man who will lead us to victory."

C. A. Johns, whose candidacy for Governor was active up to yesterday morning, was among the most eloquent of those who seconded Mr. Furnish's nom-ination. He spoke of his own campaign, of his abandoning of the fight and of his loyalty to Eastern Oregon, a loyalty which called him before the convention in behalf of W. J. Furnieh, a man he had known for 14 years and for whose energy and integrity he had the highest Eddy, of Tillamook In nominating Mr. Ankeny W. I. Vawter, of Jackson County, said that princi-ples and not men were involved. He would name, he said, a man of the pioneer class, a leading miner of Southern Ore-gon, and a man possessing great agricul-tural interests in the eastern part of the state. He spoke of Mr. Ankeny's work in upbuilding the state, and assured the convention that Mr. Ankeny was deserving of consideration at its hands.

The vote was taken by ballot, a vote was taken by ballot, and resulted as follows:

On motion of Mr. Ankeny, seconded by Ford of Marion, and delegates from vari-ous other counties which had cast their votes for Ankeny, the nomination was made unanimous. Mr. Furnish was called for and made a brief address.

Mr. Furnish, with a deathly palor over-spreading his face, instead of the flush of cictory, came to the platform amid cheers that shook the building. His speech was brief. "Gentlemen," he said, "I hardly know how to thank you for the honor you have conferred upon me. I can only say that if elected, and I shall be, I will give you a clear-cut business-like admin istration, and I promise that I will conduct a campaign which shall terminate in victory. I am a man of action and not of words, and will say no more. Gen-tlemen, I thank you."

Duniway was called for from every part of the hall. He responded in an eloquent declaration of his loyalty to Republican principles, and to the ticket the Republicane had named. He said:

"Gentlemen: Three times I have known the bitterness of defeat in candidacy for a nomination at the hands of a Republican convention and never have I known the sweets of victory. But Republicanism is bred in my bones, and defeat will not shake my adherence to my party. You cannot throw me down often enough nor hard enough to make me desert my party. It is my hope that the result of the elec-tion in June shall be such that the wires will carry to every part of this great country the news that Oregon has been awake to her opportunities and her responsibilities, and has jed the other states by the adoption of a resolution the state

NOMINEE FOR GOVERNOR. Biographical Sketch of W. J. Furnish, of Umatilla. William J. Furnish was born in Ran-olph County, Missouri, August 16, 1862, and came to Oregon in 1866. His father sisting of a widow and two small children, came on to Dallas, where they remained until 1870, when they located at Pendleton, Here young Furnish grew to manhood. He worked energetically in various em-ployments, and at the same time pursued a course in the public schools, and fin-lshed his studies at Arnold's Academy. In 1882 he came to this city, where he completed a course in the Portland Busiress College. He remanted here for three years as bookkeeper in a mercantile establishment. Returning to Pendieton, he engaged him-self in the livestock and wool commission business, and in 1890 was elected by the Democrats as Sheriff of Umatilla County. He was re-elected in 1832, and performed the duties of the office in a most satisfactory manner. In 1834 he became cashler of the Pendieton Savings Bank, which had closed its doors during the hard times, and by the hardest kind of labor succeed ed in building up one of the strongest financial institutions in Eastern Oregon. Two years ago he was promoted from cashier to president of the bank. In 1896 Mr. Furnish left the Democratic party when the free-silver issue threatened the safety of the Nation. He was one of the McKinley Electors in 1900. He owns and operates a large number of wheat farms in Umatilla County, and has numerous other business interests.

Mr. Furnish is married and has one daughter and one son, aged 12 and 8 years, respectively. His wife's maiden name was Jesele M. Starkweather. Mr. Furnish is a memebr of a number of fraternal orranizations, including the Masons, Elks and Knights of Pythias.

A Simple Internal Remedy Makes Remarkable Cures of Catarrh.

People who have used sprays, inhalers, salves and washes for catarrh and have found how useless and inconvenient they will be agreeably surprised as results following the use of a pleasant internal remedy in tablet form; druggists everywhere admit that Stuart's Catarri,

Tablets, which they sell at 50 cents for full-sized treatment, is the safest, most effective and popular of all catarrh

Nearly all cheap cough mixtures and throat lozenges contain opiates; these cheap medicines give a temporary relief, especially with little children. stroying rerve sensations; the irritation in throat which causes coughing is temporarily removed, not by removing the cause but by deadening the nerves of feeling the irritation is not felt, although it is still there and will promptly return. Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is the best remedy to remove catarrhal secretion, whether in the nose, throat or stomach, because they are composed of whole-some antiseptics—Blood Root, Red Gum from Eucalyptus tree, etc. When you use these tablets you know what you are putting into your system, and not taking chances with cocaine, opintes or similar poisons found in so many catarrh cures and cough medicines.

Dr. Ramsdell, in commenting on ca-tarrh cures, says: "I can heartily recommend Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, because they contain no cocaine nor other danger-ous drug found in so many advertised catarrh cures. I have known of many cases of long-standing catarrh of the head and throat completely cured by the daily use of these tablets for several weeks. One case in particular, which I could not reach with an inhaler or spray, and where the catarrh caused daily headaches and a noticeable loss of hearing, was entirely cured by this harmless but effective remedy,"

Dr. Walnwright says: "I never heat-tate to prescribe Stuart's Catarrh Tablets for catarrhal headaches and catarrhal deafness, because I know them to be perfectly safe for child or adult, and have seen many remarkable cures result-ing from their regular daily use; because they are advertised and sold in drug stores is no reason why any good physician should not use them, because we should seize upon the means of cure wherever found."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are specially valuable for catarrhal colds in children, because they are pleasant to the taste and may be used freely to break up severe colds and croup at the very beginning.
