

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

The Oregonian's Telephones. ORGONIAN. Main 987. Managing Editor. Main 653. City Editor. Main 653. Composing Room. Main 653. East Side Office. Main 653. Superintendent. Main 653. COLUMBIA. 407. Counting Room. 407. Editorial Room. 407. Composing Room. 407. Engine Room. 407.

AMUSEMENTS. MARQUAM GRAND THEATER-Kirks La. Shells and Frederick H. Hagan grand opera. THE BAKER THEATER (Third and Yamhill streets)-All new plays, headed by Zola's 'Leona' Montevideo's troupe of trained cats, and other new specialties. CORDRAY'S THEATER-Jessie Shirley and company. 'Under Two Flags.' Jessie Shirley as Cigarette.

THE OREGONIAN'S HANDBOOK. The Oregonian's Handbook tells all about Portland, the entire Columbia River watershed and the 1905 World's Fair, commencing on the Lewis and Clark expedition to Oregon. It contains over 150 handsome illustrations, and it is printed on enameled book paper. It will be mailed to any address in the United States or Canada for 7 cents a copy.

MOVEMENT TO IMPORT JAPANESE NIGHTINGALES-Several attempts have been made to introduce Japanese nightingales into this state, and first and last a considerable number of the world-renowned song birds have been brought here at no small expense and trouble, but the scheme has proved a failure in each instance. A shipment which arrived here last Fall and were placed in the conservatories at City View Cemetery for safe keeping through the Winter, did not prosper in captivity, but took to fighting and killing each other, and only a few came through the Winter alive. These birds are very delicate and are not adapted to making long journeys in cages, and many die on the way. A scheme is now being talked of to introduce the Japanese robin, or 'Fekki' nightingale here. This bird is to be more feasible, as the birds are hardy and stand the long journey well, and can be procured in large numbers at a small cost. They are about the size of the little English robin, and like it, are not migratory, but remain in one section the year round. They are a very sprightly bird, excellent songsters, and also very handsome in appearance, with markings on the breast, red and orange on the wings, and the back is olive hue. Like everything else in the Orient, they feed on insects, and are very voracious. They are strictly insectivorous and so will be useful as well as ornamental, and would be a benefit to this country. Arrangements could be made to procure hundreds of them for as much money as has been expended on European nightingales, and to have them arrive here in the Spring, in time to breed. Any number of people would be willing to contribute to a fund for the importation of a lot of these birds, if some responsible person would take the matter in hand and procure the necessary information as to cost, etc.

BICYCLE RACKS DISAPPEAR-The spirit in which notices to remove bicycle racks, signs, lamps and all other obstructions from the sidewalks is received by dealers of all kinds, is very creditable to all concerned and shows that the citizens generally are in sympathy with the movement to give the streets of the city an orderly and decent appearance. In front of the Labbe block, Sunday, a restaurant-keeper was indignantly trying to sell a lamp at auction, but could get no bidders. As a sample of the nuisances which have been permitted to encumber the sidewalks for years, it may be stated that within a few feet of the sign offered for sale stands still another, long disused. The post supporting it is eight or 10 inches square, and the lamp on top is a large, ornate, and art glass, big enough for a pigeon-house. The man who erected it moved to another street long ago, leaving this useless encumbrance to the city. While these lamps and their removal were being discussed, a saloon-keeper came along who offered to treat the crowd if they would remove the lamp rack from in front of his place. The bicycle racks are rapidly disappearing, and as Councilman Merrill is responsible for the greater number of them, they will soon be gone. Some fellows introduced or invented a rack made of cement, seven or eight inches in width and about a foot in height, capable of holding a bicycle, which he had placed on the sidewalk to take the place of the old wooden racks, the principal object of which was to display some one's advertisement.

MONSIEUR FRENCH-Some of the Cro City. Many stories are told about the boldness and audacity of the Mongolian pheasants in invading farm yards and taking possession by whipping the rooster in his own dunghill, and in many ways acting like a buccaner. They are also frequently heard from in the outskirts of this city, where in some places they make no bones of strutting about in the sight, and even entering the back yards of premises, looking for something to eat or a chance for a fight with domestic fowls. Where there are tracts of vacant land inside the city boundaries they take up their abode, and in some instances have been known to raise broods of young. They seem to be aware that they are not likely to be hunted in the close season, and so become more daring and occasionally venture into the heart of the city. One was flushed Saturday on a vacant lot at the corner of Stark and Park streets, which is the nearest to the Oregonian's office that any of them have been heard of venturing. If people could only be induced to hunt them in the close season, there would be no difficulty in stocking any of the larger parks with them. When the shooting season opens, and men with guns and dogs are seen there everywhere, the pheasants lead more secluded life for a season, and trust to their rapid flight and swift running to carry them out of danger.

ONE GRENADIAN HORSEBREEDER - A Savvier's Island rancher who frequently takes stock to pasture during the Winter had a horse sent down to him from this city. After it had been in the stable for some time he concluded he would like to have the animal, and so when in town one day asked the owner how he would trade the horse for a little pair of mules he had. He was told that if he wanted the horse he could send up the mules and keep the horse, and it would be all right. A day or two after he went out to find his horse, and came across the carcass, which had been eaten up by the crows. As a bargain was a bargain and this bargain had been unconditional, he had no fault to find and made no complaint, but the man who had received the mules, learning of the facts in the case when he came to settle his bill for pasturage, added to the amount and made the matter square. There are not many horsebreeders who would have thought of doing this.

FRANCO-SPANISH CAR SERVICE-The inhabitants of the section around the Southern Pacific car shops, and the region between there and the city, are highly pleased with the car service afforded them by the extension of the City & Suburban Company's track. The company has placed first-class cars on the line, and the round trip from Third and Yamhill streets to Bush street and back is made in 40 minutes. The extension makes a number of turns and passes through a rapidly-growing part of the city.

SPRING TERM AT ASSOCIATION INSTITUTE IN Y. M. C. A. building will have classes in arithmetic, algebra, architectural, mechanical and free-hand drawing, bookkeeping, penmanship, shorthand, typewriting, carpentry, woodcarving and manual training. Young men who can give two to four nights per week taking some of these studies should join early this week, so as to have the benefit of the full term.

DALLAS TIME CARD-White Collar Line steamer from foot Alder street daily, excepting Sunday, at 7 A. M., for The Dalles and all Upper Columbia River points.

FALL OUT OVER A MOUSE-Two literary men who have for some time occupied adjoining desks in a rather crowded suite of offices have lately fallen out, all about the killing of a mouse. A uses an open flat-topped desk, on which his keys are scattered in the wildest profusion. His pen, ink and paper, his scissors and paste pot, the most useful and valued of his paraphernalia, while a row of pigeon-holes contain his correspondence, A notes, and all the riff-raff which accumulates on a desk kept on this style. For some time he has been cultivating the friendship of a mouse, which finds the litter on his desk a convenient playground, and his paste cup an irregular source of food supply. His neighbor, B, uses roll-top desks having a foolish predilection for keeping things in order and a weakness for being able to find things when he wants them. The mouse made use of A's table when he pleased, but with great good sense chose a snug corner of one of the drawers in B's desk to build his home in, as less likely to be disturbed. A mouse or a pair of them are not nice tenants for a desk, and B, whenever he saw one about his desk, endeavored to kill it. A protested against his pet being harmed, on the ground that it was ornamental, and useful as well, as it occasionally cleaned out his paste cup. B could not see the matter in this light, and finally when he found, on

NOTHING COOLS HIS BICYCLE FEVER.-He was full of energy and always in a hurry, walking fast, though short of time. Soon he purchased a bicycle, having concluded that this world is all a fleeting show and he must get fitting to keep up with the procession. The noiseless wheel transported him from place to place with great swiftness, working with the energy of an evil spirit unchained. One day his accustomed place was vacant and he was seen in it no more for a time, or a time and a half or two times. It was learned that his bicycle had struck a chuck hole in the street and chucked him several yards describing summersaults and handspings. When he came in collision with the pavement he was rather seriously hurt. His friends thought this might cool his ardor and lead him to abandon the bicycle, but a week or two after the accident he showed up with an umbrella and a cane under one arm, another cane supporting his tottering steps, and dragging with his other hand a disreputable and dilapidated-looking bicycle. One of his friends remarked that, on the ground that the burned child dreads the fire, it would now be in order for him to throw aside his bicycle. "But," he said, "my bicycle did not hurt me. If I had waded to it it would have been all right. It was the pavement that broke me up." He failed to distinguish between cause and effect, and attributed no blame

PORTLAND'S NEW DWELLINGS-IV.

The houses shown in the accompanying illustration are seven-room dwellings just finished for Charles Kirchner and Henry Hanno, at the northeast corner of Second and Lincoln streets. They are handsomely finished, and are in every way very attractive. Architect Klemm furnished the plans.

opening his desk one day, that a lot of the most expensive kind of carbon paper which he had placed in the drawer the day before had been cut up to make a mouse nest, he just turned himself loose and hunted down and killed the mouse. This ended the friendship between A and B, and they have not spoken for several days. In the meantime the mouse, or some other mouse, put in an appearance in his desk and cleaned out his paste cup, and yesterday when B came down to the office he found a large placard on his desk, on which was written: "Dastard and villain-You killed the wrong mouse. Ha-ha! ha-ha! ha-ha!" B says he will quickly remedy any mistake he may have made in the mouse, and there is trouble ahead.

FINE STREET RAILWAY TRACK Laid-The railway track being laid on Burnside street from the bridge to Fifth street by the Portland Railway Company may be taken as a sample of the kind of railways which will be built all over the city in a few years. There will be no more trouble about groves being cut in pavements along such tracks, nor of the wheels of vehicles being broken by cutting caught in such cuts. It will be as safe to drive across the right of way of street railways as on any other part of the street. The grooved rail, seven inches in depth, limits of a pavement of stone blocks or wood being laid between them and flush with the surface, so that the street is perfectly smooth. The crossing just completed at the intersection of Burnside and Second is a sample of what the others will be, and is similar to the one at the intersection of Third and Morrison, and the one on City & Suburban Company will construct a Third and Yamhill in a few days. By using seven-inch grooved rails, set in concrete and stone blocks, grouted with cement, it is easy enough to make a pavement of stone blocks or wood being laid between them and flush with the surface, so that the street is perfectly smooth. The crossing just completed at the intersection of Burnside and Second is a sample of what the others will be, and is similar to the one at the intersection of Third and Morrison, and the one on City & Suburban Company will construct a Third and Yamhill in a few days. By using seven-inch grooved rails, set in concrete and stone blocks, grouted with cement, it is easy enough to make a pavement of stone blocks or wood being laid between them and flush with the surface, so that the street is perfectly smooth.

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING BOOM-The building boom is now central from East Twentieth to East Thirtieth and over Williams Avenue Addition. It extends with more or less velocity in every direction to the city limits. Recent heavy speculative purchases have been made in acreage on the Peninsula between the river and the city. The price is said to be $250 per acre. The Hub Land Company purchased 90 acres in Point View. The price has not been divulged. Hartman, Thompson & Powers bought 80 acres from the P. T. Smith estate. Seventy acres of the Brazee tract also sold last week. The price is said to be $35,000 for the 70 acres. The Hub Land Company bonded 20 acres for $500 per acre. A syndicate of Albany business men got into the ground floor of a big site, at bed-rock prices. The Hub Land Company has the only tract left of any considerable size on the Peninsula. This tract lies just outside of the city limits, on the north. Several persons have attempted lately to bond this tract of 200 acres, but the owners say that nothing short of a substantial payment will be accepted for the price. This sounds like old times in the real estate business.

EASTER MUSIC REPEATED-There was an echo yesterday of Easter tide at most of the city churches, at both morning and evening services. The sermons did not exactly preach the sermons they gave last Sunday, but the choir again sang the greater portion of their Easter selections. This was especially true at the First Presbyterian Church, where the quartet sang at the evening service Burdett's Easter anthem, "Alleluia, Christ is Risen," and the choir sang the "Home," the words being by R. K. Warren, and Coombs' "At the Rising of the Sun." Music by the various Catholic and Episcopal Church choirs was mostly selected from the programme rendered on Easter Sunday.

SAILOR ADMIRAL LINEMEN-The captain of a ship in port has been watching the linemen of the various electric companies at work on the numerous poles about town and expresses himself as astonished at the daring they display and their agility in climbing and descending poles. He says if it were found necessary to transport a man to build and equip a large fleet of war ships the sailors to man them can be drawn from the electric linemen of the country, and that a better material would be found for sailors anywhere. A man whose business it is to go away in the air and sit down among a lot of loaded wires would feel comparatively safe behind a pole-top gun.

AGAINST PLAN OF HIRING EASTERN PARK EXPERT-In the opinion of George Otten, a landscape artist, men engaged in local landscape work should be invited to submit designs for the improvement of the city parks. At the meeting of the Park Commissioners Friday it was decided to correspond with Eastern landscape artists in regard to the beautification of the parks. Commissioner Fleckenstein opposed the motion and favored the advice of local talent. Mr. Otten takes Mr. Fleckenstein's side of the question and says that the employment of an Eastern man would be practically an experiment at the expense of the city. A man unacquainted with climatic conditions and the topography of the country could hardly make suitable designs and his employment would be a slur on the local talent. Mr. Otten says that if plans for the beautification of the parks are to be made they should be asked of local artists, and the best design should be accepted.

RUNS WATER UP HILL-George Moeck, of Cedar Landing, near Rainier, has a flume on his place for getting cedar lumber out of the woods. He says the water runs up hill in this flume for some distance with sufficient velocity to carry the lumber over a hill down the other side of which it scoots to the Columbia. When asked to explain this wonderful phenomenon he said the flume started

PORTLAND ROSE SOCIETY-An adjourned meeting of the Portland Rose Society will be held Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Unitarian Chapel, Seventh and Yamhill streets. At this meeting the vice-president of the society, Mr. F. V. Holman, will talk upon "Tea Roses and Hybrid Tea," naming some varieties especially adapted to the use of the general grower. Mr. Holman will be pleased to answer any questions which may be asked. A full attendance of all lovers of roses as well as of members is desired. The membership roll still being open, any one wishing to join forces with the society will be given an opportunity to do so at the close of the meeting.

BANQUET TO AL FIELDS-The Portland Lodge of Elks, No. 142, B. P. O. E., will give a banquet Thursday night at the Portland Hotel, Al G. Fields, of the famous Al Fields Mineral Company, will be the honored guest.

WHERE TO DINE.

The best Spring tonic-dine at the Portland restaurant, 305 Washington. Watson's restaurant will serve first-class French dishes, from 5 to 8 P. M. price, 5c. Open nights to 1 A. M.

Death of Anton L. Peiffer.

Anton L. Peiffer, of Sellwood, aged 63 years, died Saturday night at 10:30 at his residence. The cause of his death was heart failure. He was the president of the Peiffer Bros. Leather Company, of Sellwood, since the time he came to Oregon, 15 years ago from Southern Dakota. He left a wife, a son, Albert J. Peiffer, and a daughter, Mary A. Peiffer. He was an honorable citizen and a respected man in the community.

Home-seekers, Attention!

We take this method of informing home-seekers that farming, fruit and pasture lands can be purchased in vicinity of Harrisburg, Linn County, Or., for less money, quality considered, than elsewhere in the Willamette Valley. Address W. W. Briggs, secretary Board of Trade.

Magie.

The way Salva-oca cures piles. OSTEOPATHY We are perfectly willing and ready to demonstrate our method in each case, and without cost to the inquirer. We cannot do this until you have seen us. We make no pretensions beyond the simple facts and conditions. These we find out ourselves, by methods entirely different from all other doctors, and easily understood by all.

Dr. W. A. Rogers

Graduate and founder of Osteopathy. Established Portland office 1900. Dr. G. Lord Gates Only local osteopath in Portland. Offices 532, 1, 4. Marquam Bldg. Phone Main 27.

FRED PREHN

The Dekum Building. Full Set Teeth.....$2.00 Gold Crowns.....2.00 Bridge Work.....2.00 Examination free. Teeth extracted absolutely without pain.

Dr. E. C. BROWN EYE AND EAR DISEASES.

Marquam Bldg., rooms 628-7.

FRONT-STREET IMPROVEMENTS-The massive concrete and foundation walls for the brick block to be built at First and Oak streets are approaching completion. A vast amount of cement has been used in their construction and a lot more will be required for the concrete floor to be laid there. The work of construction will soon be under way, and the building will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible. The lot adjoining the First National Bank has been cleaned off preparatory to the erection of an extension of the banking office, which has become too crowded for comfort. J. W. Cook, who excavated a basement and constructed foundation walls on First street, between Oak and Pine, is only waiting for a tenant to construct a brick building there. A few more modern buildings are needed in that vicinity to give First street a business-like appearance.

NOISY YOUTHS ARRESTED-Two youths, Charles Burton and James Dewitt, got noisy yesterday in a saloon at Second and Burnside streets, and refused to go away when told to do so. They were then arrested by Policemen Patton and Carr, charged with disorderly conduct.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS-The United States Civil Service Commission announces that on May 6 and 7 examinations will be held in this city for the positions of junior architectural draftsman, marine draftsman, examiner of surveys, assistant scientist in the Department of Agriculture, librarian in the Philippine service and agricultural chemist, analytical chemist, physical chemist and physiological chemist. The examination service. From these examinations certification will be made to fill existing vacancies. Persons desiring to compete should address Z. A. Leigh, Postoffice Department.

...Quotations for the Careful Shopper...

Where quality is of more importance than price, the careful, intelligent shopper is seldom found at the bargain (?) counter. She has learned by experience that printer's ink or adjectives will never make an honest article out of VARNISHED MERCHANDISE. WE CARRY THE STOCK THAT STANDS THE TEST You will note, that (WITHOUT FLOURISH) the article and price are simply quoted. THAT'S ALL

CORSETS

Warner's Rust-proof Summer Corsets, 15c. "Redfern" Corsets reduced from $3 to $2.45. Boys' French Percale Shirtwaists, worth 40c and 50c; special, 35c. Calico Waists, 35c. Ladies' French Percale House Wrappers, light and dark colors, 50c and 75c. Nazareth Knit Waists for boys and girls, 15c.

KID GLOVES

First shipment ever received at this port direct from Grenoble, France. Buy your gloves of us and save all wholesalers' and middlemen's profits. We sell Kid Gloves that fit and wear. SEE OUR LEADERS, at 9c, $1.15 and $1.50. Misses' Kid Gloves, 50c and 75c. We sell more Kid Gloves than all the houses in town bunched together.

RIBBONS

No. 40c wide satin ribbons, only 35c. Wide fancy neck ribbons, 15c. Nos. 5 and 7 fancy ribbons, only 3c yard.

Ladies' Hosiery

Direct importation. Never were such values shown over a dry goods counter. Notion counter always crowded. We have just what you want-the price is right and we give good service.

Mt. Hood Shirts

Are joining more effectively advertising for Oregon, more particularly Portland, than all the money spent in the last 10 years. They are made in Portland and we sell them. They have merit. Still they come-Another range of sample suits. Separate shirts and shirtwaists secured for 90c on the $1. The garments will be shown today in the Cloak Department.

McAlLEN & McDONNELL

161 THIRD STREET, CORNER MORRISON Headquarters for Table Linens, Blankets, Quilts and Curtains, Bazar Glove-Fitting Patterns reduced to 10c.

MUST USE TREATED BLOCKS-Councilman E. C. Brown, who is chairman of the committee on streets, says that in the report of the adjourned meeting of the Council held on Saturday an error was made by stating that the Southern Pacific Company will not be required specifically to pave its right of way on Fourth street with wood blocks treated with carbolineum varnish or creosote. The fact is that the company is required to pave its right of way with wood blocks treated either with carbolineum varnish or with creosote, the option being given because the company has a plant of its own for creosoting wood. It is not known which preservative the company will choose, but if they use creosote it will give an opportunity for ascertaining which of the preservatives is the best.

MUSH AND SECRET ORDERS COMPARED-The difficulty in finding new names for secret societies is likely to lessen the number organized in the future. The same thing will have a tendency to check the multiplication of such foods, as there are almost as many different kinds of mush material now on the market as there are different secret orders in the country. The man who makes two blades of grass where only one grew before is a benefactor of his country; but the man who starts a new secret order or invents a new kind of mush becomes a past grand panjandrum and wears more orders and medals than a drum-major, and his name is spread abroad in the earth.

PORTLAND ROSE SOCIETY-An adjourned meeting of the Portland Rose Society will be held Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Unitarian Chapel, Seventh and Yamhill streets. At this meeting the vice-president of the society, Mr. F. V. Holman, will talk upon "Tea Roses and Hybrid Tea," naming some varieties especially adapted to the use of the general grower. Mr. Holman will be pleased to answer any questions which may be asked. A full attendance of all lovers of roses as well as of members is desired. The membership roll still being open, any one wishing to join forces with the society will be given an opportunity to do so at the close of the meeting.

BANQUET TO AL FIELDS-The Portland Lodge of Elks, No. 142, B. P. O. E., will give a banquet Thursday night at the Portland Hotel, Al G. Fields, of the famous Al Fields Mineral Company, will be the honored guest.

WHERE TO DINE.

The best Spring tonic-dine at the Portland restaurant, 305 Washington. Watson's restaurant will serve first-class French dishes, from 5 to 8 P. M. price, 5c. Open nights to 1 A. M.

Death of Anton L. Peiffer.

Anton L. Peiffer, of Sellwood, aged 63 years, died Saturday night at 10:30 at his residence. The cause of his death was heart failure. He was the president of the Peiffer Bros. Leather Company, of Sellwood, since the time he came to Oregon, 15 years ago from Southern Dakota. He left a wife, a son, Albert J. Peiffer, and a daughter, Mary A. Peiffer. He was an honorable citizen and a respected man in the community.

Home-seekers, Attention!

We take this method of informing home-seekers that farming, fruit and pasture lands can be purchased in vicinity of Harrisburg, Linn County, Or., for less money, quality considered, than elsewhere in the Willamette Valley. Address W. W. Briggs, secretary Board of Trade.

Magie.

The way Salva-oca cures piles. OSTEOPATHY We are perfectly willing and ready to demonstrate our method in each case, and without cost to the inquirer. We cannot do this until you have seen us. We make no pretensions beyond the simple facts and conditions. These we find out ourselves, by methods entirely different from all other doctors, and easily understood by all.

Dr. W. A. Rogers

Graduate and founder of Osteopathy. Established Portland office 1900. Dr. G. Lord Gates Only local osteopath in Portland. Offices 532, 1, 4. Marquam Bldg. Phone Main 27.

FRED PREHN

The Dekum Building. Full Set Teeth.....$2.00 Gold Crowns.....2.00 Bridge Work.....2.00 Examination free. Teeth extracted absolutely without pain.

Dr. E. C. BROWN EYE AND EAR DISEASES.

Marquam Bldg., rooms 628-7.

GRAVES & CO. Sixth Street, Near Washington. THE WASHBURN MANDOLIN

LEADING MUSIC DEALERS Positively the Largest Stock. We Are the Only Direct Agents for Washburn Guitars and Mandolins.

Half-Tones for Newspaper and Letterpress Illustration. Zinc Etching Designing. Lowest Prices with Good Work. Engraving Department Oregonian Pub. Co.

OSTEOPATHY

DR. L. B. SMITH. Of A. T. Bill's School of Osteopathy, Kirksville, Mo. Oldest Osteopath in Oregon. Fourth year in Portland. Consultation free at 406 Oregonian building. Call or write for literature and references. Phone Oak 421. Lady assistant.

We sell only the very best Children's Shoes

FRIDAY IS THEIR DAY AT KNIGHT'S

VASELINE NO GOOD FOR HAIR.

Dandruff Germ Thrives in it, as Well as in All Grease. A well-known Chicago hair specialist invited the Inter Ocean reporter to come to his office and see, under a microscope, how the germ that causes dandruff thrives in vaseline. The specialist said that all hair preparations containing grease, simply furnish food for the germs and help to propagate them. The only way to cure dandruff is to destroy the germ, and the only hair preparation that will do that is Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect. Without dandruff no falling hair no baldness. Ask for Herpicide. It is the only destroyer of the dandruff germ."

New York Dental Parlors

Main office, Fourth and Morrison Sts., Portland. HOURS-8 to 8; SUNDAY, 8 to 2. Branch offices-614 First ave., Seattle, Wash. CHAS. T. PREHN, Dentist 19 Hamilton, 121 Third Street. Vitrified air for painless extractions. Oregon phone Clay, 48c.

Goddard-Kelly Shoe Co.

WE HAVE SHOES FOR EVERYBODY.

CORNER SIXTH AND WASHINGTON STREETS

THE PORTLAND

PORTLAND, OREGON

HEADQUARTERS FOR TOURISTS AND COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS. Special rates made to families and single gentlemen. The management will be pleased at all times to show rooms and give prices. A modern Turkish bath establishment in the hotel. H. C. BOWERS, Mgr.

IN A WORLD WHERE "CLEANLINESS IS NEXT TO GODLINESS" NO PRAISE IS TOO GREAT FOR

SAPOLIO