HEPBURN BILL WINS

Senate Committee Favors the Nicaragua Route.

VOTE WAS 7 TO 4 TO REPORT IT

Hanna Tries to Delay Favorable Action, but Mitchell Succeeds in Bringing It to a Vote.

WASHINGTON, March 12-The Senate committee on isthmian canals has decided, by a vote of 7 to 4, to report the Hepburn bill providing for the construction of an isthmian canal via the Nicaraguan route. The action of the committee was taken at a called meeting held during the afternoon, and came after a brief report by Senator Morgan, chairman of the committee, detailing the action. tee, detailing the result of a conference with Secretary Hay as to the status of natic negotiations with the Central American Republics concerning the canal. He stated that the Secretary had told him that there are no negotiations pending be-tween the United States and Colombia concerning the Panama route, and that the new Minister from Colombia had not even presented his credentials, but that, on the other hand, the representatives of on the other hand, the sof Nicaragua and this country and those of Nicaragua and Costa Rica had been in consultation and had agreed upon practically all the points to be covered in concession treaties, nothing really being left in that connection but to put the agreements in writing. He said that the governments of those two countries had manifested a disposition to make all the concessions the United States could ask to sid in the construction of a canal, and that among these concessions is one for perpetual right of way.

When the recitation of the report had been completed, Senator Hanna suggested that probably the Colombian Minister had been detained by untoward circumstances and proposed that action by the committee should be delayed until an opportunity could be had to ascertain Colombia's po-sition. This suggestion met with atrong pretests from the friends of the Nicaragua route, and Senator Mitchell moved to report the Hepburn bill as it passed the House. Senator Kittredge moved to post-pone action until next Monday, but his motion was lost. Senator Mitchell's mo-tion was carried. Some of the members of the committee were absent, but as their positions were understood, their votes were counted. The vote for the Hepburn bill stood:

Senator Morgan, after adjournment of the committee, said that he probably would report the bill to the Senate to-The Hepburn bill authorizes the Presi dent to acquire territory for right of way for a canal from Costa Rica and Nicarague; sirects the construction of a canal of sufficient capacity to accommodate the largest ships from Greytown, on the At-lantic, via Lake Nicaragua, to Brito, on the Pacific, under the supervision of the Secretary of War; authorizes surveys of the harbors at the two ends of the route; DAPHNES guarantees the use of the canal to vessels of Costa Rica and Nicaragua, and appropriates $10,000 000 for beginning the work.

LONG DEBATE IN PROSPECT.

Opponents of the Bill May Cause Much Delay.

WASHINGTON, March 12. - Now that the Hepburn canal bill is out of the committee, there is high hope among its friends that it will soon receive consideration in the Senate. Two or three measures apparently have the right of way. After the subsidy bill is disposed of Monday, the bill to protect the President will come up and be pushed by Senator Hoar.

This involves something of a Constitutional question, a states' rights question, and may cause considerable debate. After that there seems to be an understand-ing that the oleomargarine bill shall have consideration, but the probabilities are consideration, but the probabilities are that it will be antagonized by the Nica-ragua bill, and if so it is more than likely that the oleo bill will wait until the Nic-aragua bill is finished. Just how long the debate is going to last on the canal bill is difficult to say, but if the opponents undertake to cause much delay, they can no doubt succeed, as there is an abundance of testimony to read and debate which has been taken in committee. Some of the friends of the Nicaragua bill are hoping that Senator Morgan will content himself with one speech of not more than three or four days, and will not be drawn into long arguments by those who are seeking to delay the bill with debate.

Cablegrams That Passed Between Emperor William and President.

WASHINGTON, March 12.-The follow ing cablegrams were made public here to.

Wilhelmshaven, March 12, 1902.-President of the United States of America, Washington: Now that my brother has left the hospitable shore of the United States homeward bound, I feel it a pleasing duty to exprese to you how deeply grateful I and the whole of the German people are for the splendid hospitality and he cordiality of the reception which was accorded to Prince Henry by all classes of the American people.

"My outstretched hand has been met by you with a firm, manly and solid grip. May heaven bless our relations with peace and good will between the two great na-tions. My best compliments and wishes to Mise Alice. WILLIAM, I. R."

"Washington, March 12, 1902.—Emperor William, Wilhelmshaven: Your brother's visit to this country has accomplished much in showing the depth of kindly feel-ing which exists between the two na-tions. It has been most fortunate in every way, and I trust you will permit me to congratulate you on the admirable man-ner in which he has borne himself. He has won the genuine and hearty sympathy and regard of all with whom he has been brought in contact. We have welcomed him for his own sake, and we have welcomed him still more heartily as the representative of yourself and of the mighty German people. I thank you in the name of the American people for what you have done, and I thank you personally in addition for the gracious form which your

Germans Express Their Appreciation North German Gazetto, commenting upon the departure of Prince Henry of Prussia from the United States, referred in the warmest terms to the generous hospital-ity and unvarying courtesy and good will extended to the Emperor's representative.

"In the strengthening of the traditional friendly relation between the great, powerful and progressive nations, in the re-newal of the new confidence, we couple in our thoughts with gratitude the countless thousands of American men and women thousands of American men and women who everywhere gave Prince Henry a joyful and sincere welcome. It is these perfectly spontaneous demonstrations of friendship coming from all classes of a proud people that give us confidence that the good feeling which has been engendered and manifested both here and there, by the visit to the land of Washington will continue its influence in the relations between thermany and the United States. between Germany and the United States, politically untroubled as they are, in a way to the advantage of both people."

Besides the semi-official declaration in the North German Gazette, which un-doubtedly originated in the Foreign Office, other papers refer to Prince Henry's de-parture and express their appreciation of the regard of the United States for Germany as evidenced in the honors showered upon Prince Henry.

In Washington there is general satisfaction with the proposed change, for the opinion generally prevails that the forestry service of today is not near what it ought to be, and the change is looked for ward to as for the better. CHICAGO, March 12.-General Frederick Funston was a busy man today. The en-tertainers had him routed up at 9:30 in the morning, and it was midnight before he regained his hotel again. A decidedly in-teresting feature was General Funston's reception at the Press Club. After the handshaking was over, a small platform was rolled into place before the General, whose short figure did not reach above the shoulders of the men around him. Homer J. Carr, president of the club, introduced General Funston in a complimentary speech, to which the General responded in numorous vein.

President Bush, of the Marquette Club, and a committee of members called on the General in the morning, and escorted him to the Board of Trade. His coming was eagerly awaited by the traders, and they gave him a tumultuous greeting. There were repeated calls for a speech but General Funsion declined to respond. The traders were insistent, however, and then, after having been introduced by President Warren, of the Board of Trade, the General briefly thanked the traders for their warm welcome.

From the Board of Trade, General Funston was driven to the stockyards, where he spent three hours watching the various packing processes. He was entertained at luncheon by the packers, and then returned to the city, spending a short time at a matinee, preceding his reception at the Press Club. In the evening he was a guest at a dinner given in his honor by the members of the Chicago Yacht Club, and at the conclusion of the dinner he visited the theater once more, this time, the Studebaker, to witness George Ade's new opera, "The New Sultan of Suiu," constructed on life in the Philippines. General Funston will depart for New Megala, director of the Bureau of Taxation in the Department of Finance, and K. Misako, vice-president of the Yokohama Specie Bank. Count Matsukata planned and put into operation the present financial system of Japan, and it was largely through his efforts that "As I view this matter, the state has as much right to farm out the business of collecting its revenues or preserving the peace, and allow the parties intrusted with these duties to vary the rate of taxation according to their own interests, or to sell personal protection to the highest bidder, as it has to permit the great function of public carriage to be the subject of spe-cial bargains or secret dicker, to be made unequal by favoritism or oppressive ex-

Mr. Knapp went on to say that the highways, from the earliest period of man kind, were considered as public property, and that it was no more than just and proper that all railroads should be under Overnment control. As long as the rail-roads are owned by private corporations, he said, those railroads would be taking unto themselves civil rights which be long only to the Government.

FAVORABLE REPORT

Mitchell Chinese Bill Will Be Presented to the Senate.

NO MATERIAL CHANGES MADE

One of Its Sections Provides for Absolute Exclusion From the Philippines-The Matter of Penalties.

WASHINGTON, March 12.-The Senate committee on immigration today agreed to report the Chinese exclusion bill, known as the Mitchell-Kahn measure. It is substantially the same as the modified bill submitted by the Pacific Coast com-mittee, only a few verbal corrections having been made.

A point which occasioned much consideration by the committee was whether or not Chinese should be excluded from the not Chinase should be excluded from the Philippines, or whether the whole propo-sition should be left to the Philippine Commission. The committee agreed to retain the proposition of absolute exclu-sion, taking the ground that the United States wants to retain the Philippines for the Filipinos, and that the latter are as much opposed to the admission of Chinese as are the Americans.

Another section of the bill about which the committee debated at length was that excluding Chinese sallors from ships of American register. This provision also was retained in the bill, but with a pro-viso to the effect that in case of accident, stress of weather or serious illness, the captain of a vessel may ship a Chinese crew for the voyage upon which he may have entered.

The provisions regarding the privilege of transit of Chinese across the United States are changed in phraseology, but remain practically the same in effect. There also are verbal changes in the provision concerning the detention of Chinese who seek entry at American ports, and the following penalty is provided for failure to observe this provision.

"Every person bound under this section to detain a Chinese person who shall refuse or multiplies."

The paragraph concerning the return of Chinese is changed so as to read as fol-The duty of returning said Chinese person is hereby imposed on the master, owner, consignes or agent of the vessel and on the raliway corporation, its general officers and agents, and on the owners or general officers and agents of other transportation lines or modes of convey. collective and severally, bringing
