

RIVER SPORTS REVIVE

PORTLAND ROWING CLUB PLANS SUMMER CAMPAIGN.

Crews Will Be Trained for Regattas—Olympics May Come North—Aquatics for World's Fairs.

With the return of Spring, lovers of the water begin to think of rowing and paddling, and well they may, for Portland has one of the most beautiful bits of river scenery to be found in the country.

To the more sturdy oarsman, who does not mind a five- or six-mile pull, the upper river has an irresistible charm, with high, rugged banks on the west shore, with here and there a villa nestling in some pretty nook.

Word has come from British Columbia that the crews there are busy getting in shape for the annual regatta at Nelson, but as yet no crews, as such, are on the water here, and it is not the policy of the racing committee to get them out too soon, as they have had, the past few years, too long a training season, and crews become stale before the start of the races.

The officials are also in correspondence with the Olympic Club, of San Francisco, with a view to having a regatta here, and anxious to meet all comers on the coast. It is just possible that a meeting can be arranged.

The second senior crew will possibly be formed early in April. For stroke there is a considerable rivalry, with Jack Newman, of last year's crew, a favorite. Newman is heavier than last year, and if not overtrained will put up a great race. He is one of the pluckiest men in the club, is cool and has good judgment.

As a National regatta will no doubt be held here during the Lewis and Clark fair, new and promising material will be eagerly welcomed in the club, and it is given, the best possible training. By his means it is hoped that in 1902 several crews of undoubted ability will be in the field, and the club will be in a position to challenge the best crews of the Eastern points in the United States.

St. Louis in 1901 is now the word at the club, and as soon as the season opens all surplus effort will be used to get a crew in shape for this event. No trouble is expected by the officials in financing this, as all members endeavor to see the club well represented at that event.

Houseboating is becoming quite popular. It is reported that Fred Morris will sell his houseboat and build a larger one more suited to his generous hospitality. Luder and Stowell are also looking around to see what can be done in this line, as their experience last year has whetted their appetite for more. Luder is corresponding with Army officials in Havana as to the means of forming a club of houseboaters. The Phi Delta Phi Society, of the University of Oregon, have purchased a large houseboat, which will be moored up for the summer and used for their headquarters.

R. C. Hart last week sent quite an order for Peterborough, and the club members were very pleased. The club now has about 30 canoes at the house, and as canoeing is as popular as rowing, they will be in the hands of the season. The canoes are cheap, strong, and last for years. They are the "day man's craft," as there is less effort in propelling them than in oars, and great distances can be covered with less fatigue.

The prospect for a busy season on the river is better than ever before, and will tax the capacity of the Portland Rowing Club to the limit to keep pace.

PROSPECTS FOR THE NINE.

Baseball Cranks Believe Vignaux has Strengthened His Team.

How strong will the Portland baseball team be this year? This question is causing no little speculation among Portland fans and baseball enthusiasts just now.

The new men signed are Van Buren, catcher; Hupp, third base; Anderson, second base; Vignaux, pitcher; Joe Mahaffey, and Witbeck, pitchers. These four men come with the highest recommendations. Van Buren played last season for several years, and Witbeck is a favorite of "Doc" Peters, president of the New York State league. Peters knows a good ball-player when he sees him, and it is the general opinion that he has made no mistake in signing Witbeck. Vignaux has received applications from more than 100 ball-players, and his selections have been made only after the most thorough consideration and investigation. The team ought to be as strong as last season's in fielding, and they should be harder hitters.

The players will report for duty April 1, and the season will commence before long.

outfield by signing George McLaughlin, the noted Sacramento center fielder.

The baseball men of Stanford and the University of California are now training for their annual series of games, the first of which will be played early in April.

Manager Dugdale, of the Seattle baseball team, recently gave out the following interview to the Tacoma Ledger: "There never was a minor league organized which had a brighter future before it than the Pacific Northwest League has today. We are known all over the United States, in baseball circles, as one of the strongest and best minor leagues in existence, and in President W. H. Lucas we have a man at the head of affairs who is known throughout the baseball world, and whose very name is a guaranty of good faith and of success. Applications to get in our team from ball-players all over the United States who are anxious to get in this league. There is no dearth of players. The idea is to pick the best ones.

There is only one rock before this league which it possibly might strike and which would mar its future. This is the

ENGLISH FANCIER WHO WILL ACT AS JUDGE AT PORTLAND DOG SHOW.

FRED MANSELL, OF LONDON, ENGLAND.

Fred Mansell, the noted English dog fancier, who will act as judge at the bench show of the Portland Kennel Club next month, is well qualified for the position, and his awards will certainly meet with satisfaction. Mr. Mansell is coming to America to judge the Boston dog show, and has accepted the invitation of the Portland Club to cross the continent and attend the local exhibition in an official capacity.

salary limit. I am for the success of the league, just as I am for the success of Seattle. Equally balanced teams are the life of baseball. Our salary limit of $1000 per month for each club is our safeguard to secure equally balanced teams, and, further, with our league population no team can pay more than $100 per month and come out anywhere but at the little end of the horn financially at the close of the season. The salary limit was fixed by the National Association, composed of men who earn their living in baseball. They know, relatively, how much in proportion to its population a club can pay salaries and pay its expenses. Our league is credited with a total combined population of about 40,000 in the several cities, and this places us in class B, with a salary limit of $1000 per month for each club.

Mr. Baker, of Tacoma, and myself agree with President Lucas and the other clubs that this law must be enforced, and it is going to be enforced. Our laws now give the president the right to examine at will all books, accounts and records of the club, and he will find out offenders, should there happen to be any, and we hope there won't be. I do not believe that the presidents of any of the six clubs will permit their managers to disregard this law.

"I was glad to see Tacoma get Andrews for a manager. He is the kind of a man we want to get out here in this league. An incompetent manager can wreck his own club and cause much trouble, and it is for the good of the league that I am pleased at Tacoma's success in securing this young man, who is honest, fair and upright, as well as a 1000 ball player and team manager.

BOXERS READY FOR GO.

Thurston and Donovan in Good Training for Wednesday's Match.

The boxing contest between Mike Donovan and "Dutch" Thurston, which occurs at the Exposition, and has high evening, gives every promise of being a rattling good bout. Both men are confident of victory, and are training with it in mind to insure a fine contest. Donovan and Thurston have never met before, and their respective friends say that the go will be the best ever witnessed in Portland. Considerable betting is being indulged in, even money being taken. The sporting fraternity is very enthusiastic over the match, and a good attendance Wednesday night is assured.

Jack Riley, a younger brother of Tom Riley, and Jim Duff, the Albina champion, will appear in the preliminary. Jack Grant will referee the main event.

Billy Lavigne, Donovan's manager, will arrive from Oakland, Cal., this morning. Lavigne thinks that the Donovan-Thurston contest will be the best ever seen in Portland. He will endeavor to match the winner of the bout with Al Nell. The Pastime Club is anxious for the same card, and will make an effort to secure it for April.

"Mysterious Billy" Smith has returned from Kansas City, where he was defeated by Tommy Ryan, March 13.

NATIONAL PIGEON SHOOT

PREPARATIONS FOR THE GREAT AMERICAN HANDICAP.

There Will Be Four Hundred Contestants at the Kansas City Meet—Other Sporting News.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 23.—The work of preparing Blue River Park for the grand American handicap, which is to take place here from March 21 to April 5, is all but completed. Manager Elmer Shaner says that the park, as remodelled, is not greatly inferior to Elkwood Park, N. J., and Interstate Park, Long Island. The clubhouse will easily accommodate the 400 shooters, and the grounds will make 2000 spectators comfortable. Seventeen thousand pigeons are Spectators Howled at Result of the Smith-Ryan Contest.

The following account of the recent Ryan-Smith glove contest is taken from the Kansas City Star: "The static battle between Tommy Ryan and 'Mysterious Billy' Smith at Turner Hall last night was a sore disappointment to the patrons of the boxing who witnessed the short but spirited contest. The battle was scheduled to go 10 rounds, but Smith went down in the fourth from a double blow from Ryan's right, and referee Owen Parry had no trouble in counting off the fatal 10. The count was unnecessary, however, as one of Billy's seconds had already thrown up the sponges in token of defeat, and this premature act of his equire is what gave the finish a suspicious look and caused a general howl of 'fake' to go up from the body of the house.

CHARLESTON WANTS IT. Exposition Makes a Bid for the Jeffries-Fitzsimmons Fight.

CHARLESTON, S. C., March 23.—J. C. Jaudon wired Harry Beecher, sporting editor of the New York American and Journal, today, offering a guaranteed purse of $25,000 in cash or 75 per cent of the gross gate receipts to have the 20-round glove contest between Jeffries and Fitzsimmons, May 15, pulled off on the grounds of the South Carolina Exposition here. If the offer is accepted, an arena with a capacity of 20,000 people will be erected at once.

Spring Meet at Little Rock. LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 23.—The Arkansas Jockey Club's annual Spring meeting will open tomorrow. All interest centers in the 1000 horse race, which will bring out several high-class 3-year-olds. With nine probable and at least six sure starters, it is almost certain to prove a good race. The other feature of the Flora Pomona and Lingo—are expected to prove important factors in the race. Huntressa wintered here, and is said to be the most successful of the track. She belongs to Wade McLemore, who raced at St. Louis last season. Huntressa is a chestnut filly by Pirate of Penance. Flora Pomona will carry the Schorr colors. She is owned by John Schorr, of Memphis, Senator J. S. O'Brien, of Minnesota, and President W. E. Schulte, of the Louisville Jockey Club. Mr. Schult bred her. Lingo is a seasoned horse from New Orleans. Herodinde, G. C. Bennett's candidate for the derby, has arrived from Memphis. Sam Hildreth changed his mind at the last moment about starting McChow here. If Hildreth is represented in the race his colors will be carried by Lucien Appleby, a chestnut colt by St. George Levee. The entries and weights for the derby follow:

Hainault 10; Prowl and St. Tammany, 10 (coupled); Huntressa, Herodinde, Flora Pomona, 11; Lingo, 10; Florrie B., 8.

Colleges Adopt League Rules.

CHICAGO, March 23.—Last year's Amateur rules will be adopted by the leading Western universities in their baseball games this year, and Joe Cantillon, the ex-American League umpire, will probably officiate at college games. The points came out today as the result of an interview between Director George Huff, of Illinois, and Director Stage, at the University of Chicago. When the question of playing rules came up for consideration both the college magnates agreed that the American League rules of last year, which were the last of the kind, should be used. Huff stated that Jack Hollister, of Beloit, was in favor of the old rules, and that Wisconsin also had no desire for complicated innovations. Stage stated that Manager Baird, of Michigan, and Dr. Hollister, of Northwestern, had informed him that they favored the American League rules for 1902. As a sentiment was practically unanimous, the question was easily settled.

Ellensburg Baseball Association.

ELLENSBURG, Wash., March 23.—The Ellensburg Baseball Association has just been organized, and a plot of ground 450 feet square has been leased, and is being fenced and put in good condition. Games are already scheduled as follows: Six with Reolyn, six with Yakima, three with Walla Walla, three with the Tacoma Grays, and three with Ritzville. Sixteen players have already been secured for the season.

Crack Horses Break Down.

MEMPHIS, March 23.—Charles W. Meyer, Schorr's crack 3-year-old, and Sarner, a 4-year-old of the same stable, broke down this morning in their preliminary work for 1902. As a result the injuries to the two horses are of such a nature that no other effort will be made to train them for a match.

Training Season Begins.

EUGENE, Or., March 23.—The track athletes of the University of Oregon will begin outdoor work tomorrow, under the direction of Trainer C. A. Redmond and Captain C. A. Payne.

Chief of Sons of Confederate Veterans MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 23.—A strong movement has been set on foot in this city to secure the appointment of Rev. Thomas Gaylor, Episcopal bishop of Tennessee, as next commander-in-chief of the United Sons of Confederate Veterans. The N. B. Forrest Camp, of Memphis, has unambiguously endorsed him for the position, and a committee consisting of the most prominent and influential Sons of Veterans in the South called on the bishop and

The fight was fast and furious from start to finish, and Ryan's superior condition and aggressive tactics early indicated that Smith was up against a real contender. The end was so sudden and unexpected, however, that very few saw where the knock-out blow landed, and when Smith went down even those who occupied seats on the stage directly around the ring did not think he had been hit hard enough to settle the fight. He made an effort to rise, but, after getting on all fours, he rolled over on his back in a rather awkward fashion. Whether he was really out or not will never be known for a certainty, but from the groggy and staggering condition that he assumed in the after being lifted to his feet inclined the close observer to the belief that he was really in distress, and that Ryan's double right-hand blow to the head and chest had been more severe than they looked to be. Smith had been down once before in the fourth round, as the result of a hard left to the jaw which caught him off his balance and caused him to slip on the floor. It was a good, stiff blow, but he was up on one knee in a few seconds and took his time to get up, watching Ryan warily as he did so. He was again down again before he could steady himself to avoid the expected rap."

LOS ANGELES, March 23.—There is some talk today of the local promoters opening negotiations with Denver Ed Martin, the colored pugilist, looking to his meeting in London, which is to take place the first week in May.
