THE OREGONIAN'S HANDBOOK.

RAISE TEACHERS' SALARIES.-The Board of School Directors will meet in a day or two to take action on the proposed new schedule of salaries for teachers in the public schools. It is pretty efinitely understood that the new sched tile will be adopted. One of the directors would be willing to vote the increased salaries to go into effect at the beginning of the next school year. Others, howgoing into effect from the beginning of the present term. They say the matter was submitted to the taxpayers at their annual meeting, the new schedule was adopted by them, and an increased levy sufficient to meet the intreast in-was voted, so the new schedule was in-dorsed by the taxpayers and should go dorsed by the taxpayers and should go into effect at once. The only objection made to this is on the ground that the board has virtually made a contract with the teachers for the year at the old rates. The indersement of the new schedule by the taxpayers is considered a sufficient answer to this objection, and there is practically no doubt but that the teachers will receive the increased salaries from the beginning of this term.

OLD BUILDINGS ARE TORN DOWN .- The kind of building operations most in favor resterday and best adapted to such weather was the tchring down of old buildings to make room for new ones. A good start was made on the old wooden building addning the First National Bank, which be replaced by an addition bank. The workmen were careful not to tear the roof off any faster than necessary. A contractor was seen looking over the roof timbers of a building from the shelter of an umbrella, but the workmen had gone home. Everything Left to "Managing Com mittee"-Primary Candidates "Will Be Simon Men," Says Plummer.

Members of the Republican County Central Committee and the advisory com-mittee met last evening to consider plans for the coming campaign and to prepare for the coming campaign and to prepare for the primaries which take place on March 15. The meeting was held in the office of the chairman, Dr. O. P. S. Plummer, and was attended by the following: O. P. S. Plummer, Edward Holman, R. F. Robinson, Donald Mackay and F. A. Bailey, of the County Central Committee; and W. E. Harris, I. W. Pratt, W. J. Miller, Charles Cleveland, Peter Hobkirk, Miller, Charles Cleveland, Peter Hobkirk, Dr. Emmett Drake, E. H. Kilham, George H. Hill, N. D. Beutgen and Edward Everett, of the advisory committee. W. S. Duniway, secretary of the County Central Committee, was also present, the only absent members being Charles F. Beebe and Graham Glass, Jr.

There was a long discussion of the variable land and the committee of the Lordwood and the committee of the committ

ous clauses of the Lockwood act, and its general bearing upon the coming pri-maries. Finally a motion prevailed whereby the chair appointed a committee of three, the chair included, to be known as the "managing committee." The two as-sociate members appointed were F. A. Bailey and Edward Holman. The committee was instructed to ascertain the probable time required for counting the primary ballots, and then to recommend a suitable date for the county convention. The committee was also instructed to recommend a ratio of apportionment of delegates and to furnish a list of candi-dates for the primary ballot to County Clerk Swetland. In short, all matters pertaining to the primary election were en-trusted to the committee, it being under-stood that the Central Committee will be called together whenever the exigencies of the situation may demand. An Ore-gonian reporter was denied admittance to the meeting, and it is not known just what other business was transacted.' The managing committee will meet this The managing committee will meet this morning when the apportionment of delegates will be made. When seen after the meeting last evening Chairman O. P. S. Plummer said: "The managing committee in its selection of candidates from the several precincts will be governed by suggestions from the Republicans of those precincts. As the faction of the party care to support the regular candidates, it is quite likely that the candidates will be Simon men. We are Republicans and we propose to support the nominations of regular Republican candidates. Personal-ly, I am friendly to Senator Simon."

It is quite evident that the Simon ma-chine, which controls the central commit-tee, is endeavoring to delay the nomination of candidates for the primary ticket as long as possible. The law distinctly states that these nominations must be in the hands of the County Clerk at least four days prior to the day on which the primaries are held. Therefore, these nominations cannot be made later than Tuesday. By delaying the matter as long as possible the machine hopes to keep independent Republicans in the dark until the last moment, so that the candidates will not know who their opponents will be.

NINTH WARD ANTI-MACHINE CLUB A Landslide Was Predicted in All the East Side Wards Against Simon.

An enthusiastic meeting of the Ninth Ward Republican Club was held last night at No. 25 Burkhard building, on Grand avenue, H. H. Newhall providing. At this all that can reasonably be expected in order to necure an electric railway. The people of Sandy expect the road to reach them and to be continued from there to Mount Hood, and citizens of Gresham are offering to bet that there will be an electric line from Portland to that town within the mouths of the second of the contribution of the second of the meeting the constitution and by-laws were adopted. The club was originally started to encourage registration and to oppose "machine" politics. The following dec-laration of purposes and principles was unanimously adopted:

Corruption and wanton disregard of the wishes of the people in our election is a prevailing fault. Being fostered and protected by the so-called "machine" the inevitable result is to discourage the honest voter from participating in and exercising the great right and liberty of casting his ballot, free from the co-ercion of the machine and bossism; therefore, to see and demand an honest and fair count of the ballot, and that we may have a gov-ernment for the people and by the people, it has become necessary to take not alone indiernment for the people and by the people, it has become necessary to take not alone individual, but united action to purify the ballot. We believe in the Australian ballot and the registration law and all legislation tending to protect an honest ballot, and facilitate the accomplishment of a reform in this direction this club has been formed, and its members agree to work to carry out the o work to carry out the principles set forth n this declaration.

After the adoption of the rules short talks were made by J. E. Hunt, John Sharker, J. W. Beveridge, F. E. Oldson, Thomas Histop and John H. Hall. Each spoke for his particular section, to the effect that the drift of sentiment was against machine politics.

Mr. Hall spoke at some length, in which he said that the coming primary election was important for the Republican party for the reason that it affords an opportunity to wipe out bossism, that had made it possible for one or two men to name the ticket. Heretofore in the conventions a printed list of the candidates was pas around among the delegates to vote. The ticket had been printed before the conven-tions met, with hardly a mistake. It had been made by one or two men. Now was the opportunity, said Mr. Hail, to put an end to this one-man power in this city and county and provide a way for an expression by the rank and file of the party, whose only duty heretofore had been to ratify the slate which had already been made out. Mr. Hall said that every kind of scheme would be adopted by the "ma-chine," and an attempt would be made to divide the votes of those who are op-posing the Simon machine, and he cau-tioned every one to be on his guard. Mr. Hall concluded his remarks by saying it was in the air that the Simon machine would certainly be defeated.

Reports were received from the Eighth and Tenth Wards, and all were to the effect that there would be a landslide against the Simon machine in all the East Side wards. After further discussion it was decided to keep the hall in the Burk, hard building. 25 Grand avenue, open every evening during the present and next formidable-looking legal document faced John Wells, who is supposed to be implicated with a gang of river pi-rates, yesterday, before Municipal Judge Cameron, when he stood up to answer a charge of stealing iron filings and scrap iron from the Willamette Steam Mill, Lum-bering & Manufacturing Company, at the foot of Savier street. The warrant, sworn to by George W. Weidler, stated that the defendant, February 27, "did steal and catry away iron filings valued at $75 and one ton of scrap iron valued at $15." Wells looked dared when he heard the charge, and he pleaded not guilty, and was held in ball for a further hearing. Since Detectives Snow and Kerrigan ar-rested the Brown brothers, several months ago, charged with stealing scrap from from the Weidler mill property—the Brown boys are now serving a sentence of six months in jail—the police became aware that other river pirates were steal-ing scrap iron from the mill at night and were taking it way in rowboats, and then on wagons, to parts unknown. Snow and Kerrigan found footprints leading from the mill to the river, and on several occasions they rowed about the river eral occasions they rowed about the river in a boat, but never met the pirates.

A world without music would be a dreary place. Music is an inspiration—a tonic. The time has gone by when a piano can be considered a luxury; it is a necessity; it is entertainment: It is an investment. If you get a good plane, age does not affect it; it will be as good ten years from now as the day you bought it. Such a piano is the Emerson. Established in 1869, it has steadily increased in popularity, until today it is justly recognized as one of the world's best planes.
