Mode of Punishment of Tillman and McLaurin.

Democratic Effort to Have It Made Light—Opposition to Discrimination Between the Two Senators.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—The meeting of the Senate committee on privileges and elections this forenoon did not result in supplying any solution of the difficulty that the Senate is in in connection with the Tillman-McLaurin matter. The Republican members of the committee frankly confessed that they had not been able to formulate a scheme which would relieve the situation, and after less than an hour's discussion they asked that the committee should adjourn until 2 o'clock, the understanding being that the Senate should adjourn after a brief session and thus give the committee an opportunity to consider fully this most important question, which most Senators look upon in its present shape as a stumbling-block in the way of all other legislation.

The meeting of the committee was marked by the best of feeling on the part of all the members, and all agreed readily to a preliminary suggestion by Chairman Burrows that the question should be approached from a purely nonpartisan standpoint, because of its general importance. It was evident, however, that the Democrats were inclined to apprehend some effort at political capital by the Republicans, and the channel through which this was manifested soon became evident when Senator Foraker made the suggestion that there should be a severer degree of punishment meted out to Senator Tillman than to Senator McLaurin.

Senator Dubois met this suggestion with a negative, and when the suggestion was afterward made that Senator Tillman should be called upon to prove before the committee the charge which he had repeated in the Senate, that his colleague had yielded to undue influence, there was a hint that if this matter should be entered upon some Senators would insist upon the reopening of the charges on file in the committee in connection with the election of other Senators, which charges have never been disposed of.

Senator Bailey notified the Republican members that the Democrats would not submit to the adoption of a resolution suspending the South Carolina Senators. He said he agreed that they should be punished for their breach of the peace in the presence of the Senate, but he was satisfied the Democrats would not submit to any proceeding which would deprive a state of representation. Some of the Republican members of the committee replied that they agreed as to the unwisdom and impracticability of proceeding by way of suspension.

While no prospective statement of policy was made from the Republican side, there was enough said to lead to the conclusion that the proposed resolution for suspension had been abandoned, and that the punishment suggested will be in the form of censure. Indeed, some of the Republican members of the committee say this is practically the only course open to them.

The committee continued its consideration of the episode this afternoon, but reached no conclusion beyond deciding to refer the entire matter to a sub-committee and to meet again Friday to consider any recommendations by the sub-committee. The afternoon session lasted three hours, and after the Democratic members took their departure at 5 o'clock the Republicans continued the sitting.

The meeting of the full committee was devoted to a general exchange of views. No vote was taken on any proposition. Indeed, no proposition was made, either by the majority or the minority. There was entire agreement on the point that both the South Carolina Senators should be punished, but there was disagreement on the details of punishment, as well as on the degree of it. The Senators had before them full reports of the speeches of both Senators, making careful comparisons of their language. Each member also was provided with a copy of the Constitution and of the rules of the Senate, and these, as well as the established parliamentary authorities, were referred to frequently.

A half dozen suggestions were made as to modes of punishment, including suspension and censure, with the added requirement of further apologies from the offenders. There was also a continued discussion of the relative punishment of the two men. Most of the Republican members of the committee hold that Senator Tillman should be awarded a more severe form of rebuke than McLaurin, while the Democrats do not generally concede that there should be discrimination. Senator Bailey quoted at length from the speech made by Senator Tillman, which provoked the reply of Senator McLaurin, contending that it did not make a specific charge of bribery. The Democrats also held out stiffly against all suggestions looking to the suspension of the privileges of the Senators as an attack on the rights of the state they represent, rather than on the Senators themselves.

When the committee adjourned its members professed to be hopeful that unanimous agreement would be reached, but they were not so hopeful as they had been when the noon recess was taken. The proceedings were not of a character to permit of any definite conclusion as to what the result would be, though so far as they went they indicated censure as the form of punishment most likely to be recommended. Some of the Republicans, however, are holding out for a more pronounced rebuke to Senator Tillman than could be given in any verbal reprimand.

The sub-committee appointed is composed of Senators Burrows, Hoar and Foraker, Republicans, and Senators Pettus and Bailey, Democrats. This sub-committee will meet tomorrow afternoon and make an effort to frame a resolution for the action of the full committee which will meet again Friday.

Brief Session of the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Again today the galleries of the Senate were thronged with spectators when the body convened. All were anticipating a reopening of the discussion of the controversy respecting the right of Senators McLaurin and Tillman, of South Carolina, to participate in the debates of the body while under the ban of contempt.

Immediately after the chaplain had pronounced the invocation, Foraker was recognized. He said that on account of the McKinley memorial exercises which were to be held in the hall of the House of Representatives at or about 12 o'clock tomorrow, he moved that when the Senate adjourn today it be until 11:45 A. M. tomorrow. The motion was agreed to.

Burrows, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, was recognized. He said the committee was in the midst of the consideration of a very important question, a decision upon which had not been reached. By instruction of the committee he therefore moved that the Senate adjourn. Without objection the motion was carried and the Senate adjourned.

Natural Gas Explosion.

KOKOMO, Ind., Feb. 26.—A natural gas explosion today wrecked the home of Mrs. Harriet Achey. She and Mrs. Ida Achey and Mrs. Blanche Barrington were terribly injured and will die. Frank Wyatt, a Panhandle brakeman, was seriously burned in rescuing the women from the flames. It was the third natural gas explosion in this city within a week. A second explosion followed the first, and two firemen had a miraculous escape.

GORGE MAY LET GO TODAY

Ice in the Allegheny on the Point of Breaking Up.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 26.—Indications at midnight are that the big ice gorge in the Allegheny River may let go early tomorrow morning or during the day. Tonight the Government observer issued a statement, which, after describing the condition of the river, says:

"This looks as if the ice in the Allegheny River would break up tomorrow or Tuesday night. The result cannot be predicted. All I can do is to say that the indications are that it may move out. Whether it will gorge and be disastrous in this locality cannot be foretold by any person on earth."

FLOOD IN THE SUSQUEHANNA.

Ice Jam Forms Below Columbia and Gives the Town a Scare.

LANCASTER, Pa., Feb. 26.—Residents along the river front at Columbia are in a state of terror. The worst flood in recent years is being experienced. The ice in the Susquehanna broke about 4 o'clock this afternoon between Columbia and Marietta, and rushed down stream until it reached the dam just below Columbia, where a jam formed. Then the water began to back up, and in a short time had risen eight or nine feet. The water entered the boiler-room of the electric light plant, drowning the fires and leaving the town in darkness tonight. The tracks of the Columbia & Port Deposit Railroad at some places are submerged and piled with ice. If the rise continues at the present rate, the lace mills will be damaged and the two rolling mills of the Susquehanna Iron Company will be put out of operation. In the darkness and confusion it is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage.

The Conestoga is pouring a great volume of water into the river at Safe Harbor. This stream is higher than it has been for 25 years. It tore away a large part of the dam at Slackwater and damaged the electric light plant at that place, which supplies Lancaster, to such an extent that the streets of this city are dark tonight. At 9:30 o'clock tonight water was pouring over the great steel bridge of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, which spans the Susquehanna from Columbia to Wrightsville. At midnight the river was still rising.

No Danger at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 26.—All danger of very serious damage along the Schuylkill River in this vicinity, owing to the rapid rise of the water, has apparently passed.

Ohio Is Rising Rapidly.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Feb. 26.—The Ohio River is 26.1 feet and is rising rapidly. All the West Virginia streams are still rising.

MAIL SERVICE CUT OFF.

Steamship Company Resists Nicaragua's Effort to Collect Taxes.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Sunday, Feb. 9. —In consequence of action on the part of the Government of Nicaragua to collect taxes or fines from the Pacific Steamship Company, the company has ordered its steamer not to touch at ports on the Pacific side of Nicaragua, thereby greatly disarranging the mail service from New York by way of Panama. This line brought the New York mail three times each month from Panama to Nicaragua (some months more frequently), and carried the mail for New York from Nicaragua by way of Panama. The vessels of the other steamship line visiting the Pacific coast of Nicaragua, the Pacific Steam Navigation Company, a British concern, having its headquarters at Valparaiso, arrive at Nicaraguan ports twice and sometimes only once a month.

The Congress of Nicaragua has approved a commercial treaty with France. Congress adjourned today. No reference was made to the protocol for a commercial treaty with the United States signed December 13, 1901. It will probably be withheld until it becomes known what disposition the United States will make of the Nicaragua Canal route.

BOERS CAPTURE A CONVOY.

Severe Fighting Southwest of Klerksdorp, Transvaal.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—Lord Kitchener reports that 600 Boers, driving cattle, rushed the outpost line near Bothasberg during the night of February 23 and that some of them got through. The Boers left 15 dead and six wounded on the field. A dispatch from Lord Kitchener, made public today, says:

"A convoy of empty wagons was attacked and captured by the Boers southwest of Klerksdorp, Transvaal Colony, February 24. The escort consisted of a force of the Imperial Yeomanry, three new companies of the Northumberland Fusiliers and two guns. The fighting was severe, but have no further details."

Rosebery Forms a New League.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—Lord Rosebery has authorized the formation of a new Liberal League, with himself as president and H. H. Asquith, Sir Henry Fowler and Sir Edward Grey as vice-presidents, to act, as it is authoritatively announced, in conjunction with the rest of the Liberal opposition on the lines of the policy expressed in Lord Rosebery's speech at Chesterfield. This rather ambiguous announcement is probably Lord Rosebery's first practical move to test the strength of his following among the Liberals.

Conferees Agree on Census Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—The conferees of the houses of Congress on the bill creating a permanent Census Bureau reached an agreement today. All the employes of the office at the time of the signing of the bill, except unskilled laborers, are to come under the provisions of the civil service law.

THE HOUSE NONCONCURS

SENDS PHILIPPINE TARIFF BILL TO CONFERENCE.

Objects to All the Senate's Amendments—Tawney Explains His Statement Regarding Toole.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—The House today sent the Philippine tariff bill to conference, nonconcurring in all the Senate amendments. Tawney (Rep. Minn.) made a personal explanation regarding Governor Toole, of Montana, saying that in formerly classing the Governor as an opponent of Governor Van Sant in the merger case he had been under a misapprehension.

The Proceedings.

At the opening of the session Loud (Rep. Cal.) asked unanimous consent that the bill to classify the rural free delivery service be taken up next Monday and be made a continuing order until disposed of. The order was made.

Tawney (Rep. Minn.) made a personal statement to correct a statement he made on the floor a few days ago, during the speech of Burleson on trusts, to the effect that the Governor of Montana was not opposed to the Northwestern railroad merger. He said his statement was made hastily, under a misapprehension. The Governor of Montana had been, he said, always opposed to the merger and had done and was going all he could to aid the Governor of Minnesota in his fight against the movement.

Payne, chairman of the ways and means committee, asked unanimous consent that the Senate amendments to the Philippine tariff bill be disagreed to and that a conference with the Senate be requested. To this Richardson, the minority leader, objected. He demanded the regular order, which required the consideration of these amendments in the House, making the point of order also that the amendments must be first considered in committee of the whole. Payne controverted the point of order, but admitted that one of the acts at least was subject to the point of order. But as Richardson disclaimed any intention of desiring to use obstructive tactics, the House, on Payne's motion, went into committee of the whole and took up the amendments.

Payne moved that the committee recommend nonconcurrence in the first amendment to reduce the rates on goods coming into the United States from the Philippines to 75 per cent of the Dingley rates, while McClellan (Dem. N. Y.) moved nonconcurrence in an amendment to reduce the duties to 25 per cent of the Dingley rates. Payne indicated a willingness to concede the 25 per cent reduction of the Senate, but he urged nonconcurrence in order to simplify the phraseology.

McClellan said he would be glad to see free trade with the Philippines, and his amendment is designed to improve a bad bill by adopting the tariff reductions urged by Governor Taft. McClellan's motion was lost, 84 to 167.

Richardson moved nonconcurrence in an amendment to remove all duties on goods coming into the United States from the Philippines. On a rising vote the amendment prevailed, 69 to 67, but when the tellers were demanded, the amendment was lost, 96 to 108.

Kitchin (Dem. N. C.) proposed a broadening of the clause exempting certain persons from prosecution for treason by exempting any person failing to give information against another. The amendment was lost, 88 to 112.

Richardson offered a provision to the last Senate amendment that the United States relinquish all claim to the sovereignty over the Philippine Islands and that hereafter the archipelago shall be considered as foreign territory; that all trade between the United States and the Philippines shall be free; that the United States shall protect the islands and their inhabitants while they are forming a suitable government, and that thereafter the United States shall withdraw from control of the archipelago, retaining only coaling and naval stations. The amendment was declared out of order.

The measure was then reported to the House. On motion of Payne the House nonconcurred in the Senate amendments and asked for a conference, Payne (Rep. N. Y.), Dalzell (Rep. Pa.) and Richardson (Dem. Tenn.) being named as conferees.

The House then, at 2:05 P. M. adjourned.

WIRE TAPPERS FRUSTRATED

Wealthy Young Mining Man of Butte Saves Poolrooms Big Sum.

BUTTE, Mont., Feb. 26.—By exposing a wire-tapping conspiracy, a prominent and wealthy young mining man of Butte saved the Butte poolrooms last Monday about $25,000 or $30,000 on the Oakland races. The facts came to light today, in an effort to discover some parties to the alleged conspiracy in Utah. The reports were delayed by wire, and the result was telephoned to Butte about 15 minutes in advance of the telegraphic reports. To ascertain the truth of the tips and the extent of the alleged wire-tapping, the mining man placed several thousand dollars on the result of one race. Several men in the alleged conspiracy also put up large sums, and they stood to break the poolrooms but for the fact that the man in question, after satisfying himself the job was being carried out successfully, exposed the plot and pulled down his money, remarking: "I like to make easy money, but I am not that kind of a sport." No pools were paid on the race, and the money of the alleged wire-tappers is still held by the poolroom men.

He condemned the Irish League in strong terms, declaring it to be a political machine which constituted the gravest menace to the community. He said the league had corrupted the whole moral fiber of Ireland, and declared the only course of dealing with it to be the strong appeal of the crimes act, which he purposed to see rigorously enforced.

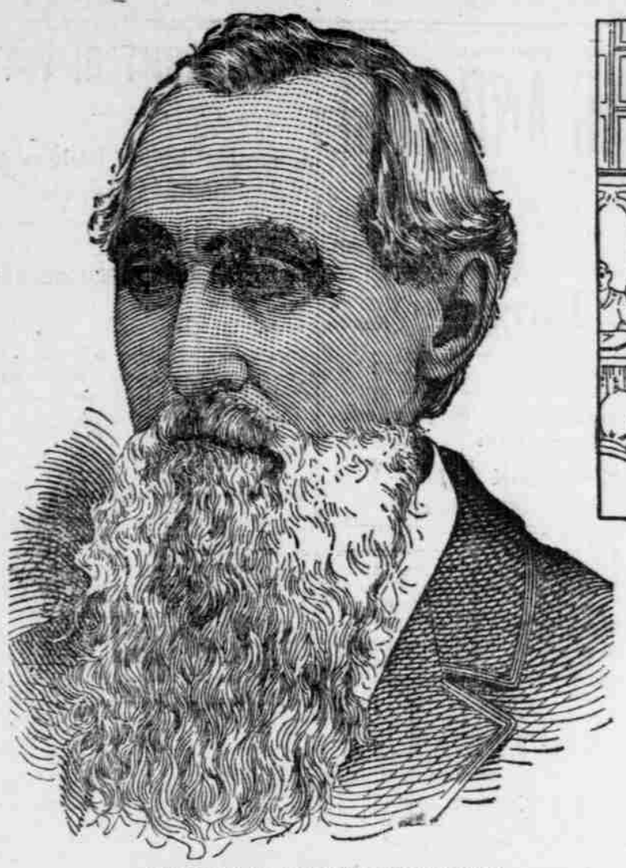
A GEORGIA JUDGE

WAS ALARMINGLY AFFLICTED WITH CATARRH OF THE LUNGS,

CURED BY PE-RU-NA



JUDGE W. G. DURHAM OF GEORGIA.

Catarrh of the Lungs the First Stage of Consumption.

So All Medical Authorities Agree.

Judge Durham, a well-known local Judge of Greensboro, Ga., had an experience with Peruna well worth reciting. A report had become current among the Judge's friends that he was threatened with consumption. It was feared for a time that Georgia was to lose one of its most prominent and influential citizens.

It was also reported that the Judge had failed to get any relief from any of the medical aid at his command, that he had made use of the now world-famous remedy, Peruna, and made a prompt recovery. The affair created quite a sensation in medical circles especially, and the many friends of Judge Durham were not only exceedingly gratified at his recovery, but were enthusiastic in their praises of the remedy that had brought him relief.

The public importance of the Judge, together with the prominence of his many friends, as well as the startling and dramatic features of the unexpected cure, caused one of our leading newspapers to make inquiry into the facts.

The following written statement from the Judge himself sets forth the facts:

"Greensboro, Ga., March 3, 1900.

"Some time ago I contracted a severe cold which settled on my lungs and in my head. I tried many remedies, all of which gave me no relief. I concluded that my case was catarrh of the head and lungs, and seeing Peruna so highly recommended I began using it, experiencing the very best results from the first bottle.

"I continued using Peruna for a short while, and have never felt the least symptoms of catarrh since. Peruna is certainly a good medicine, and deserves the high praise which is given it by the general public."

Judge Durham has been secretary and treasurer of the city of Greensboro, Ga., for the past three years, and has been a local Judge for 10 years.

Dread Consumption.

There are three roads which lead from health to consumption. Over one of these roads pass all of that great multitude of people who die every year of consumption. Each route begins with health and happiness and ends with disease and death.

First road—A slight cold—neglected—settles in the head or throat—chronic catarrh—extends to the lungs—consumption—death.

Second road—A slight cold—neglected cough—settles in the lungs—cough gradually growing worse—consumption—death.

Third road—A cold—neglected—settles in the throat—hoarseness—short breath—consumption—death.

Thousands have just started on one of these roads, all of whom could be easily cured by Peruna. Thousands more are half way to the fatal end of one of these roads who are still curable by a course of treatment by Peruna. Yet other thousands are near the end whose last days could be made bearable and hope of recovery more probable by commencing Peruna without delay.

"Friends Gave Me Up."

Mrs. Eliza Heinzle, 205 East Fulton street, Columbus, Ohio, writes: "About a year ago I contracted a violent cold, which settled on my lungs, and for four months I ran down very rapidly, coughing up quantities of bloody mucus, and frequently had hemorrhages from the lungs. I was on the verge of the grave. My husband and my friends had given me up.

"Some one, however, who had tried your Peruna advised me to use it. As a last hope I bought a bottle, and, finding immediate relief from its use, continued taking it. My cough left me and I had no more hemorrhages, and I am now as well as I ever was in my life. I thankfully attribute my present good health, and, in fact, my living at all, to the good effects of Peruna.

"MRS. ELIZA HEINZLE."

Lung Trouble Cured.

Miss Lou Ware writes from Bryan, Tex., the following letter:

"For several years I have suffered with throat and lung trouble caused from taking cold when confined to my room with measles. Peruna cured my throat, and I believe by using as directed that my voice will be entirely restored (as I had lost it almost completely).

"This cure has been perfected by Peruna after repeated trials with many other articles without benefit.

"I believe it to be the best medicine in use for what it is recommended."
