

TO PRETECT PUBLIC

City Council to Check Spread of Contagious Diseases.

RIGID ORDINANCE IS DRAWN UP

City Physician Is Given Greater Powers to Enforce Quarantine—Physicians and Lodging-House Keepers Must Report.

At the adjourned meeting of the Common Council yesterday an ordinance was adopted to prevent the spread of contagious diseases was introduced. An ordinance was also introduced to grant a franchise for the erection and maintenance of boxes on the streets for 15 years for displaying advertisements and incidentally for persons to put waste paper in.

An ordinance declaring what are communicable diseases dangerous to the public health and providing for the control of contagious diseases was introduced by Bronough, chairman of the committee on health and police.

The primary object of this ordinance is to prevent the spread of smallpox, which is becoming so prevalent here as to cause alarm, and the provisions of it are quite stringent. The city authorities have become weary of the constant stream of taking care of smallpox patients who flock into the city from all directions and spread contagion in their wake.

The ordinance names the following diseases as dangerous to the public health, and provides that they shall be immediately reported to the Health Commissioner: Smallpox, chicken-pox, bubonic plague, leprosy, cholera, membranous croup, typhoid, scarlet fever, measles, whooping-cough, erysipelas and typhoid fever.

It further provides that it shall be unlawful for any one affected with any disease dangerous to the public health to be admitted to any school, or for any parent or guardian to permit any child affected with any such disease to attend any school, or to be present in any public place or in any public conveyance.

The City Physician shall have power to quarantine for 14 days all persons who have been exposed to smallpox, or who are living in such houses where it has been exposed, and to vaccinate or revaccinate all who may have been so exposed.

In cases of death from any of the diseases named in the ordinance, no person except the undertaker or his assistants shall be permitted to enter the house containing the remains, except by permission of the City Physician.

Provision is made for disinfecting and fumigation of rooms in which there have been cases of communicable diseases, as soon as the City Physician or health officer may direct.

It shall also be unlawful for any person to enter or leave any building infected with any communicable disease, or to attend any meeting or place of amusement or travel in any public conveyance, or appear upon any street or highway without first procuring a certificate from the City Physician or Health Commissioner, and obeying absolutely their directions as to all sanitary precautions which shall be prescribed.

Section 2 makes it the duty of any physician or other person practicing the art of healing in this city to report to the Board of Health, in writing, within 24 hours after the discovery of any disease, attention, every patient he shall have affected with any disease dangerous to the public health, or any disease involving an eruption of the skin, or to report to the Board of Health every case of death from any such disease immediately after it shall have occurred.

Section 3 makes it the duty of every housekeeper, hotel-keeper, boarding-house keeper, or lodging-house proprietor in the city to report immediately in writing to the Board of Health the name of every person living in such house whom he or she may have reason to suspect or believe to be affected with any communicable disease dangerous to the public health, or any other disease involving an eruption or disorder of the skin.

A penalty for violating any of the provisions of this ordinance is provided by fine of from $10 to $20 or by imprisonment from 10 to 60 days.

It was the desire of the health and police committee to have the ordinance passed at once, as it is urgent need of such a law, but Mulkey suggested that another section be added, providing that in cases where persons, knowing themselves to be affected with an eruptive disease, come into the city, they shall be placed in the pesthouse, and when recovered shall be brought before the Municipal Court and punished by fine or imprisonment, and further ordered that the penalty in such cases by fine or imprisonment be made more severe.

On motion of Bronough the ordinance was referred to Mulkey for consideration and the section suggested by him, to report at the next meeting of the Council.

An ordinance granting a license to White, Hayden & Sherman to construct and maintain a sidewalk concrete foundation, gutters of vitrified brick and concrete curbs.

In East Couch and Tillamook avenue were filed. A communication from City Engineer Charles W. Moore, stating that new curbs on the streets running north and south along the Park blocks will cost about $600, and suggesting that the Board of Public Works be authorized to expend $1000 on Park block curbs and walks.

It would be desirable to have stone curbs, but it is useless so long as large poplar trees grow on the curb line.

On motion it was ordered that future regular meetings of the committee on streets to be held on Fridays at 2 P. M., and that the meetings of the health and police committee be held on Mondays.

A committee may be named to confer with the City Council, Board of Health and Board of Public Works in regard to the recent resolutions of the board. Means will be considered for compiling authoritative mining statistics of Oregon. Several changes will be made in the membership of the committee on streets.

The entire board will meet Monday evening. The question will be discussed of reconsidering the recent endorsement of the Vancouver petition for a wagon-way on the Columbia River railroad bridge.

A penalty for violating any of the provisions of this ordinance is provided by fine of from $10 to $20 or by imprisonment from 10 to 60 days.

It was the desire of the health and police committee to have the ordinance passed at once, as it is urgent need of such a law, but Mulkey suggested that another section be added, providing that in cases where persons, knowing themselves to be affected with an eruptive disease, come into the city, they shall be placed in the pesthouse, and when recovered shall be brought before the Municipal Court and punished by fine or imprisonment, and further ordered that the penalty in such cases by fine or imprisonment be made more severe.

FOR $26,000 DAMAGES

MARY A. STACKPOLE FILES SUIT AGAINST NORTHERN PACIFIC.

She Prays for This Amount for Injuries Said to Have Been Received in Accident.

Mary A. Stackpole, of Oregon, has commenced suit in the United States Court against the Northern Pacific Railway Company to recover $26,000 as damages for injuries received while a passenger on one of the trains of defendant.

She was traveling from Deer Lodge to Portland, when near Garrison, Mont., the train ran into a logging car standing on the track and plaintiff was thrown back upon some portion of the car and her back and spine severely injured, so that she has been confined to her bed ever since the accident, wherefore she prays for payment in the sum of $26,000 and costs and disbursements.

DAMAGE SUIT DISMISSED. Louis Rossanigo's Charge Against Rivaro Withdrawn From Court.

The suit of Louis Rossanigo against Ben Rivaro, for $6000 damages for alienating the affections of his wife, was dismissed by Judge Fraser yesterday on motion of the lawyer, plaintiff's attorney. The case was set for trial, and Mr. Vaughn asked for continuance for the term, stating that Rossanigo is sick in a hospital at Seattle and unable to attend.

John Banning, counsel for the defendant, objected unless costs amounting to $50 were paid. He stated that he had brought witnesses from out of town at considerable expense, and that the case would be carried over until the May term of court if the $50 was paid. Mr. Vaughn was not willing to put up this sum, and asked that the case be dismissed without prejudice.

Rossanigo formerly conducted a saloon in Portland, and Rivaro was his partner. In the complaint Rossanigo set up that his wife was induced to leave him by Rivaro.

TO SELL JAMES JOHN'S ESTATE. By His Will Proceeds Will Go to Building a School.

Robert Catlin, administrator of the estate of James Johns, deceased, yesterday petitioned the County Court for leave to sell property at St. Johns and in James Johns' first and second additions to St. Johns. James Johns died May 1, 1886, and left his property for school purposes. The will provides that the property be sold at the expiration of 15 years from the time of the death of the testator, and not more than 15 years thereafter. More than 15 years have now passed. The will also provides that a Judge of the United States District Court and a Judge of the State Circuit Court appoint trustees to handle the money, build the school, etc. A block of ground is set apart for the school, and the other property to be sold is valued at about $90,000.

SON SUED BY MOTHER. Mrs. Loring Wants to Build Four Cottages on His Property.

Fannie Loring yesterday filed a very unusual suit in the State Circuit Court against her son, David Loring, Jr., a minor, and her husband, Mrs. Loring having been appointed guardian of the property in Tibbetts' Addition, and also in Brook's Addition, and St. Paul, valued altogether at about $600. These were given to the boy by his grandmother, Sarah A. Bosworth. The property is unproductive, and Mrs. Loring has paid the taxes on it for a number of years past. She wants to erect four cottages on the Tibbetts Addition lots, and as trustee to borrow $200 in order to be able to do so. The court is asked to decree that she may execute a mortgage on the property.

ROBERT WAKEFIELD SUED. Owners of Kehani and Lincoln Want $1592 95 Damages.

O. W. Hooton and Herman Gerspach, owners of the steamer Kehani and the scow Lincoln, have commenced suit in the United States Court against Robert Wakefield, contractor and builder of a bridge across Lewis River, Washington, to recover $1592 95 on account of damages to said steamer and scow. It is alleged that in connection with the building of the bridge across Lewis River Wakefield drove a clump of 50 piles in the channel of the river, so that the tops were even with the surface of the water, and that the river rose about three feet, and the piles could not be seen, and that the steamer and scow ran upon said piles, and their hulls were broken through, and they were beached in a sinking condition.

REWARD IS WITHDRAWN. County Court Will Not Pay for Arrest and Conviction of Robbers.

The County Court yesterday made an order withdrawing the reward of $25 for the arrest and conviction of any person of the crime of robbery or burglary. The reward was offered in November, 1901, and since that time there has been paid out $725, and also $50 in the Wade and Dalton case. The $25 rewards were all earned by police detectives, except two cases, which were furnished by Mrs. Mollie Woodward, and she received the money.

In the Chamber of Commerce mortgage foreclosure suit, Judge Fraser yesterday fixed the fee of Williams, Wood & Lintthorpe's attorneys, at $600. They asked for $10,000.

A. C. Calef, R. N. Parks, Frank Anderson, William M. McGowan, Frank Pfuderer, Herman Lohr, Rasmus Jorgensen, Philip F. Buehke, and A. P. Christensen were admitted to citizenship by Judge Fraser yesterday.

In the case of Eugene Froesner against M. Epstein, Judge Cleland yesterday morning rendered a decision in favor of the defendant. This was a case where both parties claimed title to a piece of land in Caruthers' Addition, Froesner by falling heir, and Epstein by purchase at administrator's sale. The legality of this sale was questioned by Froesner, but Judge Cleland held that the objections were not well taken.

TO THROW OPEN ART LOAN Library Exhibition of American Paintings Free on Sundays.

The directors of the Portland Art Association have decided to throw open the loan exhibition of pictures by American artists, now on view at the Public Library, to the public free of charge, for the next two Sundays, between the hours of 2 and 5. A representative collection of American pictures is on exhibition, which have been secured from Portland art lovers whose purses permit them the luxury of possessing masterpieces, and the directors felt that there was, perhaps, a large part of Portland's population who would like to view them, but did not feel able to spend the money necessary.

It is understood that the plan for opening the exhibit for two Sundays is in a nature experimental. If it is found that there is a demand for a free view, the experiment will be continued and become a custom. There is no other exhibit of representative paintings in Portland, and the success of throwing galleries open to the public in other cities has moved the local association to try the plan.

MINING FIELD LIVELY. Coming of Spring Awakens the Baker City District.

"The Baker mining fields are very active just now," said A. H. Willett, president of the Copperopolis Company, yesterday. "Everything is busy with Springtime. Baker City is full of mining people, and there are many new men of means and enterprise from the East. I never before saw so much doing in the district. Carloads and carloads of mining machinery are arriving, and tons and tons are ready to be put into place as soon as the Spring opens more fully. The placers are exceedingly busy, and there is plenty of water. Two miners on Chicken Creek, in the Weatherby district, recently uncovered a pocket containing $200 in nuggets. The Summit, Weatherby and Quartzburg districts are especially active. At the Copperopolis all the new machinery is on hand, ready to be put into shapely form. Some three of the seven carloads of new hoisting machinery are on the ground."

Petitions for the construction of sewers

Portland, March 12—(To the Editor.) I read in The Oregonian today that the Wells-Fargo Company would celebrate the centennial of its formation on March 15. This reminds me that William Fargo, one of the founders, if not the founder of the company, a poor, ragged little white child, in my early boyhood was a companion and playmate of mine in the town of Pompey, in the State of New York. His parents were so poor that they were frequently assisted by their charitable neighbors. When I was on my way as one of the Senate committee to accompany the remains of Mr. Lincoln from Washington

"DAD'S GIRL." Shirley Company Gives Comedy-Drama at Cordray's. "Dad's Girl," a comedy-drama that is mostly drama, was given at Cordray's by the Shirley company last night, and made considerable of a hit with a good-sized house. The play tells of a long run of hard luck in which an innocent young girl plays, and concludes with her inevitable triumph. Miss Shirley did her usual artistic work as the girl; Harold Gilbert made a heavy and impressive Dad, and C. F. Halston threw in some comedy, which was appreciated. Ralston's pantomime specialty was unusually well done. The play tonight will be "The Two Orphans."
