

HOPES OF THE IRISH

St. Patrick's Day Address of Rev. Father O'Keefe.

FUTURE OF RACE DISCUSSED

Aspiration for National Life, He Says, is a High Ideal, Which Should Be Preserved With Ancient Traditions.

Several hundred Irishmen and men of Irish descent gathered at St. Mary's Cathedral, last night, and listened to an address by Rev. Father O'Keefe, of San Francisco, on the "Hopes and Fears of the Irish Nation."

Prefacing his remarks, Father O'Keefe spoke of the divine message imparted to Moses and of the subsequent wanderings of the Jews. The Jews are still a race, and he believed there was a disposition of Providence to watch over them even now.

The dispersion of a people from their country was a disaster that they had lost their primal strength. Nations were constructed by God for an especial purpose, and each nation had its mission.

Speaking of Ireland, Father O'Keefe said that it was a country that had or has its own peculiar complexion of civilization. If the elect among men were chosen by God to bear the sins of the people, to bear all sacrifices, that might be said of Erin.

The effort to bring Ireland into the utilitarian arena would destroy the specific genius of the people. He feared they would forget the ancient traditions and a people of vicariousness were never needed so much as at present. The Irish people had lifted their hands up in prayer 60 years. Great medals were in store for the races that had suffered so much.

The most conspicuous display of green was made by Julius Caesar, an old colored man, wearing a stunning green coat, green ribbons, and on his shillelagh, and a huge green pugaree around his stovepipe hat.

HONOR THEIR PATRON SAINT.

Celts and Sympathizers Display the Green—Severely Need Churches.

The people of Portland did not make any particular demonstration in celebration of St. Patrick's day yesterday. Quite a number of citizens, presumably of Celtic origin, sported knots of green ribbon and medals, and several girls wore knots of green and orange ribbons interspersed, and attracted no particular attention. It would have been the case some years ago.

LET THERE BE NO BOSS.

Leadership is One Thing, the Machine is Another.

PORTLAND, Or., March 17.—(To the Editor.)—By their action at the primaries on Saturday, voters in Portland and Multnomah County removed Senator Simon from the nomination, if not absolute control, of the Republican party in this city, and the state at large. At the same time they placed great responsibilities on others, who must now shape the destinies of the party. There must be leadership in politics, but there should not be bossism.

NOW A CLOSED INCIDENT.

Actor Nell and the Elks Settle Their Differences.

The following dispatch from Spokane indicates that Mr. Nell's difficulty with the Elks has become a closed incident. Actor James Nell, whose action in refusing to submit to what he regarded as a personal indignity at the hands of the negro team of the Spokane lodge of Elks, caused a widespread sensation in Elkhorn a few weeks ago, has acknowledged his error and has asked for the supreme clemency of the grand exalted ruler of the order.

FALLS ON THE BUMPERS

BRAKEMAN MCFADDEN'S EXCITING RIDE ON A TRAIN.

Lying on His Back in a Perilous Position, He is Carried Along Until Rescued at Turner.

Levant M. McFadden, a Southern Pacific brakeman, had a narrow escape from a terrible death Sunday afternoon. He fell between a boxcar and a flatcar loaded with plies, landing on his back. Balanced on the bumpers, in imminent risk of being dashed under the wheels, he remained in the perilous position during an exciting six-mile ride into Turner. When the train

J. C. CLAIR

President American Association of Traveling Passenger Agents.

J. C. Clair, who is president of the American Association of Traveling Passenger Agents, is the New England agent of the Illinois Central Railroad, and is located at Boston. T. F. Fitzgerald, of Los Angeles, is vice-president, and L. W. Landman, of Detroit, is secretary and treasurer. M. J. Roche, passenger agent of the Rio Grande in Portland, is district deputy of the association for the North Pacific Coast, and Malose J. Baker, the Colorado railroad representative in San Francisco, is deputy for the South Pacific Coast district. The American Association of Traveling Passenger Agents has a membership of 750, every one of whom is constantly in contact with the public; therefore it is an organization of great advertising power for any enterprise that draws support from the traveling public.

Last year's meeting of the association was held in Los Angeles. This year the annual convention will be held in Philadelphia, on a date not yet fixed. An attempt will be made to get next year's meeting in Portland, in the interest of the Lewis and Clark Celebration.

"We traveling passenger agents of the Pacific Coast, and particularly of the Pacific Northwest, will make a strong pull to get the association to come to Portland for its annual meeting next year," said District Deputy M. J. Roche yesterday. "And I can see no reason why we should not succeed. The delegates were certainly well treated when they came out to Los Angeles last year, and expressed themselves as more than pleased with Pacific Coast hospitality. Portland will do as well by them, I am sure, and we have as many attractions in the Pacific Northwest as Southern California can offer. To have these people out here in 1903 will give them a definite idea of the possibilities of the Lewis and Clark Celebration, which they can use to advantage in turning out in 1905. We do not want to wait till 1905 to have these traveling agents come here. We want them next year, in order that they may aid the fair by advertising it all over the country for two years. They may come in contact with the public, give advice as to routes of travel and places of interest to be visited, and disseminate information about the Lewis and Clark Celebration that will induce a great many people to come here. I believe we can get the association to come here next year. At any rate, we shall make the attempt, and we want all the help we can get from every source."

MR. FENTON'S OPINION.

Thinks Commissioner Showers Holds Over Two Years.

The opinion of Attorney W. D. Fenton as to the eligibility of County Commissioner Showers to hold over two years is as follows: "Portland, Or., March 14.—Referring to your request for my opinion as to whether or not you hold the office of County Commissioner until the general election in 1904, or whether or not your term of office expires on the first Monday of July next, I have examined the question with some care, and I am of the opinion that your term expires the first Monday of July, 1904, and that the act of October 15, 1888, creating a separate board for the transaction of county business, under which act you were elected a County Commissioner for the term of four years from the first Monday in July, 1900, although repealed by the act of March 1, 1901, created the office of County Commissioner, and for four years' term, which has been served by the act of March 1, 1901. By section 2 of the last-mentioned act it is expressly provided that William Showers should hold the office of County Commissioner until the first Monday of July, 1904, and until his successor is elected and qualified."

"There is nothing in the opinion of the Supreme court in the case of the State ex. Coker vs. Coker, which was decided July last, that in any wise affects the tenure of your office. On the contrary, that decision expressly recognizes the power of the Legislature to create a four years' term, and to provide that a person elected for that term may hold for that time under the provisions of our constitution."

"State vs. Ware, 13 Or., 380. "State vs. Johns, 23 Or., 353. "Baker vs. Payne, 23 Or., 353. "These were cases decided by the Governor had appointed where a vacancy had occurred, and it was merely held that where there was a vacancy in a term, and the appointed person held for the unexpired term whatever that term might be or would hold for the unexpired term, unless cut off by a provision in the act creating the office, by which the appointee could be ousted, and a successor elected."

ROSE BOOM GROWING.

Plan to Beautify Lewis and Clark Centennial Grounds.

At a meeting of the Portland Rose Society, in the rooms of the Permanent Exhibition, yesterday, much gratification was expressed at the way the citizens are taking hold of the plan of making Portland a rose city. The report of the secretary shows that almost 100 have identified themselves with the movement since the last report.

The following resolution was adopted: Resolved, That the Rose Society, in executive session, urgently recommends to the Lewis and Clark Centennial committee that, before the final choice of location for the fair be decided upon, some landscape architect, and, if possible, one of National reputation, be engaged to help locate, without reference to any real estate or personal interests, the grounds most suitable, most picturesque, and that will harmonize with the beautiful surroundings of our city, and that can, if possible, be incorporated in our park system. Realizing that beautifying the grounds, in planting of roses and other flowers and shrubs, we believe that that policy that spends vast sums in temporary attractions is better than to make it possible, a permanent exhibit, and an attractive spot for all.

Membership cards were ordered printed. It is thought that the citizens of the city of the article written some time ago by Fred V. Holman, regarding roses, and the address read by Mr. Gibson last Thursday night, extensively circulated.

8 CAR LOADS

Pianos and Organs

Allen & Gilbert Co.

Successors to The Willey B. Allen Co.

209-211 FIRST STREET, PORTLAND, OR.

Of pianos and organs received in the past eight days. One car of Fletcher organs, one car of Schiller pianos, one car of Packard pianos, one car of Hardman pianos, one car of Knabe pianos, one car of Hamilton pianos, one car of Estey organs, one car of Chicago Cottage organs.

This in itself ought to be convincing proof that we are, as we claim to be, the largest music dealers in the Northwest, and no firm in America carries as large a line of high-grade pianos and organs as we do. Our easy payment plan is very popular with the people, and accounts in part for the very large trade we enjoy.
