ATTACKED BY BOLOMEN.

Eighty of the Rebels Were Killed in a Fight in Samar.

MANILA, Feb. 28.—The United States Philippine Commission has ordered that medals of honor be bestowed on Inspector Knauer and two other members of the Philippine constabulary. The three men were going from Cavite to Magellana, in Cavite Province, when they were attacked by eight members of Ramon's band. Knauer telegraphed that he and his companions killed the eight insurgents and captured two Mauser rifles, one Remington rifle, one revolver and three bolos.

Two hundred uniformed bolomen in the island of Samar recently attacked a scouting party of friendly natives and a detachment of the First Infantry. Eighty of the bolomen were killed and one of the friendly natives was severely holed.

BURED BY SNOW

Four Slides Carry Death to Miners.

AT LEAST FOURTEEN DEAD

Avalanches Occur on Smuggler Mountain

THREE MILES FROM TELLURIDE

Boarding, Bunk and Tramhouses of the Liberty Bell Mine Carried Away—Rescuers Caught in Second Slide.

A series of snowslides on Smuggler Mountain, near Telluride, Colo., caused the death of at least 14 miners employed at the Liberty Bell mine. The first avalanche came without warning, carrying away the boarding, bunk and tramhouse. While rescuers were digging out the imprisoned miners another slide came down, resulting in more deaths. Many miners are missing, and the number of dead may reach 20 or 30.

TELLURIDE, Colo., Feb. 28.—Fourteen dead, 30 many more injured and a score or more missing, is the result, so far as known, of a series of snowslides which occurred today in the immediate vicinity of the Liberty Bell mine, on Smuggler Mountain, three and a half miles north of Telluride. The roads between here and the Liberty Bell are almost impassable and details of the accident are hard to obtain. It seems that no less than four distinct slides occurred, each one claiming two or more victims. Several bodies have been recovered, but quite a number of the known dead are still buried under the tons of snow, rock and timber by which they were carried down.

The List of Victims.

The death list of the first slide, so far as known, follows:
GUS SWANSON, crusher feeder.
M. S. SUMMERLAND, tram brakeman.
HARRY GOLDEN, waiter in boarding-house.
GUS KRAUL, miner.
J. F. CLOMMER, steward.
R. ADGE CROWE, miner.

The victims of the second slide were:
HARRY A. CHASE, assayer.
L. D. STANLEY, carpenter.
Those who met death in the third slide were:
GUS VON FINTEL, carpenter.
JOHN R. POWELL, surveyor.
PAUL DALPRESE, miner.

In the fourth slide the following were killed:
GEORGE ROHWER.
W. S. GREGORY.

Came Without Warning.

The first slide occurred at 7:30 o'clock this morning and carried away the boarding and bunkhouse and the tramhouse of the mine. About 50 men are regularly employed in the mines and mills of the Liberty Bell mine, but a large number of men from the night shifts were in Telluride yesterday and were prevented from returning to the mine by the terrible storm which was raging. The day shift had just gone to work, leaving comparatively few underground workers at the bunkhouse.

The slide came without warning. The three large buildings were carried down the steep mountain side a distance of about 200 feet and literally ground to splinters, not a board being left intact. The snow and debris piled in the bottom of the canyon 25 feet deep.

Those who escaped the slide at once began the work of rescuing their less fortunate companions. A dozen or more were taken out alive, some of them badly injured, however. The most seriously hurt are: Jacob Golden, dishwasher, arm cut off and serious internal injuries; Ernest of the mine, ribs broken and arm badly cut; John Isaacson, miner, skull fractured; Henri Pauer, miner, leg broken and serious internal injuries.

Word was sent to Telluride, and a number of citizens left for the scene of the disaster to aid in the rescue of the slide victims.

Shortly after noon, while the work of digging out bodies was going on, the second slide came down, almost in the track of the first. The mountain side is very steep and the descent of the snow mass was so rapid that the rescuers were caught, two being killed. They were Harry A. Chase and L. D. Stanley, and their bodies have not been recovered. The others were more or less injured, but none are fatally hurt.

At 3:30 o'clock, Superintendent Chase, of the Liberty Bell mine, ordered the work of rescue suspended, declaring that it was useless to endanger life further while slides were running. Several parties started at once for Telluride. Two of these parties were overtaken by slides. In one, Gus von Fintel, John Powell and Paul Dalprese were killed, and in the other George Rohwer and W. S. Gregory lost their lives. None of these bodies had been recovered at last accounts.

Large Number Are Missing.

A large number of men are missing and it is thought probable that the death list will be swelled to 20 and possibly 30, when all the bodies are taken from the snow mass.

Among those killed, Raymond Bishop, Wade Crowe and Harry A. Chase were last year's graduates from the State School of Mines, at Golden, Colo. They had taken positions with the Liberty Bell to acquaint themselves with practical mining. They belong to good families in Denver and Pueblo.

Several other slides are reported in this vicinity. From the condition of the snow, more slides are expected.

Several firms, who were not caught in the slide, touched the city at noon, but were too excited and frightened to talk. The foreigners are superstitious and believe that accidents like this morning are pre-ordained and come as a punishment, today's catastrophe, following so soon after the terrible fire at the Smuggler-Union a few months ago, in which a score

CAUGHT IN TRAP

600 Boers Killed and Captured.

TWO DAYS' HARD FIGHTING

Kitchener's Big Success in Orange River Colony.

ANNIVERSARY OF MAJUBA DAY

Combined Movement Forced the Dutch Against a Blockhouse Line Through Which They Could Not Break.

In a combined movement planned by Kitchener in the eastern part of the Orange River Colony the Boer force was driven against a blockhouse line, and lost 600 men killed and captured. Two thousand horses and 28,000 cattle fell into the British hands, together with other supplies. Among the prisoners were General Dewet's son, two commandants and several coronets.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—Following the precedent of Lord Roberts, who announced General Cronje's surrender at Paardeburg on the anniversary of the battle of Majuba Hill (February 27, 1855), Lord Kitchener apparently selected the same anniversary to achieve a big success by a combined movement, lasting two days, against the Boer forces within the Harrismith and Van Renssen line of blockhouses. The Boer losses aggregate 600 men killed or captured, and 2000 horses and 28,000 head of cattle fell into the hands of the British troops.

This news was so welcome to the British that it was read out in the House of Commons by the War Secretary, Mr. Brodrick, from a dispatch of Lord Kitchener as follows:

Harrismith, Feb. 28.—Yesterday the combined operations of the columns terminated in driving the Boers against the Harrismith and Van Renssen blockhouse line. The River Wilge was held by the Leicester regiment and Elliott's mounted infantry from Harrismith, while the columns formed on the Frankfort and Botha's Pass blockhouse line and advanced south, holding the country between the Wilge and the Natal frontier.

"On the first night, a severe attempt to break through was made at a point between Remington's and Byng's columns, and the New Zealanders behaved with great gallantry. The fighting was at close quarters and the Boers drove a large herd of cattle in front of them, as usual. Manie Botha, the Boer leader, was killed and 35 dead Boers were found on the ground. Over 100 horses were killed and 600 head of cattle were left on our hands. Other small attempts to break out were made and in two cases succeeded. On the last day, 60 Boers with rifles and horses were captured.

"All the columns have not yet reported, as the operations have been wide, but over 600 Boers have been killed or are prisoners in our hands, also 2000 horses, 28,000 head of cattle, 200 wagons, 60,000 sheep, 600 rifles and 50,000 rounds of ammunition. The prisoners include General Dewet's son and his secretary, Commandants Meyer and Truter, and several field cornets. These satisfactory results are very appropriate on the anniversary of Majuba.

In response to an inquiry made by the government as to the fate of an escort of convoy of empty wagons, which, according to a dispatch from Lord Kitchener made public February 28, was attacked and captured by the Boers south of the Orange River, Transvaal Colony, February 24, Lord Kitchener has called the following message:

"A report has just been received that 16 officers and 451 men were taken prisoners. Of these, one officer and 136 men have been released. Colonel Anderson, of the Imperial Yeomanry, who commanded, is still a prisoner. Major Enderby, who commanded the infantry, was wounded. Hence the delay in obtaining definite information."

The War Secretary, Mr. Brodrick, replying to a question in the House of Commons today, said no details, with the exception of the list of casualties, had been received of the capture of the convoy. No men had been reported killed, but about 100 were wounded.

The censorship in South Africa has been excessively strict for some time past, and dispatches have consequently suffered serious delay. In some cases they have been held up for one or two days at both Cape Town and Pretoria.

A dispatch received tonight from Harrismith shows that General Dewet and Mr. Eynen were within the net described by Lord Kitchener, but escaped before the line was completed. The dispatch also says that Colonel Rawlins scored the biggest success of the drive. He succeeded in completely surrounding a laager of 400 Boers and gave them one hour in which to decide whether they would surrender or fight. The Boers, finding escape impossible, surrendered at discretion and no shot was fired.

Indiana Insurance Law.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 28.—The application of a strict construction of the Indiana statute regarding securities is causing many withdrawals of insurance companies from the state. The United Firemen's, of Philadelphia, and the County of Philadelphia have given notice that they will not renew their licenses, since it would necessitate a change in some of their securities. Five companies have withdrawn from the state this year. Two other companies may withdraw, having until March 15 to decide.
