

COMMERCE AND

Light receipts of produce and not very much buying in the local market made from street a quiet place for the greater part of the day yesterday. Country orders were of fairly good proportion, but the end of the month is drawing near, and merchants generally expect a pause in matters. The wheat market continues dull, with farmers holding firm and exporters not trying to force matters. Colder weather had but little effect on the egg market, for they were plentiful yesterday at 21 to 23 cents, the latter being the top figure for best stock. Veal and pork were both firmer, but there was no improvement in poultry. There was more demand for lamb in the market than there has been for a long time, and it was difficult to get rid of all of it except at low prices, some very fine dressed chickens selling at low as 90 cents per pound, although large fat stock brought more money. Groceries showed no change, although there is still some uneasiness in sugar and coffee.

PORTLAND MARKET.

Grain, Flour, Etc.

The California wheat market went off with a rush yesterday, on account of rains, which was not needed. Locally there was not much change in the situation. Sixty-three cents was still bid for Walla Walla, and more was reported offering at interior points. Farmers are holding as firmly, however, that the business is of very small proportions, and it will require a spirited move, either up or down, to put much life into the market. Freight on wheat is still at 30 shillings. This figure, with the departure of another ship from Astoria for San Francisco, leaves the port of Astoria with no ship on the west list. In spite of the slow movement in wheat, it is hardly probable that rates will advance further for a few days at least, as 30 shillings is generally regarded as a reasonable rate for wheat ships out of Portland.
