POOR ECONOMY.

Saving Time and Losing Health. The man who ate his breakfast over night to save time in the morning was not a whit more foolish than the man who eats his lunch at his desk while he works "to save time," or because he's in a hurry.

Even the people who take time to go to lunch carry their business with them, as a rule, and are satisfied to shovel into the stomach in ten minutes food which requires two or three hours for digestion.

"I had been sick for two years with indigestion and nervous debility, and had taken medicine from my family doctor for a long time without much benefit," writes Mrs. W. H. Peckles, of Lucknow, S. Car.

"I felt better after the first few doses of the medicine and continued to improve until I was completely cured."

GENERAL DEBILITY is a very common and natural result of dyspepsia or stomach "trouble."
