UTAH EXPLORERS.

Professor Cluff Returns From His Trip Through Central America.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Feb. 7.—Benjamin F. Cluff, Jr., the leader of the Brigham Young Academy South American exploring expedition, returned to Salt Lake today, after an absence of two years, during which time he and the members of his party have been traveling in the interest of science through Mexico, Central America and a portion of South America. During their absence, the members of the expedition braved many perils and suffered much hardship and sickness contracted in the fever-infested land through which they traveled. Practically the entire journey from Provo, Utah, to Bogota, Colombia, was made with mules as the only means of transportation. Bogota was the terminus of the expedition, the unsettled condition of affairs in that country rendering further exploration extremely dangerous. The work of the party will be resumed as soon as conditions in Colombia become more settled.

Professor Cluff is greatly pleased with the results of his journey. The grandest ruins seen on the trip, he says, were those at Copan, in Honduras, which he considers to be enduring monuments of a vanquished civilization, which reached a higher point than the present in the art of architecture and many other skilled accomplishments.

The conditions in Colombia, as depicted by Professor Cluff, are frightful. He declares that the war is rapidly reducing both sides to a state of barbarism.

France has the largest national debt—$5,800,000,000—or $150 61 per head of the population. Austria has a debt of $1,783,000,000, or $83 90 per head, leading all nations in this respect.
