FAULTY POSTAL LAWS.

Interpretation of "Permissible Inscription on Third-Class Matter."

Chicago Record-Herald.

The popular protest against the unwarranted and far-fetched interpretation of the postal laws by which thousands were mulcted for first-class rates on third-class matter at Christmas time has impelled the department to issue an order modifying the regulation.

For the first time in many years the recipients of Christmas packages, mailed as third-class matter, and which had markings on the wrappers to designate the contents, such as "printed matter," "book," or "photo," were compelled to pay first-class postage, or letter rates, before the packages would be delivered. In Chicago and the larger cities the senders were made familiar with the regulation, and hence had an opportunity to efface such inscriptions before mailing third-class matter, but in hundreds of towns the postmasters were obviously ignorant of such a regulation, and the receivers of packages were compelled to pay the extra postage, which in many instances exceeded the real value of the contents.

Of course, the law never contemplated such an extortion. Section 318, Postal Laws and Regulations, in defining permissible additions to third-class matter says:

There may be placed upon the blank leaves or cover of any book, or printed matter of the third class, a simple manuscript dedication or inscription not of the nature of a personal correspondence. Upon the wrapper or envelope of third-class matter, or the tag or label attached thereto, may be printed any matter mailable as third class, but there must be left on the address side a space sufficient for a legible address and necessary stamps.

The words "please send out" or "post up," or other similar directions or requests not part of the address nor necessary to delivery, cannot be written upon the wrapper of a package of third-class matter without subjecting it to first-class rates, as prescribed in section 327, P. L. and R.

It is difficult to see what authority or warrant can be found in these sections for charging letter postage on a book that has "printed matter" written on the wrapper or on a package that has "photo" written on it to designate the contents. There could be no possible justification for such a regulation.

However, the Postoffice Department has acted with commendable promptness in the matter by issuing an order stating that hereafter it will be held that a written designation on a wrapper "shall be construed as a permissible inscription upon mail matter of the third class."

During 1901 60 ocean-going steamers were engaged exclusively in the banana trade.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

Good rains have fallen during the last 24 hours in all sections of the North Pacific States.

The temperature is considerably above the normal in Eastern Oregon and Southern Idaho, but elsewhere west of the Rocky Mountains it is seasonable.

Since the beginning of the rain last Tuesday the river at Portland has risen about a foot a day, and this evening it had reached a stage of 7.1 feet. Sufficient rain has fallen in the Valley to bring the river up a few feet higher, but it is not thought that the rise will become alarming.

The indications are for showers in this district Monday, with cooler weather in Eastern Oregon and Southern Idaho.

WEATHER FORECASTS.

Forecasts made at Portland at 8 P. M. for 28 hours ending midnight, February 10:

Portland and vicinity—Showers. South to west winds.

Western Oregon and Western Washington—Showers. Southerly winds.

Eastern Oregon and Southern Idaho—Occasional rain. Cooler. South to west winds.

Eastern Washington and Northern Idaho—Occasional rain. Southerly winds.
