Bleeding Was Practiced

For nearly all com-plaints no longer than 100 years ago. Even to the present day bleeding is not un-known, but it is of another kind. A firm another kind. A firm having a very large patronage is always in better position to make lower prices than most individuals would be able to do. The man with a limited dental practice must make his fees from a few patrons, while the large dencerns, that draw on a larger field, are in position to divide with you. Do you note the significance?

A Confusion in Identity

Some time ago some piano dealers occupying a room in the same building made it necessary for us to disclaim all connection with them. Owing to their lack of room we have from time to time allowed them to leave a few plane boxes on the sidewalk, near the rear entrance to our wareroome on Park street. They have magnified this act of couriesy into the impression that they are occupying the entire building. We value too highly the importance and dignity of our business to have it imagined any longer that the Eliers Piano Company is in any way connected with us. Therefore this statement.

SALEM. March 26.-The Republicans of Marion County today nominated the foregoing candidates to be voted for at the June election. The delegation to the state convention was instructed to use all honorable means to secure the renomination of Governor Geer and Chief Justice Bean. The Congressional delegates were in-structed for Congressman Tongue. The candidates for county offices were selected without any previous agreement in caucus, except that the leaders had in a measure agreed upon men they would support for places on the Legislative ticket. It was expected that W. H. Hobson, of Stayton, would be nominated for Senator, and the result in that respect was a surprise to many.

The convention was in the control of the friends of Governor Geer, but in no sense was it in the control of the leaders to the extent that any action could be taken for the mere purpose of subserving Geer's interests.

The vote by which the delegates defeated the motion to elect delegates to the state convention by the unit plan, was the test of Governor Geer's courted of the the test of Governor Geer's control of the convention, aside from his right to the state delegates. In making the motion for the adoption of the unit plan, George G. Bingham stated that there had been some talk of an attempt to send a divided delegaion to the state convention. In order to make certain that this should be done he proposed that a committee of five be this committee confer with the Governor before making the selection. denounced as an attempt at the introduction of bossism, and on a vote being taken the motion was defeated by a vote of 130 to 112. The defeat of the motion did not indicate a desire to deny Geer a solid delegation, but was a flat refusal to concur in a measure which the Geer leaders desired to adopt in order to strength-en Geer's representation in the state con-In brief the decision was that Governor Geer must take what the con-vention gave him, and not what he might be pleased to ask.

Delegates to state convention meetings were elected as follows:

LINES NOT CLOSELY DRAWN.

Both Anti-Simon and Simon Men Are on Legislative Ticket.

SALEM, March 26.-The contest ! tween Lot L. Pearce (Geer) and H. A. Snyder (anti-Geer), for temporary chair-man, did not show a line-up on either the Scnatorial or Gubernatorial questions, The vote was to a great extent the coun-try precincts against the town precincts, with Pearce getting many country votes because of his large acquaintance. That the Senatorial lines were not closely drawn is manifest from the fact that Cro isan, a friend of Simon, and Alec Lafol-lett, a pronounced anti-Simon man, are both on the Legislative slate. So far as can be learned, none of the men on the ticket have made known their Senatorial preference, except so far as heretofore indicated. Looney, an anti-Simon man, was defeated for a place on the Legislative ticket as also W. H. Hobson, who has been identified with the Simon wing of the party. Davey has expressed himself as conceed to Simon but his warder. self as opposed to Simon, but his preference otherwise is not known. The defeat of Hobson and the nomination of Croisan leads to the conclusion that the latter re ceived many votes from the Geer people, who are not primarily friendly to Simon, but who appreciate the efforts Croisan has put forth in the interests of Governor Geer. The names of Farrar, Kay, Simmons and Judd bave never been heard in connection with the Simon fight. Leaders of the anti-Simon forces expressed themselves tonight as well pleased with the

The convention was an interesting one throughout. Though it was exciting at times, because of close contests, there was no bitterness until the report of the committee on apportionment of state delegates among the precincts had been adopted. By throwing uncertain precincts adopted. By throwing uncertain precincts, into districts with strong Geer precincts, the delegates who might have anti-Geer inclinations were prevented from sending unsatisfactory delegates to the state convention. Thus Sublimity precinct, in the southeastern part of the county, was united with Salem No. 2, where employes of sfate institutions had been colonized, and was prevented from expressing its choice for a state delegate. Eikhorn, far back in the mountains, was united with Woodburn, in the north end of the county. This plan was followed wherever CECIL RHODES DEAD deemed advisable. The delegates who had thus been "squelched" were bitter in had thus been "squelched" were bitter in denouncing what they called "gerryman, dering," and one member of the conven-tion attempted to amend the report of delegates selected. His amendment falled. The following persons were named for places on the Representative ticket: W. C. Hubbard, Charles Sappington, Frank Davey, W. M. Hilleary, Alec Thompson, A. N. Moores, T. B. Kay, J. S. Ritchie, E. T. Judd, A. M. La Foliett, J. M. Poor-man, Jerome D. Simmons, P. M. Lath-rop.

Except that he was more irritable and more dictatorial, there was no outward change in his method of handling men. Toward the social side of life, however, he soured visibly. SCORES THE PAPERS. Funsion Says They Misrepresented His Remarks.

TOPEKA, Kan., March 26.-General

Frederick Funston was in this city today on his way to California, General Fun-ston delivered himself of a scathing denunciation of the Eastern newspapers which criticised his speech before the Lo-tus Club in New York. He said: "I have been nagged by that class of papers until I am tired. Editorially, they willfully misinterpret my remarks, and am glad to express my independence o opinions and their talk, and that of their kind, about my using disho and unfair means in the capture of Aguinaldo; also that I violated the articles of war. They know a great deal more about the articles of golf than they do about the articles of war. Everything is permissible in a campaign except the use of poison or the violation of a flag of truce. As a matter of fact, only four of my men in the expedition were dressed in the insurgent uniform. The others were dressed as Filipino peasants.

"President Roosevelt approved heartily of my remarks at the Lotus Club banquet, and was very anxious to have me go to Boston on the invitation of Senator Lodge and make the same speech there, but my orders were such that it was im-possible for me to go."
