COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL NEWS

The produce and fruit arriving on the California steamer reached Portland in very good shape, and found a good market awaiting it. Radishes, peas and lettuce were in exceptionally good shape and brought good prices. The market is pretty well stocked with oranges and lemons, and despite the strength of the California market, dealers here find it difficult to advance prices. Large quantities of oranges were destroyed by cold weather in California, and San Francisco prices have advanced 25c and 50c per box, but there has been no change locally. Eggs were still moving at good prices. They are now approaching record prices in Chicago, and Portland and San Francisco are both called on to supply the needs of a territory which has generally depended on the East for supplies. Receipts were heavy yesterday, and sales were made about the same as on the previous day, the bulk of the offerings going at 23c and 24c, a few at 25c, and others quoting as low as 22½c. Poultry was holding steady, with a fair demand and only moderate supplies. There was nothing of interest in groceries. Trade in staples was reported good in most lines.

PORTLAND MARKETS.

Grain, Flour, Etc.

The wheat market was a tame and uninteresting affair yesterday. Buyers are looking in vain for wheat that can be purchased on an export basis of values, and if there was much changing hands the movement was carefully concealed. The ruling quotation was about 66c per bushel, and some sales were reported in the interior at slightly higher figures, with a few dealers trying to make a mathematical stand-off by quoting 65½c in this city. No sales were reported at the latter figure. Freights remain unchanged and inactive. Operators who do not need ships to take care of wheat already purchased object to chartering ships so long as they are unable to purchase wheat at a figure that would let them out even on the transaction. Some near-by tonnage is offering at 26s, but it is doubtful if 25s would be paid under present conditions. The San Francisco market, which has been enjoying a period of strength on its own account for several days, suffered a relapse yesterday, and closed a cent under Wednesday's close.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

National Move Against Railroad Merger Causes a Flurry.

NEW YORK, Feb 20.—The announcement by the Attorney-General of the United States that he believed the Northern Securities Company infringed the anti-trust law, and that he would file a bill in equity in the Supreme Court, in accordance with instructions from the President, to test the question, overshadowed all other considerations in the stock market today. The acute interest manifested in this company by all speculators, and, indeed, all holders of securities, was vividly demonstrated by the effect in the stock market, and was the more notable since Great Northern preferred is the only stock remaining listed on the exchange which is directly included in the Securities Company. Yet the whole market fell away sharply under heavy liquidation, with only a few exceptions. The stocks of the transcontinental companies were naturally most affected, as the formation of the Northern Securities Company represented an effort to harmonize conflicting interests in that field. Great Northern preferred lost 6¼; Northwestern, 7¾; Rock Island, 5⅛; St. Paul, 3¾; Union Pacific, 3¾, and Southern Pacific, 2⅝. Elsewhere in the list losses generally ran from 1 to 3¾ points, and over that in many exceptions. On the curb, Northern Securities—when issued—dropped over 3 points. The direct concern of such a variously assorted lot of securities in the welfare of the Northern Securities Company is very obvious, but the average speculator in stocks, and especially the professional traders, is deeply imbued with the conviction that all his woes are the outgrowth of the conflict for Northern Pacific control last year, and it is only necessary for the readjustment to be made of the situation precipitated at that time for the stock market to resume all the buoyancy and speculative furore that was interrupted by the May panic.

For some time there has been a deep-rooted conviction among the speculators that the Supreme Court would throw out of court Minnesota's suit against the legality of the Northern Securities Company. There has been an assumption also which was carefully fostered in the interest of a revival of speculation that the public opposition to financial combinations was more apparent than real, and that a demonstration of the public utility of these combinations would secure them against interference, even where technically open to construction of illegality. This morning's announcement from Washington was, therefore, a rude shock to all of these optimistic sentiments that had been carefully nurtured in the financial district. The selling movements swelled the dimensions of the trading during the first hour to a volume equal to a full day's business during the recent past. Prices declined sharply, and the market looked semi-demoralized. Heavy selling for European account added to the burden of the market, and at the same time created a sharp demand for exchange, which increased the threat of gold exports. Whenever prices had been moved up recently on the presumptions that plans were in prospect for combinations of existing properties along the lines of the Northern Securities Company, the effect was especially marked, as in some of the coalers and the Southwesterns. The early excitement was succeeded by comparative quiet. Liquidation proceeded, but in a more orderly manner. Buying for support occasionally rallied the market, but it was discontinued at recoveries, and the sagging tendency revived. This course was continued up to the close, which was active and easy, but not at the lowest for any important stocks.

There was enormous selling of some of the speculative bonds, especially the Wabash debenture Bs, Baltimore & Ohio convertibles, Union Pacific convertibles and Consolidated Tobacco 4s, which fell from 1 to 2 points at one time.

In the general bond list, there was no pressure of liquidation, although slight declines were the rule. Total sales, par value, $5,720,000. United States 5s advanced ½, the refunding 2s ⅝, the 3s ¼ and the old 4s ¼ per cent on the last call.

Foreign Financial News.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—The Commercial Advertiser's London financial cablegram says: The weakness in Kaffirs is likely to last until the settlement next Tuesday. All departments of the market are affected, but American shares were the flattest on Attorney-General Knox's opinion portending Government interference and an intimation to suppress the Northern Securities Company merger. The market opened firm, but broke on the cable dispatches regarding the merger. The momentum of the decline gathered headway despite New York's attempt to harden prices. Union and Southern Pacific led in the fall, 10,000 shares of Southern Pacific being sold in one block to Leon at 65⅛. Rio Tintos were down ⅝, selling at 45⅛.

GRAIN MARKETS.

Wheat Opens Rather Weak at Chicago, but Improves Toward Close.

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—Wheat opened rather weak. Liverpool cables were lower. The Winter crops in most states had a perfect covering of snow, and more snow was predicted. May opened ⅛@¼c lower, at 78@77⅞c, and the nervousness in the New York stock market influenced selling and depressed prices still further. Receipts at primary points were liberal, and export clearances were the lightest for some time. May sold off to 77⅛c, and then steadied, becoming very dull. New York, late in the session, reported 51 loads taken for export. This had an improving effect, and May sold up to 78⅛c. The close was steady and unchanged, at 78⅛@78¼c.

Corn moved in sympathy with wheat. Cables showed a bullish impulse, but when wheat broke corn followed. The general condition of the corn trade helped a recovery. The close was firm, ⅛@¼c higher, at 61⅛@61¼c.

IRON AND STEEL.

Strong Interests Determine to Hold Former at Present Level.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—The Iron Age says: There are cross currents in the iron foundry trade which are particularly significant because, it is said, that is the branch of the industry in which natural forces have their place almost untrammeled whether it be on the producers' or on the consumers' side. There is a strong interest, comprising nearly all the leading Southern producers, which is determined, for general and for special reasons, to hold the market steady at its present admittedly remunerative level.

A few Southern makers and Northern producers act on the belief that a further advance is justified by the position. The former present very strong evidence in favor of the conviction that there is no danger of any famine in foundry iron, which seems convincing, so far as the second half of the year is concerned. They state that while they have sold for delivery this year 700,000 tons of foundry iron, they still have 700,000 tons to market. There have been very large sales of foundry iron in all the principal distributing markets at prices within a pretty wide range. That we are getting to the importing point is proved by the fact that a Middlesboro foundry has bought about 5000 tons for prompt shipment.

Fair-sized lots of Bessemer pig have been taken by others at $16 25, and as high as $16 50 has been paid for a 5000-ton lot. There is talk of importing Bessemer pig. The steel situation has not changed as to scarcity of billets. The smaller rolling mills, who depend upon the open market, are in serious troubles. They are eagerly seeking foreign steel, but find that lately prices have jumped. It is estimated that fully 100,000 tons of foreign steel has been purchased. Some small lots of foreign wire rods also have been placed.

In finished material, the tonnage keeps up surprisingly well in many lines. Premiums are being paid for prompt and early delivery of beams and shapes. In the merchant pipe trade quiet reigns. It remains to be seen what developments will be when the active season opens. The producing capacity has been very rapidly enlarging during the last year, and it is stated that the independent mills can now make quite as much as the works in the consolidation.
