THE OREGONIAN'S HANDBOOK.

The Oregonian's Handbook tells all about Portland, the entire Columbia River watershed and the 100 World's Fair communities of the Lewis and Clark expedition to Oregon.

MR. AINSWORTH FOR PRESIDENT.-At the annual meeting of the Fidelity Trust Company, of Tacoma, held a few days ago, John C. Ainsworth, of this city, was elected president. Mr. Ainsworth is resident of the Ainsworth National Bank of this city, and has long been a director of the Fidelity Trust Company. The Ainsworth estate has large property interests in Tacoma. As the honor conferred on Mr.
Ainsworth was entirely unexpected and unexpected, he has a right to feel proud of the confidence placed in him by his associates in the board of directors in electing him to such an important position.

CALL FOR "MR. DOOLEY" IN COURT.-
"Call Mr. Dooley," directed Deputy District Attorney Gates, yesterday, in the Municipal Court. "There was no response," "Mr. Dooley" indignantly remarked Jailer Roberts. "He's wld Mr. Hennessy," exclaimed a voice with a touch of the brogue in it, proceeding from the audience.
There was general laughter from those who are familiar with the humor of Mr.
Dooley and Mr. Hennessy, in P. P.
Dunne's famous creation. It turned out, however, that the Mr. Dooley wanted was one William Dooley, the driver of an East Side oil wagon, wanted to answer to a charge of assaulting one James Donit.

BULLET TAKEN FROM HIS BACK.-Detective Coriano received a letter yesterday from Detective Dinn, of San Francisco, stating that the Harmon Harwood, alias Frank Woods, arrested for complicity in the murder of Policeman Robinson, had been operated on to recover the bullet imbedded in his back, which he received during a friendly scuffle at the Dalles. After the bullet was extracted, it was seen that it was of the same caliber as that used by Policeman Robinson when he fired at the escaping highwayman. It will be a little time before Harwood recovers from the effects of the operation.

SOME ONE STOLE CARPENTER'S TOOLS.- Thomas Smith was in the Municipal Court yesterday, charged with the theft of carpenter's tools stored in a shed on Marshall street, near Eleventh, last Wednesday. F. D. Jones testified that his tools were stolen from the shed on that occasion; also tools owned by William Turbull, John Almado, and another man named Miller. Most of the missing tools had been recovered in a Whitechapel second-hand goods store, where they had been left by a stranger. The case was

DIED FROM OVERDOSE OF MORPHINE.- The coroner conducted an inquest yesterday regarding the sudden death of Mrs.
Maud Gray, 41 years old, 202 1/2 Jefferson street, and decided that the woman had died Sunday night from an overdose of morphine, injected by herself. Her husband, who was arrested last Friday, charged with having morphine in his possession, came from the city jail to testify that his wife had been addicted to the use of morphine for some time, and sometimes she had used the drug three times a day.

SCHOOL PAPER FOR B. S. A.-Volume 1, No. 1, of the Salute, a monthly students' paper, published at the High School Academy, appeared yesterday. It is an attractive little publication, and reflects great credit upon the boys of the school. In the leading editorial, "The Salutans," the editor outlines his policy, and raises the question, "What is a school without a paper?" The paper is abounds with short poems and stories, and contains several well-written articles, one of them entitled "The Use of Athletics."

SEVENTH-WARD REPUBLICANS ACTIVE.- The Republicans of the Seventh Ward are preparing to get the voters into line, and to that end will hold a meeting Wednesday night. After the election of officers and a short address from Mr. Lockwood, author of the primary law, it is proposed to appoint precinct committees, in order that a thorough canvass of the ward may be had and all voters be urged to register and attend the primaries.

WHAT HAD JACKSON DONE?-A rather unpleasant "accident" occurred to a young man in this city a short time ago.
He was under an engagement to act as best man for a friend who was to be married. As he was walking up Morrison street, the evening before the wedding, he was pounced upon by a man, who struck him in the face. Saying, "Now I have got you, Jackson," he proceeded to belabor the best man in prize-fighting style. The astonished victim, whose name is not Jackson, was taken completely by surprise, and for a moment made no attempt to defend himself, but finally put up his arms and was going to do his best, when his assailant, seeing his face, at once broke away and began apologizing, saying he had made a mistake. He accompanied his victim to a physician and had energetic measures taken to remove all traces of the onslaught, and by the use of hot water and various lotions the swelling and discoloration of the young man's features were put to rights, so that he was able to play his part as best man at the wedding next day.

POULTRY AND CAT SHOW.-An executive committee meeting of the Oregon State Poultry Association was held yesterday.

GOOD WORK FOR OREGON.-Edward Shields, formerly of Portland, who recently visited the city, taking photographs for moving pictures, is doing a good work for Oregon. He has been in Chicago since Thanksgiving, in the employ of the Chicago Daily News, giving lectures in the schools. He is also assistant manager at the Columbia Theater.
In a personal letter he writes: "The Washington-street and the harbor pictures came out fine, and they will make a great 'ad' for Portland. I expect to return to Portland in April, and then I will take up matters with the Lewis and Clark people. I can give them a great deal of free advertising."

BARBERS' RATES NOT YET UP.-The proposed advance in the price of hair-cutting, etc., was considered at a meeting of the Journeymen Barbers' Union last night, but it is understood that no definite decision was reached. An officer of the union stated to an Oregonian reporter that the journeymen barbers were preparing a list of schedule prices, which will be submitted to the boss barbers for their approval, and that the whole matter will soon come up for settlement at a combined meeting of employers and

STEALS HIS OWN HAY

DR. F. D. MILLER RECOVERS LOAD
REMOVED BY EX-TENANT.
When Property, of which Ownership Is Disputed, Disappears, the Doctor Goes After It.

Dr. F. D. Miller, of the East Side, had an exciting as well as amusing experience Sunday on his ranch, located a short distance south of Troutdale. He actually restored in the afternoon a load of hay that had been taken from his barn in the forenoon.
A man named Drake had been in charge of the farm, but had moved away, and another renter, named Shepard, was in possession of the premises. There was some unsettled business between Dr. Miller and the former tenant, and several tons of hay were involved, which was still left in the barn, pending the final settlement, and which were not to be moved. Sunday morning Drake drove to the Miller farm and told Shepard that he had come after some refuse hay stored in the barn that Miller did not want. He was given permission to move the hay, and drove into the barn with his two helpers.

Shepard soon discovered that they were loading the disputed hay on the wagon, and hurriedly went to Troutdale, from which place he telephoned to Dr. Miller an account of what was taking place. Dr.
Miller hitched up his fleetest horse, and with his son was soon speeding toward his farm along the Base Line road. The hay was en route, but he was arrested, to his chagrin, that Drake had already gone with the hay. He was informed by Shepard that Drake had taken the hay to the farm of James Menzie, who lives near by. Shepard declined to help, as he feared there would be trouble. The horses were quickly hitched to Drake's wagon, and the boy started to drive the load back to the barn, but had been taken from after getting out into the Troutdale road the wagon was upset in making a turn, and the hay spilled out. The boy was thrown to the ground with much force, but he sprang up and prevailed on a runaway by seizing the lines. The load obstructed the road. Dr. Miller persuaded Shepard to help him reload it, and in the course of a couple of hours it was safely taken back into the barn, where it was unloaded, and then the wagon was put back into Menzie's barn, just as it had been found, but minus the hay. What Drake thought when he found that the hay had disappeared is not known, but he was under the impression that it was stolen. Dr.
Miller came home in the evening triumphant.
He said yesterday that it was the first time he had ever stolen a load of hay, but considered, under the circumstances, that he was justified.

MUSIC AND MIRTH.

The attractions at the Fredericksburg Music Hall this week are great, notable among them being the "Oregon nightingale," Lenore, whose voice and style captivate the audience; the Fairbanks brothers, the greatest mind-readers and psychics who have been styled the wizards of motion, and very deserving, too, for their work with the clubs is certainly marvelous; the great mind-reading and psychic wonder, Professor A. J. Topping, still continues to hold the audience spellbound nightly with his wonderful performance; Rialto, an up-to-date novelty, in her beautiful "posse, pianette, and dancing." In the very latest electrical effects. The entire programme, from start to finish, is carried out admirably. Each number is en-dored deservedly, and an evening spent at the music hall is a most enjoyable one.

NEXT SYMPHONY CONCERT

Mrs. May Dearborne Schwab, Mrs.
Clare Edward Farnsworth, J. Adrian Epping and Paul Wessinger will take the leading solo parts in the "Eri-King's Daughter" and "Fair Ellen," to be given with choruses of 75 voices, under the direction of W. H. Boyer, at the Mar-quam Thursday evening, February 20. The symphony orchestra will assist, filling out the orchestral parts of the score.

MUST HAVE IT.

Properly Selected Food of Great Importance.

Loss of memory is a sure sign that the body is not taking up proper elements from the food. Then it is time to feed especially selected foods or the person may become demented.

A mother writes about her son and it is interesting. "My son, Albert, now 25 years old and principal of the High School, graduated at the Kansas University and is a post graduate of the Columbia, Mo., University.

"When he began teaching about a year ago he had just completed his education and was badly broken down in health.
He had only about two months vacation and spent it at Excelsior Springs, but when he returned there was no improvement.

"We thought he would get better after he began his work, but instead of improving he became more weak and nervous, and finally, forgetful in the schoolroom. He tried different physicians and everything he could hear of and at last gave up school and came home, after putting a teacher in his place.

"I cooked every delicacy I could think of for him, but he became very thin and we were greatly worried about him. One day a neighbor sent over a box of Grape Nuts. He caught sight of the package and after reading the statement of what the food was intended for, became much interested and began using it.

"He liked it and at the end of a week was very much strengthened and improved. We were encouraged. He stuck to Grape-Nuts and in five weeks was back in the schoolroom.

"He is now teaching the second term in the same place, has recovered entirely and gained wonderfully in flesh. He now weighs 165 pounds and is an expert football player.

"My daughter, Georgia, eight years old, was a weak little girl until after we found what effects Grape Nuts had on Albert. We put her on the food and now she is exceptionally stout and healthy.
We wish to thank the Company for the great help the food has been to us."

CHILD WONDER AT THE BAKER

MARVELOUS VOCAL RANGE OF LITTLE ALICE BARNUM, SOPRANO.

The marvelous child soprano, Alice Barnum, who is playing an engagement this week at the Baker Theater, astonished the patrons of this home of polite vaudeville last night by her rendition of Stephen Adams' beautiful song, "The Holy City." Musicians in particular know the difficulties of the song for the matured adult voice, and yet this child sang it with feeling and expression that brought out all its serious beauty. That this should possess such a wonderful voice is the sensation of the town. Her range encompasses two and one-half octaves, and is exactly identical with that possessed by Melba, the Australian contralto. Later in the week she will sing the "Ave Maria" from "Cavalleria Rusticana," and those who have been privileged to hear the 7-year-old prodigy sing it in private predict that it will create the greatest sensation ever caused by a musician in Portland.

Present were B. Lee Paget, president; E. J. Ladd, secretary; Frank Lee, treasurer; F. A. Ball and Ed Carlisle. The development of the industry and growth of the organization have made it necessary to secure an Eastern judge, and F. H. Sheldahl, of West Liberty, Ia., one of the leading authorities in the poultry world, was selected to officiate at the next show, which will be held in Portland December 10 to 15. It is proposed to hold a cat show in connection with this exhibition. This has been a leading and attractive feature at several of the large Eastern poultry shows this winter, and there is every reason to believe that Portland will prove no exception to this general rule. The proposition of holding a mammoth poultry show in connection with the Lewis and Clark Fair has received further encourage- ment from the fact that $90,000 has been appropriated for this purpose at St. Louis.

ESCAPED SOLDIER PRISONER CAUGHT.

Burt W. Roberts was arrested last night at First and Davis streets by Detectives Ford and Coriano, charged with being an escaped prisoner from Vancouver bar- racks, and will probably be taken before the military authorities there today. A short time ago Roberts was arrested in this city, charged with the larceny of Government stores, and faced a court-martial at Vancouver Barracks, which found him guilty and sentenced him to a term of imprisonment at Alcatraz Island. Before his departure from the barracks, however, Roberts managed to make his escape in a boat, by which he reached this side of the river, and he made his way to the city, where he was arrested yesterday. Roberts admits he is the man wanted.

BOY FINED FOR REFUSING TO MOVE.

R. A. Hencock, 15 years old, was before Municipal Judge Cameron yesterday, charged with refusing to move on when notified to this effect by Policeman Wilkinson. "The boy was very impudent," testified Wilkinson. "He asked me if I had been drinking anything, and stated that he would have my position in the morning, and that I did not own the city because I wore a bluecoat." The boy's father testified that although the boy had made a mistake in talking to the officer, the lad had not committed an unpardonable offense. "This court must protect the officers, else there is no use sending officers on the street. The boy is fined $2," said the Judge.

DO NOT WANT STONE BLOCKS.

Residents on Washington street, from Tweed- lieth to the entrance of the City Park, have been signing on having that section of the street paved with treated wood blocks, and are up in arms against the idea of a stone block pavement. A peti- tion for improving Washington street from Sixteenth to Twentieth is being for- ward- ed, but asphalt is not considered desirable for the street further west, on account of the grade, and residents there desire to have an improvement approach- ing asphalt in quality, and cannot bear the idea of a noisy stone block pavement.

YOUNG MAN MISSING.
