BAKER CITY, Or., March 21.-C. A. Johns, of this city, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Governor, making the following state-

Much has been said and written as to m eing a candidate for Governor. Any published tatements as to my objects, motives or inten-tons are unauthorised, misleading and decep-ive. I expect to be a candidate for Governor in the next state convention. My name must not be used for or against the interests of Mr. Purnish, Governor Geer or any other person. No triend of mine will make or publish any such statement. I have not made any promise or pledge, and will not make any promise or pledge which, in the event of success, would in the least compromise my official integrity. I will be nominated or defeated like a gentleman. I want this nomination, and have faith that I shall get it.

The candidacy of Mr. Johns adds new interest to the Republican primaries to be held throughout Baker County tomorrow. Until today it was believed the contest would be confined to the struggle of the Moody and Williamson forces for the con-trol of the Congressional delegation from this county, but the announcement of Mr. Johns changes the situation materially A strong delegation of the friends of W Furnish, from Pendleton, appeared on the scene this evening to work for him at the primaries. It is confidently pre-dicted, however, that the delegation to the state convention from this county will be instructed for Mr. Johns.

Whitney Carries Linn Primaries ALBANY Or., March 21.—The Republican county primaries were held in this county this afternoon. While there was some contest on the delegations for coun-ty offices, principally for Clerk and Sher-iff, the main issue was over the candidacies of J. R. Whitney for State Printer and J. R. N. Blackburn for Attorney-General, it being understood that the county cannot ask for nominations for both offices at the state convention. The returns indicate a strong delegation for Whitney for State Printer. For Governor It is believed the delegates will favor the renomination of Governor Geer.

Another portion of the verdict is as fol-ows: "We further recommend that, in cases of this serious nature, medical as-sistance should be secured as quickly as possible, irrespective of the company

BAKER CITY, Or., March 21.-Mrs. Waiter Bettencourt, who is wanted here on a charge of grand larceny, has been located at Salt Lake. About three weeks ago, Mrs. Bettencourt obtained employment at Hower's photograph gallery, in this city, where she remained two days, when she and her husband suddenly left the city. Soon after Mrs. Bettencourt disappeared, Mrs. Hower found that a lot of jeweiry, tollet articles and clothing to the value of $290, was missing from her residence, which adjoins the gallery. A iady who lives across the street from the gallery had seen Mrs. Bettencourt leave the gallery by a side door several times during the two days she worked there, and each time she carried a bundle. FRUIT OUTLOOK GOOD Continued Cold Rains Have Kept Sap

From Starting. County, says that conditions are now very promising for a good fruit crop this season. He says the continued cold rains have kept the trees back so that the sap did not start early. This lessens the chance of damage by heavy freezing. The trees will not begin to blossom until about April 1, and in view of the long spell of rainy weather it is reasonable to expect that there will be fair weather during the blossoming season. Mr. Shep-ard says that cold rains while the trees are in blossom are likely to injure the crop, but with one week of fair weather

Local nurserymen are just filling the last of their orders for Spring delivery. They say that there has been a larger demand for fruit trees this year than there has been before in 10 years. The demand comes from all parts of the Northwest, and not from particular io-calities, as has usually been the case, calities, as has usually been the case. DECISION ON ASSESSMENTS FOR DRAINAGE IMPROVEMENTS.

Supreme Court Holds All Moneys From Sales of School Lands Must Go to That Fund.

OLYMPIA, Wash., March II .- The Supreme Court, in a decision today, declares unconstitutional section 8 of the 1856 law relating to the collection of assessments in ditch or drainage improvement districts. The section declared unconstitutional provides that the county in which the improvement is made shall pay the assessment apportioned against school lands out of its general fund, and have a lien on the proceeds of the sale of such lands, from which the county is to be

This was one of the terms which the master plumbers and the Employers' Association have insisted upon from the opening of the negotiations. Another condition of the settlement is that the men are to receive material concessions. the men are to receive material concessions from their employers. One of these will be the increase in their wage scale from $4.50 to $5 a day, which they originally demanded, and upon which they have insisted throughout.

holds the section in question in conflict with section 5, article 6, of the constitution. This decision is of especial interest ship for violation of section 10 of the act tion. This decision is of especial interest because of the fact that the section under mention was incorporated in the law of 186 to cure a defect that had previously had the effect of declaring the law unconstitutional.

First Execution Under New Law. What will probably be the first execution under the law compelling the hang-ing of murderers at the State Penilentiary will be that of Alfred Hamilton, for kill ling D. M. Woodbury, at Anacortee, September 7, 1889. The Supreme Court recently affirmed the judgment of the lower court, which found Hamilton guilty of murder in the first degree. Hamilton is now confined in the King County Jail, as the Steet Courty is not considered. the Skagit County jail is not considered secure. According to the reckoning of the authorities of Skagit County, the execution of Hamilton should take place by May 1. The remittitus should be received from the Supreme Court within a day or two. As Hamilton is a dangerous man, it is thought not much longer than the low-SALEM, March 21.—J. R. Oyater Beds a Lively Place Now. The oyster-tonging season began March 15, and the seed beds in this section pr sent a lively scene as a result. It is said seed beds on the state reserves in both North Bay and Hood's Canal were severely injured by the recent cold snap. The narrows in Mason County will probably receive the most attention from men desiring seed, as they are reported less are now selling for $4 and $4.25 a sack, and the demand is good, the shippers having a market for all the bivalves obtainable. The cold spell caught many of the beds exposed by low tides, and the loss to the cold spell caught many of the beds exposed by low tides, and the loss to the cold spell caught many of the beds exposed by low tides, and the loss to the cold spell therefore be considerato oystermen will therefore be considera-ble in the aggregate.

Cedar Prices Worry Millmen. The high price at which cedar logs fre held in this section is beginning to worry shingle manufacturers. On lower Puget Sound cedar has recently brought $12 and even $12 50 a thousand, and in some instances shinglemen have been compelled to go to British Columbia to get timber to supply the demand. This is the highest price ever paid for cedar on Puget Sound, and it is due to the fact that that class of timber is exceedingly scarce. The class of timber is exceedingly scarce. The demand for shingles in the East was never better, and the various mills find it impossible to fill all the orders they could get. A man owning a few acres of cedar available to water or rail transportation just at this time is insured of a small-sized fortune.

BASE LINE OF MINING CLAIMS. Important Decision of Gold Commissioner at Dawson.

Late advices from Dawson contain the decision of an important case in the Gold Commissioner's office, involving the question of what shall be the base line in creeks where there are many twists and turns, or where the banks are anything but even and in one general direction. The gist of the decision is that a point should be taken and designated the center of the stream, and the center of the creek claim then be made a line drawn parallel to the base line of the Late advices from Dawson contain the of the creek than their be more a start of the creek through the given point. This decision establishes a precedent in this respect and will enable all to determine how to form the base line of adjoining hill or bench claims, as well as of the creek claims. The decision will affect a creek claims. The decision will affect a large number of claims in the territory, Frank C. Whalbey, in writing from the Koyukuk country, expresses the opinion that the resources of the section have been overestimated outside, and that it may bring in a crowd who will be disap pointed. He says his diggings did not come up to what was expected last year, and there has been nothing new found. He fails to see anything in the country to justify a stampede, and alleges that al the reports sent out to encourage limin-gration have been made by saloon-keep-ers and townsite boomers.

Gentlemen: I wish to let you know of the good that Warner's Safe Cure and War-r's Safe Pills have done for me. Gentlemen; I wish to let you know of the good that Warner's Safe Cure and Warner's Safe Pilis have done for me.

Last Spring I was stricken with what the doctors pronounced liver and kidney disease, and lay in an semi-conscious state and my death was expected at any moment. Two doctors gave me up, told my family I could not live the day out. My feet, legs and whole body were fearfully swollen, and I was so lame and sore all over that to move in bed almost took my life. I gasped for breath, and my heart's action was so unnatural as to cause serious alarm. After I had been given up to die by two doctors, my family, knowing that Warner's Safe Cure and a box of pilis, and when I was at the point of death and my clothez all waiting to dress me for my last resting place, they began to give me Warner's Safe Cure and a box of pilis, and when I was at the point of death and my clothez all waiting to dress me for my last resting place, they began to give me Warner's Safe Cure. I took it every hour or two through the night, and at the turn of this same night the kidneys began to act and the swellings gradually subsided. The rever abated, my lameness improved and last, of all, my breath became natural. I was drenched with perspiration.

The whole story, told briefly, is simply this

From lying at death's door, bloated from head to foot, panting for breath like a dog, after a long chase, heart beating two beats and skipping two or, so faint could hardly hear it, pulse a great deal over one hundred, and a stupor that could not be controlled, this was my condition when I took Warner's Safe Cure, and I can only say that it saved my life, and that is all that is claimed for it.

The doctors called my disease hardening of the kidneys, and it must be quite a surprise to the doctors to learn that I'm doing my housework. Feeling it a duty I swe to you to write of my wonderful cure, I am, yours truthfully, (Mrs.) A. M. LELAND, Muscongus, Maine. January 1, 1902.

TEST YOUR KIDNEYS. If any one in your family has ever had kidney or biadder disease, make this simple test and find out if your are afflicted. Put some morning urine in a glass or bottle, let it stand for twenty-four hours; if there is a reddish sediment in the bottom of the glass, or if the urine is cloudy or milky, or if you see particles or germs floating about in it, your kidneys are diseased and you should lose no time but get a bottle of Warner's Safe Cure, as it is dangerous to neglect your kidneys for even one day. Bright's disease, gravel. Ilver complaint, pains in the back, rheumatism, rheumatic gout, inflammation of bladder, stone in the bladder, uric acid poisoning, dropsy, eczema, scrofula, blood disease, offensive odor from sweating, 'so-called 'female weakness,' painful periods, too frequent desire to urinte and painful passing of urine are all esused by diseased kidneys, and can be speedily cured by Warner's Safe Cure, which has been prescribed by leading doctors for 25 years, and used in all prominent hospitals exclusively. It heals the kidneys and kills the disease germs.

Warner's Safe Cure is purely vegetable and contains no harmful drugs; it does not constipate; it is a most valuable and effective tonic, it is a stimulant to digestion, and awakens the torpid liver, putting the patient into the very best receptive state for the work of the restorer of the kidneys.
