TO HONOR SOLDIER DEAD

MOVEMENT FOR MONUMENT TAKES DEFINITE SHAPE.
Canvass for Memorial Also to Commemorate Pioneer Deeds Will Be Begun on February 10.

A meeting of the Soldiers' Monument Association was held yesterday afternoon at 64 Grand avenue.

F. R. Neale explained that this ground had been set apart by the Lone Fir Cemetery Association for the monument.

If this can be brought about, it will place the care of the monument and grounds in the hands of the city for all time.

The matter of beginning a canvass for funds came up. F. R. Neale said that it would be proper to apply to the civic pride of the people of Portland.

Rev. J. A. Barden and Captain J. H. McMillen contended that the deed to the site of the monument should be practically secured before the active canvass for funds should be commenced.

The secretary reported that the George Wright Women's Relief Corps had contributed $10 to the fund.

TO ELECTRIFY ST. JOHNS RAILWAY

Assurances Given That the Material For Change Has Been Ordered.
The St. Johns street railway will be electrified to St. Johns this year.

The material for this change has been ordered, and the work will start probably in the early spring.

The people of Multnomah also are confident that the Mississippi avenue branch, which ends at Beek street, will soon be extended to Shaver street.

The stage was like a beehive. Little boys and girls ran all over the place as soon as they passed through the stage door.

"It looks like a skating rink," said one boy, critically, looking at the floor.

"She means the opera, 'Faust,' when you see 'Mephistopheles,'" explained a big boy.

"Huh," said one little tot, standing on the edge of the trap-door, "who's afraid?"

Merry Crew of Youngsters Have Gay Time Inspecting Mysteries of the Marquam Grand Stage.

Bright-eyed, rosy-cheeked school children held the boards yesterday afternoon for over two hours at the Marquam Theatre, attending the rehearsal of the play "The Four Jewels."

The stage was like a beehive. Little boys and girls ran all over the place as soon as they passed through the stage door.

"It looks like a skating rink," said one boy, critically, looking at the floor.
