using his knife. Graney was fined $25, and he left Portland for the East."

SAD ACCIDENT TO A GOOD CITIZEN.-A worthy citizen was sauntering down Front street yesterday, oblivious that he was a slave to trouble and a son of care, when suddenly he was reminded he was both. In passing a commission-house, in front of which the sidewalk was slippery, his feet escaped their corpulent burden with the result that the contract of the contract with the result that the gentleman was deposited on the curb with a hard bump. But the climax of the episode followed.

In the gutter was a murky mass of mushy muck and mud. The rebound of the corpulent gentleman plumped the seat of his trousers down into the midst of the uncongenial element. It all happened so sud-dealy that the worthy citizen could not congeal the atmosphere with expletives until it was all over, but then he made up for the additional opportunity. Owing to the soft reception afforded by the contents of the gutter and to the fact that his anatomy was well pillowed with adi-posity, the only damage was that received by the seat of his trousers.

White QUESTION TO BE DECIDED AT TAX-PAYERS' MEETING.

Electors of the District Will Be Asked for $5000 to Maintain Schools for Little People.

In the words of H. C. Campbell, one of the most energetic and enthusiastic members of the Portland Free Kindergar-ten Association, the last call for free kindergartens will be issued at the meeting of the taxpayers of the school district to be held Monday.

KINDERGARTENS OR NOT? present time have done a great deal of good. The attendance has been large, and the children are all interested in the work. It is not asked that a kindergarter be established in every school, but simply that enough money be voted to keep in operation the six that are already in existence, and Mrs. Burrell is of the opinion that an expenditure of this kind would be well worth while, as the money invested in kindergartens and in the consequent in-fluence on the children's minds for good would be saved to the taxpayers in lighter business for the criminal courts

The six kindergartens now operating in Portland have a total attendance of 400. One is located in the old Watson School building, near the corner of Seventeenth and Upshur streets, one at Seventeenth and Market, in what is known as "Goose Hollow," one in the Men's Resort on North Third street, near Flanders, one at "Everybody knows that the kindergar-tens are doing a great work," said Mr. Campbell yesterday. "The members of the association have labored hard to keep them up, and have now got them in such shape that they are working splendidly,"

North Third street, near Flanders, one at Fourth and Harrison, one near the Central School, in the central part of East Portland, and one on Russell street, in Lower Albina. Each of these schools is situated so as to be within easy reach of many children, who would be on the

MACMONNIES' STATUE OF GENERAL SLOCUM.

TO BE ERECTED IN PROSPECT PARK, BROOKLYN,

The statue of General Henry Warner Slocum, a brave and dashing officer in the Civil War, was begun in 1900, and has just been completed. It is about twothirds size. People who saw the General only during the last years of his life ald hardly recognize him in this work of art, but those veterans who fought with him at South Mountain will know him at first glance. Macmonnies caught inspiration in the following lines of General Franklin's official report of the a well-directed fire from batteries on the mountain. The line of battle was formed, an immediate charge was ordered, and most gallantly executed. The men swept forward with a cheer over the stone wall, dislodging the enemy, and pursuing him up the mountain side to the crest of the hill and down the opposite slope. This single charge, subtained as it was over a great distance and or a rough ascent of unusual steepness, was decisive."

All the accountements used by the artist belonged to General Slocum, and were loaned by Mrs. Slocum. The statue represents the General at the moment of or dering the charge. The monument is to be crected in Prospect Park, Brooklyn, and doing a great deal of good. All we streets if the kindergartens did not offer ask is that the taxpayers continue them as they are. An appropriation of $5000 will do it, and the money should be voted. Free Kindergarten Association is as follows: association feel about it, but I believe that they will be disposed to drop the matter and do nothing more, if the money needed to maintain the schools-and it is very small amount-is not voted at this meeting." Other members of the association hold the same views as does Mr. Campbell. The six kindergartens which have been established, they assert, are all well attended, and accomplishing excellent re-sults. The money required to maintain them for another year-45000-can be raised by a levy of less than 2 of a mill, and when the taxpayers of the school district meet Monday to act on the recommenda-tion of the Board of School Directors that a levy of 2.5 mills be raised for the support of the schools, the matter of an additional levy for kindergartens will be brought up. Rufus Mallory and W. ν . Fenton have agreed to speak in behalf of the kindergartens, and other speakers may champion them at the meeting.

In its report to the taxpayers, which was published in Monday's Oregonian, the Board of Directors made no recommenda-tion as to kindergartens. The members of the board are divided as to the advisability of free kindergartens, Mr. Williams being opposed to them, while Mr. Warren and Mr. Beach are noncommittal, and Mrs. Sitton and Mr. Wittenberg strongly favor them. The attitude of the board toward the question, however, has been one of noninterference. The schools for the little people have hitherto been conducted by the Kindergarten Association, independently of the board, and it is the opinion, at least of a majority of the directors, that if the taxpayers want kindergartens they should so express

School, Superintendent Rigler, in speaking of the matter yesterday, said:
"Whether kindergartens are or are not of benefit in moiding children's minds is a question. Some primary teachers prefer pupils who have been schooled in kinder-gartens, while others do not. Kindergartens are practically an experiment in most of the large cities, and I know of none, except Los Angeles, where they are made a part of the regular school system. In St. Louis, which reports the largest kindergarten attendance of any city, the kindergartens are practically first-grade chools, as the children are not taken until they are 6 years old. Milwaukee, which ranks next to St. Louis in attendince, has genuine kindergartens, taking children when they are 4 years old.

"Here is Portland it has been felt by the board that if the kindergartens were made a regular part of the school work and placed under the control of the Directors, it would be necessary to establish them wherever they were in demand, and this, of course, would require a great deal more money than is now expended on them. For this reason the board has declined to take charge of the schools, and their control and management has been left to the Free Kindergarten Associa

Mrs. R. F. Burrell, who has been an energetic supporter of free kindergartens since the movement was first started in Portland, and who is now president of the association, believes that the tax-payers ought to be willing to vote the $3000 which will be necessary to support them for another year. SOMETHING ABOUT WEBER

ITS WONDERFUL POPULARITY AND THE WHY OF IT.

AND THE WHY OF IT.

If proof were wanting otherwise, the extraordinary demand for Weber planes during the year that has just closed would prove the phenomenal hold that this famous instrument has upon the critical musical public. For many months the factory in New York has been much behind in filling orders, and we have found difficulty in keeping up stock of several styles. When you remember that the Weber is considerably dearer than most other planes, this state of affairs is very significant, indeed. It surely shows that there is inherent worth in the Weber above and beyond ordinary plane value. The glorious tone of these famous instruments is the whole secret of the success of the makers. Others have tried to copy, and others say they have copied, but the fruth is that no other plane has a tone to compare with it. The delightfully clear, liquid, sympathetic quality in the tone of the Weber plane is really a thing of mystery. We know it is there, and we think we know how it is produced, but when we (and when we say "we," we mean the rest of the plane industry), attempt to copy it, we find it cannot be done. Very many makers have spent vast sums in investigating and experimenting with this object in view, but none have succeeded.

Just as no modern maker has succeeded in reproducing the tone of the Stradiwith this object in view, but none have succeeded.

Just as no modern maker has succeeded in reproducing the tone of the Stradivarius violin, so is it with the copyists of the Weber tone. Many have succeeded in making fine planes, but the exquisite tone quality is not present.

To the person of cultivated musical taste, only the Weber plane will give supreme satisfaction. When you consider this fact you are forced to admit that the extra cost is only trifling. You are reduced to the conclusion that the Weber plane is in the long run the cheapest of all.
